CAPT. JAMES SUNDERLAND, V. R. C.
Sub-Assistant Commissioner B. R. F. and A. L. In charge of Institutions at Lauderdale, Miss.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they can claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Agne Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, uses equalling the best English inks now used. We cannot understand why such remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician.

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—This large and influential body of gentlemen at its recent meeting in Jackson, adopted for use in the schools of the State, among others, the following books, published by John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Kentucky:

The Goodrich Series of Readers, edited by Noble Butler; Butler's Grammar; Towne's Mathematics and Barbee's Geology.

The object of this action on the part of the Association, is to secure uniformity in the use of text books throughout the State. In order that so desirable a result may be attained, we would respectfully urge upon our teachers throughout the State, the necessity of taking early steps to procure a supply of these books for their pupils.—With the exception of the Geology, which is just being issued from the press, these books are already used in all the public and private schools in New Orleans, Mobile, Vicksburg, Jackson, Meridian, Columbus and Aberdeen, where, of course, large supplies are kept. Schools in the vicinity of these places can easily procure a supply, but as regards schools off the lines of the railroads, a difficulty will occur unless provision is made for them. We would recommend that all teachers in the State, who intend to aid the association in its work, address John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky., at once, stating the number of books likely to be needed. Our acquaintance with the members of that house, warrants us in assuring teachers that prompt attention will be given to their orders, and every reasonable request complied with.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick, the old and reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours. Those who call on Chadwick's medicine are fresh and no experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded.

MERIDIAN FEMALE COLLEGE will open its third year, first Monday in September. See advertisement in another column for charges. Professor Bamberlin says he will be compelled to require payment monthly in advance for city pupils, and every pupil must be in advance for boarding. Persons desiring some other special arrangement can confer with him at the time of opening.

We are glad the College rooms are all nicely painted and white-hard finish, so that comfort and elegance within are at once combined.

Arrangements for warming the rooms are also complete. The Faculty of instruction we are assured too, will be thoroughly efficient in every department. The Boarding House is also ready, and will accommodate a large number of boarders under the immediate care of the Principal and his lady. No boys are to be received into the College hereafter.

Maj. Roberts of the house of Brosch, Brown & Co., and Mr. L. A. Duncan, of the firm of Duncan, Hart & Benton, have just returned from Louisville, where they purchased large stocks of groceries &c. &c. for their houses. Their goods are now coming in and those wishing to secure some of the recent purchases would do well to call at either of these houses.

Cotton is coming in quite rapidly. We noticed a quantity receiving the internal revenue officers passport yesterday, and Thursday we understand over two hundred bales passed down on the Mobile road.

We regret to learn of the death of L. S. O. G. Greer, which sad event occurred at Livingston, Alabama, on Thursday evening. Mr. Greer was an old and, prominent citizen of this place and highly esteemed by everybody. We presume his remains will be brought here for interment.

POSTPONED.—The meeting of the incorporators of the Grenada and Meridian Railroad, set for the 3rd of October, has been postponed until Wednesday the 16th, when Dr. Brown, the President, will be able to attend.

Our friend, Mr. R. Y. H. Chadwick, has had a tender bud nipt in the freshness of its prostine beauty—has had a sorrow implanted in his heart, to which he and his family have hitherto been strangers. On Tuesday night the angels bore the pure spirit of their idol boy to its native home—gathered the "soft sweet primrose fading timelessly," and placed it in the keeping of Him who reigns over the lamented bowers above. Wednesday little WILLIE'S manes were placed in a tiny coffin and laid beneath the hallowed sod. Loosing jewels so soon is enough to break the hearts that love them. But when is it best to die, if not when the young life is innocent and pure—when the offering is worthy of Heaven? Pure and intense as is our affection, lovely as are the objects which inspire our devotion, life is a transitory existence, which points to nonument when the pulsations which have taken place to-day. Mr. appearance on this occasion will be the speech that I will make; my reflections and my meditations will be in silent communion with the dead whose deeds we are here to commemorate. I shall not attempt to give utterance to the feelings and emotions inspired by the addresses and prayers which have been made, and the hymns which have been sung. I shall attempt no such thing. I can merely here to give my countenance and aid to the ceremonies on this occasion, but I must be permitted to express my hope that we may follow the example which has been so eloquently alluded to this afternoon, and which has been so clearly set by the illustrious dead. When we look on you battle field, and think of the brave men on both sides who fell in the fierce struggle of battle, and who sleep side by side their graves; who sleep in silence and and peace after the earnest conflict has ceased, would to God that we of the living could imitate their example as they lay sleeping in their light graves in their embrace in friendship and peace. [Applause.] You, my fellow-citizens, have my earnest wishes, my best prayers for my forts in time gone by, in the earliest and most trying perils to preserve the Union of these States, to restore peace and harmony to our distracted and divided country. You shall have my best efforts in vindication of the glory of the Republic and the Constitution of our fathers." [Applause.]

The benediction was then pronounced, when the President, Gubernatores, Governors Swain and others left the platform.

Gen. Mulford, the Commissioner of exchange during the rebellion, has been appointed Collector of the 3d Revenue District of Virginia.

Gen. Hancock will proceed to his Department soon, making his headquarters at some healthy locality.

RICHMOND, Sept. 17.—Gen. Schofield today issued an order for an election on the hundred and five delegates to the State Convention, which will be held here on the 22d of October. Richmond is allowed five delegates; Norfolk and Petersburg two each. Registration will take ten days. Col. Markham, detailed as Judge of the Hustings Court, charged the Grand Jury this morning, and said that the prosecution on account of color or caste would be allowed in the Court.

Gen. Schofield ordered this morning that all registered voters and none others should vote on the city subscription in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 17.—For some days past there have been rows between the soldiers and the freedmen. One negro reported mortally and one soldier badly wounded. The freedmen themselves got into the barracks last night but no collision occurred. It is said that the soldiers were the aggressors.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—Gen. Mower, in an order assuming command, continues in force all existing orders of Prov. Gov. Wells, he assigns Brevet Maj. Gen. Reynolds to the command of the District of Texas and Brev. Maj. Gen. Mower to the command of the Sub-District of the Rio Grande. Gen. Reynolds is to establish his headquarters at Galveston or Houston until the fever shall have abated sufficiently at Galveston to render safe a removal thereto.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Edwin Booth has made another professional visit to the asylum of his brother, pleading earnestly that his mother being very aged, cannot be dead long, so as to be buried in Maryland, near that of his distinguished father, who is buried near this city. The request was denied.

Gen. Grant ordered by telegraph this morning a report of the sanitary condition of the whole of the Military Department.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has recently rendered the following decision:

A printer is liable to the Special Tax, as a manufacturer of the articles he prints exceed in value one thousand dollars per annum. A printer is understood to be any person or firm whose business is to take impressions from type; or engraved surfaces, upon paper or other materials.—In determining the liability of printers to the Special Tax, as manufacturers, the value of the articles produced by them should alone be taken into consideration. The amounts received for inserting advertisements in newspapers are not, therefore, to be included.

Grand Festival at Odd Fellows' Hall, Meridian, Miss., Tuesday, Sept 25, '67.)

Everybody is invited to come. We want you to come and see what we are doing for the Orphans. We want you to come and see what the Orphans are doing for themselves. You will be expected to help with your own supplies for the occasion, and to have a little left for the Orphans at the Home. Those who cannot bring with you to assist in feeding and clothing the Orphans during the approaching Fall and Winter will also be kindly received. Come then, come one and all, and do not come with empty hands, but with full ones. Let us show to the destitute little sufferers that we are not forgotten them. You will be entertained with good music, and the Orphans Mobile & Ohio Railroad will take you there and return you for one fare. Arrangements are being made with other roads to do the same. The orphans expect you.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of declining health, and the desire to be near his children, he now resides. The tract contains eight hundred acres, with some four hundred and fifty in cultivation, lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, about half way between Meridian and Okolona, and nearly all good and productive Okatibbee bottom, and all level and available for cultivation. If no disaster happens to the crops now growing, he will take for the place what the crop will be worth. The improvements are good and in good condition, and he is now building a new gin house and press &c. It is also well watered and has on two sides a good range for cattle and hogs, and is altogether a pleasant and valuable location.

He is also authorized to sell 240 acre of good level land adjoining, with about two acres in a house on the premises, which is now occupied by Jas. Belonging to Col. B. R. Lewis. These two tracts will be sold jointly or separately to suit purchasers, and the subscriber will divide the tract to effect a sale, if not sold as a whole before the 1st of October next. He will also dispose of several mules and horses and a quantity of corn. There is an abundant supply of good laborers with their families on the premises and anxious to remain. For further information apply to me on the premises or address me at Enterprise, Mississippi.

VEGETABLE REMEDIES.

IT is difficult to account for the perversity of men in their search after bad and worthless things, in search of curatives, when all the best and safest remedies are within their reach. Some power, or inspired writers, who is not to be supposed to have derived their knowledge directly from the Fountain of all Truth, recommend none other than vegetable remedies. "The tree, we are told," was made for the healing of the nations." When King David inspired said "He has "Balm of Gilead that makes glad his strength" a poultice of figs cured the sick Hezekiah; all dispensed from the Syrian olive was poured into the hurts of the wounded man by the Samaritan Samaritan, myrrh and aloes were purgatives of the prophetic age, and the pure, fermented juice of the grape raises had not then been adulterated was taken by Timothy "for its stomach's sake." If all the remedies we have just named be for the healings of the nations, is it likely that the virtues of Mercury, which have been hidden from the patriarchs!

The institutes of the brute creation teach them how to doctor themselves, and they invariably stick to vegetable medications. The sagacious wolf when bitten by a deadly serpent eats of a certain herb, and thereby neutralizes the virus injected into its veins; the sick dog eats grass; and many other animals of the lower family which never were in the place of nausea find balsams for their injuries and sicknesses in the woods and fields.

These indications that the Vegetable Kingdom is the true Materia Medica are corroborated by daily experience, and the time is not far distant when this fact will be universally admitted.

Without disparagement to other botanical remedies, it may be fairly claimed that the combination of vegetable virtues and restorative in the

A medicine that excites appetite without producing indigestion is a valuable remedy. Its effect is to impose a task on the stomach which it is unable to perform. Such is not the case with the preparation of that organ and of its dependents the liver and the bowels. The operation of is very different from that. The preparation invigorates appetite and invigorates and completes the digestive process at the same time. Hence when indigestion or the imperfection of the taste or stomach has dogged for food is combined with gastric weakness, the Bitters are invaluable. They are a powerful restorative removes the causes difficulties. It is not a tonic that does its work by halves.

LADIES IN DELICATE HEALTH

WILL FIND

wonderfully adapted to the relief of the difficulties which they have to contend with. Those who have used this kind have a mutual opinion of it. It not only corrects the irregularities which occasion the disorders but acting simultaneously upon the nerves and the digestive organs, it restores the nerves and despondency which disorder always accompanies to a healthy state.

Sickly wives and mothers are advised to give the medicine a trial. They are earnestly assured that it contains no ingredient that can possibly do any harm to the feeblest of their sex while it can undoubtedly contains the invigorating principle which their constitutions require.

Let these beware of the artificial drops and tinctures which are offered for sale as bitters. All these medicines are mainly composed of common alcohol, and are therefore highly pernicious. Alcohol in small doses as tonics are still worse, being all deteriorated with poisonous drugs

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA

IS one of the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to. It is a medicine that will be found a useful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since its purchase. Who spent a large part of their means in and contracted the first introduction to the public and it stands recognized as the most eminent and successful of all the remedies in the most searching and thorough manner, thereby fortifying the system against future knowledge

All other compounds or extracts of this name hitherto failed to command the same success in the family, because on being tested, they were found to contain a certain class of ingredients which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation. That is the pure and genuine extract of the root and will not be found to be effective in certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases

All cases of the Bones, Habitual Cure in case Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Female Complaints, Irregularities, Tetter, or Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Piles Pimples on the face, Blotches, Boils, Carbuncles or Ring Worm.

DARCY & PUTNAM'S

SELF-RAISING FLOUR

—FOR—

Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.

TIME AND LABOR SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Mix to the water with a spoon, and beat as quick as possible. Without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the oven, therefore, should be in good baking order before beginning to mix—HURRY THEM.

Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.

For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last article mixed. Sift to suit the taste.

RECEIPTS.

SALT TO SUIT THE TASTE.

For Loaf Bread.—Use cold water or milk and mix with a spoon; add sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; put in tins to dery pan more than half full, but not more than two pans should be covered in to prevent the formation of a hard crust before the loaf has risen sufficiently. If the bread rises hot brown on the top, remove the cover a few minutes before taking the loaf from the oven.

Bread Pans.—Are found to bake best when about an inch longer, four inches wide, and five inches w de at the bottom, flaring and three inches deep. Tins are also excellent for cakes.

For Biscuit.—Make up dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the salt to suit the taste, and a little more than a spoonful without shortening. Bake at once in a well heated oven, and they will be light, white sweet and tender.

For Loaf Cake.—Use one cup of powdered Sugar and one cup of flour, well mixed together. Bread in three eggs, stir quickly and bake in a square tin immediately, in a mod rate oven. Flavor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.

Good and Sweet Cake.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour. Divide the dough into two equal parts; take four eggs and use the yolks for the gold and the whites for the Silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered jar cake pans.

Plain Cake and Dumplings.—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit. Use a little melted sugar and butter for steam.

For Cake and Fritters.—Fry in deep kettle. Butter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-Raising Flour.

The quicker you handle this flour the better. Never put in stand alone. See that the oven is hot before you touch the flour. The quicker down the better. Do not knead.

Caution.—Beware of imitations. Ask your grocer for a sack of genuine SELF-RAISING FLOUR. Manufactured by DARCY & PUTNAM, 37 South Water st., corner Canal, aug1 tw1y

FARMS FOR ONE DOLLAR

SUBDIVISION OF PLANTATIONS.

CHANCES FOR ALL.

FARMS FOR THE MILLION.

There is not in this scheme an acre of swamp or wild land; each Farm a part, or the whole of a entire Set Plantation—each of from 40 to 160 acres in a few miles of a Railway, either on the Memphis & Charleston,

Mississippi Central,

Mobile & Ohio,

Meridian & Vicksburg, or

Mississippi & Tennessee R. R.

The several tracts are disposed of at the low rate of $5 initiation, in subdivisions of 40 and 160 acres. Each subdivision constitutes a prize, and each

TICKET COSTS ONE DOLLAR.

For a description of the property refer to the new Pamphlet issued by the Company. Titles are perfect, or the money will be paid to the winner of the prize.

All land in this scheme is in the State of Mississippi. The Capital Prize within 35 cent miles of Memphis, on the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad.

The lands are adapted to the growth of grain, cotton, grasses, etc., are cheaper than Government lands, in cold latitudes, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. The average cost of these lands is seven dollars per acre.

A deduction of 10 per cent. in favor of ten or more. Tick ts may be had of local agents, or through the Memphis Agency. jul y1tsd

THE GULLETT STEEL BRUSH GIN.

This celebrated COTTON GIN, in size and manufactured under the supervision of the inventor, D. D. Gullett, with all the improved facilities; and we, as agents for the South-west, now offer it as the best gin made.

Its advantages are:

1st. The quantity of cotton ginned in a given time is much greater than by any other gin of equal number of saws.

2d. It separates from the Cotton all motes and dust and leaves it clean and white.

3d. The roll cannot be broken by over feeding.

All gins are tested before leaving the factory. Cotton from this gin will sell for an advance in price, sufficient to fix itself for pay for the gin, because it is freed from motes, dirt and sand, as has been in use extensively in the South-west ten (10) years, and wherever used it supersedes all other gins.

Send for special circulars.

COTTON PRESSES,

We are manufacturing for the crop of 1867 an improved screw on the Holmes & Gullett plan, most of the working parts of cotton packing. It can be worked by hand, horse, or steam power. Can be used out doors or in a building, is rapid in the working; of immense power, and makes a bale of exactly the same size.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Meridian Daily Gazette.

The undersigned proposes to issue a daily paper from this office, about the first of October, with the above title. The commercial importance of Meridian, its rapidly increasing population and its prosperity, almost without a parallel in the South, induced us to believe that the public would liberally sustain and support a daily paper at this place. There is no reason why Meridian, with its railroad advantages, and its greatly increasing wealth, should not maintain a daily newspaper that in size, appearance, mechanical execution and industrial management would take rank with the dailies of our neighboring cities. We believe a daily will more prosperly represent the great interests of the city at home and abroad, and give greater aid to its friends in its rapid improvement than the Semi-Weekly and Weekly we now publish. We promise all that industry and energy can accomplish will be employed to make it an exponent of the enterprise and public spirit of this section of the State. The Daily Gazette will give the latest telegraphic news and market reports eight to twelve hours earlier than they can be seen in any other paper, and will be specially valuable to merchants and business men in this and the neighboring towns.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore given the Gazette, we appeal to our patrons and friends to aid us in establishing permanently a daily paper at Meridian, and respectfully ask that material aid without which no enterprise of the kind can succeed. Our semi-Weekly and Weekly edition will both be continued. Subscribers to either papers who desire the Daily, can have their names transferred and will receive credit for the amount already paid.

The price of the Daily will be per annum, $10.00. For one month, 85 cts.

The Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

The recent assaults made upon this road and its managers has drawn forth a long letter of explanation from the President, Hon. Abram Murdock. In consequence of the length we extract from it only such as may be found necessary to refute Mr. Murdock's letter:

The present directors of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad were elected in April last, and the road was not completed to the city of Mobile until the 1st of July following. They are now of the opinion that the road is unfinished, and that the public have a right to demand that it be put in such condition as to secure the most prompt and regular transportation of passengers and freight. The present directors do not think that the road is in such condition, and will not be, until the following improvements are made, viz: The completion of the Tombigbee River bridge, the completion of the road to Selma, the completion of the road to Meridian, the completion of the road to Okolona, the completion of the road to Columbus, the completion of the road to Corinth, the completion of the road to Jackson, Tenn., and the completion of the road to Cairo, Ill. Letter from "Enquirer."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19th, '67.

The coming election in this State is exciting unusual interest. The Democratic gain in California, Maine, and wherever elections recently occurred, have alarmed the Republican leaders, and they are making a terrible struggle for Pennsylvania. On the other hand the Democrats have every incentive to activity.—Defeated so often, they were hardly prepared for the recent victories in California and Montana. But these grand results, considering the odds against the Democracy, have given them joy and encouragement, while they have carried dismay to the Radicals. Forney has been hastily recalled from Europe, and is now at Washington busily at work for "my two papers, both daily," and we may expect all sorts of sensational articles in the Chronicle and Press. His letters, signed "Occasional," have been resumed, and he is fairly boiling over with wrath at bolting Republicans who can't stand "nigger" equality. I regard the result of the election here as doubtful, but only so because the the people of Pennsylvania don't understand the true state of affairs at the South. Every thing indicates clearly that the white people of the North are not prepared to give up the Southern States to negro supremacy, and whenever they see that such will be the effect of the military bills, the party who forced them on the country, will be repudiated by an overwhelming majority. The fabrications and perdistent perversion of facts that fill the Republican papers, deceive thousands of well meaning people, and no sudden change in the Northern States can be expected. As an example of the way in which the blessings to the South of negro emancipation are represented, I cull the following from Forney in yesterday's Press:

The freedmen and the consequent citizenship of the colored men of the South have added incalculably to the wealth of that section, and therefore to the wealth of the whole country. There is not an old slaveholder who will deny that the colored race are more industrious and faithful than ever before; that they labor with more heart because they receive wages for their work for the first time, and that in proportion as they are elevating themselves they are enriching their former masters. In some very distinguished cases, intelligent southerners have gratefully declared that the act of emancipation was a political, social and commercial blessing, that while it may have deprived politicians of power, it justified the wisdom of its framers, lifted a terrible burden from the consciences of thousands of men and women, and opened the highway to them to a healthier and more prosperous trade. How long will intelligent Republicans be deluded by accusations of which the very people themselves direct their condemnation? Are the Southern people fitted for eternal slavery in barbarism and slavery?

Such statements as the above pass for gospel truth with the Republicans here. The Radicals are making great efforts to press Grant into their service, but so far we do, not think they have succeeded. He seems to be determined to take no part in politics and gives his entire duties to the office of Commanding General. No matter what Grant's opinions are, his course in this is right, and it will strengthen him with the people.

But nothing can save Grant from the impertinence of such political hacks as Forney. This morning I found in the Press the following special dispatch from Washington, italicized and double-leaded, intended to convey the impression that Grant is with Congress, but which is really so indefinite as to amount to nothing:

"I am convinced that the people of the United States have never had more abundant reason for gratitude to General Grant, and for reposing the fullest confidence in his intrepid patriotism, than they have at the present moment. General Thayer, senator in Congress from Nebraska, who was in command of the first Nebraska regiment, and reported to General Grant while he was stationed at Pilot Knob, Missouri, in August of 1861, where he received his first commission as brigadier general, and between whom the most intimate relations have existed ever since, is now in Washington, and this morning had a long interview with General Grant. Senator Thayer possesses the entire confidence of our friends in Congress, and cordially endorses the opinion expressed in the first sentence of this dispatch. J. W. F.

If Forney can get no better evidence of Grant's Republicanism than such generalities as the above, it may be reasonably inferred, that the testimony on that side is weak.

Philadelphia is the most beautiful city I have seen. Its streets are wide, and filled with handsome buildings. I dont find the intolerable din, confusion, and dense throng of human beings that are'seen in New York. The city is quiet and orderly, and well deserves the appellation of the "Quaker City." The Ledger office is a magnificent building; not quite as fine and showy as the New York Herald, but longer and fully equal to it in most respects. My next will be written from New York. ENQUIRER.

IMPORTANT TO BANKRUPTS.—All persons desiring or who are thinking about taking advantage of the Bankrupt Law of the United States should present their claims they take advantage of that law before July 1st, 1868, they cannot do so unless their property will pay 50 cents on the dollar on their indebtedness.

Law and Order, Versus Fanatical Fury.

The Democrats and Conservatives of the North are laboring earnestly and unceasingly for the triumphant success of their ticket at the coming elections. The status of each party is distinctly set forth. Universal freedom and universal suffrage, with all the despotic enactments inseparable therefrom, is inscribed upon the Radical banner. Finance, economy, taxation, business, industry, reunion, prosperity, the constitution and suffrage regulated by law, are the incentives of the Conservative party. It is needless to say that the enemies of a strong hereditary government are meeting with unexpected success. Constitutional freedom seems to be marching on, and those who would prostitute the name of liberty, are trembling at the array of battle. Connecticut gives a majority of 3,000 for law and order, and a strict observance of the Constitution; Kentucky puts down 20,000 against political villiany; New Hampshire 5,000; Rhode Island 2,000; Vermont 5,000; California 20,000; Maine 14,000; Montana 1,000. Making altogether, nearly eighty thousand in round numbers since last spring. That this unexpected reaction should startle the Radical party is not surprising. The result gives a strong and unmistakable evidence of a reaction against the revolutionary movement; and it is evident, the same influences which forced the people to cut loose from the Radical hulk in the States above enumerated, are equally operating in Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and other States, where similar changes may be anticipated at the fall and winter. To use the language of George Wilkes' intensely Radical Spirit of the Times, "the Republican majority in Congress, heedless of the lessons of history, and heedless of the inexorable laws of revolution, has taken its course and must abide the inevitable penalties of error. Those erratic philosophers within its ranks who are already sighing that its majority is too large, need sigh no more. The President will be specially reinforced, not only by the reconstructed South, but by sufficient defections from the Republican party, to put an end to the two-thirds votes which heretofore embarrassed him. In the mean time, we of the South must watch, work and trust no party. We have nothing to do with the present crisis in our national affairs; we can only do that which our judgment dictates as best, under the law. If radicalism falls this winter, we can set our section right when the constitution comes up for ratification, and thus keep out of Congress until a broad and liberal policy is inaugurated by the Forty-First Congress, in March 1869. Should Mr. Johnson fail however, to become master of the situation, there will be no alternative left but to submit to the terms offered.

Congressional Profligacy

The expenditures of the government are appalling. The burdens of taxation are causing a close scrutiny into the lavish expenditure of public money by Congress and Mr. Boutwell, and every week some new and startling account is revealed. The latest we have seen is a detailed statement of payments from the contingent fund of the Senate during the year 1866. The Senate, it is to be remembered, is composed at present, of fifty-six members. These gentlemen received 504 pocket-knives and 405 pen-knives, at a cost of $232.20. They also made the government pay for 503 pairs of shears, about 11 pair cuffs, three hundred and twenty-five dollars worth of sponges, 7.16 pair of slippers, about 22 pair coats, at a little over $14 a pair; 219 pair of kid gloves, about 4 pairs each, at $2.50 a pair; 115 diaries; 290 portfolios, nearly six each, at about $4; 446 pocket books, 8 each, at about $2.50; 300 brushes; 556 pincushions; 1,085 boxes of pens; 2,800 lead pencils; three thousand five-hundred dollars worth of newspapers and magazines; 2,870 reams of paper; 1,807,450 envelopes. Then followers a list of paperweights, corks or rows, cords, erasers, leather dusters, chamois skins, folders, rubber slippers, blank-books, ink-stands, cyclet machines, pamphlet-cases, copy-books, paper-files, pen-racks, stationery cases, gold pens, dies, key rings, match cases, fluids, silk tasts, card-cases, memorandum-books, combs, colognes, soap-pomade, toilet powder, &c. Altogether enough to supply all their friends, or to set up variety stores in the country. The same reckless extravagance is practiced in the lower House, where men draw from the treasury an allowance in greenbacks for "stationery," sufficient it is asserted, to enable them to live in luxury and ease for years. The War department seems to have been as corrupt as Congress. The sum of $450,000 was paid for the old steamship Illinois, appraised at $60,000 about the time important elections were to take place. She never was used by the government, and could only be gotten out of the way by letting the authorities of New York have her for quarantine purposes. Then the payment of millions of dollars to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for services never rendered, shows how corrupt and rotten a government we are supporting. No wonder the President is trembling from office those depraved and reckless partisans. The people have already proclaimed from Maine to California, "well done thou good and faithful servant," and other and louder sounds of endorsement and reformation are to come utterance in the great and central States at the October and November elections.

English exchanges notice a writing machine, invented by a Mr. Pratt, of Alabama, exhibited before the Society of Arts, in London, which promises to relieve the weary fingers of editors and other like craftsmen. It has keys like a piano, corresponding to the letters of the alphabet, and the motion of the keys make impressions on carbonized paper, which is adjusted and changed by other contrivances in the machine.

The Brandon Republican says that the extreme course of Republicans in leaving their late State Convention, has driven the conservative element, to abandon the Republican party. He reasons his place in the ranks of the Conservative Restoration leaders.

The President's Views on the State of the Country.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post, recently had an interview with the President, relative to the practical bearing of the amnesty proclamation. Mr. Johnson stated that there were two parties in the country, one acting within constitutional limits, and the other openly professing to act outside the constitution. Its purpose was to call the attention of each and every officer and employee of the government to this fact, that he might clearly understand his duty, and, understanding, perform it. Our constitution, he said, was the citadel of our freedom, the wall which environs and protects us all—But another purpose which he had in view was to assure the country that the authority of the Federal judiciary would be unhinderingly maintained in all the States. The effect of the amnesty was to restore the parties to all their rights under them precisely where they were before the war. The suffrage question was one to be determined by the courts, and not by the executive branch of the government." In alluding to the future, he said he had no idea what Congress would do, but he believed the people would insist that their government was not subverted and destroyed. So far as he was concerned, he should exercise every constitutional power in its defence, but that the great controlling power was in the hands of the people themselves, and his firm conviction was, that they would use it wisely and efficiently. The late elections in California and Maine served only to fix his confidence in the sober second thought of the people." We are glad to find that the President so determined and hopeful—"The mills of the Gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly fine."

THE ELECTION IN GEORGIA.—Gen. Pope's circular has been published, ordering an election to be held in Georgia, commencing Tuesday, the 29th of October, and continuing three days, at which registered voters may vote for a convention or against a convention, and for delegates to constitute said convention in case a majority of the voters so decide. Senatorial districts, as established by State laws, are adopted for the purposes of representation; the Convention to consist of one hundred and sixty-nine delegates. The instructions are generally the same as those issued for an election in Alabama.

In New Orleans municipal affairs are pretty well mixed. Of four recorders elected the other day, three were negroes, and the fourth a mulatto, says the Times. As of no questionable a hue, that all the rains that have fallen since the deluge, could not wash him so as to make him acceptable to the white tax payers. Both the City Physicians elected were negroes, but one refused to serve, and in the many was then elected. The keeper of the city Park, and porter of the City Hall are both negroes who had their white opponents. The Times intimates that it will soon be unlawful in that city for a white man to be a candidate for office.

The National Intelligencer contradicts by authority of the President, the story that orders will be issued for the reopening of registration in the Southern States. The President, while maintaining with his Cabinet, that the Executive possesses no the individual pardoned by it all of his civil and political rights, holds at the same time that it is not the province of the Executive to secure the right of suffrage to such as are pardoned, in the face of the positive Congressional prohibition contained in section seven of the July Presumation act. Their remedy is in the courts, when they are refused registration.

An Important Letter.

We direct attention to the following letter which we find in the Vicksburg Times. The inducements offered by Dr. Emanuel to transport freight over the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad, are much more favorable than any heretofore presented to our merchants. Dr. Emanuel is a gentleman of large business relations with Maj. Flowerree, at Vicksburg. The Major will ship pimetually, and buyers can get the congealed fluid by the passenger train every day, at sixty cents per hundred:

We have received the following letter from Dr. M. Emanuel, President of the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad, which we publish with much pleasure, as it comes to us fresh from an unjust imputation. The letter explains itself sufficiently, without any comment:

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 20, 1867.

Mr. Editor:—I shall call you for calling my attention to the statement in your morning's paper, taken from the Meridian Gazette of the 18th, complaining that the Express Company charged $4.35 on a barrel of ice from Vicksburg to Meridian, and on account of the high charges, the Meridian ice dealers were compelled to get their ice from Mobile. Our Company charges eighty cents a barrel for ice, and will transport 500 pounds for ice forwarded to Meridian, and we make an exception in favor of ice for obvious reasons, and put it at regular rates on our passenger trains.

This explanation should satisfy those who are concerned, that there is no just ground of complaint against the Railroad Company, on account of the grievance complained of.

Formerly we had an arrangement with the Express Company, by which we paid them us like for the use of a half of a freight car on our passenger train, and they charged what they pleased on their freight. That Company demanded a great or reduction on the car hire than our Company was willing to submit to, and they kept on by the hundred pounds; and, therefore, this Company can afford to carry ice cheaper than the Express Company.

Yours, respectfully,

M. EMANUEL, Pres't.

We see that Mr. Hamberlin, the President of the "Meridian Female College," has proposed to offer the benefits of a full course of instruction to a limited number of indigent children, such as the Masonic Lodge of Meridian may select. This is a truly charitable and praiseworthy proposition, and will doubtless prove a great blessing to many parents in and about Meridian who are too poor to pay for the tuition of their daughters and yet who have the talent educational. Every school college in the State, both male and female, should follow the noble example of Mr. Hamberlin. By this means many poor girls who would otherwise grow up in ignorance, through poverty, will be brought under the benefits of a liberal education, and thereby become useful members of society, and the means of good and virtuous mothers.

The negro suffrage bill in the Carolinas, S. C. registration is 1,501 over the whites.

Physical Vigor,

Physical vigor is the main safeguard of health. It repels and fights off the morbid elements which superindnce disease. The grand question, therefore, is, how shall this republican power be increased where it is but feeble, and acquired where it is scarce or exists at all? There was a time when this question could not be satisfactorily answered. But the problem is now solved. It has been proved by the experience of more than fourteen years that. Hostetter's Bitters so thoroughly reinforce both the constitution and the secretive and the nervous systems as to render the body comparatively invulnerable to the unwholesome influences which prostrate so many thousands on beds of sickness, in various parts of the world, at all seasons of the year. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and to all constitutions, it stands ALONE among modern medicines. It is the only tonic of which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the essential principle of sound Rye, admitted by analytical chemists and medical practitioners to be the most genial and harmless of stimuli; and this fluid is purged of all the crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer, before being used in the composition of the Bitters. The alterative, corrective and restorative properties of the preparation are derived exclusively from roots and plants the virtues of which are acknowledged by pharmaceutists and physicians, and which are often prescribed separately by the profession. Never however, were these invaluable vegetable agents combined for preventure and remedial purposes until the happy compound, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was given to the world.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Progress has its penalties. As the world advances in civilization, it becomes more luxurious and the digestive organs of the body seem to be an inseparable accompaniment of the cultivation of the mind. This ought not to be, but it is and no argument can alter the fact, though wholesome advice and judicious precautionary and remedial treatment may mitigate the evil. Savages, we are told, are not troubled with dyspepsia; but this dictum is open to doubt. Privation and hardship, as well as high living and dissipation, engender the disease and it would therefore seem that the men of the wilderness, as well as the dweller in cities, must be more or less subject to it. One thing, however, is certain; in no country under heaven is it so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and it is to be found in almost every household; and consequently, a Household Remedy for Dyspepsia of inestimable value to the American people.

Dyspepsia involves greater suffering; and, if not in itself immediately dangerous, it is the forerunner and source of many deadly maladies. But even if it did not tend to shorten life—which it undoubtedly does—the mental and physical misery which it produces and which results from the comparatively unenjoyable, is a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared in the effort to prevent and cure it.

Physicians, as a general rule, admit that no disease gives them so much trouble as dyspepsia, and they attribute the difficulty of curing it to the unwillingness of their patients to abandon the habits which are at once the excessive appliention to business, lastiness in eating, &c., &c. It is no doubt true that the best treatment of a complaint may fail to cure it. If the patient refuses to exercise common prudence. We will not say that what we called the official remedies for dyspepsia do not under any circumstances produce permanent relief, but on the other hand is a fact established by thousands of creditable witnesses, whose testimony is simply a statement of their own experiences, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the malady, and that an occasional use of the preparation after the cure has been effected is a perpetual safeguard against the recurrence of the complaint. This account many intelligent members of the faculty have abandoned all the stereotyped prescriptions of the pharmacopoeia of the King of Chills four or five times a day. Do not forget the name, Dumont & Cox, KING OF CHILLS. Price $1.00. Sold by all Druggists.

YOUR WIFE

Possesses charms in proportion to her health, and she becomes a husband's love by the interest he manifests in her welfare while she is sick. Now, if you wish to retain in fact your wife's love and affection unabated, you must see that she regains her health and former beauty, you should by all means procure a bottle of

English Female Bitters,

A compound that is actually restoring health to more sickly females than all other remedies combined. It is a positive remedy for Uterine Complaints peculiar to the female sex. It is invaluable in Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Hysteria, as it is no secret nor patent, and effects cures none else can accomplish. Sold by druggists.

OLD AND YOUNG FEMALES

Have long needed a medicine that would relieve them of all those Female Complaints and irregularities to which they are subject. Introduced all over the Southern country, and they can now confidently rely upon Dr. Hostetter's English Female Bitters. It arouses, restores and regulates. Its cures are rapid and permanent. It tranlates all painful Menstruation, Hysterics, Leucorrhœa or "Whites," Falling of the Womb, Chronic Ulcers of the Womb, Chlorosis, and all those symptoms which follow, this unfortunate class of females.

That Young Girl,

Whose bloom has departed from her cheeks; whose eye has lost its lustre; whose intellect has lost its brightness; whose nervous system is shattered and despair; who is pale, emaciated, feeble, lifeless, requires only palpitation of the heart, nervousness of the head, cold feet and hands, only to be restored to health and happiness by using the English Female Bitters.

MARRIED LADIES,

As you value your life, and health, and personal charms, do not suffer another month. The English Female Bitters will positively cure you. Sold by druggists.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to the public these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The proprietors of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Ague Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors are never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bateman's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Sexton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, and using the best English Inks now used. We cannot understand why their remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician.

ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS.—Cures female complaints and irregularity. Cures falling of the womb and the whites. Cures obstructed and painful menstruation.—Cures sick headache and pain in the side. Cures hysterics, melancholy and swinging of the head. Cures old or young married or single females. Cures the concealed and irritable womb. It arouses restores and re-invigorates the Uterine Organs.

See advertisement of house and lot for sale or rent, by J. P. Dement, &c. The place is very pleasantly situated, and can be had on easy terms.

DR. SEABROOK'S Infant Soothing Syrup.—Our friend Seabrook is the old and reliable. Found Drives at night, is now living over two hundred years old, and has got a large and considerable number of children and descendants of twenty years in the back-ground. NO EXCUSE FOR BAD BREAD

SELF-RAISING FLOUR

FOR

Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.

TIME AND LABOR SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Stir in the water with a spoon and beat at once, without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the oven, therefore, should be in good baking order before begin ing to mix—MIND THIS.

Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.

For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last article mixed. Salt to suit the taste.

RECEIPTS.

SALT TO SUIT THE TASTE.

For Light Bread.—Use cold water or milk and mix with a spoon just sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; put it into a deep pan not more than half full, bake immediately. The pan shou ld be covered to prevent the formation of a hard c ust before the loa has risen sufficiently. If the bread does not brown on the top, remove the cover a few minutes before taking the b ead from the oven.

Bread Pans—Are found best to bake best when seven inches long, four inches deep, and four inches w de at the bottom, flaring and lined with covers. These pans are excellent for cake.

For Biscuit—Make the dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the usual amount of shortening, or cold sweet milk without shortening. Bake at once in a well heated oven, they will be light, white sweet and tender.

For Light Rolls—Same as biscuit, except that the dough should be a little softer, use less shortening.

For Wheat Muffins—Three eggs, one quart of milk or water, three pints of flour, one teaspoonful of melted Lard. Bake in deep Muffin rings.

Tea Pies—Use less shortening than with common flour, and roll the crust very thin.

Sponge Cake—One pound of Sugar, dilated in three gills of milk or water, half a pound of butter, two eggs, half a pint of milk or water and two pounds of flour.

Quick Sponge Cake—One cup of powdered sugar and one cup of flour, mixed together, break in three eggs, stir quickly as t bake in a quick tin mun-shortcake, in which case sieve Pastor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.

Gold and Silver Cake—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour. Divide this dough into two equal parts, take four eggs and use the yolks for the gold and the whites for the silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered brass pans.

Brown Nuts—One pound of Sugar, a little shortening, two eggs, three pounds of flour and one pint of water.

Pot Pie and Dumplings—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit, but a little more sugar and butter.

Pot Cakes and Fritters.—Will need no eggs. Butter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-Raising Flour.

The quicker you handle this flour the better. Never let it stand to rise. See that the oven is hot before you touch the flour. The softer the dough the better. Do not knead it.

☞ Put up in every style to suit the trade. ☞ Ask your Grocer for a six pound package; you will use no other—every package warranted. Manufactured by DARCY & PUTNAM,

SUBDIVISION OF PLANTATIONS.

CHANCES FOR ALL.

The Southern Asylum Land Company, in addition to their grand scheme of City Residences and Lots, in which Col. M. C. Galloway's valuable residences in Memphis, c mbines the real Real Prize, as Five Dollars per Ticket, now offers chances in a scheme that embraces

FARMS FOR THE MILLION.

There is not in this scheme an acre of swamp or wild land, each Farm is good, and the whole a cultivated Plantation—each tract is on or with in a few miles of a Railway, either on the

Memphis & Charleston,

Mississippi Central,

Mobile & Ohio,

Mer dian & Vicksburg, or

Mississippi & Tennessee R. R.

The several tracts are disposed of at the low est cash valuation, in subdivisions of 40, 80 and 160 acres. Each Subdivision constitutes a prize,

TICKET COSTS ONE DOLLAR.

For a description of the property refer to the new Pamphlet issued by the Company. Titles are perfect, or the money will be paid to the winner of the prize.

All land in this scheme is in the State of Mississippi. The Capital Prize within fifteen miles of Memphis, on the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad.

The lands are adapted to the growth of grain, cotton, grapes, etc., are cheaper than Government lands, in cold latitudes, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. The average cost of these lands is seven dollars per acre.

A deduction of 10 per cent. in favor of ten or more. Tickets may be had of local Agents or through the Memphis Agency. july15tsd

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear Commercial College.

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,

WITH COMMERCIAL AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of the South and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course
here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total $255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5895 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE CULLEN'S STEEL BRUSH GIN.

The celebrated COTTON GIN, in age & manufactured under the supervision of the Patentee, P. D. Cullen, whose name is a guarantee for them, and we, as agents for the South-west, now offer them to the public.

Its advantages are:

1st. The quantity of cotton ginned in a given time is more than double by any other gin of equal number of saws.

2d. It separates from the cotton all motes and dust and leaves it clean from seed.

3d. The roll cannot be broken by over feeding. All gins are warranted to do as much work and perfection from thirteen saw roll and for as above, in reference to which we refer to gentlemen of this county and from motes and dust we have been in use extensively in the South over ten (10) years, and wherever used is superior to all other gins.

Send for special circulars.

COTTON PRESSES,

We are manufacturing for the coming year an improved screw on the following plan, which will put the cotton in bales of uniform packing. It can be worked by hand, horse, or steam power. One horse power will press 2 bales per hour. Two horse power will press 3 bales per hour, and steam power in proportion.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

Fashions for October.

So far as real change in the fashion of making clothes is concerned, there promises to be but little of novelty to record. The current has set in one direction, and the revolution which it has created is so great that it was a long time before people could believe it possible or permanent; and even now the alteration is not yet general, and has hardly penetrated the remoter districts of the country.

The fiat has gone forth, however. Narrow dresses, with the smallest hoops, or none at all, will be absolutely the rule—short for the street, long as trails can be made for visiting and ceremonious occasions.

Waists are very short; waistbands broad; skirts clinging in every respect. The styles of the old Empire are revived; and though popular modifications may be expected, yet the tendency will be altogether in this direction, and the sooner it is generally accepted the better.

The great difficulty among the masses of women appears to be in regard to the details of the costume. They will wear large hoops with short dresses and old-fashioned, full gathered skirts with gored dresses.

The introduction of the new Boulevard skirt will undoubtedly make a change.—This is the latest novelty in colored skirts, and is peculiarly and specially adapted for purposes of taste, convenience, and utility. It is made in a plain gored shape, without any full and generally adapted somely braided, so that the dress can be worn short or looped over it.

With the short length, the short dress should be made the same length, and trimmed to simulate an upper skirt.

A new walking dress is composed of a pelisse, gored plain, and buttoned straight down the front over a Boulevard skirt prettily braided. The color of the skirt and pelisse is the same, the braiding even, and in black. Brown, brown and dark olive green are both distinguished colors in connection with black. The pelisse is always made very closely to the figure.

The most fashionable sleeves are long, narrow and open, with cool sleeves beneath.

Short jackets are still worn although as winter advances they will be worn longer and more closely. The gored sack shape, with pelerine cap attached, is a novelty, and a most comfortable and useful style. It is exceedingly well adapted to country wear, and for ladies who do not wish to put off sets of furs.

The fur boa was revived last season to some extent, and will be still more fashionable this coming winter. It will be very suitable wear with the Aletic cloak, as the new pelerine garment is called.

News Items.

English engineers have already completed a railway tunnel through a volcanic range in New Zealand.

A dispatch from Centreville, Indiana, on Thursday morning, between Hon. J. W. Carmichael, formerly of the State Senate, and Hon. Schuyler Colfax over in Indianapolis. Two rounds were fired; the first resulted in a flesh wound in the arm of Mr. Colfax, but the second received the discharge in the region of his heart, and was taken from the garden by the friends of the unfortunate man. The origination from the fact that Carmichael had accused Colfax with cheating at the gaming table.

West Louisville a few days ago an unknown man jumped into the river from a Steamboat. He was thought to be insane and no one took notice of it, and he was drowned.

Numerous suits are to be brought before the courts as the delegates to the late convention test the constitutionality of the confiscation act. Eminent counsel have been retained to try the issue, including Caleb Cushing.

In New Orleans the extension of the night air from sleeping rooms is recommended. In other places physicians are recommending the same thing in districts where rain is not frequent, also to going out early in the morning.

The New Orleans papers complain of the imperfect drainage there, a fifteen minutes shower flooding the streets.

The Shakespeare Club of New Orleans has contributed the noble sum of one thousand one hundred and twenty dollars to the relief of the sufferers by yellow fever in New Iberia.

The World has been devoting its attention to the subject of ladies' dress, and argues in favor of a resurgence of American women to decide what style of dress American women shall wear.

An attempt has been made to dispense entirely with crinoline for indoor dress, but it has proved a failure. Negligee across the water—for, in Paris, very small hoops are worn—it will not be met with favor here. Hitherwards it will probably be superseded by a new skirt, made of a lighter, and more durable material.

The New York Gazette says that F. M. Finch, the author of the poem "Blue and Gray," in the last Atlantic, is an excitable and gifted young Kentucky lawyer of Indianapolis.

The Atlanta papers say that within the last three months there have been ten cases of rape in and about that city, all of them, with a solitary exception, committed by negroes. The last was that of a little girl only seven years of age, the daughter of a merchant in Atlanta, who was brutally outraged by two negro men, and afterwards strangled.

The Mobile Board of Health have published a card setting forth that there has been no case of yellow fever in that city since that of which Major Trace died—They promise the public correct and early information concerning the health of that city.

At an election in Richmond, the other day, some two hundred negro votes were not received, because those who proffered them could not swear to the time under which they were entered. What a commentary on the Radical universal doctrine.

Bazaine, who commanded the French army in Mexico, is at home, and is the popular ban; he feels it keenly, and it is confidently asserted that the matters obliquely referred to in the proceedings following of the Emperor's express commands.

A new system of telegraphic construction is proposed in England; the wires to be buried in the bed of the railroads, with proper insulation.

The delegate from Claiborne county, Mississippi, to the Radical Convention, must be in very bad health, for the Vicksburg Telegraph of the 4th says he will need another dose of blue mass on his return home.

The Philadelphia Radicals are amusing themselves by passing resolutions in favor of the impeachment of the President for daring to offer a protest to their violations of the Constitution.

A young man named Wm. Gray, while riding in the cars of the Tennessee, at Augusta, Arkansas, last week, was thrown from his horse and received injuries, from the effects of which he died.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Meridian Daily Gazette.

The undersigned propose to issue a daily paper from this office, about the first of October, with the above title. The commercial importance of Meridian, its rapidly increasing population, and its prosperity, almost without a parallel in the South, has induced us to believe that the public would liberally sustain and support a daily paper at this place. There is no reason why Meridian, with its railroad advantages, and its greatly increasing wealth, should not maintain a daily newspaper that in size, appearance, mechanical execution and industrial management would take rank with the dailies of our neighboring cities. We believe a daily will more properly represent the great interests of the city at home and abroad, and give greater aid to its friends in its rapid improvement than the Semi-Weekly and Weekly we now publish. We promise all that industry and energy can accomplish will be employed to make it an exponent of the enterprise and public spirit of this section of the State. The Daily Gazette will give the latest telegraphic news and market reports eight to twelve hours earlier than they can be seen in any other paper, and will be specially valuable to merchants and business men in this and the neighboring towns.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore given the Gazette, we appeal to our patrons and friends to aid us in establishing permanently a daily paper at Meridian, and respectfully solicit that material aid without which no enterprise of the kind can succeed. Our Semi-Weekly and Weekly editions will both be continued.—Subscribers to either paper, who desire the Daily, can have their names transferred and will receive credit for the amount already paid.

The price of the Daily will be, per annum, $10.00. For one month, $1.00.

J. GIBSON, Publisher.
J. J. SHANNON, Editor.

REACTION IN NEW YORK.—The Herald says that the radical organs in that city have lost one-third of their subscribers within the past three months. This falling off is in consequence of the dissatisfaction of prudent business men and intelligent, fair-minded citizens, with the violent tirades and bloody revolutionary schemes of the extreme radicals, who are ready to plunge the country into all sorts of dangers and difficulties rather than lose possession of the spoils of the government. It is an indication of the reaction that is going on all over the Union, and that will soon appear in Pennsylvania and New York, just the same as it has been seen already in California and Maine.

REGISTRATION OF ARKANSAS.—The registration in the State of Arkansas has been completed, and the report forwarded to Gen. Ord. The registry stands :

White,	45,676
Colored	22,112
Total..	66,990

It will be seen that the white vote predominates by about two to one.

They say Assistant Attorney Binckley makes the best officer in his Department, that it has had for a long time. Since he has been acting in the place of Stanberry, it is claimed that the President has derived great pleasure and the country much profit from his ability and intrepidity.—The reason of it all is that he used to be an editor, and went from the sanctum of the Intelligencer into his present position.

The planters of Louisiana complain that they will hardly be able to pick what little cotton they may make on account of the fearfulness of the freedmen for political meetings. The same complaint comes to us from all parts of the South. The newly enfranchised want to participate in all Republican gatherings. Politics have been the bane of this country, and if the negroes keep on they will be ruined before half a decade rolls round.

At Chatawa, on the New Orleans and Jackson Railroad, a paper mill is being rapidly completed; one mile above Independence Valley and Raoul have a car manufactory, and at Hamsiond's Station, a shoe factory with extensive tanneries, are in full operation.

John Lee has been dismissed from the Board of Registrars of Rankin county, and Dr. D. A. Cobea appointed in his stead. Lee, it will be remembered, was a witness against Surratt, and during the trial a number of gentlemen testified that they would not believe him on oath. It was afterwards proved beyond a doubt Surratt was not within five hundred miles of Washington at the time Lee swore he saw him there.

WELL SUSTAIN THE CIVIL AUTHORITIES.—Is stated, upon apparently reliable information, that Chief Justice Chase has written to the President, sustaining the civil authorities in the late difficulties in North Carolina, out of which arose the conflict of authority between Gen. Sickles and Marshal Godbin.

☞ Hon. W. L. Sharkey is out in a lengthy letter defining his position on the Reconstruction bill. He regards the reconstruction policy unconstitutional, view it from whatever stand-point we may.

Harry Moss has returned to the tripod. The pleasant paragraphs will be found in the Vicksburg Telegraph hereafter. Moss loves and Moss will make a strong team, and can, that is our opinion, must prove successful. Success to prosperity to your worthy enterprise.

The Campaign North.

The reaction which recently began in New England, the stronghold of radicalism, seems to be extending to all parts of the country. All the canvass is improving in interest and dignity, and is conducted with marked ability. Improvident taxation, inequality of the financial system, the dangerous usurpations of Congress, in attempting to place sovereign States under the surveillance of committees of that body with a view to the reorganization of the Government in conformity with Congressional plans; the establishment of the most absolute and audacious military despotism in time of profound peace, over twelve millions of freemen; the inequality, of making greenbacks a legal currency among the people, and of taxing them with the difference in value between greenbacks and gold, in order to pay certain favored creditors in that more valuable currency, and the hurtful and degradation of the white race of the country, are some of the forcible grounds presented by the Conservative leaders. In Pennsylvania, both parties have marshalled all their forces. The rallies on the side of negro suffrage are opposed by the Democracy which is for rescuing the intelligence of from this class of people, and maintaining the same where it stood in ante bellum times. In New York the canvass is as active as elsewhere, with but little doubt of a Democratic triumph.—Minor issues are thrust aside, and the time-serving and timid, sent to the rear. The radical position is that Congress has the right and authority to regulate the elective franchise in the several States according to its own discretion and conscientiously that negro suffrage be imposed by Congressional legislation upon any State, whether the people wish it or not. The Democratic position is that Congress has nothing to do with the subject, that it belongs exclusively to the people of the State to determine who shall be voters within her limits. This is certainly a very strong fortress the conservative party have entered, and one about which there never was any dispute, until radicalism seized the reins of government. The reaction is also likely to extend to Wisconsin. Some of the most influential men of the nationality have come out in favor of social and religious freedom, and against the doctines of the Radicals. Upon this platform, a committee composed of ten Republicans and eight Democrats, last week issued an address to the Germans throughout the State, which appears to be materially interfering with the prospects of the party of great moral ideas. The bold and decisive elections, recently which occurred, and the energetic canvass now being made in the States where elections are soon to take place, are the strongest reasons for the belief that we will have a change of things even without a change of Congress—that the great voice of the people will not be disregarded by the vindictive partisans, who have, during the past few years, repeatedly disregarded the Constitution and laws. While the struggle is going on, the South must remain quiet and law-abiding; and commit no act that will check the impending disaster. When Maine and California, the Dan and Beersheba of this country, clasp hands in fraternal constitutional union, the overwhelming evidence that the doom of radicalism is sealed—that its descent will be as shocking and swift, as its progress was violent and irresistable."

The Safe Middle Ground

The friends of Reconstruction and liberty generally, met in large numbers at the Capitol in Jackson the other night, to consider the political situation, and to adopt resolutions expressive of the objects of the meeting. Judge William Yerger presided, and delivered a powerful argument in support of the policy of Reconstruction, after which a series of resolutions were reported, and adopted by acclamation. These resolutions urge the people to accept the situation; advise against hasty action, and counsel a safe middle ground. We extract from the resolutions:

4th. Resolved, That the Reconstruction party of Mississippi is a distinctive political organization, neither for secession, or connection with the extremists of the Republican party; and that as we are organized for the sole purpose of speedy reconstruction without reference to general principles of national or State politics, we cordially invite all citizens to unite with us, strictly on the basis of Reconstruction under the Congressional bill, and thus strive to rescue the State from military rule, to establish civil law and order in the country, and to reconstruct the dissevered Union of these States.

5th. Resolved, That as a means of reviving the fraternal feeling which should pervade all parts of a common country; of restoring peace, prosperity and good will; of inviting capital with its powerful agencies in rebuilding our waste places, and establishing means for the development of our natural resources, that considerations of philanthropy, patriotism and self-interest alike demand the encouragement of immigration from the Northern States, and from the nations of Europe.

6th. Resolved, That as education is the enemy of vice and the promoter of virtue we are in favor of efficient systems of public schools for all classes and colors.

7th. Resolved, That as labor is the source of all prosperity and success with States, as with individuals, it should be protected in its right to adequate reward.

8th. Resolved, That the Federal tax on cotton is unjust and oppressive to all classes of our citizens, particularly those who are engaged in agriculture, and that it is a discriminating tax against the freedmen, who have commenced life anew in an unrivaled capacity, and with no means of support but the profits of their labor; and against the whites of the South, who have been impoverished by the war—and that every consideration of justice and sound policy, requires the speedy repeal of a measure characterized by such oppressive discriminations between the people of the different States.

9th. Resolved, That we cherish no feelings of hostility towards the colored population of the State, but desire to see them to be prosperous and happy in their present condition of freedom; and shall oppose all legislation discriminating against them.

10th. Resolved, That we earnestly advise the people of all the counties in Mississippi, at once to organize county associations in harmony with the foregoing platform, and to use all proper means in advancing the work of reconstruction under the existing laws.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.—A corps of engineers are now in Mobile, who will proceed at once to survey the route between that city and Meridian. The survey will be commenced on Broad street Tuesday.

Revised Cotton Regulations.

The revised cotton regulations concerning the removal weighing and marking of cotton have been approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and were telegraphed all over the country. The tax on cotton is 2½ cents per pound. Tax is a lien on the cotton till paid. Class A is cotton upon which tax has been paid; class B is cotton removed from the district of production; class C is cotton received from points not in the district where produced. Before payment of tax, the cotton must be described by these designations. Each assessor is required to keep an account with every cotton producer in his district. Metal tags for marking cotton will hereafter be required. On each tag will be stamped a letter A, number in figures and U. S. Internal Revenue. In all cases the Assessor or assistant Assessor must see cotton weighed and marked. This process does not require the immediate payment of tax on cotton, and it can be held within this district without the payment of tax, unless sold for consumption within the district. The owner can have his cotton weighed and marked at any point in the district, by paying the travelling expenses of officers. Disagreements may be referred to the Commissioner. Bad officers must not delay in proceeding to weigh cotton on account of disagreement regarding expenses. Weighers must take the oath of office prescribed by Congress, July 3d, 1867. Each bale shall be marked gross weight, with ink or paint, in large letters. Metallic tags as hereafter prescribed, shall be fixed on each bale by the assessor or assessors. Weighers must make daily returns to assessors for weighing, at 35 cents per bale, the weigher furnishing the metallic tags, for which the owner pays one fee. Cotton may be removed from the district in which it was produced to other districts without pre-payment of the tax, under bond or other security, to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.—It is determined to substitute shipments to revenue officers, under bills of lading, for bonds as heretofore. The collector will in no case permit the owner of cotton, his agent or factor, to have actual possession of the same until the tax shall have been paid. If the tax is paid before the expiration of ninety days from the date of the assessor's permit, assessors will at once certify the amount of tax to the collector for collection, and if necessary the collector will enforce collection by distraint and sale of the cotton. Whenever tax is paid on cotton shipped under bill of lading from one district to another it will deliver to the proper person his certificate of payment and permit for removal. When owners or holders of cotton desire to pay taxes on the same before its removal from the district in which it was produced, they will be required to have the same weighed, marked and tagged in the above manner as hereinbefore prescribed. The weigher will make his certificate in duplicate, and will send one copy to the assessor and the other to the collector of the district the owner or holder resides in, or to the assessor of the district upon receipt of this return the assessor to whom it is delivered will immediately proceed to assess the tax upon 100 ten mentioned therein, and will at once certify to the amount to the collector and furnish the required entry in his monthly list. Upon receipt of the Assessors certificate, the Collector will at once collect the Tax, and will thereupon issue his certificate of payment and permit for the removal of the cotton, which permit must state the amount and payment of tax, the time and place of payment, and the marks, numbers and gross weight of the bales or packages so that the same may at all times be fully identified.

EXPOSES THE PRESIDENT.—A communication was published in the Corinth News, a few days since, calling upon United States officers to know whether they endorsed President Johnson's Administration; to which J. E. Stewart, United States District Attorney, has promptly responded. He fully identifies himself with the constitutional policy of the President. Attorney Stewart says if the President is true to his oath of office, to know how a large number of United States officials in this State, or rather province, stand in relation to these questions?

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people those persons, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Harley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Age Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations" so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also sole manufacturers of Spalding's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, uses equalling the best English Inks now used. We cannot understand why these preparations might not as well be taken by special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician. If Mississippi News.

There is a case of sickness in the city, upon which medical opinion is divided. Some assert that it is yellow fever, while others contend that it is not. We shall see. —Vicksburg Telegraph.

The mills are commencing to get very large and fat. They can easily be caught in large numbers by means of cast-nets. The month of November is the time they are in their best condition, and we think that at that time they might be caught by the quantity and dried or cured. We are not aware of any obstacle to the successful prosecution of this plan.—Shieldsboro Gazette.

From a correspondence between Mr. C. M. Ottley, Treasurer, and Judge Stephen Brown, President of the board of trustees of the Columbus Female Institute, we learn that the former gentleman turned over to the latter, about $3,000 in cash and the lumber, and other materials—originally costing between three and four hundred dollars—as the net proceeds of the late Tournament at Columbus.

Mr. M. L. Rogers has retired from the Vernon Times, and is succeeded by Messrs. Goard and Lacey, who will continue the Times as an anti-reconstruction journal.

A tender-hearted New York youth of seventeen, named James Woods, was arrested last Saturday while passing off a piece of brown paper on a wretched blind man in payment for some tobacco.

At Savannah on Friday, there was a difficulty between some whites and negroes, about a negro who had been wounded by one of the white men. Several shots were exchanged; one negro was killed and two other wounded. A Mr. Lancaster had his horse shot and was wounded, and he and another white man were carried off by about thirty negroes, and probably killed.

Dr. A. Eaton, a brief brother of President Lincoln, dropped dead at Mumfordville, Kentucky, on Friday last, while mixing medicine for a patient.

Opposition at the North to the National Loan seems to be gaining ground every day. The recent failures have developed a condition of affairs that is very unsatisfactory, to say the least.

The Radical leaders at the North have suggested to Gen. Grant a coup d'etat, which, if they could prevail on him to accept it, would cover him with eternal disgrace. It is nothing more, nor less than treacherously to seize upon the Government and set aside its constitutional head.

A correspondent writing from Yazoo, says a freedman being registered, following the official administering the oath very closely, when he came to the article that you support the Constitution of the United States," "Stop dar, massa," said he, "I can't swear to dat, kase I have a lady by wife an' seben children, an' dey is all I can support now-a-days."

A pic-nic is to be held at Dry Grove in Hinds county, on the 5th of October to raise means to build an Episcopal Church at that place.

Advices from Arkansas, report that one-fourth of the cotton crop has been destroyed by the worm.

Advices from Vera Cruz state that the trial of Santa Anna is daily expected to take place, his counsel having already arrived from the City of Mexico. In Vera Cruz it was generally believed that sentence of death would be passed by the court, but that it would not be carried out from the supreme Government forbidding the carrying out of any sentence without the findings being approved by the President, as Commander-in-Chief. It was supposed, after the trial, the authorities intended to pardon the old soldier.

The newspapers of New Orleans are becoming very sarcastic, when they speak of each other—the Picayune says, concerning, As we are not well acquainted in the city, will not some of our confreres over there inform us who is meant by the cold fossil," the "Blanket," and the "Mendicant Lovalist ?"

These are certainly very gay names.

A PERTINENT INQUIRY.—A writer in the Corinth News says:

Is it not customary for men who fill offices of trust and emolument under the general government, to agree, in political sentiment, with the President from whom they receive their appointments? Is it not expected that they should do so? Is it not duty they should? In no humble opinion these questions must be answered in the affirmative. Again if so, I respectfully to know how a large number of United States officials in this State, or rather province, stand in relation to these questions?

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—This large and influential body of gentlemen at its recent meeting in Jackson, adopted for use in the schools of the State, among others, the following books, published by John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Kentucky:

The Goodrich Series of Readers, edited by Noble Butler. Butler's Grammar, Towne's Mathematics and Barbee's Geology.

The object of this action on the part of the Association, is to secure uniformity in the use of text books throughout the State. In order that so desirable a result may be attained, we would respectfully suggest that our teachers throughout the State, the necessity of taking early steps to secure a supply of these books for their pupils. With the exception of the Geology, which is just being issued from the press, these books are already used in all the public and private schools in New Orleans, Mobile, Vicksburg, Jackson, Meridian, Columbus and Aberdeen, where, of course, large supplies are kept. Schools in the vicinity of these places can easily procure a supply, but, as regards schools off the lines of the railroads, a difficulty will occur unless prompt action is taken. We would recommend that all teachers in the State, who intend to aid the association in its work, address John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky., at once, stating the number of books likely to be needed. Our acquaintance with the members of that house, warrants us in assuring teachers that prompt attention will be given to their orders, and every reasonable request complied with. 1-f.

BURGLARY.—A freedman, more bold than honest, entered the residence of Mr. B. F. Fallon, on Wednesday night and was in the act of examining the pockets of that gentleman's pants, when Mrs. Fallon awoke and gave the alarm. The negro immediately jumped out of a window and made good his escape. We would advise our citizens to have their windows well fastened down at night.

The residence of C. P. Williams, S. A. D. Steele, A. B. Wagner and E. V. Early have also been entered during the week. Mr. Wagner lost a watch, pistol, breastpin and some clothing. The loss of the other gentlemen named, was very trifling.

We had a call the other day from Mr. O. V. Shearer, Jr., of the Okolona News, who was on a brief visit to his kinsman, Waldro W. Shearer, Esq., of our city. We were glad to learn from him that Okolona is increasing rapidly in wealth and population, and that the News is doing a lively and remunerative business.

The people are beginning to feel a little easier in money matters; the result of the year's toil is coming forward to market and the merchants are making active preparations for a prosperous business season. There is certainly every reason to anticipate a lively business time this winter, and we hope the revival will reach all classes alike.

CREATION OF THE WORLD.—This exhibition has presented in this community last evening, but one purpose and goal to prove before the performance closed. It has the reputation of being both entertaining and instructive. Those who wish to avail themselves of an opportunity of witnessing it can do so this evening.

BEWARE OF THE IMPOSTER.—There is an individual, at present canvassing the eastern portion of Mississippi, who gives his name as W. A. Clements, and who is engaged in exhibitions of Ethiopian melodies and negro eccentricities. Mr. Clements has attached to his programmes credentials purporting to be from B. C. Chilton and T. J. Watts, of Montgomery, Ala., setting forth that they are personally acquainted with the Professor, and that the proceeds of his exhibitions are appropriated for the benefit of "Hopewell Institute," an institution intended for a free school for the orphans of the South." In addition to this, he has a certificate from J. P. Burton, Circuit Clerk of Butler county, Ala., who states that Professor Clements is an authorized agent for Hopewell Institute. Whether these testimonials are forgeries, we cannot positively say, but one thing we can say, whatever his ostensible mission may be, he is guilty of unprecedented rascality in this community, which brands him not only as a humbug, but an unmitigated imposter. As he boasts of the golden opinions he has won from the press and public, we will take occasion to add one more to the category, which he so much deserves, and warn others against this vile imposter.

We have received an official list of premiums distributed at the first preliminary drawing of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational and Mechanical Aid Society. The principal premiums were held at Vicksburg, Jackson and Memphis. At the next drawing, to come off October 13th, the number of premiums is increased to 450, and the number of certificates reduced from 9,000 to 8,000. The amount of premiums are also increased from $20,400 to $30,000, thus making the second distribution altogether more attractive than the first.

Admiral Semmes, the able editor of the Memphis Bulletin, has retired from the editorial department of that excellent paper.

PRESIDENTIAL CONVENTION.—As the public manifest much eagerness to learn who the delegates are and by whom they are known by their literary titles, we have been at some pains to learn who the delegates are, and lay before our readers in advance of all contemporaries the following reliable statement:

Delegates at Large—
"Alfred Hamilton"—Paul R. Shipman.
"John A. Billings"—John H. Harvey.
"Thomas Jefferson"—Dr. J. B. Bonham.
"Democracy"—Dr. J. R. Bonham.
"Ex-Governor"—Dr. Wm. Prentiss.
"Law"—G. D. Prentiss.
"Liberty"—Dr. Wm. M. McCorry.
Delegates to the Congressional Districts—
"Alfred Hamilton" to Dr. M. Slater.
"Democracy" to Dr. Wm. Prentiss.
"Liberty" to Dr. Wm. M. McCorry.
"Law" to G. D. Prentiss.
"Thomas Jefferson" to Dr. J. B. Bonham.
"John A. Billings" to John H. Harvey.

It's a man's wife is well fixed, he won't necessarily die soon.

Where there is much pretension, much has been borrowed.

Go to strangers for charity, friends for advice, and to relatives for nothing, and you will have a supply.

Young man, do you believe in a future state? "In course, I dus; and what's more, I intend to enter it when Betsy gets ready to accompany me."

Solomon said a gent to his wife, let me tell you—facts are stubborn things."—"Yes," quoth the lady, "what a fact you must be."

Give not the tongue too great liberty, lest it take the prisoner. An unspoken word is like a sword in a wicked hand. If vented, thy sword is in another's hand. If thou desire to be held wise, be so wise as to hold thy tongue.

A man at Portland, Me., had his house robbed by a "professional," who, on his way home, wrote to his victim, returning the goods, which were valuable to the owner alone, and signed himself a "poor, but honest burglar."

The day is coming, says the New London Star, when throughout the whole country, woman will be clothed with the elective franchise. Rather a chilly contrast to the cold pork and dry goods dealers and hoop skirt manufactories! Hard on the women, too!

A Methodist and Quaker stopped at the same house, and agreed to sleep in the same bed. Methodist knelt, and prayed fervently—occupied a catalogue of sins. When he arose, Quaker observed, "Really, friend, if thou art as bad as thou seemest to be, I think I dare not sleep with thee."

Physical Vigor.

Physical vigor is the main safeguard of health. It repels and fights off the morbid elements which superinduce disease. The grand question, therefore, is, how shall this repellant power be increased where it is but feeble, and acquired where it scarcely exists at all? There was a time when this question could not be satisfactorily answered, but that period is now solved. It has been proved by the experience of more than fifteen years that Hostetter's Bitters so thoroughly reinforce both the constitution and the secretive and the nervous systems as to render the body comparatively invulnerable to the unwholesome influences which prostrate so many thousands on beds of sickness, in various parts of the world, at all seasons of the year. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and to all contingencies, it stands above among modern medicines. It is the only one in which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the genial principle of sound Rye, admitted by analytical chemists and medical practitioners to be the most genial and harmless of alcoholic stimulants, and is purged of all the crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer. Into the composition of the Bitters. The alterative, corrective and restorative properties of the preparation are derived exclusively from roots and plants the virtues of which are acknowledged by pharmaceutists and physicians, and which are given prescribed separately by the profession. Never however, were these invaluable vegetable agents combined in such a mixture and remedial purposes until the hygeian compound, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was given to the world.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Progress has its penalties. As the world advances in civilization, it becomes more luxurious and the pampering of the body seems to be the principal accompaniment of the cultivation of the mind. This ought not to be; but it is, and no argument can alter the fact. Such wholesome advice and judicious, precautionary and remedial treatment may mitigate the evil. Savagedom has its own troubles and vices, especially; but this dictum is open to doubt. Privation and hardship, as well as high living and dissipation, engender the disease; and it would therefore seem that the dweller in cities is not more or less subject to it. One thing, however, is certain; in no country under heaven is it so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and it is to be found in almost every household; and consequently a Household Remedy for Dyspepsia is an inestimable value to the American people.

Few disorders involve greater suffering; and, if not in itself immediately dangerous, it is the fruitful source of many of the most deadly maladies. But even if it did not tend to shorten life—which it undoubtedly does—mental and physical misery which it produces, and which renders life comparatively unenjoyable, is a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared in the effort to prevent and cure it.

Physicians, as a general rule, admit that no disease gives them so much trouble as dyspepsia, but they attribute the difficulty of curing it to the unwillingness of their patients to abandon the habits which occasion it, such as excessive application to business, careless eating, &c., &c. It is no doubt true that the best treatment of a complaint may fail to cure it, if the patient will not relinquish the habits practiced while under the influence of which it originated; but it is also true that what we called the official remedies for dyspepsia do not possess the unanimous approval or permanent relief. On the other hand it is a fact established by thousands of overwhelming witnesses, whose testimony is simply a statement of their own experiences, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the malady, and that an occasional use of the preparation after the cure has been effected will prevent a return of it, or a fresh recurrence of the symptoms. On this account many intelligent members of the medical profession abandoned all the prescribed prescriptions of the pharmacopeia, and now invariably, and with great success, administer this popular tonic.

Fever and Ague—Intermittents generally—are also to be found in almost every locality known by experience to render a lengthened description of its symptoms necessary.

In order to escape fever and ague in any region it is only necessary to fortify the system against atmospheric poison by the regular use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by this means all danger is avoided. Some cities have acquired a reputation for exemption from the pains and penalties of one of the most harrassing complaints to which the human race in unhealthy districts are subjected. As a remedy, the preparation has no equal. Without resorting to the nauseating drugs and dangerous consequences which accompany and follow the use of quinine, it breaks up the disease, and gives tone to the parts which the violence of the chill has shaken. If the preparation had no other merit than its wonderful efficacy in counteracting the fever and ague, it would be an article of the first necessity in all new and unhealthy localities, and those will testify to its invaluable properties. It should be taken between the hot stages. As the pulse is up to one hundred and twenty or one hundred and forty during the fever, it would not, of course, be prudent to administer the tonic then; but when prostration comes on, as it always is this, and the next stage, it may be given with great advantage, and also when the patient is recovering, as a means of securing the system against a relapse. Indeed, in all cases of convalescence this powerful but harmless tonic should be administered. It is the safest as well as the best of restoratives.

Probably one-fourth of the people of this country now know what it is to be bilious; and in tropical climates the proportion of sufferers is much greater. If what are called "bilious medicines" were ever to say what they purport to be, the disease would soon become obsolete; for their name is a misnomer. Neither mercury, the official remedy, nor the drastic pills advertised under so many titles, seem to produce the desired effect. In fact, calomel and blue pill have probably been more fatal to the human race than the various forms of liver complaint combined.

Hostetter's Bitters, alone, of all the medicines at present in existence, fully meets the requirements of what is termed "a bilious habit of body." This preparation, like the sun, dissipates miasma and mist by diffusing through the system a genial warmth, which acts directly upon the biliary organs, as an invigorant, and indirectly upon the general health. Persons who have been prostrated by bilious attacks, and who have been in the habit of resorting to the usual remedies, will find in the Bitters a medicine which will not only relieve, but cure. Those who are afflicted with habitual constipation of the bowels, will find in the Bitters a mild but effectual remedy, which will not only relieve, but cure. Those who are afflicted with habitual constipation of the bowels, will find in the Bitters a mild but effectual remedy, which will not only relieve, but cure. Those who are afflicted with habitual constipation of the bowels, will find in the Bitters a mild but effectual remedy, which will not only relieve, but cure.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the diseases of this that is her to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only two years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying roots, herbs, and perfecting—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the Faculty, because, on being analyzed, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of the Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. This is not so with Hurley's preparation. This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Hurley's Ague Tonic,

PERFECTLY RELIABLE.

The only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever that is or can be depended upon is Hurley's Ague Tonic. There have been tried numerously many remedies for this, but in no case has remedies without benefit, but in no case has

THE QUICKEST STEEL BRUSH GIN.

The accompanying cut represents the Improved Steel Brush Cotton Gin, in use at Meridian, Miss. This machine is the most perfect and complete improved facilities; and is now offered to the public, now older in the field than any other.

It is the cheapest machine placed in a given time in market. It will clean more cotton in a given time, with less power, than any other gin.

All gins are tested by the Editor of the Meridian Gazette before they are sold and delivered, and none will be sold unless they do the work as represented.

Cotton from the gin will not be torn, as the saws do not run through the ribs, but between them.

The brush is kept free from gum, as the gin runs, by the use of a small quantity of kerosene oil, and will last for ten (10) years, and whenever used it is equally as good as when new.

Persons wishing to handle a choice selection of Improved Cotton Gins, Patent Machinery, Engines and Boilers, Portable and Stationary, will find it to their interest to call on the undersigned, who is prepared to sell with accuracy and dispatch.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Meridian Daily Gazette.

The undersigned proposes to issue a daily paper from this office, about the first of October, with the above title. The commercial importance of Meridian, its rapidly increasing population, and its prosperity, almost without a parallel in the South, has induced us to believe that the public would literally sustain and support a daily paper at this place. There is no reason why Meridian, with its railroad advantages, and its greatly increasing wealth, should not maintain a daily newspaper that in size, appearance, mechanical execution and industrial management would take rank with the dailies of our neighboring cities. We believe a daily will more properly represent the great interests of the city at home and abroad, and give greater aid to its friends in its rapid improvement than the Semi-Weekly can. In that sense we publish the promise of that industry and energy on a scale that will be employed to make it an exponent of the enterprise and public spirit of this section of the South. The DAILY GAZETTE will give all the telegraphic news and market reports right up to the hour of going to press, and will be specially valuable to merchants and business men in this and the neighboring town.

Should the present liberal patronage heretofore given the Gazette, we appeal to our patrons and friends to assist in establishing permanently a daily paper at Meridian and respectfully solicit that material and without which no enterprise of the kind can succeed. Our Semi-Weekly and Weekly editions will both be continued. Subscribers to either paper who desire the Daily, can have their name transferred and a proportionate credit for amount already paid.

The price of the Daily will be per annum $10.00. For three months, $3.00.

Presidential Intrigues at Washington

With the appointment to President Johnson's Cabinet of Messrs. Randall, Evarts and Stanbery, the Democratic party has undoubtedly secured its next Presidential nomination. Probably the most powerful personal opposition he has to encounter is that of Chief Justice Chase, who is one gigantic wire-puller, and who has managed that the opening of Senator Sherman's campaign for the Presidency against Johnson shall commence in this city. He is also using his influence in the same direction in Ohio, and he has the Cincinnati Gazette at his beck and call. The Chief Justice's ambition is to be President, and he has been busily engaged and likely to be engaged for some months to come, in order to secure his nomination. Whether he will succeed or not remains to be seen. But it is certain that the Radical party is divided, and that the Democratic party will be compelled to make common cause with the moderate Republicans in this district in the coming contest. Should Chase succeed in his efforts to secure the nomination, he will have to contend against Johnson himself. He could not, in this case, be depending upon the Democratic party, but he has the Radical party at his back, and can rely upon its support. The Journal of Commerce recently published a letter from a correspondent in one of the Southern States, the writer of which says: "If the people will only let the South quietly reconstruct their self, the crops, instead of being worth four hundred millions of dollars per annum, will, in a short time be worth a thousand millions! What we want, above all things, is peace. Political anarchy begets loss." This is undoubtedly true. But the Radicals will not allow the people to reconstruct themselves. They desire to keep up agitation. When one law is accepted by the Southern people they follow it up with another still more stringent and exacting. In the meantime, the people are without representation in the National Legislature; the labor system of ten States is broken up and rendered comparatively unproductive, and the whole country menaced with untold disasters of a business and financial character. The Radical leaders are determined to continue "political anarchy," although they know that such a course is ruinous to all the material interests of the nation. This point is important in the present contest. If Congress is sustained by a verdict from the people, they will continue agitation to the ruin of business, both North and South. On the contrary, if the Radicals are defeated, peace will be restored, and prosperity once more bless the land from North to South.—Phil. Age.

Correspondence of "Enquirer."

NEW YORK, Sept. 23, 1867.

The Radical press here, and throughout the North, are alarmed for the success of their party. They warn the Republicans to abandon personal squabbles, all side issues, such as the Maine Liquor law, the Sunday Lager Beer question, the financial and tariff questions, &c.; and urge a united movement against President Johnson, with what they describe as his revolutionary designs, and in the favor of the Congressional plan of Reconstruction. They contend that the California and Maine elections turned on side issues, and offered no evidence of a popular reaction against the extreme measures of Congress, and that the judgment of the Northern people is, that the present plan of reconstruction must be accepted by the South, or that they will be forced to submit to harsher measures, to be imposed on by the rejection of the present scheme. Whatever may be the result, one thing is certain—the voters of the great States of Ohio and Pennsylvania, will, in a few weeks decide, as to whether they approve or disapprove the action of the present Congress. The issue is plainly made up in these States, and if they go against the Republicans, New York, in November, will follow and this may lead the way for the complete defeat of the Radicals in 1868. One of the questions in the Ohio election, is an amendment to the State Constitution, known in Ohio as the "Gizzard foot Amendment."—It reads as follows:

Resolved, By the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each House agreeing thereto, that it be and hereby is submitted to the electors of this State to vote at the next annual October election upon the approval or rejection of the following amendment as a substitute for the first section of the fifth article of the Constitution of this state, to-wit: Every male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county, township or ward in which he resides such time as may be provided by law, except such persons as have borne arms in support of any hostile force or rebellion against the Government of the United States, or have fled from their places of residence to avoid being drafted into the military service thereof, or have deserted the military or naval service of said Government in time of war, and have not subsequently been honorably discharged from the same, shall have the qualifications of an elector, and be entitled to vote at all elections.

As it now stands in the Constitution of Ohio, the word "white" qualifies the male citizen for suffrage. But the Republican courts in that State have decided that any citizen can vote who will swear that he has more white than black in his blood, and even now most mulattoes are allowed to vote in Ohio. The contest in Ohio is unusually bitter and personal. All the leading men of both parties are on the stump. Senator Wade has made several speeches lately, which, for scurrilous abuse of his political opponents, and billingsgate slang generally, have never been equalled in this or any other country. I am glad to see that many of the decent Republican papers are rebuking him for it.

The Southern people ought not to be too sanguine of the result of these elections. Leading Democrats here have great doubts about the result, and fear that the recent successes in California and Maine will give the Democrats an over-confidence in their strength that may bring defeat. But no matter how the elections here go, they can give us no immediate relief. No Congressional elections take place before the fall of 1868, and long before that time Conventions will be held in all the Southern States and new Constitutions formed and adopted. We should make the best fight we can for a liberal State Constitution. Failing in that, we can vote against the ratification of the new Constitution, and thus protest against the injustice and tyranny which might characterize it.

I went yesterday to Brooklyn, and attended Plymouth Church, to hear Henry Ward Beecher. The church itself is a large plain brick building, constructed very much like a theatre, and capable of holding probably two thousand persons.—There is no ornament, whatever, about the church, except an organ. The house was crowded as it always is, thousands coming from every part of the country to hear the great political saint of Radicalism. At the further end of the house, just under the organ, was a small plain desk; behind the desk was a chair, in which was seated the individual we had come to hear. I went in company with Col. Gilbert, of South Carolina, editor of the Sumter Watchman. We had no difficulty in obtaining seats, though the house was densely crowded. The second story of the church is furnished with seats like a theatre, and was completely packed. Some gentlemen, and even ladies, to the credit of Brooklyn gallantry, be it said, had to stand during the entire service. Beecher looks to be about fifty-five years of age; is of medium height; slightly inclined to corpulency; oval face; clean shaved; hair long, light colored, and worn behind the ears. His manner is easy, gestures graceful, and his appearance on the whole pleasing. He read the most of his sermon from a manuscript before him, but occasionally would change his position, and with an elevated voice and animated gestures break out into rhetorical effusions that were doubtless impromptu.

Not a word was said on the subject of politics or the negro. Beecher has the appearance of an earnest emphatic man, with nothing to indicate the meddlesome fanatic he is, and has been for the last ten years. ENQUIRER.

The Situation—An Explanation

Some of our exchanges taunt us with a change of song, and wonder at our late reticence on the Convention question.—We cannot better answer them than by copying the following sensible article from a recent number of the New Orleans Picayune: It was in no craven spirit we urged our people to act upon and accept the chances given them by Congress. In its acts of reconstruction, to become the administrators of their own internal affairs. The powers withheld were rightful powers; the interference undertaken was morally unjust, and in defiance of our natural and civil rights; the entire action of Congress was in violation of the Constitution which it was sworn to support. Nevertheless, it exercised power and was obeyed by that which held physical control over us, without any limit upon its exercise.—Passionate protest and a resolution to rebel, without the power or intention to resist, was equally unwise, fruitless of remedy and fruitful of evil. The greater act of courage was, like that of the traditional Indian, to calmly look the fret in the face, and yield the body, but not the heart of the sacrifice, while using every remedy left us to avert it.

It would not have been consistent with true courage to have urged wrathful opposition to the measures of Congress.—There was no physical power to resist it.—But if the offers to the citizens of the Southern States to register had been fulfilled, as provided for in the acts of Congress, and the guarantees therein had not been altered by partisan commanders and their satellites; if Congress had not itself nullified its own offers of participation in the vote, and if fraud had not multiplied the number of newly made citizens, the South would yet have an opportunity of regulating its own affairs, of doing justice and exact justice to all men, of rightfully distributing the proceeds of the taxation of its citizens, and of protecting industry and quietude against vagrancy and turbulence. But the very law of Congress has been set aside by its own agents, and their action has been ratified by itself. The fraud and mere party ends to be attained by the present organization of the Government of the United States, or have fled from their places of residence to avoid being drafted into the military service thereof, or have deserted the military or naval service of said Government in time of war, and have not subsequently been honorably discharged from the same, shall have the qualifications of an elector, and be entitled to vote at all elections.

We will give Beecher credit for sincerity in what he says were silent. How could we urge men to attempt to wield their own destinies, through the ordinary and peaceful means of persevered them, when these were distinctly denied them, and when the use of force to open the way to them would have been madness? Submitting we have awaited the inevitable result of unbridled and unchecked license, in the hands of the ignorant and debased, led by the corrupt and unscrupulous. There is nothing so certainly taught by history, not by one page of it only, but many, than that this inevitably leads to its own destruction, and finally to the rule of the wise and just.

Whether that consumation is already about to be realized, is doubtful. There is reason to believe that the effort to crush the white man of the South under the heel of the black man has already proved too much for the Radical party North, and that the more it is persevered in the more ruinous it will be to do it; but it will hardly pause now in its career, with two years more of congressional power and the sent out of the Executive to check it, unless by the firm exercise of such power as Cromwell used when a corrupt Parliament attempted to perpetuate itself.

There may be war between a faction dying out of power, but yet strong and confident, and another rising from the embers of the past, and composed of such as fear the loss of their own liberties if the effort to give the political power over the South to the negro should succeed. Though we are accidentally the subject of that quarrel, we can take no part in it. But we do not apprehend actual hostilities. The aroused white men of the West, and even of the East, already see that the United States, governed at the South altogether by black men, and with black men holding the balance of power among themselves, would cease to be their government, and when they will that the party, which would thus sell its brethren into Egyptian captivity that it might gain a life-lease of power, ought to be at once cast down and the captives set at liberty, they will do it manfully and energetically.

Meanwhile we watch and wait. We wish no harm to the black man; we are the black man's friend. We wish him civil rights, and that he may learn to perform his civil duties. If we do not rejoice over his emancipation, we would not have his servitude restored, alike on our own account and his. We wish him educated morally and intellectually. We wish him to have industry and skill and to receive the rewards of it equally with the white man. We would protect him as much. He is a Southern man, and we would have him feel and act as such, and be prosperous as part and parcel of the South. But we are white men, and the representatives of white men. We love our own race more than any other, our own land more than any other, our own institutions more than any other, our own State more than any other. We will not to govern or control others; but we do not to govern and control ourselves. Our own duty is to our own household. He that is not thus, "hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

Disastrous Accounts from Brazil.

We still hear discouraging reports from Brazil.—Sam. Edwards, Esq., of Vicksburg, who drifted in among the hybrid masses of that over-rated country, writes a very doleful letter to some of his old friends in Warren. The country falls far short of what it has been represented by those who are endeavoring to colonize. The banks of the river Ilheris, which he ascended, are thickly settled with houses, never more than one or two miles apart, usually built of mud and sticks, covered with tile, and having dirt floors and no chimneys. They build a fire in one corner of the room, and let the smoke go up and out the best way it can. Masters and servants occupy the same apartments and dine together. The improvements consist of a few acres of cleared land around each house; the large timber on it is of the most scrubby kind. It is all on the river owned by private individuals, who ask from 81 to 86 per acre for it. There are no roads of any kind running from the river, and all travel is done by water, and in canoes, to a distance of three hundred miles.

Mr. Edwards left that region fully convinced that there was no land suitable for himself or any of his friends to settle on. He then turned his attention to the Province of Minas Gernes, and traveled two hundred miles over the most mountainous country he ever beheld. Coffee grows on hills at an angle of 45 degrees. The Government has no land near and within it there is worth having. There is no demand there for mechanics; many have gone and returned to the United States. They have no roads except mule paths. Mr. Edwards was a well-to-do farmer in ante bellum times, suffered and lost a good deal during the war, and recently wandered off to Brazil, hoping to be able to spend the remainder of his days in peace and contentment. But he has, like many others, been terribly disappointed, and now warns others, who think of seeking new homes, to steer clear of that dark region which he visited. Nearly all the emigration projects have ended disastrously to our people, and we think it is about time such enterprises were being abandoned entirely. The true plan is to stay at home, and work, watch and wait. Bad as this country is, it can scarcely be more miserable than the wild mountainous regions to which our people have been going since the close of the war. Industry and forbearance will yet make our section as great and glorious as it was in the days now gone forever.

Trade in New Orleans.

Country merchants of experience will endorse the truth of the statement that, prominent among the inducements which in past years have carried their patronage to Northern cities, if not the most prominent, have been the high prices and slender assortments of Dry Goods in New Orleans.

Merchants of the latter city are becoming more keenly alive to their interests in all branches of trade, and an energy is plainly visible among them, working to the rapid upbuilding of that great commercial centre. Waiving present allusion to the current enterprises of railroads direct European steam and telegraphic communication, extensive local factories etc., which are promising a new era of Southern prosperity, we particularly desire now to call attention to the operations of one house in New Orleans. We refer to the young but already vigorous and prosperous firm of WALLACE & CO., wholesale Dry Goods merchants.

They began, and have continued their business, eschewing old fogy ideas, wielding a very large capital, with the very best talent in their different departments, and have inaugurated a liberality in prices previously unknown in their market. When older firms were adhearing strictly to cash terms, WALLACE & Co. attracted much custom and patronage to their stores by granting the facilities elsewhere refused, and which were so greatly needed. This will not soon be forgotten; and should not be.

At this time, with large stocks, which they are known always to keep, they offer their goods at New York prices, and are always prepared to demonstrate the truth of their assertions and professions. Any merchant with proper capital and ability in New Orleans, can compete in prices reaching even that of the Executive to check it, unless by the firm exercise of such power as Cromwell used when a corrupt Parliament attempted to perpetuate itself.

With their ability and full intention to rival New York in claims upon Southern trade, Wallace & Co.'s stock, terms, and prices, deserve the attention of every merchant who deals in dry goods.

THE MEASURE OF APPORTIONMENT.—We make room this morning for Gen. Ord's lengthy election and apportionment order. The order is already beginning to excite considerable comment. It is asserted by the Vicksburg Times that the apportionment is not based on the rule laid down in the Constitution—is not based upon gross population, nor by list of registered voters, but upon a basis that will give the negroes an unfair advantage in the election. Let it be fair or unfair, right or wrong, we must submit to it. There is no remedy available now. By Gen. Ord's apportionment, Warren county is entitled to five representatives, the highest number; Hinds and Lowndes counties to four each; De Soto, Marshall, Monroe, Carroll, Noxubee, Washington, Yazoo and Adams, three each; Leo, Chickasaw and Lauderdale, two each; Pointotoc and Kemper, one each; Chickasaw and Choctaw, together, three.

We see by the New Orleans papers of Friday morning that Col. C. M. Reed, of that city, died of yellow fever on the 20th inst. Col. Bradford was the chairman of Charles A. Bradford, Esq., of Mobile, and some years ago was associated with his father in the editorial management of the Register.

The Mobile Advertiser has an "interesting letter from Mississippi," which contains the following scrap of news:

Capt. Gallagher, a promising lawyer, partner in law of J. J. Shannon, of Meridian—has changed, and now boldly advocates "no convention." I understand that the other half of the law concern is very weak in the knees—got rheumatism, short of what it has been represented by those who are endeavoring to colonize. The banks of the river Ilheris, which he ascended, are thickly settled with houses, never more than one or two miles apart, usually built of mud and sticks, covered with tile, and having dirt floors and no chimneys. They build a fire in one corner of the room, and let the smoke go up and out the best way it can. Masters and servants occupy the same apartments and dine together. REDUCTION IN PRICE

OF A

STANDARD REMEDY.

IN CONSIDERATION OF THE SCARCITY OF money, and in order to place it within the reach of all, the price of the well known

KING OF CHILLS

To the low price of ONE DOLLAR per Bottle. This is the most powerful and certain compound yet introduced for the permanent eradication of all forms of Chills, Intermittent, Remittent and Bilious Fevers, Neuralgia, Dumb Chills, Sun Pain, and all those malarious affections so common in the Southern States during the fall. In fifty-cent large bottles, with plain directions, is pleasant to the taste, and contains no Quinine or nerve.

WHAT IT CAN DO.

It counters the Stomach, arouses the Liver, opens the Bowels, and carries off all Bilious Matter, effecting quick and permanent cures.

RADICALS

Who have not become acclimated, and are constantly troubled with a Chill or Fever, who are desirous of a full restoration of health, and to get about, should by all means, use this truly valuable Medicinal Compound. It has been used by physicians for Twenty Years experience in this climate.

CONSERVATIVES

Who have no time to lose, feeling with various symptoms of the Fever coming on, should not throw away, could not do better than to spend One Dollar for the KING OF CHILLS and be cured of all forms of Chills, Fevers, etc. Its taste is pleasant, and it is harmless in the extreme.

MECHANICS

Your time is money, and why do you continue with the Chills, Fevers, etc., losing so much of your precious time? Your wife and children need you, and so do we. Our remedy builds up the system, placing it upon a healthy basis, thereby preventing a return of the system of all flaws, and places you on duty with health that will continue. Your cures will be permanently cured. Price only One Dollar.

FARMERS AND PLANTERS

Visiting the city would do well to remember that we have just received a supply of this never failing King of Chills. Much time can be saved by carrying a few bottles with you, and the cost is but a trifle, the disease and so destroys the cause that it never returns. Remember this compound is not a nerve destroyer.

MERCHANTS AND CLERKS,

Why will you lose so many golden moments of your life, by sticking to your counters? Let your partners, Peters, Hendricks, Jones & Co., or Smith, Jones & Co., attend to business for you, and without assistance of that Doctor will speedily restore you to your wonted vigor and health. It is prepared in the best, most convenient manner in which he is disposing of all violators of the law. Your venerable friend, Judge Watts, who has so long adorned the bench, and so much to the satisfaction of all, is presiding, and I am pleased to say, say looks much improved in health.

In the business of the Court, as far as reported, the trial of civil cases, terms, and Honor made an order similar to those which were made in Hinds, Smith and Rankin counties. A petition for the purpose of obtaining such an order had already been furnished to Judge Watts. The important criminal cases were disposed of. A negro girl, formerly the property of Rev. Jno. Terral, in Lowndes county was convicted of grand larceny, and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year. The defendant was represented by Sam. H. Terral, and the defense he made discovered a mind of sound legal acumen. The other case was the one of Lewis Morgan, a freedman, convicted of the murder of Mr. George Callahan. The high character of the deceased, and the atrocious circumstances attending the manner of his death, called together an immense assemblage, and the court house was crowded to suffocation. The District Attorney was assisted by Messrs. Hardy and Hirsh of this place, conducted the prosecution, and Sam'l. H. Terral, Esq., was appointed to defend the prisoner. The trial was set for Thursday, and after empanneling the jury, which took till noon, the examination of the witnesses commenced. After the testimony had been received, W. H. Harris, Esq., addressed the jury in the prisoner's defense, and made an eloquent effort. Mr. Terral replied in a speech worthy of the distinguished gentleman whose name he bears

One friend informs another of what benefit the Red Jacket Bitters are and have been to him, and thus the reputation of this great family medicine is constantly increasing.

The Board of Registrars for this county will meet here again on the 21st inst., and continue a session of three days for the purpose of revising the registration records and registering all persons qualified who have not been already placed upon the rolls. This will be the last opportunity, and every man entitled to register should avail himself of it.

An important card from the Mayor is published elsewhere to-day. The introduction of Atlanta goods from localities farther west than Yellow Fever is positively prohibited under a heavy penalty.

To our old subscribers go to Fallen, Fallen & Co's and buy a supply of their patent window shades.

The Mayor's ordinance about cleaning streets is very timely. It is a nuisance and offense under colorless conditions, in any community, to have privies and cesspools filled with decomposing matter. That fluid should be removed at once. The streets and gutters must be stringently attended to, and nothing left to accumulate any good.

We have ready a large, handsome and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

Manufactured by us exclusively for the Southern Trade, which we are prepared to sell at low prices and on liberal terms.

Our stock is adapted to the season, style, lengths, and sizes, exclusively to the South, and comprises goods from the lowest priced to the finest made, including a large assortment of goods for Freedmen's Wear.

The recent decline in woolen and cotton fabrics will enable us to offer clothing at much lower prices than it has been sold for at any time since 1860.

Cash and close buyers from the South are invited to examine our stock before purchasing, as we believe we can offer them great inducements.

We will be happy to receive orders, and our long experience in the Southern business enables us to make selections which will be certain to give entire satisfaction.

Descriptive Catalogues with prices sent by mail if desired.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A Gentleman who suffered for years from nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence,

JOHN B. OGDEN,
42 Cedar Street, New York.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try this remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription, free, by return mail, will please address

NO EXCUSE FOR BAD BREAD

DARCY & PUTNAM'S

SELF-RAISING FLOUR

—FOR—

Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.

TIME AND LABOR SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Stir in the water with a spoon and beat at once without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the oven, therefore, should be in good baking order before beginning to mix—MIND THIS.

Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.

For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last article mixed. Sift to suit the taste.

RECEIPTS.

SALT TO SUIT THE TASTE.

For Light Bread.—Use cold water or milk, and mix with a spoon just sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; put it into a deep pan not more than half full, bake immediately. The pan when it be covered to prevent the formation of a hard c ust before the loa. has risen sufficiently. If the bread does not brown on the top, remove the cover a few minutes before taking the b.ad from the oven.

Bread Rolls.—Are found to bake best when seven inches long, four inches deep, and four inches wide at the bottom, flaring and fitted with covers. These pans are excellent for cake.

For Biscuits.—Make the dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the usual amount of shortening, or cold sweet milk without shortening. Bake as soon as well heated oven, they will be light, white sweet and tender.

For Light Rolls.—Same as biscuit, except that the dough should be a little stiffer, use less shortening.

For Wheat Muffins.—Three eggs, one quart of milk or water, three cups of flour, two tablespoonful of melted lard. Bake in deep Muffin rings.

For Corn Pies.—Use less shortening than with common flour, and roll the crust very thin.

Sugar Cake.—One pound of sugar, diluted in three gills of milk or water, half a pound of butter, two eggs, half a pint of milk or water and two pounds of flour.

Quick Sponge Cake.—One cup of powdered sugar and one cup of flour, well mixed together. Break in three eggs, stir quickly and bake in a square tin immediately, in a moderate oven. Flavor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.

Gold and Silver Cake.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour. Divide the dough into two equal parts. To one add the yolks for the gold and the whites for the Silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered brass pans.

Dough Nuts.—One pound of Sugar, a little shortening, two eggs, three pounds of flour and one pint of water.

Pot Pie and Dumplings.—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit, but a little rolled sugar and butter added.

Fan Cakes and Fritters.—Will need no eggs. Butter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-Raising Flour.

The quicker you handle this flour the better. Never let it stand to rise. See that the oven is hot before you touch the flour. The softer the dough the better. Do not knead it.

Put up in every style to suit the trade.

Ask your Grocer for east pound package, you will use no other—every package warranted. Manufactured by DARCY & PUTNAM, 27 South Water St., corner Cortl.

FARMS FOR ONE DOLLAR

SUBDIVISION OF PLANTATIONS.

CHANCES FOR ALL.

The Southern Asylum Land Company, in addition to their grand scheme of City Residences and Lots, on which Col. M. G. Gilmer's valuable residence in Memphis, constitutes the capital Prize, or Five Dol ars per Ticket, now offer chances in a scheme that embraces

FARMS FOR THE MILLION.

There is not in this scheme an acre of swamp or solid land; each Farm is part, or the whole of a cultivated Plantation—each tract is on or with in a few miles of a Railroad, either on the

Memphis & Charleston,

Mississippi Central,

Mobile & Ohio,

Meridian & Vicksburg, or

Mississippi & Tennessee R. R.

The several tracts are disposed of at the lowest cash valuation, in subdivisions of 40, 80 and 160 acres. Each subdivision constitutes a prize, and each

TICKET COSTS ONE DOLLAR.

For a description of the property refer to the new Pamphlet issued by the Company. Titles are perfect, or the money will be paid to the winner of the prize.

All land in this scheme is in the State of Mississippi. The Capital Prize within fifteen miles of Memphis, on the Mississippi & Tennessee Railroad.

The lands are adapted to the growth of grain, cotton, grapes, etc., are cheaper than Government lands, in cold latitudes, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. The average of these lands is seven dollars per acre.

A deduction of 10 per cent. for favor of ten or more. Tick ts may be had of local Agents or through the Memphis Agency.

Syphilitic affections of the throat, nose, mouth, etc.

Thousands suffering from self abuse, secret habits, exposures and indiscretions in youth, the following solemn lines should study and ponder well: Nervousness, debility, unfitness for study or society, nocturnal emissions, blushes, timidity, confusion, constipation, dread of future events, loss of memory, etc. Sadly impressing, how often have been the result.

He can refer to many old residents for past cures. Persons at a distance may rely with confidence by letter or otherwise.

Consultation at office or by letter, free.

Those times have no equal. Syphilitic poisons are being carried to the system by the use of Mercury, Copaiba, Cubebs, Iodide of Potash, etc., which cause more misery than the disease they are given for. Dr. Whittier challenges the world to produce a case of Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Blotches, Ulcers, Erysipelas and Diseases of the Skin, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, Syphilitic affections of the throat, nose, mouth, etc., that he cannot cure. Dr. Whittier will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases he undertakes, or no charge will be made. Consultation free. Medicines sent to any part of the country. Persons at a distance may rely with confidence by letter or otherwise. Charges as low as those of inferior physicians. ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear Commercial College.

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1839—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the literally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the bookkeeping may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the Commercial Course, or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses during four years.....20

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of ORDINARY LITERARY COURSE.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $5150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $4832 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have attended English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE GULLETT STEEL BRUSH GIN.

The celebrated COTTON GIN, is run at tremendous speed without injuring the staple. Dr. Gullett, with greatly improved facilities, will put up gins for the South-west, now other in the hands of agents.

Its advantages are:

1st. The running of cotton ginned in a gin that is in constant use, and is always in order, is of equal number of rows.

2d. The separation from the Cotton all trash and dust and leaves it clean to come on.

3d. The roll comes out in a fine, even sheet.

All are tested before leaving the factory. Cotton from this gin will sell for an advance in price, sufficient to Dr. Gullett for his gin, because it is freed from motes, dirt and seed. It has been in extensive use in Texas, and is highly recommended by all who have used it, and wherever used it supersedes all other gins.

Send for special circulars.

COTTON PRESSES.

We are manufacturing for the crop of 1867 the most improved screw cotton press. It is the best for the economy of cotton packing. It can be moved out doors or in a building. It can be used out doors or in a building. It is equal in its working, in economic power, and material to any of the best screw presses.

Home Presses, Gear Mills and Plantation Machinery. Send for circulars.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Meridian Daily Gazette.

The undersigned proposes to issue a daily paper from this office, about the first of October, while the semi-weekly and weekly will be published as heretofore. The commercial importance of Meridian, its rapidly increasing population and its prosperity, almost without a parallel in the South, has led many to believe that the public would literally sustain and support a daily paper at this place. There is no reason why Meridian, with its railroad advantages and its greatly increasing wealth, should not maintain a daily newspaper that in size, appearance, mechanical execution and industrial nourishment would take rank with the dailies of our neighboring cities. We believe a daily will more properly represent the great interests of the city at home and abroad, and comes confident that it will be found in its rapid advancement more than the Semi-Weekly or Weekly we now publish. We propose to all the industry and enterprise necessary to accomplish it with the capital at our command, and will be compelled to make it an expensive paper at the outset. The daily Gazette will give the latest telegraphic news, all important reports right to twelve hour collections that can be used in any other paper, and will be specially valuable to merchants and business men in their daily negotiations.

Subscriptions for the Daily Gazette will be received at the following rates, and will be continued without interruption to the end of the second year. Our Semi-Weekly and Weekly editions will both be continued. Subscribers to either paper, who subscribe the Daily, can have their subscriptions transferred and will receive credit for the amount already paid.

The price of the Daily will be seven dollars per annum, $3.00. For one month, $1.00.

Cattle are selling in great numbers in Yazoo county at Erysipelas—pronounced to be the same disease that has killed so many cattle in Kentucky and Tennessee. Four persons have also taken the malady, and recovered. One had died and the case of another is at the last accounts. Time caught the disease in swelling one of the fingers of his left hand, which has since begun to turn black in our corpulent opinion, indicating mortification in our midst. It is said that Mr. Washington, of Illinois, has been called to Washington by the Radical committee to prevail on Grant to say something radical.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston has resigned the Presidency of the Alabama and Tennessee Rivers Railroad, from Selma to Dalton, and Franklin H. Delano, of New York, has been elected to fill his place.

The New York Times thinks it is theory of the proper method for an agent on an injection against the turnout Kimball, of Utah, who announces that he has seventy children already.

There is some comfort in Georgia according to the latest reports. A negro had made for himself a coffin, and if elected he will do all in his power to ameliorate the condition of the whites.

Rev. Mr. Cross is preaching sermons against Masonry and odd fellowship in Washington.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28, 1867.

So many descriptions have been given of New York, and of Broadway, its great thoroughfare, that I shall not attempt anything of the kind for the readers of the Gazette. Suffice it to say that this great Metropolis of America is a beautiful city, crowded beyond all idea with human beings, and exhibiting in their greatest contrasts the extremes of wealth and high social position, with poverty, filth and wretchedness. I am stopping at the Steven's House, a well kept hotel on the European plan, by which you pay for exactly what you order and no more. The Hotel is at the foot of Broadway near the Battery gardens, where the great turmoil, bustle and confusion of the city commences. From here Broadway extends for about five miles, and though a wide street, every day in the week, from 8 in the morning to 6 in the evening, the side walks are jammed with pedestrians, and the street filled with omnibuses, cabs, coaches and every kind of vehicle. Often the street is so packed with carriages, that it is completely blocked up for a half hour at a time, and to cross the street is a difficult and dangerous feat. At Fulton street a bridge has been erected across Broadway so that a crossing can be made in any direction, over the crowd below, and often during the day the bridge and the street below is filled with a dense crowd waving and surging in every direction.

A short distance from here on Broadway is Trinity Church, the finest Episcopal edifice in America. I attended service there Sunday afternoon. The inside of the church was splendid and magnificent. There was a quietness and grandeur about the scene indescribable. The music from the organ was superb. The sun was shining brightly and glancing and glimmering through the large stained glass windows of the church, reflected in all the colors of the rainbow. The quiet chant of the ministers at the altar, the responses of the congregation, the grand tones of the organ, were charming and impressive.

The Republican party of this State met to-day at Syracuse to nominate candidates. There are two sets of delegates from this city, besides the regular republicans. Thurlow Weed and the Johnson wing of the party, though very small and comprising chiefly office holders, have sent a delegation. The Constitutional convention, now in session at Albany, have proposed, as one of the changes in the organic law, universal negro suffrage, but it is said they are afraid to submit it to the people this election, and will endeavor to keep the Convention in session until after the November election. But whether submitted or not, the October elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania and in November in New York, will turn on that question. The New York Herald contends that the elections in Maine and California indicate the existence of some general and pervading causes of Republican apathy and demoralization, and a general reaction in the drift of public opinion which foreshadows the near approach of a great political revolution. The Herald adds:

Personal quarrels and jealousies, restrictive liquor laws and Sunday prohibitions of elder and lager beer, will not serve as explanations of those late republican losses; for it is apparent that the same apathy prevails in the party ranks in Pennsylvania and everywhere else that has been developed from Connecticut to Maryland—The true explanation lies in the departure of Congress from the platform of Southern reconstruction submitted to and approved by the Northern States, and in the substitution of the extreme radical programme of universal negro suffrage and negro supremacy in the South. Hence the radical hue and cry of impeachment against Andrew Johnson's heels, with no encouraging responses from the rank and file of the republican party; and hence the radical design of worrying General Grant out of Johnson's Cabinet has signally failed. Southern reconstruction, it is seen, under the present laws of Congress, is sure to place the control of ten or eleven of the Southern States in the hands of the ignorant and credulous blacks who but yesterday were released from the darkness and degradation of Southern slavery. Naturally enough, thinking men, in looking to probable consequences of this startling revision of our political power, recoil from the threatened danger. Herein, we contend, lies the secret of this reaction against the party in power; and from Pennsylvania and Ohio we expect in October some evidence upon the subject which will satisfy Congress itself. Unless broad as are the requirements of the revolution connected with the abolition of slavery, it has still its metes and bounds not beyond which it is dangerous to go.

ENQUIRER.

The New York Herald says the true road to success and restoration, is the repeal of the revolutionary reconstruction acts, and ratification of the plan of Southern reconstruction submitted to the people and endorsed by those in last year's State elections.

Mr. Wm. McGowan, of Brandon, shot and killed a negro girl named Fanny on Thursday morning last. All the evidence before the jury of inquest went to show that it was done accidentally.

Dr. Stone on Yellow Fever.

Dr. Warren Stone, of New Orleans, one of the most prominent physicians in the country, delivered a lecture on yellow fever recently, before a Medical College of New York. Believing that whatever is said on this subject by so eminent authority will be read with much interest at this time, when the terrible scourge is gradually creeping over our State, we will give a brief resume of the lecture: Yellow fever is a disease peculiar to warm latitudes, but its limits could not be defined by any exact temperature or climate conditions, for exceptions would frequently occur to falsify any such restriction.—Nothing more definite could be said than that it was a disease incident to warm climates, and induced by a peculiar poison totally intangible and disconnected from any known causes of disease. In regard to the aetiology of causes of yellow fever, there had been much dispute. It had been a question whether it was imported or of local origin. It certainly was not important to this age. The splendid influence so wafted through the atmosphere in waves of cycles, and always made gradual and regular approaches; so that in New Orleans they knew when it was coming by its prevalence in islands in the gulf. In the year 1853 it began in March, and after passing over the northern part of South America and the West India Islands, it reached New Orleans in 1853. In 1855 it traveled as far as Memphis, and was severe in many of the interior towns—he said the Federal Government to keep yellow fever off by their sanitary regulations. The weather happened to be cooler, and there was less rain; but there was no material difference in any other respect. The disease fixed upon a place and ran its course, increasing in a certain ratio, declining in the same way, and finally disappearing, but for the time being affecting all who were exposed to its influence. It was true, however, that debility and other reasons rendered some persons much more susceptible than others to the peculiar poison; but this was the case with all diseases. "I am perfectly convinced," said the doctor, "beyond all doubt or hesitation, that personally it is not contagious; I know that it is not." If the disease were contagious it would always be so, for it was the same disease in all places. It was a specific disease, and the same person had it but once; acclimation was perpetual, but it was very hard to convince the human understanding where. Then he goes on to state:

The disease itself varied in the mode of attack. The most favorable cases were those where it was ushered in at once with the prominent symptoms, consisting of a rigor followed immediately with pains in the limbs, back, and head, with heat of the skin and fever. But many of the cases were insidious, and the patient continued up and about, complaining of pain in the limbs and a chilly feeling. The disease was progressing all this time, and the physician was not likely to see the patient until it was too late to do anything. It was for this reason that more violent attacks were really favorable to ultimate recovery; for the milder cases were just as sure to kill as any other, if they were neglected. He found all the cases would prove fatal unless the patient was promptly managed and kept quiet. In the self-limited cases there was rigor, pains in the head, back and limbs, and sometimes a peculiar capillary engorgement, particularly of the eyes. If the patient is placed in bed at once, with a little assistance he breaks into a sweat, as in common intermittent fever. This gives some relief, but not much. The pains continue; but if the case is favorable, they go on until the sweating and heat subside together at the end of three days. The patient must be kept quiet in bed, and if he is then nourished he will have no return of the suffering. He must not even be allowed to raise his head. If he gets up a faintness comes over him, and the whole process is often much worse, with the addition of nausea and loathing of food. In this case he almost certainly dies. Purgatives are not necessary, and may do much harm. A mild dose of oil may be given if there is anything in the stomach likely to ferment and prove irritating. A simple injection may prove useful. If patients are seen in the beginning, the doctor gave them, when prostration began, a full dose of quinine. There was no doubt of its good effect in quieting pains and promoting perspiration. Sometimes a second dose was advisable the following morning. This was all that could be done, beyond regulating the drink and nourishment. There was nothing more to do. There was no organic disease—nothing was revealed by dissection. Some writers noted a peculiar condition of the blood, which afterwards showed itself in the veins. There were many little points in the treatment which, in the aggregate, were of vast importance. In regard to the application of ice to relieve the pains in the head, it was common, but not advisable, and afforded only very temporary relief. The reaction from it was very dangerous. Cups, to the head, stomach, and back, were much used at one time, but only in cases of plethora were they of service. Simple applications of mustard were generally sufficient to relieve the head. Leeches and Absolute rest and nourishment were of the highest possible importance. Any form of stimulant may be given that the patient prefers, but malt liquors were the best. Brandy may often be given, even with the fever. Beef tea was necessary, and if the stomach could not retain it, it must be given by injection. Where there was acidity of the stomach, he closed with bicarbonate of soda, combined with the 1-32 of a grain of morphia had often an excellent effect. Sponging the patient with cold water was grateful and appropriate, but on no occasion must he be disturbed by the treatment. There was much in anticipating certain symptoms. If there is a disposition to delirium and wandering, it may be combated against by cold shoulder pes and stimulants. If this delirium is allowed to continue, the patient becomes comatose, and dies. It must be remembered that yellow fever patients are wholly irresponsible, and therefore they may talk reasonably, they do not appreciate their own condition.

It was exceedingly difficult to keep patients quiet in bed, yet it was the most essential part of the treatment.

MORE TROUBLE IN NASHVILLE.—The Nashville city authorities have petitioned Chancellor Harrison for an injunction restraining the newly elected Mayor and Council from being inducted into office. It is understood that he will give them an early hearing. The Nashville correspondent of the Memphis Avalanche says:

Petitions called on Recorder Foster and notified him that if he did not administer the oath of office to the new Mayor and Council, the Commissioners would. What Council held a meeting, and, at the close, Mayor Brown is reported from the Secretary of State whether the newly elected officers had taken the condition oath required by law. It is believed that if the old officers do not vacate, Gen. Gregory will eject them by military force.

The Financial Agitation.

In the great political contest now going on in the North the financial problem is being brought fairly and squarely before the people. In Indiana Gov. Morton has written a sensible letter on the subject, and in Ohio, Pendleton, Butler, Senator Sherman and others are addressing the people on the subject of our national debt and the oppressive taxation which it involves. The reformers urge, first, that the issues of the Government shall be substituted for those of the national banks; second, that the 5-20 bonds of which there is about $12,000,000.00, shall be redeemed as they fall due, with legal tenders; and third, that the untaxed bonds shall be made liable to taxation. The champions of Congress declare this shall be unjust to the bondholders, to give them in exchange for an interest bearing security, a security that bore no interest, and take away from them all the income from the property or money they loaned the Government, and that it would also be a breach of national faith, plainly and palpably. Those who do not look through radical spectacles see it in a different light. They are taxed one hundred and fifty millions annually to pay a gold interest on the war debt. Fifteen thousand capitalists own these war bonds which are by law free from taxation, notwithstanding they draw coin interest. If greenbacks are good enough for the farmer, the mechanic and the merchant, the masses North think they should be good enough to pay the few bondholders for their bonds. Paying the 5-20's in greenbacks would relieve the treasury of the payment of two hundred millions of interest per annum. The fight is setting in favor of the conservative argument, and the agitation will be kept up vigorously, no doubt, until some kind of a financial simplification and reduction is adopted.

The Indian Commission.

The Indian Commission have met the hostile chiefs at North Platte, in Nebraska Territory, where matters of a very decisive character were made on both sides. Through their chosen representatives and spokesmen, Spotted Tail, Man Afraid of his Horses, Standing Elk, Pawnee Killer, Big Mouth, Star Eagle, Turkey Foot, Swift Bear and Black Bear, have spoken. From their very hearts they cry out "stop these two roads—the Powder River road and the Smoky Hill—and then you'll have life." Each and all sing the same song. The iron fingers that are so rapidly stretching across the plains drive off the Indian's game, and they seem determined to resist the progress of the work if possible. Gen. Sherman advised them to go to work like the Cherokees and Choctaws, but the red man said he was not ready to farm yet and will fight to keep his country and protect his game. Gen. Sherman told them the road up the Platte and the Smoky Hill railroad would be built, and if the Indians were injured by them the government would pay all damages; but if the young Indians interfered the President would not leave his soldiers and sweep the red man away. The General then proposed to let the whole Sioux Nation select their country on the Missouri river, embracing the White Earth and Cheyenne rivers; to have their land like the white people forever; to let the government to keep all white men away, except such agents and traders as the Indians may choose, so that they may cultivate land, build houses and raise cattle. In this the government would give such aid as it could, and to send schools for children to read and write. Peace was declared between the Brule, Ogallalla and Cheyennes. Pawnee Killer left the council in disgust before peace was made. He hurried to his wigwam, painted his face deep red, and mounting his pony galloped away over the sand bluffs. Thus the grand council was ended. Powder and ball were to be distributed to the chiefs the following day, also blankets and cloth. The Commission will now take a recess, and meet again with the southern Indians at Fort Laramie on the 13th of next month.

A Circular from Gen. Ord's headquarters, shows that the following persons have been arraigned, tried and sentenced by the Military Commission sitting at Vicksburg: Nelson Williams and Charles Williams for stealing horses; two years imprisonment each. Samuel William, same offence, six months imprisonment; John Maher, policeman, for shooting Richard Davis, colored, two years imprisonment; Hugh McGinty, for stealing a horse, two years imprisonment; John Hann, stealing a horse, six months imprisonment; Frank Page, colored, stealing a horse, one years imprisonment—Nelson and Charles Williams are to be sent to the penitentiary at Jackson, Miss., and the others to Little Rock, Ark.

A meeting of the Directory of the Meridian and Chattanooga railroad was held at Livingston on the 30th inst. to transact business relating to the long talked of transfer of the Road to Messrs. Waddill & Co., who propose completing it. Final and conclusive action was not had, but the Journal understands, it is altogether probable that the transfer will be made, and the work on the Road commenced by the first of November.

The President did not take the bull by the horns in time and his amnesty proclamation therefore excites but little interest. He relieves us from the effects of "a retaliatory or vindictive policy, attended by unnecessary disqualifications, pains, penalties, confiscations and disfranchisements," but says as Congress has, by act and resolution, not taken away these rights, you must go to the Courts to get them back. As it is now too late for the Courts to act on the question before the election takes place, none but those registered under the reconstruction acts of Congress, will be permitted to exercise the right of franchise. A case has been made up, however, in a neighboring State, and the authority of Congress to over-ride the President's pardoning power, will be tested there as soon as practicable.

The Republicans have nominated Col. John A. Hiest, Col. F. E. Franklin, and Capt. P. T. Powell, as candidates for delegates to the Constitutional Convention from Tunica county.

MR. DAVIS' TRIAL.—A variety of speculations are transmitted to the press by telegraph, touching the coming trial of Mr. Davis. It is now declared that all the statements heretofore published, regarding the trial of Mr. Davis, have been mere surmises, and the Government has not authorized them, nor has it made public any intimation of what it intends doing. It is semi-officially announced that the Government will ask for further delay when the trial comes off in November, and that the counsel for accused will make a motion to enter a nolle prosequi. Judge Underwood will be present, but it is not settled whether Judge Chase will preside. The motion to quash will be argued and decided probably during the early part of the term. Whether this statement contains any more truth than those heretofore given the public, remains to be seen.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACTS TO BE TESTED.—Judicial steps are being taken in Gen. Pope's district to secure the right of suffrage by the recent proclamation. Several citizens of Alabama, who have been pardoned by the proclamation, have been before boards of registration, which are now revising the lists, and demanded the right to be registered. General Pope instructed the boards to refuse to register them, and they were refused. Hon. S. F. Rice, of Montgomery, an ex-Judge of Alabama, who was one of these parties, went before the U. S. Commissioner and made affidavit of the fact, with a view of testing in the United States Court the constitutionality of the military reconstruction laws, and the power conferred by an Executive pardon. Similar movements will be made in other States where registration is not closed, and if legal redress fails before Judges Busteed and Underwood, in Alabama and Virginia, the matter will be taken before the Supreme Court. No decision can be had, however, until after the Convention elections are over.

Important railroad consolidations among the Northern roads, extending from Omaha to New York, are on foot.

From Rev. E. D. PEISDALL, Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and can recommend them as a most valuable tonic, in cases where a general debility exists, or the digestive organs from derangement of the stomach.
Yours truly, E. D. PEISDALL.

CAUTION.

Counterfeits are in circulation. Be sure and call for Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by C. M. Jackson, and don't take any of the counterfeits that may be offered you.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

Is composed of the pure juice (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS;

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Biliousness, is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathising so closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence,
Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood
to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach,
Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach,
Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side,
Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., etc., Sudden
Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from the investigations and inquiries he makes, possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
Philadelphia, Pa.,

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefitted suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Chronic Dysentery, Nervous Affections, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any cause whatever; PROSTRATION of the SYSTEM, incident to Hot Climates, Debauchery, Intemperance, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in restoring to the blood and vigor as imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy man.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the infirmities of declining years, by using these remedies, will find health and vigor restored to their shattered forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are sadly deficient in the enjoyment good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the Bitters, or the Tonic, will be found invaluable.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

The following testimonials are accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and well known, proving that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. GEO. W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

"I find Hoofland's German Bitters a valuable tonic, useful in many forms of disease, and of decidedly benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

Hon. JAS. THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

"Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to permit my name to be used in connection with recommendations of medicines, but the practice is one of which I have never approved. In the case of Hoofland's German Bitters, however, I depart from my usual rule, and do so cheerfully, because I have personally witnessed their beneficial effects in various instances, and because I believe them to be a valuable medicine. Their component parts are well known to the profession as those of valuable remedies, with a clear proof in the analysis of the skill and care in the manufacture of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters. Their general use, I have no doubt, will be of great service to the community.
JAMES THOMPSON.

Hon. HENRY D. MOORE, Mayor of Philadelphia, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

"Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have known Rev. Joseph Pilmoor, Pastor of Bethel Church, Philadelphia, for many years, and have no hesitation in saying that I believe the testimonial he has given of the virtues of Hoofland's German Bitters is entitled to full credit. I have used them in my own family, and can say that they are a valuable tonic, and will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the ailments for which they are recommended.
Yours, very respectfully,
HENRY D. MOORE.

"Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to permit my name to be used in connection with recommendations of medicines, but the practice is one of which I have never approved. In the case of Hoofland's German Bitters, however, I depart from my usual rule, and do so cheerfully, because I have personally witnessed their beneficial effects in various instances, and because I believe them to be a valuable medicine. Their component parts are well known to the profession as those of valuable remedies, with a clear proof in the analysis of the skill and care in the manufacture of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters. Their general use, I have no doubt, will be of great service to the community.
WILLIAM H. GRAY.

These remedies are entirely vegetable, containing no mineral substance whatever, and may be taken at any season of the year, with perfect safety, by persons of any age or sex, with the assurance that they will do the work of purification, and impart health and vigor to the whole system.

Remember that it is HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, or HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, prepared by C. M. JACKSON, that you want, and see that the name is blown in the bottle.

Sold by druggists everywhere.

FASSMANN'S
Iron Ties for Cotton Bales.

THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season. In addition to the

FASSMANN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE,

so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his

with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet offered.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

The Safety Hand Lamp,
AND
Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is unexplosible. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not stain the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by simply taking off the Lamp Burner and Metal Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of declining health, is anxious to sell his land on which he resides, lying on the Sucarnoochee river, in Kemper county, with some four hundred and fifty in cultivation, the balance in timber. The land is of the best quality, and is situated between Decatur and Enterprise, and nearly all good and productive. Also, a good gin house and stand on table for cultivation. If no disaster happens to the crop now on the ground I will sell for two thousand dollars, one half cash. The improvements are good and in good condition, and will be sold with the land, consisting of one house and press, &c. It has a good outlet for stock on two sides, and a good range of timber and water. Also, a good lot of household and kitchen furniture.

There is also connected with said 640 acres of good land, adjoining, with about 100 acres in a good state of cultivation, with improvements, which I will sell for $1,000 00. I will sell the two tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to suit purchasers, and the terms will be given to suit purchasers, and the terms will be given to suit to effect a sale, if not sold as a whole before the 1st of December next. He will also offer for sale a good young horse and a quantity of corn. There is a competent supply of good water on the premises, and a good orchard of fine stock to remain. One friend informs another of what benefit the Red Jacket Bitters are and have been to him, and thus the reputation of this great family medicine is constantly increasing.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick the old and reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours—day and night. Chadwick's medicines are fresh, and an experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded. tf

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Buddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it. It gives as much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen and their medicines of which they are Proprietors as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Agne Cure is world wide, being now used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, but their only evidence is recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Stenton's Cleveland Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are as well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school purposes, as they were upon the first introduction of the articles. Their Writing Fluids are unsurpassed as well as Inks in the essential qualities for writing, and the Carmine Ink is the best article of red ink ever manufactured. Their Extract of Jamaica Ginger is also a superior article. Their Soothing Syrup is highly recommended by physicians and nurses, and is the best article for children we have ever used. Their Worm Candy is also a superior article. Their Sarsaparilla is highly recommended by those who have used it. Their Agne Cure is a sure cure for chills and fever. Their Bettison's English Horse Liniment is the best article we have ever used for the purpose for which it is intended. Their Stenton's Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink are the best we have ever used. Their Extract of Jamaica Ginger is

DARCY & PUTNAM'S
SELF-RAISING FLOUR
—FOR—
Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.
TIME AND LABOR SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.
GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Stir in the water with a spoon and beat at once, without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the yeast, therefore, should be in good baking order before beginning to mix—MIND THIS.

Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.

For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last articles mixed. Salt to suit the taste.

RECEIPTS.
SALT TO SUIT THE TASTE.

FOR LIGHT BREAD.—Use cold water or milk, and mix with a spoon just sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; put it into a deep pan not more than half full, bake immediately. The pan should be covered to prevent the formation of a hard c ust before the loa. has risen sufficiently. If the bread does not brown on the top, remove the cover a few minutes before taking the bread from the oven.

BREAD PANS.—Are found to bake best when seven inches long, four inches deep, and four inches wide at the bottom, taring and rivetted corners. Three pans are required for a loaf.

FOR BISCUIT.—Make the dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the usual amount of shortening, or cold sweet milk without shortening. Bake or scorch in well heated oven, they will be light, white sweet and tender.

FOR LIGHT ROLLS.—Same as biscuit, except that the dough should be a little softer, use less shortening.

FOR WHEAT MUFFINS.—Three eggs, one quart of milk or water, three cups of flour, one table spoonful of melted lard. Bake in deep Muffin rings.

FOR PIES.—Use less shortening than with common flour, and roll the crust very thin.

SPONGE CAKE.—One pound of Sugar, dilated in three gills of milk or water, half a pound of butter, two eggs, half a pint of milk or water and two pounds of flour.

QUICK SPONGE CAKE.—One cup of powdered Sugar and one cup of flour, well mixed together. Break in three eggs, stir quickly and bake in a square tin immediately, in a moderate oven. Flavor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.

GOLD AND SILVER CAKE.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour, three-fourths cup of corn starch, one teaspoonful of cream tartar, one-half do. soda. Whites of six eggs for silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered tin pans.

DROP NUTS.—One pound of Sugar, a little shortening, two eggs, three pounds of flour and one pint of water.

FRYING AND DUMPLINGS.—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit. Use a little more shortening if desired for cake.

PAN CAKES AND FRITTERS.—Will need no eggs. Butter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-Raising Flour.

The quicker you handle this flour the better. Never sift it, stand it to rise. See that the oven is not before you touch the flour. The softer the dough the better. Do not knead it.

☞Put up in every style to suit the trade.

☞Ask your Grocer for sale pound package, or will use another—every package warranted.

There is not in this scheme an acre of swamp or wild land; each Farm and Lot, or the whole of a cultivated Plantation—each tract is on or within a few miles of a Railway, either on the Memphis & Charleston,
Mississippi Central,
Mobile & Ohio,
Meridian & Vicksburg, or
Mississippi & Tennessee R. R.

The several tracts are disposed of at the low cost of one dollar, in subdivisions of 10, 40 and 160 acres. Each subdivision constitutes a prize, and each

TICKET COSTS ONE DOLLAR.

For a description of the property refer to the new Pamphlet issued by the Company. Titles are perfect, or the money will be paid to the winner of the prize.

All land in this scheme is in the State of Mississippi. The Capital Prize within fifteen miles of Memphis, on the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad.

The lands are adapted to the growth of grain, cotton, grapes, etc., are within fifteen Government lands, in cold latitudes, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. The average cost of these lands is seven dollars per acre

A deduction of 10 per cent. in favor of ten or more. Tickets may be had of local Agents or through the Memphis Agency.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.
Dolbear Commercial College.
OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,
WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States,
AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary College:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We give

Cost of full Commercial Course
here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $800 per annum, for four years, or $3200; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $4,000, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Dollars $255 have $800 left over any two of our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8255 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Circulars and Catalogues Sent to all Who Desire Them.

N. B.—Young gentlemen who have entirely neglected their studies for the past few years, can here be perfected in any branches they may desire, in a few months.

THE GULLETT STEEL BRUSH GIN.

This celebrated COTTON GIN, is now a machine used under the supervision of the Patentee, R. P. Gullett, with greatly increased facilities and we, as agents for the South-west, now offer it on the following terms:

1st. It is unsurpassed as a cotton gin.

2d. The quantity of cotton ginned in a given time is much greater than by any other gin of equal number of saws.

3d. It separates from the Cotton all stones and dust and leaves it more even.

4th. The roll cannot be broken by over feeding. All gins are tested before leaving the factory. Cotton from this gin will bring from one to two cents, sufficient in to Bales to pay for the gin, bearing in mind from proper ginning. This gin has been in use extensively in the South west ten (10) years, and wherever used it supersedes all other gins.

Send for special circulars.

COTTON PRESSES,

We are manufacturing for the crop of 1867 an improvement on the Hallock press, which will meet all the requirements of the planter. It can be worked by hand, horse, or steam power. Can be used out doors or in a building; is rapid in its working; of immense power, and makes a bale of exactly the same size.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Meridian Daily Gazette.

The undersigned propose to issue a daily paper from this office, about the first of October, with the above title. The commercial importance of Meridian, its rapidly increasing population, and its prosperity, almost without a parallel in the South, has indeed to believe that the public would liberally sustain and support a daily paper at this place. There is no reason why Meridian with its railroad advantages, and its greatly increasing wealth, should not maintain a daily newspaper that in size, appearance, mechanical execution and industrial management would take rank with the dailies of our neighboring cities. We believe a daily will now properly represent the great interests of the city at home and abroad, and give greater aid to its friends in its rapid improvement than the Semi-Weekly and Weekly we now publish. We promise up that industry and energy can accomplish will be employed to make it an exponent of the enterprise and public spirit of this section of the State. The Daily Gazette will give the latest telegraphic news and market reports, eight and twelve hours in advance of any can be seen in any other paper, and will be specially valuable to merchants and business men in the and the neighboring towns.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore given the Gazette, we appeal to our patrons and friends to aid us in establishing permanently a daily paper at Meridian, and respectfully solicit that material aid without which no enterprise of the kind can succeed. Our Semi-Weekly and Weekly editions will both be continued. Subscribers to either paper, who desire the Daily, can have their names transferred and will receive credit for the amount already paid.

The price of the Daily will be, per annum, $10.00. For one month, $1.00.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

Published Wednesday & Saturday by
J. GIBSON.

J. J. SHANNON,.....Editor
MERIDIAN, MISS.

Wednesday : : : : : October 9, 1867.

☞ During the absence of Col. J. J. Shannon, the editorial department of the Gazette, will be conducted by Jno. Armstrong, associate Editor.

Correspondence of "Enquirer."

NEW YORK, Sept. 27, 1867.

I have just seen a copy of your paper of the 18th, containing the new Republican nominations for Lauderdale. If any thing was wanting to disgust a decent white man with Radicalism in Mississippi, the proceedings of the recent Republican State Convention at Jackson, and such nominations as have been made in Lauderdale, would furnish it. It would appear that the negroes and the unprincipled white who manipulate them, can't trust an honest, respectable white man. In this they show their folly, and demonstrate their utter incapacity for the ballot.

They may, for a time, by the sheer force of numbers, sweep from power the intelligence of the State, but they will entail on themselves and their prosperity irreparable injury. Such conduct will unite the white people in a solid party that will ultimately control and assert the supremacy of our race and color. It must be palpable to the dullest intellect, that the negroes will control our State Convention. Ignorant of the very meaning of laws and constitutions, they aspire to frame the organic law under which we and our children are to live, and by which we are to be governed. I do not dispute that there are a few respectable white men that call themselves Republicans; but such men are not acceptable to the negroes. The handful of white men who favor confiscation and disfranchisement, who pander to the prejudices and passions of the negro, are the men who will have their confidence and be their assistants and whose characters are thoroughly worthless and contemptible. Such reconstruction as this, is a monstrous outrage, and should be defeated if possible. But the numbers of the negroes render this impossible at present, and the force must go on until the good sense of the people North and South applies the proper corrective. I have an abiding confidence that white people of the North will not allow the permanent debasement of our race in the South.

I do not agree with the Gazette that any benefits will result from the President's new amnesty proclamation. It will not add a vote to the number already registered. The far greater portion of the disfranchised needed no amnesty, but had already received pardons or were embraced in the previous amnesty.

ENQUIRER.

In Mobile the other day at the Convention election, only about 112 white votes were cast, the polls being given up almost entirely to the negroes. The radical ticket was of course elected.

A petition has been filed with Judge Blatchford, of New York, asking that the Memphis, El Paso & Pacific Railroad Company be compelled to go into bankruptcy. This is the first case relative to involuntary bankruptcy on the part of a corporation under the new law.

A Louisville telegram states that Chief Justice Chase made a speech at Columbus, Ohio, the other day, in which he advocated the extension of suffrage to all who are now deprived of it. Chase is getting quite liberal. The reaction now going on must have alarmed the old advocate of a dusky despotism.

We see it stated that Gen. Ord is about to move his headquarters to Holly Springs temporarily. The prevalence of yellow fever at Vicksburg is the cause of the change, we presume.

The Aberdeen Examiner calls the attention of the District Commander to the fact that Mr. J. B. Woodmansee, a registrar for the county of Monroe, was a delegate to the Republican Convention in Jackson, and took active and energetic part therein, as the record will prove. A similar disposition should be made of and many others we wot.

The St. Louis Times says E. J. Castello who is now in Mississippi running for the Convention and delivering political harangues to the negroes, formerly held the office of deputy sheriff in St. Louis, and absconded a defaulter to the tune of many thousand dollars. A decidedly unfavorable record, that.

Radical excesses in Congress have operated very materially against the party in Ohio and Pennsylvania during the recent discussions. The issues have not been met in a bold fearless manner as has been the custom. Chase, Wade and Bingham have evaded, denied and misrepresented instead of justifying the consequences of recent legislation. The grand issues cannot, however, be pushed aside by such miserable subterfuges. Shall the white people share the government, from the lowest to the highest offices, with an ignorant and disinterested race? was the issue upon which men voted, in the prominent Western States, yesterday. It has become the grand struggle between political parties in this country, and the one another paper is printed, the peoples fate will have gone forth. We have no doubt of the result.

The Question in a Nut Shell.

We have seldom seen more common, hard sense put in so short a space, than in the following from the Charlottesville Chronicle: "Some of the papers of the State are half cockedly talking ground against a Convention—advising them to vote against it. Their idea is that the negroes will have the control of that body. Now, this will not be the case, in our opinion. The whites will control that body. We think it as well to leave people to cipher for themselves; but we say: he whites have got the Convention. But there is no chance of voting down the Convention; the chance, is to vote down the Constitution, if we shall not like it.—A majority of the persons voting on the Convention question can call a Convention; but the Constitution will be lost unless a majority of all the persons registered shall vote to ratify it. If there are 200,000 registered voters, and only 110,000 vote on the question of calling a Convention, 65,000 will call the Convention. But the Constitution cannot become the law of the State unless more than 100,000 persons vote to ratify it. Thus, if 150,000 persons vote on the question of the ratification of the Constitution. It will not be ratified unless it receives more than two-thirds of the vote cast.

Therefore our business now is to make a hard fight for the best men of the Convention; and when the Constitution is finde up, then talk about what we shall do.

The Richmond Enquirer contains some wholsome advice to the people of that State, relative to the importance of sending calm, temperate, conservative men to the State Convention; men who, though opposed to the whole radical programme of oppression, proscription and insult, are prepared to show to the people of the North, that we are willing to secure the negro the most ample guarantees for the future protection of all his constitutional rights. While the gorge of the nation is rising from Maine to California at the thought of leaving ten Southern States at the mercy of the negro, the people of the South are to-day more solicitous for the future prosperity and happiness of the negro, than the Radicals of New England. All of us desire that he shall be educated, his self-respect stimulated, and his life, liberty and property made absolutely secure. And we hazard nothing in saying that while under the malignant and vile teachings of the Radicals, the negro has rejected our proffers of comfort of action upon a Conservative platform, and has hld the secrets of his policy in oath-bound societies, there will not be a Conservative delegate elected to the Convention who will not be willing to clothe him with fully as many rights and franchises as he possesses in nineteen-twentieths of the Radical States. And we hope that no man of violent and extreme opinions will be elected to the Convention, but that in every district in which Conservatism shall triumph the delegate shall be a just and tune friend of all.

THE PRESIDENT MEANS FIGHT.—There are breakers ahead for the radical party.—A Washington telegram advises us that the President, convinced of the unconstitutional and the enemies of the Constitution and the Union, are not to be overcome by passive measures, has determined to adopt a more active and decisive course. In pursuance of this determination, he has begun by arranging an entirely new Cabinet, which will be thoroughly conservatic, the members of which are pledged to resist the suspension of the President, should the aggressive Congress be mad enough to resort to such an act. The new Cabinet will not be announced until after the ensuing fall elections.

"Enquirer" says he does not agree with the Gazette's position touching the President's Amnesty. We don't see that there is much difference between us. The Gazette took the ground that the President had the right to grant pardons, but that his amnesty would not be of any benefit to us unless Commanders of his way of thinking were appointed over the Southern dependencies. The proclamation itself clearly shows that the President claims the right of rendering proscription and disfranchisement, to their civil rights, including suffrage, but as there is a clear and undoubted conflict of law with the Constitution, he considers it his duty to decline the enforcement of the amnesty and leave the whole question to be settled by the judiciary.

The freedmen seem to have a "riot bell" in Jefferson City, Louisiana. Maj. Frye officially reported to Gen. Mower that at the recent election the negroes armed, paraded and fixed bayonets at the sound of "their riot bell." Such revolutionary signals should be put down at once. The negro must be blind indeed if he cannot see that such a policy will, ere long, draw the line between the white and black people and ultimately leave "the man and brother" homeless and friendless. There are too many of the Caucasian race in this land, to permit negro supremacy to be very long lived.

The radicals in Louisiana are very much distressed at the probable result of the late election there. The figures as far as heard from fall short of the requisite majority for a Convention by a few hundred during the election. The loyalists should not be surprised at such a result. The white people were fraudulently deprived of their strength at the polls for the purpose of bringing them under the political control and supremacy of the negro and franchised minority, and would, therefore, have nothing whatever to do with sending men to the Convention. The result is just what might have been expected from such folly, and the radicals have no one to blame but the partisan Sheridan, whose lazy aldof in issuing and enforcing the orders which have brought about the Convention failure in Louisiana. The opportunities lost last week will never come again.

In Mobile city and county, a majority was secured of 321 for a Convention.

The question of negro equality in the public schools is causing high excitement in some portions of Ohio, and will doubtless have a material effect upon the result of the approaching election.

BUSINESS SEASON.—A stroll through the city yesterday, along the business marts, convinced us that the season is about opening. Cotton is coming in gradually and our merchants are making preparations to receive their large stocks, and when they arrive will soon be busy in disposing of goods and filling orders. To secure a large trade, advertising should be resorted to liberally. The planters and country merchants will soon be wanting supplies and will be looking over the columns of the newspapers to see what is going on and who has the best assortment of goods and are offering the most liberal terms to purchasers. Try it—advertise without delay, and liberally, do not hide your light under a bushel; invite your country friends to come and see you; let them know what you have for sale and where your place of business is. Remember, as Shakspeare, Byron, or some other friend of ours says,

He who in the world would thrive,
Must take the papers and advertise!

We clip the above from the Mobile Tribune. It suits this locality so well that we adopt it as original. We took a stroll, and saw, and thought, just as the writer of the above did.

RADICAL 'HYPOCRISY.—A colored man named Vashon said to be well educated and unusually intelligent, has applied for license to practice law in the intensely loyal and radical district of Pittsburg, Penn. The Radical Judge referred the application, but referred it to a committee of Republican lawyers, who are smothering their report until after the election. The love of the Pennsylvania Radicals for the colored man and brother must be exceedingly great.

REPUBLICAN HONESTY.—A certain Col. Dan Platt is a leading Republican speaker in Ohio. The Colonel is also editor of the Mac-a-check Press, a Radical Ohio sheet. To show his opinion of the integrity of his political associates, we copy the following from a number of his paper of June last. He then said :

"We never could make out what the late and lamented Mr. Lincoln wanted with a detective system at all. From the hour of its first inauguration up to that of his death THE THIEVES HELD THE POST OFFICE. Among the later acts of Congress that preceded his death, was an investigation of the cotton frauds, and out of a great number of permits to steal, three-fourths were signed by the President. Honest men stood aghast at the ingratitude WITH WHICH STEALING WENT ON. All cries of shame and outrage seemed unavailing. All opposition was driven away. THIEVES WERE TURNED OUT TO BE SUCCEEDED BY THIEVES, AND COLOSSAL FORTUNES WERE MADE IN AN HOUR."

PARDON OF R. M. T. HUNTER.—R. M. T. Hunter, who has been pardoned by the President, says in his petition that he proposes to direct himself to the practice of private life; that he submits loyally to the authority of the United States, and recognizes the validity of the Government to establish its policy in the South. He will counsel conformity to that policy with as much influence as may be possible. He recognizes the necessity of submission, and feels the importance of repose to the country. Governor Pendleton Lincoln did not doubt that he, Mr. Hunter, would do what he could to aid in the work of peace and reconstruction in Virginia. That Mr. Lincoln expressed a desire to see him when in Richmond, and sent for him.

The New Orleans Bulletin tells the following pleasant story at the expense of a lady passenger on one of the boats that cross the lake:

She had arisen in the morning, and had commenced dressing—in the ladies' cabin, of course. Observing the door to be partially open, she ran against it with all of her force to close it, supposing it to open and shut on the inner side. It was just the reverse, however, and her acknowledgments be imagined at finding herself running half way down the main cabin into the crowd of gentlemen, before she could abate her speed.

Mississippi News.

The Handsboro (Miss.) Democrat, of last Saturday, has the following: We have been in receipt of a most fatal and singular disease among the children in the Northern part of this county. When a child is first taken, the whole nervous system is contracted, and the patient suffers the most excruciating pains, and cannot bear to be touched. In convulsions, with the nerves contracted, the neck is suddenly broken.

The editor of the Water Valley Courier has been on a visit to Panola county, and his information is by no means encouraging. He says: During a visit to Panola county last week, we were surprised to notice the ravages that the army worm was making. Whole fields of cotton were stripped of their leaves in one day, and today there is scarcely a cotton farm in the county that has escaped. The roads are filled with them, as they march from one field to another.

FREEDMAN KILLED.—On last Saturday a quarrel arose between a freedman and Mr. Jacob Missaps, who lives about ten or twelve miles north of this, concerning a bale of cotton, which resulted in the freedman being shot dead by Mr. Missaps. Missaps fled and is still at large.—Panola Star.

Our readers will bear in mind that there is to be a mass meeting of the people of this county at the Courthouse in Louisville on Monday next, 7th inst., in reference to the Grenada and Meridian Railroad. Several speeches relative to the subject will be delivered.—Louisville (Miss.) Bulletin.

W. H. Magruder, Esq., of Richland, Holm's county, having purchased the materials of the State office at Goodman, in connection of Messrs. Turner, McCallum & Co., with that paper ceases with its last issue.

It is said to learn that the Cotton Worm is doing serious damage to the cotton crop of North Mississippi. The worm, in many instances, is eating all the young bolls, thus destroying one-fourth or third of the late cotton.—Corinth News.

Among the many buildings in course of erection in the flourishing city of Meridian is the very handsome edifice of the Meridian Savings Bank, of which our former townsman and that estimable gentleman, Mr. C. H. Williams, is President. The building is a large brick, fire-proof, and adds greatly to the appearance of that part of the city in which it is located.—Okolona Southern.

In our last week's issue we noticed the capture of the notorious A. L. Pryne by the Sheriff of Smith county. He was arrested on the ground of horse stealing, but Mr. Pierce, of Rankin county, the gentleman from whom he was suspected of having stolen a horse, appeared before he was removed from the county jail, but did not identify him. Consequently the Sheriff discharged him, and he has "gone on his way rejoicing." This man Pryne has been for two or three years practicing the grossest deception upon the Masonic fraternity, and on many occasions obtained money under false pretenses. He is sometimes known as Dr. Mitchel and again as Dr. Hudson, son of Gov. Allen, of Missouri, and sometimes as Col. Anderson. He is about six feet high, has a very slender form, dark hair and eyes, is rather pale-faced, and if noticed closely, a lameness can be discovered in his right foot or leg, about twenty-four years of age. There is no doubt of Pryne's being a horse thief and the sooner he can be made to "look up" the better for horse owners.—Forest Register.

WEATHER AND CROPS.—The season, up to the present time, has been unusually favorable for gathering crops. The rains have been light, and the army worm having left the foliage off of the cotton, leaving the bolls exposed to the sun, it will all be open by the middle of November, and by the first of December, should the weather continue favorable, the cotton crop will be on the market. The farmers are now gathering corn and opening their fall pastures early, which gives their fall stock time to get fat before the frost. The yield of corn is coming fully up to expectations. The potato and pea crops, are very good, will be very prolific, and there is also a fine prospect for a good yield of turnips, and with economy, the country is abundantly supplied for 1868, with all things needful in the produce line, except bacon, and are much better off in this respect than in the present year.—Winona Vidette.

The Vicksburg Times calls Gen. Ord's attention to an officer named Pease, who has violated general orders, which prohibit officers of the army from intermeddling, with or participating in political meetings. Whereupon the Liberty Herald is reminded of "another gentleman, not gutside of Pelion county, who holds a certain office in which he is strictly prohibited from having anything to do with politics, electioneering, &c., and yet we are told he has been extremely active and zealous, while exercising his official duties, in propagating Conservative principles among the freedmen, and in forwarding his own claims as a future candidate for Congress."

A public meeting was held at Woodville lately, and largely attended, to consider and devise means for the relief, benefit and prosperity of the people. A number of us a very intelligent committee was appointed who were to report at another meeting on Saturday last. The object of their labors seems to be to settle on the most practicable plan to secure immigration to the county. The Woodville Republican speaks of the movement as propitious, and the urgency of the case being apparent, encouragement daily. The movement have been taxing the patience of the planters by their indolence and viciousness, and they by no means easy at beholding these demonstrations for a substitution of white labor than can be depended on.

Radicalism does not meet with much favor among the hardy miners of Montana. The political complexion of the newly elected Legislature of that Territory is thus stated: The Council, which consists of seven members, is unanimously Democratic. The House, which consists of fifteen members, will stand fourteen Democrats and one Republican. On account of the misunderstanding in regard to the first and last apportionments, Deer Lodge and Madison counties have elected three members each, and Gallatin two Representatives. If the Legislature shall decide in favor of Gov. Smith's apportionment, the Legislature will be unanimously Democratic. If in favor of the first apportionment, made by Gov. Meagher, then Mr. Irwin, Democrat, will have the honor of being the only Republican in the Montana Legislature.

It appears to be believed at all hands that we are to have an early winter, if not a severe one. In many, therefore, be a matter of interest to the reader to remember that the earliest "killing frost" known in this region since 1845, occurred on the 12th of October, 1845; and the latest appeared on the 20th of November. For several years past we have had a killing frost between the 20th and 26th of October, and hope we may see have it much earlier this year.

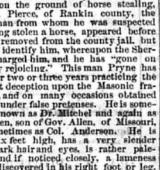
THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.
Every man his own Physician.


HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
Holloway's Ointment.
DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—absorbed, distributed by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels irregularly, costiveness, diarrhœa and dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and digestive passages, give the Light House of Meteor Fluid Burner.
We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.
It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

Iron Ties for Cotton Bales.
THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season. In addition to the FASSMANN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE,
so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his
ALLIGATOR TIE,
with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale and hold it without slipping
Great care have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.
These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any tie introduced.
The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

The Safety Hand Lamp,
AND
Meteor Burning Fluid.
THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is unexplosive. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by removing the Light House of Meteor Fluid Burner.
We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.
It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

Major Norton, commander of the Post, Lieut. Nye, commissary, Mr. Thomas, agent of the Freedmen's Bureau, and about twenty-five per cent. of the men on duty here, are sick with chills and fever.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our readers these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. J. Hurley's Bitters, Wormy Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Ague Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints, but numerous letters from gentlemen in commending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup and Dr. Bettison's Tasteless Rheumatic Liniment, both of which are highly recommended. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and South. Their ink is of the best quality, and stands equalling the best English inks now used. We have seen it tested, and its durability and delight not as well be taken in hand, for which they are so justly celebrated. Those wishing to purchase any of the above preparations or goods, will find it to their interest to send to the proprietors, as they will save from fifty to one hundred per cent. by so doing.

We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., in another column of our paper. We are willing to vouch for the truthfulness of all that is said in their advertisement, as we have used their medicines in our own family, and know them to be all that is claimed for them. We are willing to say a little more than this, we know them to be all that is needed. And the gentlemen themselves are worthy of the confidence of the public. If

One of the most melancholy tragedies that ever took place in this city was enacted on last Saturday afternoon, on the corner of Johnson Avenue and Sidney Street. As Dr. W. H. Burton was crossing over to Sidney street, he was met by Mr. R. H. Brockenridge, who drew a revolver and commenced discharging it at Dr. Burton. In less time than it takes us to tell it, the Doctor had received four fatal wounds in the breast, abdomen and back. With folded arms he advanced about twenty steps and commenced sinking. Some gentlemen ran forward and carried him to the Drug Store of H. Izard & Co., where he expired in a few minutes. Mr. Brockenridge was immediately taken in custody and lodged in Marion jail. Yesterday morning he was brought to town to attend the examination before Mayor Henderson. As the case is now in court and the issues which led to the tragedy are of a very delicate character, we will hold any particulars for the present. Dr. Burton was buried on Sunday afternoon.

The house of Jno. H. Garner & Co., of Mobile, has made a valuable acquisition by securing the services of Col. A. B. Carter, of Pushlaw. Col. Carter is well and favorably known throughout East Mississippi—has "troops of friends"—and will add very materially to the business of this well known and popular house.

A THING OF BEAUTY.—By reference to our new advertisements, will be seen the latest sensation of our friend Turner.—The gem is a beautiful production, and the reduced rates and latest improvements in the art, should induce everybody to visit Turner's. He has lately established a very magnificent gallery at Shubuta, under the superintendence of a celebrated New Orleans' Artist, who is personally known to us, and we take pleasure in commending him to the citizens of Shubuta and surrounding country.

H. C. Ferris has relinquished his interest in the Macon Beacon office to his son P. T. Ferris, who in future will have sole control of the office.

The Presbyterian Synod meets here today in the new Church. We regret to learn that the pastor, Rev. Mr. Cline, is so indisposed as to render his attendance doubtful.

The headquarters of the Mississippi Aid Society will be moved to Meridian until the yellow fever disappears from Vicksburg. Mr. Chadwick has a few more tickets for the next drawing.

The Mobile and Ohio railroad carries delegates to the Synod which meets here to-day for half the usual fare.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 8th, '67.

In consequence of the prevalence of yellow fever in the city of Vicksburg we feel compelled by the duty we owe to ourselves, our families and employees, to postpone the 2nd preliminary distribution of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational & Manufacturing Aid Society from the 16th day of October, to the 2nd of November, 1867.

To give our patrons and the public at a distance the necessary time for renewal of certificates, the 5th preliminary distribution will be drawn November 30th, and the Grand Scheme, December 20th, 1867.

We trust that a liberal and patriotic public will both excuse and approve of the short postponement.

Correspondents, and persons ordering certificates, are requested to direct their communications, to the Secretary at Meridian, Miss., to which place all the necessary blanks are promptly removed. An authorized agent will remain at Vicksburg to attend to any communications or orders for certificates.

W. D. LYLES,
President.

ALBERT SANDEL, Sec'y.

☞ The drawing of the School fund for Vicksburg and Jackson will be postponed from the October 24th to November 12th, 1867.

The newly elected municipal authorities of Nashville have been inaugurated.

REMEDIES FOR FARMERS.—All heads of families should bear in mind the great importance of selecting genuine remedies for the use of their family. Buy with reason, judgment and discretion. Buy those in which you have confidence, from one experienced in Southern treatment if possible. Buy those which you think are best. The "Great Southern Preparations" are a class of medicines prepared especially for the Southern people by Southern physicians. See advertisement.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick, the old and reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours—day and night. Chadwick's medicines are fresh, and an experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded. If

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—This large and influential body of gentlemen at its recent meeting in Jackson, adopted for use in the schools of the State, among others, the following books, published by John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Kentucky:

The Goodrich Series of Readers, edited by Noble, Butler, Butler's Grammar, Payne's Mathematics and Barbee's Geography.

The object of this action on the part of the Association, is to secure uniformity in the use of text books throughout the State. In order that so desirable a result may be attained, we would respectfully urge upon our teachers throughout the State, the necessity of taking early steps to secure a supply of these books for their pupils.—With the exception of the Geography, which is just issued from the press, the books here named are already used in all the public and private schools in New Orleans, Mobile, Vicksburg, Jackson, Meridian, Columbus and Aberdeen, where, of course, the best systems are kept. Schools in the vicinity of these places can easily procure a supply, but as respectable schools of the State of the sufficient difficulty will occur unless prompt action is taken. We

Now if your wife's health is poor, you will find her affection unchallenged, and desire that she regain her health and former beauty, you should by all means procure a bottle of

English Female Bitters,

A compound that is actually restoring health to more suffering females than all other remedies combined. It only proposes to cure those Uterine derangements to which the female is liable, but all nervous complaints incident to her sex. But it is also true that what we called the official remedies for dyspepsia do not under any circumstances produce permanent relief. On the other hand it is a fact established by thousands of credible witnesses, that these testimony is simply a statement of their own experiences, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the dyspepsia in its most distressing forms. Our most competent intelligent members of the faculty have pronounced all the above advertised prescriptions of the pharmacopeia, and now invariably, and with great success prescribe Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Fever and Ague—Intermittent-generally, Fever and Ague, unfortunately is too widely known to require a description. It is a lengthened description of its symptoms necessary.

In order to escape fever and ague in any region it is only necessary to fortify the system against atmospheric poison by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By this means all danger is avoided. Some rules have exceptions; this has none. Persons who use the Bitters are taken as a preventive, so surely will the individual who adopts this precaution escape the pains and penalties of one of the most harrassing complaints to which the dwellers in unhealthy districts are subjected. As a remedy, the preparation has no equal. Without entailing any of the unpleasant and dangerous results following the use of mercury and follow the use of quinine, it breaks up the paroxysms and rapidly restores the strength of the system. If the proprietor had no other merit than its wonderful power to prevent and cure fever and ague, intermittent fever, it would be an article of the first necessity in all new settlements, and the sparsely settled districts to this its value as stomachic and an antibilious agent, and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the very first place among Family Medicines?

Bilious Remittent Fever. This is a disease of a more malignant type than ordinary "chills and fever," but it springs from the same cause, malaria, and may be forestalled by the same means. Viz., a preventionary course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In order to render the system malaria-proof, it must be endowed with extra vigor, and put in all respects in perfect order. To effect these objects the BITTERS must be resorted to. Remittent Fever, it is firmly believed, may be certainly prevented by the daily use of this unapproachable protective preparation. If the disorder is already in progress, it should be taken without the hot stages. As the pulse is up to one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty during hot fits, it would be unsafe to be prudent to attempt to arrest the tone then; but when prostration comes on, and the pulse is thin, and feeble, then is the time to begin with great advantage, and also when the patient is recovering, as a means of recruiting the strength, and thus avoiding a relapse. This powerful but harmless tonic should be administered. It is the safest as well as the best of remedies.

Probably one-fourth of the people of this country know what it is to be bilious; but of this number probably the proportion of sufferers is much greater. If what are called "anti-bilious medicines" were really what they are claimed to be, the disease would soon become obsolete; for their name is legion. But neither mercury, the officials nor any of the drastic pills advertised under so many titles, seem to produce the desired effect. Dr. Calomel would be a remedy for the various forms of bilious, pneumatonary and malarial treatment may mitigate the evil. Sanguine, nervous persons are troubled with dyspepsia; but this distress is open to doubt. Privation and hardship, as well as high living and free indulgence, engender the disease; and it would therefore seem that the men of the wilderness, as well as the dweller in cities, must be more or less subject to it. One thing, however, is certain; in no country under heaven is it so prevalent as in the United States. Of all the disease has become domesticated, and it is to be found in almost every household, and consequently a Household Remedy for Dyspepsia is of inestimable value to the people of this country.

Few disorders involve greater suffering; and, if not in itself immediately dangerous, is the forerunner and cause of many deadly maladies. But even if it did not tend to shorten life—which it undoubtedly does—the amount of physical misery which it produces, and which renders life comparatively unenjoyable, is a sufficient reason why it should be warded off in the interest of the patient. It is not so with Hostetter's preparation. This is the purest and genuine article of the kind, and will, on trial, be found to effect more full and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bowels, Habitual Costiveness, Pediatric, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fistula, all Skin Diseases, Hysterics, Complaints of Indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Tetter, Tumors, Worms, Weakness of the Stomach, Rheumatism, Gout, and all complaints arising from a disordered liver or Kidneys.

Popular Worm Candy!

As this is really a specific for worms, and the best and most palatable form to give to children, it is not surprising that it is fast taking the place of all other preparations for worms—it being perfectly tasteless and any effect will take at once stamps it as infinitely superior for the toilet of any lady.

NOTICE TO MOTHERS

DR. SEABROOK'S

Infant Soothing Syrup.

We have, by purchase of the original receipt book, Proprietors of this Celebrated Medicine. We ask you to give it a trial, with an assurance that you will not suffer, discard all those gums so and destructive stuffs, such as Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, Howard's Mixture, &c., compositions of a past and entire progressive age, when it was thought that the more disgusting the mixture the better the medicine

Use in the future only SEABROOK'S, a combination, quite up with the advancement of the age. Pleasant to take, harmless in its action, efficient and reliable in all cases. Invaluable in the following diseases.

SUMMER COMPLAINT, IRREGULARITIES OF THE BOWELS, RESTLESSNESS, TEETHING, &c.

Gives health to the child and rest to the mother.

We could furnish any quantity of certificates bearing evidence of its superior qualities, and would say that none should stand on our counters, which it will do upon trial.

Price 25 cents per bottle. This only by

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the purification of that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discovery—and in that short space of time, by experience, and perfecting it, it has introduced to the public, and it is now recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this class have hitherto failed to command the attention of the faculty, because on being tested, they have been found to contain the same old ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and consequently, a Household Remedy for Dyspepsia is of inestimable value to the people of this country.

Few disorders involve greater suffering; and, if not in itself immediately dangerous, is the forerunner and cause of many deadly maladies. But even if it did not tend to shorten life—which it undoubtedly does—the amount of physical misery which it produces, and which renders life comparatively unenjoyable, is a sufficient reason why it should be warded off in the interest of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation. This is the purest and genuine article of the kind, and will, on trial, be found to effect more full and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bowels, Habitual Costiveness, Pediatric, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fistula, all Skin Diseases, Hysterics, Complaints of Indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Tetter, Tumors, Worms, Weakness of the Stomach, Rheumatism, Gout, and all complaints arising from a disordered liver or Kidneys.

Sold by Druggists.

Hurley's Ague Tonic,

PERFECTLY RELIABLE,

This only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever in the world that can be relied on is Hurley's Ague Tonic. There have been many medicines put up to cure what has been the curse of suffering from the chills so still remain the case as far as relieving the drug stores and burning a bottle. It is pleasant to take, prepared with others, and will be certain to cure all cases of fever and ague or chills and fever. Send for it to the proprietors.

NO EXCUSE FOR BAD BREAD
DARBY & PUTNAM'S
—FOR—
Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.
TIME AND LABOR, SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.
GENERAL DIRECTIONS.
Stir in the water with a spoon and beat at once without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the oven, therefore, should be in good baking order before beginning to mix—MIND THIS.
Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.
For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last article mixed. Salt to suit the taste.
RECEIPTS.
SALT, TO SUIT THE TASTE.
For Light Bread.—Use cold water or milk, and mix with a spoon just sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; put it into a deep pan not more than half full, bake immediately. The pan when done to be covered to prevent the formation of a hard crust before the loaf has risen sufficiently. If the bread does not brown on the top, loosen the cover a few minutes before taking the loaf from the oven.
Batter Pans—Are found to bake best when seven inches long, four inches deep, and four inches wide at the bottom, flaring and fitted with covers. These pans are also good for Rolls.
For Rolls.—Make the dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the usual amount of shortening, or cold sweet milk without shortening. Bake as soon as well brushed over, they will be light, white, sweet and tender.
For Light Rolls.—Same as biscuit, except that the dough should be a little softer, use less shortening.
For Wheat Muffins.—Three eggs, one quart of milk or water, three pints of flour, one tablespoonful of melted lard. Bake in deep muffin rings.
For Pies.—Use less shortening than with common flour, and roll the crust very thin.
Sugar Cake.—One pound of Sugar, divided in three gills of milk and water, half pound of butter, two eggs, half a pint of milk or water and two pounds of flour.
Quick Sponge Cake.—One cup of powdered Sugar and one cup of flour, well mixed together. Break in three eggs, stir quickly and bake in a square tin immediately, in a moderate oven. Flavor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.
Loaf and Silver Cake.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour. Divide into dough into two equal parts; take four eggs and use the yolks for the gold and the whites for the silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered loaf pans.
Indian Nuts.—One pound of Sugar, a little shortening, two eggs, three pounds of flour and one pint of water.
Tea Cakes and Dumplings.—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit. Use a little melted sugar and butter for Tea Cakes.
For Tea Cakes and Fritters.—Will need no eggs. Butter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-raising Flour.
The quicker you handle this flour the better. Never let it stand to rise. See that the oven is hot before you touch the flour. The softer the dough the better. Do not knead it.
Put up in every style to suit the trade.
Ask your Grocer for a six pound package, and use no other—every package warranted.

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges.
—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our students will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1800 or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400, or $8385—our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We own a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far he knows not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE.

Published Wednesday & Saturday by J. GIBSON.

J. J. SHANNON, Editor

MERIDIAN, MISS.

Saturday : : : : : October 12, 1867

☞ During the absence of Col. J. J. Shannon, the editorial department of the Gazette, will be conducted by Jno. Armstrong, associate Editor.

Gen. Ord has instructed the Sheriffs of this State to appoint a deputy in each police district to maintain order, &c., during election times, and that no excuse will be received from persons so appointed for not serving. A refusal to accept the appointment will be followed by arrest and trial by military commission. If Gen. Ord keeps on in his new role, he will certainly receive a favorable mention from Congress next month. If he is not bidding for this, we are at a loss to know what has produced such a radical change in the tone of his orders recently. The change has been very damaging to reconstruction.

The yellow fever is rapidly decreasing in Galveston, Texas ; the violence of the disease has been checked in Houston and many other places. About twenty-five per cent. of the population of Hempstead have died since the epidemic broke out there, and about the same number are now down, and at the mercy of the monster.

Montgomery Blair, in his speech at Blairsburg, denounced the cabinet as a "set of political vermin," and said that Secretary Seward, on the eve of the coming elections, was endeavoring to betray the administration into the hands of its enemies. He believed that the president would be impeached, and declared that the present condition of things was without precedent in the history of the country. It is significant, however, that Senator Howard's letter arguing the right of Senators to sit in judgment on the impeachment trial themselves, making the charges, and pronouncing the judgment in advance, has been suppressed for the present upon the advice of certain leading Radical and financial men. The results of impeachment upon financial interests, as well as upon the political interests of the Radical party in the next presidential election, may cause the Radical party to pause in their mad career after all.

Secretary McCulloch has written a letter to-day for the purpose of counteracting the effects of the prejudicial reports of our financial condition sent from this country to Europe.

Maj. Pierce, who caused his soldiers to sack the Constitutional Union office at Camden, Arkansas, has been sentenced "to forfeit his military pay for one year, and to be degraded in rank, so that he shall have his name placed on the list of Captains of Infantry, and shall take rank next after the fifty Captains now next below him in rank and to be reprimanded in General Orders. Gen. Ord very properly approved the proceedings, findings and sentences of the court-martial. The article in the newspaper which provoked the accused to commit a penitentiary offence, denounced exhibitions of drunken men in uniform on the streets of Camden.

Congressman Washburne, of Illinois, who it is conceded, reflects the sentiments of Gen. Grant, made a speech in Galena the other day, in which he declared Gen. Grant is thoroughly with Congress on the reconstruction question, and accepted the charge of the war office only to prevent Mr. Johnson appointing one of his friends to the position vacated by Mr. Stanton.—That the first statement is correct we do not deny. We have always thought his sympathies were with the party that placed him in power, but that he is a watchdog for Stanton and Joe Holt, we doubt very much indeed. Gen. Grant will hardly stoop to play the tri kster.

We have another proposition for peace and harmony. A couple of politicians, one from Virginia and the other from Georgia, suggested in a recent interview with the President, that the Republicans recognize the principles enunciated by Senator Trumbull, of the right of each State to decide for itself the question of suffrage, in which case the South would voluntarily include the colored population as voters as they became qualified by intelligence, and it would inaugurate a vigorous policy for the education of that class.

THE RESULT.—The following is the result of the fraud enacted at this place on last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday : The vote for the Radical ticket was as follows :

Luther R. Smith - - - - - -	977
J. J. Gilder, - - - - - - -	596
Wm. H. Coleman, - - - - - -	267
For a Convention, - - - - -	977
Against a Convention, - - - -	155

The following named gentlemen were voted for by that portion of the whites participating in the election :

R. F. Moody, - - - - - -	186
G. C. Young, - - - - - - -	155

It is proper to state that but a small proportion of the whites voted, the remaining portion believing it best not to countenance such "unclean thing" in any way.—Boatler (Ala) Herald.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—We need only repeat the advice previously given, and say that, thus far, there are no indications that the fever will become epidemic. Indeed, the lateness of the season, and the coolness of the weather, furnish every assurance that we shall have no epidemic. The new cases are few and yield readily to prompt attention. Let no be alarmed, and pay for an early and withering frost. Referring to this matter, the Delaware Republican says :

We have unfailing faith that the present cold snap will prove a barrier to the further progress of the fever. During the three days past the air has been so perfectly dry and pure that we cannot believe any one can fear. While cases of fever may occur for a few days, we have no doubt the present cold snap will prevent its further progress.

The Elections on Tuesday.

Another serious protest against the unconstitutional acts of Congress is set forth. The elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa, on the 8th, were held on purely political grounds, and each party did their best to elect their men. Equal suffrage was the prime issue. Local State questions were thrown aside ; the suffrage issue was fairly made, and the result is now before the country. In Pennsylvania the election was for a Justice of the Supreme Court, eleven members (being one third) of the State Senate, a House of Representatives, county officers, and to fill a vacancy in Congress from Luzerne District. In Ohio for a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, State Treasurer, State Auditor, Controller of the Treasury, Attorney General, Supreme Judge, one Member of the Board of Public Works, State Senators and Representatives ; also on Constitutional Amendment, giving negroes the right to vote and hold office. The Legislature elected will have the right to elect a United States Senator to succeed Senator Wade, whose Senatorial term will expire on March 4th, 1869.—

In Iowa, the contest was for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, Supreme Court Judge, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction, one-half of the State Senators (23) and Members of the House of Representatives. In Pennsylvania sixty-six counties have been heard from, giving a Democratic majority of 4,767, electing George Sharswood Judge of the Supreme Court and George W. Woodward, to Congress from the twelfth District. The State is believed to have gone Democratic beyond a question, thus securing to the Democracy nearly all the State and county offices. In Ohio, where the question of erasing the word white from the Constitution of the State, thus opening the polls to men of both races, was submitted in the form of an amendment, negro franchise has been lost, notwithstanding Hinton R. Haves, a Radical, believed to have been elected Governor over Allen G. Thurman, the Constitutional nominee, by a very small majority. The Ohio Legislature is entirely Democratic and Thurman may, when all the counties are heard from, come in ahead. In Iowa, the prospect is not so bright ; the strong Republican majorities given in this State during the past three years, leave no probability of a change, except a heavily decreased majority for the radicals. The reaction seems to be extending from one end of the land to the other, and the signs now are that the politics of the country will be completely revolutionized before Christmas. The same ratio of gain given the cause of liberty and justice on Tuesday, will secure the people New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana, Oregon and New Hampshire, which with the States already redeemed, will give twelve Democratic States, containing a majority of the people now represented in Congress and secure seventy-four Democratic votes in the Electoral College. Senators as the present incumbents pass out of office. These changes must convey a solemn warning to the radical party—an admonition that cannot be thrust aside or disregarded. Congress will now pause and reflect, for the storm of Puritan public wrath is sealed. The resistless tide of public opinion is sweeping onward and soon nothing will be left behind but the miserable wrecks of Puritan self-righteousness. Everything augurs well.

Judge Handy's Resignation.

The judicial arm of this country, which has heretofore kept every other power of the government in its proper place, has been stricken down ; we no longer have the protection of law ; the diligent tribunals which in the past gave the security in person and property, and watched over us in lonely and dangerous places, have been placed under the control of men whose "legal" decisions are frequently more distinguished for presumption than sagacity. Men of strong talents, pure integrity, and moral patriotism, have their decisions which required patient investigation, labor and judgement, set aside by educated soldiers whose fort lies in marshalling warriors on a battle field, and who, probably, never had occasion to enter a hall of justice or read works containing the rules prescribed for regulating the actions of the people. Sooner than have the High Court of our State, as at present organized, made subservient to the will of the military, who are forced to act in the capacity of Judges by a partisan Congress, Chief Justice Handy has put aside the robes the people placed upon him. While regretting the necessity which demanded his resignation, we cannot refrain from exclaiming from the bottom of our heart, "well done thou good and faithful servant." When the people cease to be the source of power ; when the officers of the law cannot discharge their various trusts untrammelled ; when the administration of justice between man and man is not to be decided by those whose lives have been devoted to the study of the law, but by gentlemen educated for the "genteel field," it is time the armine which fixed the powers of the government and shaped the laws for the good management and interest of society, should be hid from the public view. Let the other Judges follow the example of Mr. Handy ; their usefulness is gone ; they can no longer promote the general welfare, nor maintain the dignity and honor of "Mississippi's monument of wisdom."

Paul Bogley, who has been trying to secure the pardon of Jefferson Davis, gives a long account in a Montreal paper of his interview upon the subject with President Johnson. In recounting the incidents of his trip through the South, he said :

When Mayor Monroe, after I told him that I had sent money to Japan to fight his negroes free, and was then in favor of their voting—when even he, after the supplies he was sending me, left me, I will at the St. Charles Hotel and invited me to his house, after those things, let's see what he was good for, for the people of the South.

When he had concluded, and passed on to the next guest, the gentleman I was on the side of the latter, and pointed to the door, and I left the room. I then interview between the two.

From Davis County.

LUZERNE, Miss. Sept. 23, '67.

EDITORS GAZETTE :—I have just left Circuit Court a week here, and was quite a long term for this county. Large crowds of people were in attendance on each and every day until adjournment, and I must frankly say there was less drinking fighting and swearing and more good order and good feeling manifested among the people than at any Circuit Court I ever witnessed. I only recollect of seeing two drunk men during the whole five days of court. There was that general feeling of precaution—among the people to guard against bringing up the unhappy incidents of the late bloody war. All seemed determined to heal up the old wounds—get back once more in the channel of peace, prosperity and happiness, that await all true patriots. God hasten the long looked for days. All honor to dus Judge Hancock and C. A. Smith, District Attorney, for their impartial, manly, upright, and courteous manner of dispatching their respective duties. I have seldom seen ministers of the law perform their respective duties with so much impartiality, and in such a way as to give general good feeling and contentment among the citizens. * *

The New York Herald says, the Republican State Convention just held at Syracuse repudiated Andrew Johnson, "finding no great principles to go upon or to bring forward new principles of government to propose, and being anxious to throw off the odium of the ruinous policy it has been pursuing the last year or two, it proposes to make Mr. Johnson and his blunders the subject matter of the campaign. In repudiating him, their own platform they intend to throw him and his blunders upon the democrats."

The Herald adds : "The great question however, was that of equal negro suffrage, and to that the Convention has committed the party. It was done with trepidation and with evident reluctance at the last hour. A great many of the delegates left before the Convention concluded its labors. It remains to be seen how this negro suffrage plank will be received when in form will be received by the people of the State, though, as far as New York itself is concerned, it will make little difference, as the negroes are a small fraction of the community. The resolution on this question is worded very deliberately, and is loose, general terms, and does not touch at all the important question of negro supremacy and a negro political power in ten or more States of the Union."

When a party in power ceases to fear the opposition, when it believes itself established, beyond danger of overturn, and its ascendancy secure, two things inevitably threaten it—corruption, and rash and foolish legislation.

The corruptionists are sure to fasten on a party whose power promises to be permanent ; they are the barnacles of the body politic, which fatten in stagnant waters and on the bottoms of ships at rest. —N. Y. Evening Post.

The corruption and rash legislation of Congress and the State Legislatures and the enormous spoliations committed upon the revenues, together with general waste, extravagance and demoralization, which have extended to counties, cities and smaller municipalities whenever Radicalism is established in what is deemed secure ascendancy, all prove to the correctness of the remarks quoted above from a Radical paper more conscientious than the great majority of its compeers. The position of boisterous corruptionist Senators Sumner, Forney and Ben Butler, who were always among the barnacles of the body politic, and are now fastened on the Radical party, still further prove the truth and wisdom embodied in the quotation from the Post.—Pittsburg Post.

CHAPTER OF THE HORRIBLE.—A Memphis paper of Saturday last narrates the following horrible incidents in Mississippi :

Three or four days have elapsed since the dark and horrid tragedy was narrated below transpired, at or near Flewellen's X Roads, Mississippi, a young lady of the highest respectability, and her accomplished character, was the victim of a fiend in human shape. Where the party, to which she had been invited, was given to her she was overtaken by a negro man and forcibly drawn into the thick brush and into the woods, her cries stifled by a cloth of some sort pressed over her mouth. Taken to a secluded and deserted place, she was there by the negro, and there detained for a week, while the black scoundrel effected his vile purpose, without the miserable victim being able to offer the slightest resistance.

Two men, who were out hunting, unexpectedly came upon her, still fully bound and alone. Her captor had left her at the moment, either to procure food or pursue some other purpose. Released from her wretched girl the circumstances of the atrocity practiced upon her, they concealed themselves until he should return. Nor had they long to wait ; and, upon his coming, they at once seized and secured him. Believing that the victim should pronounce sentence upon him, they awaited her decree. It is to be hoped that they at once proceeded with their hunting knives to relieve him of his epidermis. The fiend reasoned with his cries, but his imprecation as they stripped the skin from the soles of his feet to his body. By the time they had progressed to the middle, nature could stand no more, but, completely exhausted, yielded up the ghost—the monster dying a most horrible death. The girl was conveyed to her home, where everything was done to relieve her suffering, but she died the next day in great anguish.

COME TO GRIEF.—We are glad to see that Hon. H. S. Fitch, United States District Attorney in Georgia, is scenting out some of these pestiferous fellows called Southern loyalists, and has preferred charges against eight of them for having taken the "ironclad oath" contrary to the law and the facts. They are the "Southern loyalists," once rebels, now Radicals, who for the sake of office and power and emoluments, took that oath, and become the meanest persecutors and slanderers of their old friends.—Evansville Courier.

If a similar investigation were had into the past actions of some of the officials in Mississippi, it would uncover some greedy rebels who now are good Radicals and office-holders. They also have rebellion sympathized with it, and have taken the "iron-clad oath," notwithstanding these things. Conscience slumbers, and justice is held in check.—Corinth News.

The late storm was very severe on Lake Pontchartrain. The Delta speaks of Tuesday says :

Yesterday morning the breakers were dashing madly over the pier, undermining the made ground and disarranging the construction of the railroad. The track has sunk near the Washington Hotel to such an extent as to prevent the passage of the trains, and even if this obstacle were not existing the fires in the locomotive would be extinguished by the waves. The breakwater on the lake and New Canal, Sunday evening, had six inches water over its entire ground floors, and the shell road in that vicinity has "gone under" for a time.

At the weather of the Mississippi, the gale, from early on Tuesday, was severe. Considerable damage has been done to the levees, and in many places the water now stands on the top of the banquettes. Fortunately the flood has passed the dykes above the city, and there is no fear.

TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN.

STONEY POINT, White Co., Ark., May 23 '66.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir : Last February I was in the furtile purchasing Grape, and got a dose of your Cedron Bitters, and found them very beneficial. My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

I, Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Collins, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters have given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could use a great quantity of your medicine this fall—especially if your Cedron Bitts and Sarsaparilla. Ship me six dozen Memphis, care of Hicks & Berry.

Respectfully,

BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLDWIDE READERS.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my attorneys and various public notaries have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician of Texas, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. I can say that the Destroyer of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

WILLSHOW, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir : I have recently given your Worm Destroyer, several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am using a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I feel free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the able t authors that is so certain and speedy in its effect. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine from you. For if I can get it upon easy terms I shall use a great deal of it. Many cases that have come under my notice is co trary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line of M. D's, and I see no fair cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of the combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenius than myself may have learned the secret first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, most re pectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH.

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother.

Benton Barracks, Mo., April 20, 1866.

DR. John Bull—Dear Sir : Knowing the efficacy of your Sarsaparilla, and the beating of beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case :

I was at one time, two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being exposed as often my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I have been through the hops. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I would like your opinion. Please express the half a dozen bottles, and oblige

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 5th, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson :

DR. Bull—Dear Sir : My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central Kentucky, before he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age I took a chronic affection of a scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York Ohio, and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. For it has never been known to fail. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to go a have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence I write to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.

FASSMANN'S
Iron Ties for Cotton Bales.

THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season. In addition to the

FASSMANN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE,

so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his

ALLIGATOR TIE,

with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale and hold it without slipping

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized ; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

The Safety Hand Lamp,
AND
Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest novelty out ; as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out or smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps ; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Chemaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

University Place, Tenn., Sept. 30, '67.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Riddle & Co., of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, World Caudy, Sarsaparilla, and Agne Tonic is world wide, having been tried through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as a sure remedy. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Bateman's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bateman's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These preparations are also the manufacturers of Large Vegetable Writing Fluids and Concrete Colored Inks, which are offered cheap to the trade in the West and Southwest. Orders by mail and office promptly attended to. Price lists may be had on application to the office, No. 50 Jefferson street, Louisville, Ky. Those who intend to sit for the extension in its work, address John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky., at once, stating the number of books likely to be needed. Our acquaintance with the members of that Board warrants us in assuring teachers that prompt attention will be given to their orders, and every reasonable request complied with. t-f.

MARRIED,

On Sunday evening week a couple of men, who stood in the old hands in crime, went about the city of Memphis, and in the streets and Mississippi bottom, got their way to the car of the Adams Express Company, secured the large safe containing the money, and left, packed in all that they could carry away. Photo graphs of which we have had engraved for the benefit of the detectives.

TURN OVER

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Dispatches received from the Governor and Commissioner of Georgia announce that they assumed special suffrage amendment to the State constitution of the State of Ohio was carried by a majority of 50,000. The Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican, Republicans claim the election of Hoyt to constitute Hayes for Governor by a majority of 15,000 votes.

The Democratic candidate (Woodward) for Congress in the Twelfth Congressional District of Pennsylvania is elected.

The majority for Geary in Pennsylvania is estimated at 9,000.

The charter election at Newark, N. J., resulted in the election of a Republican Mayor by 35 votes—a Radical loss of 1200.

Private dispatches received here from Ohio intimate that the election of Thurman is slightly probable.

No figures upon which to predicate the result have been received from Iowa.

Half-past Eleven P. M.—The impression of Thurman's election amounts almost to a certainty. We have had a thorough and regular channels yet.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2—The returns from Iowa are too meagre to approximate a Republican majority. The counties along the railroads give increased Democratic majorities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—Gen. Sherman and Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, were with the President to-day.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2—The thirteenth from yellow fever from the Crescent City hours ending this morning, were sixty-four.

An ordinance issued by the old Council over the Mayor's veto, which has not since been heard from, appropriating $70,000 for the establishment of a night police in the schools, was officially promulgated by the Mayor yesterday. Sixty-two schools for colored children are being established.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2—The majority of Cary, (Dem.), in this city is 964 votes—a Republican loss of 2,800. The negro suffrage amendment was lost in this county (Hamilton) by 4,000 votes.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 2—The Leader (Rep) concedes the election of Thurman. He is Democratic candidate for Governor, by 5,000 majority.

The Columbus Journal, on the other hand, claims the election of Hayes by 2,000. Republican candidate, by a small majority, and says:

The Republicans still have a small majority in the House, but the Democrats have a majority of one in the Senate.

RICHMOND, Oct. 2—Gen. Schofield left to-day for Washington. It is stated that all the District Courts yesterday morning ordered by the President to report at Washington.

A telegram to the Dispatch says:

Yesterday the United States authorities who are returning to owners ers farms in Norfolk county, which have been appropriated upon by blacks during the war, went to Taylor's farm on Willoughby's Point, but found that the blacks were gone before. Refused to e acuate. The authorities then retired.

Many farms in that district are similarly situated. The negroes are expressing their determination not to be driven off.—In the case mentioned it was offered to transfer the negroes to Gen. Wise's farm, but they refused to go.

In the whole city to-day not half a dozen registered.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 2.—The uneasiness caused by rumors of a revival of Fenian conspiracies is increasing.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 2.—It is reported that Menotti, son of Garibaldi, has been arrested by the Italian government

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 2.—The manifestations of ill-feeling by the Irish in the North or England creates alarm. The inhabitants believe the Fenians have concocted with another outbreak.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—The steamer Rising Sun, from Panama the 1st, has arrived.—The following is compiled from her news:

The revolution in Arequipa, Peru, had been suppressed after twenty-two hours fighting. Fifty were killed and many wounded.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—The interments from yellow fever to six o'clock this morning were 56.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 2.—At 1 o'clock.—The returns show that Hays is no doubt elected by one of two hundred majority. The Legislature is Democratic by a small majority. Carroll, Hockney and Noble counties are to be heard from.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The Republican National Committee claim the election by 2,000 majority. The Democratic Committee claim it from 3,000 to 8,000 majority.

The South Side Times says: Radicals are served with a notice from the War Department at Washington forbidding any change in the residence of the company until all claims due the Government for pulling stock and material sold at the conclusion of the war are settled in full.

RICHMOND, Oct. 10.—The colored people seem to be particularly dismayed at the failure of the amendment in Ohio.

The Government is making arrangements to have the Davis trial evidence and arguments reported by stenographers for preservation in book form.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The proposed secession movement peremptorily forbidden by the President. The New York Times' special dispatch, published this morning, says it is stated that the President has announced that in view of the recent elections he would make some changes in his Cabinet.

The World's special says: "The friends of the Administration are confident of important changes in the Cabinet, to be followed by a wholesale decapitation of under officials.

"The President will take a stand which will astonish the country.

"Thomas Ewing and E. Conning are mentioned as Secretary of the Treasury.

"Secretary Seward will probably send his resignation from Auburn, and Reverdy Johnson can be his successor.

"It is stated that ex-Gov. Seymour will succeed Seward, F. P. Blair, McClelland, and Ewing are named for the War Office. Gen. Howard is to be sent to the plains, and Judge Holt to the Post Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—All parties concede Hays' election by 1,000 to 2,500 majority.

A dispatch from Democratic source from Philadelphia says the returns from the Legislature of Pennsylvania have been received at the Age office to 10 o'clock this evening, making the Democratic majority in the State 1,000. Conclusive evidence of fraud in Democratic circles, regarding a supposed attempt of the return Judges in certain Lower Wards of Philadelphia to turn the majority in the city in favor of the Republicans, by stealing the votes counted for the Democrats.

MOBILE, Oct. 10.—Cotton—There was a limited demand to-day, principally for the better grades, which were very scarce. Sales 350 bales, all within the range of quoted and fist at 16½@—c for Middling.

NO EXCUSE FOR BAD BREAD

DARCY & PUTNAM'S

SELF-RAISING FLOUR

FOR

Bread, Biscuit, Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, &c., without using Yeast-Powders, or Soda.

TIME AND LABOR SAVING AND HEALTH GIVING.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Stir in the water with a spoon and beat at once, without kneading or waiting for the dough to rise; the oven, therefore, should be in good baking order before beginning to mix—MIND THIS.

Milk is superior to water for all pastry purposes.

For Cakes, Pastry, &c., the SELF-RAISING FLOUR should be the last article mixed. Beat to suit the taste.

RECEIPTS.

SALT: TO SUIT THE TASTE.

FOR LIGHT BREAD.—Use cold water or milk and mix with a spoon just sufficient to thoroughly wet the dough; pull into a deep pan not more than half full, bake immediately. The pan when done will be covered to prevent the formation of a harder set before the loaf has risen sufficiently. If the bread does not brown on the top, remove the cover a few minutes before taking the loaf from the oven.

BISCUIT PASTE.—Are found to bake best when seven inches long, four inches deep, and four inches wide at the bottom, floured and fired with covers. These pans are excellent for cake.

FOR BISCUIT.—Make the dough as soft as can be handled, using cold water, with half the usual amount of shortening, or cold sweet milk without shortening. Bake of course in a well heated oven, they will be quick, white sweet and tender.

FOR LIGHT ROLLS.—Same as biscuit, except that the dough should be a little softer, and less shortening.

FOR WHITE MUFFINS.—Three eggs, one quart of milk or water, three pints of flour, one teaspoonful of melted lard. Bake in deep Muffin rings.

FOR PIES.—Use less shortening than with common flour, and roll thin as not very thin.

SPONGE CAKE.—One pound of Sugar, diluted in three gills of milk or water, half a pound of butter, two eggs, half a pint of milk or water and two pounds of flour.

QUICK SPONGE CAKE.—One cup of powdered Sugar and one cupful flour, beaten and mixed together. Break in three eggs, one quickly and bake in a square tin immediately, as the Self-Raising Flavor with lemon or otherwise to suit the taste.

GOLD AND SILVER CAKE.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of milk, four cups of flour. Divide the flour into two equal parts, use four eggs and use the yolks for the gold and the whites for the silver cake. Flavor with lemon or otherwise and bake in covered bread pans.

DOUGH NUTS.—One pound of Sugar a little shortening, two eggs, three pounds of flour and one pint of water.

POT PIE AND DUMPLINGS.—Prepare the dough in every respect the same as for biscuit. Use a little more liquid to roll out.

PAN CAKES AND FRITTERS.—Will need no eggs. Batter and Griddle Cakes, etc., are very superior made from Self-Raising Flour.

The quicker you handle the flour the better. Never put in stand too long. See that the oven is hot before you touch the flour. The softer the dough the better. Do not knead it.

Use up to every size to suit the trade.

Ask your Grocer for a pound package, you will find it a time and labor saver indeed.

The several tracts are composed of at the lowest cash valuations, in subdivisions of 40, 80 and 160 acres. Each subdivision constitutes a prize, and each

TICKET COSTS ONE DOLLAR.

For a description of the property refer to the new Pamphlet issued by the Company. Titles are perfect, or the money will be paid to the winner of the prize.

All land in this scheme is in the State of Mississippi. The Capital Prize within fifteen miles of Memphis, on the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad.

The lands are adapted to the growth of grain, cotton, grapes, etc., are more than Universal lands, in cold latitudes, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. The average cost of these lands is seven dollars per acre.

A deduction of 10 per cent in favor of ten or more. Tickets may be had of local Agents or through the Main Agency. July18td

Gullett Steel Brush Cotton Gin.

These Gins which attained such great celebrity during the few years just previous to the war, are again manufactured by Mr. Gullett, the Patentee with greatly improved features. We can offer this season, with confidence, the very best Gin made. The steel brush combs the Cotton from the hair brushes and delivers it through the flue perfectly straight, preventing any snapping and cleans out all dust, stems and trash, thus causing Cotton to sample more than a higher grade over some Gins ginned in other gins to the detriment of the staple in one crop of fifty bales. THE GULLETT STEEL BRUSH GIN.

This celebrated COTTON GIN, is again manufactured under the supervision of the Inventor, T. D. Gullett, who by extensive improvements, and we are sorry to say too long experience, is enabled to put up a gin that is truly an equal to any of its predecessors.

It leaves the Cotton all motes and dust, and leaves it clean from seed.

It runs so light that a boy can run it easily.

It will not cut the Cotton in the least, but will take it clean from seed.

It will not break the staple in the slightest degree, as it is a well known fact that the saw gin does.

It is warranted to be worked by hand, horse, or steam power.

It can be used out doors or in a building; is rapid in its working; of immense power, and makes a bale of cotton in the same size.

Horse Powers, Corn Mills and Mill and Plantation Machinery and Agricultural Implements of all descriptions.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending out the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription, free, by return mail, will address

REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of declining health, is desirous to sell his land on which he now resides. The tract contains eight hundred acres, with some four hundred in a high state of cultivation. It lies immediately on the Public Ohio Rail road, about half way between Meridian and Enterprise, and within three miles of the active Okatibbee bottom, and all level and fertile for cultivation. If not disposed of before the crop now growing, he will take for the place what the crop will be worth. The improvements are good and in good condition, and he is now building a new gin house and press, &c. It has a good well of water on the premises, and a good range for cattle and hogs, and is altogether a pleasant and valuable home.

Should he not be able to sell his entire place, he is also authorized to sell 240 acre s of good level land adjoining, with about 100 acres in a good state of cultivation. Any one desiring to purchase can be ongoing to Col. R. R. Lewis. These two tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to any purchasers, and the subscriber will divide his tract to either a part, if not sold as a whole. He owns the last of December next. He will also sell a few of several mules and horses and a quantity of corn. There is a commissioned supply of good flour with their families on the premises and possession to remain. For further information apply to me on the premises or address me at Enterprise, Mississippi.

Extract of a Letter from
PROVIDENCE, Ala., May 13, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL: I send you $31 for Cotton Elixir, please send what it will come to after paying freight to Columbus, Miss. I have been troubled for several years with indigestion, have had to take pills every night for some fifteen years, and in February, 1864, I was attacked with congestive chills, and was confined to my room for the balance of the year, and, in fact, continued in a great weak and nervous condition until some four months since, when I was put under an operation, and your Cotton Elixir was recommended. I commenced improving right away, and not pretty well restored.

Yours truly,
A. L. NEAL.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 25, 1864.

I received this day the following from Lancaster, Kentucky:

DR. JOHN BULL: Please send me in haste for my own use another Cotton Elixir. Those I have tried them, and find them all you claim for them.

Yours truly,
G. W. SHINDLEBOWER.

ANOTHER TESTIMONY.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 14, '64.

DR. JOHN BULL: We made an arrangement with your agent, July 27, 1864, for selling your Cotton Elixir. Up to the present time we have sold one gross twelve boxes more, without delay. We are the largest Drug firm in this city, and have a very good purpose.

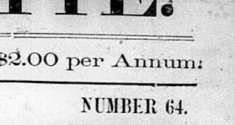
THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH:
Every man his own Physician.



HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
Holloway's Ointment.

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

The Stomach is the great centre which regulates the health or disease of the system—almost every ill originated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and all physical privations are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental despondency, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathise by costiveness, Dilirium and Dysentery. The principal agents of these Pills is to purify the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and digestive organs in their each distinct and separate real vocation.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM.

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on the continent to those the Ointment is especially antagonistic. Its wonderful power to cure them is unparalleled when the remedies are combined.

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years' standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases are cured called and a clear and transparent surface regained by the natural use of one of this Ointment. It is suppose many of the countless cases of bad blood appearing on the body peel restless and other indigestible on the face.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these comprehensive medicines display an decided and influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparations, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every climate and constitution or habit.

FILES AND FISTULA

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Tumors,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Sore Throats,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Sore Thrusts,
Gout,	Scalds of all kinds,

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

Published Wednesday & Saturday by

J. GIBSON.

J. S. SHANNON,.....Editor

MERIDIAN, MISS.

Wednesday : : : : : October 16, 1867.

The editor of this paper has just returned from the North. He spent several weeks in that section, and returns greatly encouraged. The long talked of reaction appears to have commenced in earnest. Ohio and Pennsylvania have spoken with thunder tones in condemnation of the Congressional plan of reconstruction, and against the robbery and plunder of a corrupt Congress. The people have risen in their might and carried the strongholds of Republicanism. We believe the day is fast approaching when the Wades, Shermans, Stevens and Butlers will be held responsible for their crimes against liberty and the Constitution.

Circumstances have caused us to postpone for the present the publication of a daily paper. The project is not abandoned, but will be commenced as soon as practicable.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of the 6th, in an editorial announcing the election of Geary, the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second Congressional District of Ohio, acknowledges frankly that it miscalculated "the elements at work" to break up the Radical party.

Several leading Democrats have had interviews with the President during the past few days relative to the reorganization of the Cabinet. They advise a thorough change and the appointment of new men who represent the tone of the people as indicated by the elections that took place last week. These suggestions are favorably received by Mr. Johnson, and there is reason to believe, telegrams tell us, they will be complied with ere long, but there is a variation as to the proper time for their consummation, some urging immediate action and others advising delay for three or four weeks, to give an opportunity for canvassing as to the fitness and qualifications of the proposed successors of the present members of the administration.

IMPEACHMENT DEAD.—Gen. Butler acknowledges that the impeachment project is dead. The elections killed it. He adds, we have lost our opportunity.

Gen. Schenck said last week in the Ohio canvass that by the help of God, he would im vear 6 and put the President out of office in November. Since the people impeached Schenck and his followers, the heaven task may be abandoned. If, however, the madmen should persist in the political nonsense of a violent collision will be inevitable, sustained and encouraged by the people, and some heads having done wrong, the President will protect and defend his right. If the Radicals insist on having "blood," we presume Mr. Johnson will be found ready to gratify them.

The Editor of the Mercury would have the public believe he is the quintessence of Southern chivalry, and the only man here who can write, and such a quality in him to edit a civil paper. These would have been him long ago, were they better for it, as he feels sure he has been a rampant fire-eating secessionist, and not Heroded Herod in his efforts to bring on a revolution. When it came he kept out of harm's way, and if he ever gave a day's service or contributed a dollar to the cause of the South, we have not heard of it. But our neighbor can say, like the Pharisee of old, I have been a all right all the time.

When Sickles finished his Philadelphia speech, Sheridan jumped up and hugged and kissed him, a telegram tells us. This may be orthodox radicalism, but very poor taste.

The seal of public condemnation has been set upon negro supremacy in the South. We would advise the colored people to guard well their action. Too much for the blacks has been already demanded all along by the radical party, and now that the reaction has fairly set in, they may in the end, as the noted abolitionist, Garret Smith says, be cleft in possession of less rights, less property, less advantages, than would have been cheerfully conceded to more moderate demands for them."

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend a grand Tournament at Selma on the 6th and 7th of November. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Odd Fellows and Masons of Oakalona, Miss., to aid in rebuilding their Halls, destroyed during the war. There will be two grand prizes awarded, of $300 and $200—each. We notice that Capt. W. A. Payne, of our city, is one of the Judges. Gen. Hardee is President of the Association.

The elections on Tuesday vindicate the President and impeach the Radical Congress.

No matter what your business is—no matter what your calling—if you want to secure customers, patrons, patients or clients, the quickest, surest, safest and most satisfactory way is to advertise. The revenue derived from expending a few dollars in putting yourself before the people in a correct light, cannot be set down at any market value, but may be regarded as infinite.

AGRICULTURAL.—The Ground Pea is the enriching product of this county. We are informed that a gentleman near this place, made $2,000 last year off his crop. A Mr. Nixon, who lives near Rocky Point, will make this year from 15,000 to 15,000 bushels, and the prices will range from 82 to $1 per bushel."—Wilmington (N. C.) Star.

The Aberdeen Examiner produces the above item, by way of comment upon the folly of farmers, devoting their undoubtedly great energies, to the culture of cotton, a plant that ultimature is inimical to, and that finds a thousand enemies in earth at all, to battle against its development.

The Convention Question.

The success that has attended the efforts of unscrupulous partizans to radicalize the negroes, the character of the men that will inevitably control the Convention, the certainty that the conservative element will have little or no influence in that body, satisfy us that the white people have nothing to hope from reconstruction.

We favored a Convention, believing that the intelligent and educated whites, would be able to control it, and thus secure a liberal State Constitution. But in this we have been disappointed. Recent events have forced us to the conclusion that the negro vote will be united, and as the disfranchisement of the whites gives them a majority, reconstruction on the Congressional plan can only result in negro supremacy, the oppression of the white man, and the elevation of the black man. We are not prepared to surrender the State voluntarily to the absolute control of the negroes, for such would be the effect of reconstruction in the condition of things now existing in Mississippi. Whether successful or not, we favor making an effort to defeat a measure which will plunge the country into ruin and degradation.

More Converts.

Late developements in the political horizon, and the certainty of a black and tan Convention at Jackson, where a decent white man will not stand the "ghost of a chance," has caused the Handsboro Democrat and Brookhaven Journal to change their base. They are now advocating "No Convention." Other Conservative papers will, no doubt, be found ere long, travelling with the army that is marching by the new light, which a month ago, shot up from the Pacific and is now illuminating the whole Keystone Alleghanies.—Whether the determination to be supreme in the South has brought us to a point where the roads divide. We have the black man at the forks with his loyal friends; he must follow, not lead, or be absorbed in the great abyss now burying beneath its swell, the party who have been trampling the peoples' right under foot for seven years.

Disappointed Expectations

Before the recent election, in Ohio, it was stated in the Cincinnati Commercial that a distinguished politician" of Ohio writing to a friend in Lexington, Ky., declared Hayes would have from thirty to thirty-five thousand and the amendment from twenty to twenty-five thousand majority. Now that the returns show Hayes to have been barely elected, and the amendment defeated by over 50,000, the Commercial's disappointment can well be imagined. General Sheridan, Chief Justice Chase, Gen. Logan, Gov. Scott for the campaign Tom, and Senator Thayer, Spoker Colfax, Gov. Fletcher, Gov. Cox, Gov. Oglesby, U. S. Senator Morton and at least two score other politicians hoped inaudibly for a radical triumph, but the result position black men in Ohio have decided that they will not be bound by such disgraceful treachery to their cause in this respect. This will have a marked effect throughout the land, and will change the color of Congressional enactment next month.

The Mercury, of Sunday morning would have been scant of editorial, but for the alleged short comings of the Gazette. It is clear that its only hope is in an appeal to the patriotism of the people because the Gazette, by tobe-honored reconstruction has the confidence that there is any connection whatever between the Gazette and Chronicle, is gratuitous and calculated to create a false impression. The Chronicle is printed by contract at the Gazette office, nothing more, and the Editor of the Gazette has nothing whatever to do with the views or policy of the Chronicle. We have deprecated the formation of a Radical party in the South, and have never written a line or sentence to encourage such a movement. We would like to be assured that the Mercury man, but can't think just now of turning Radical for his especial benefit.

Besides the yellow fever, which has prevailed for sometime in Vicksburg, the cholera has made its appearance. Several deaths have occurred during the latter disease, creating considerable alarm.

We learn from the Vicksburg Herald that a rencontre occurred in that city last week between J. Leroy and C. Beck, in which the latter received a slight pistol wound in the mouth.

RAISED THE QUARANTINE.—Mayor Barrows, of Jackson, announces that, in consequence of the "unusually healthy" condition of the city of Jackson, and there being no evidence whatever of an epidemic, quarantine is at oddsled. He advises due precaution in opening fibrous goods that have been long in infected places.

Somebody, boarding at the Washington hotel in Vicksburg, wrote the following on the Register the other night :

They asked me here to pay my bill,
But I can't come up to time ;
You will have to let it run on still,
For I cannot collect a dime.
My store is on this lonely street
To nurse the starving few ;
While the rich "got up and dusted"
And left their bills unpaid.

SHOCKING MURDER.—Late last Saturday evening, Dr. Suttle, of this county, was found dead in the road a few miles south of Sardis, having received a shot in the back of the head. The perpetrator of the foul deed is, so far, unknown. However, Gen. Anthony Foster, who resides near Sardis, was arrested by the proper officers on suspicion, and his case would have been properly investigated but for the interference of a bureau officer, who set the prisoner free on the civil authorities and placed him under a file of soldiers. These are the facts in the case, as we are informed. Now to farce.

We admit that murder is a crime, which when proved upon a man, should be punished with death. But we have yet to see or hear of any law or military order which gives a bureau agent jurisdiction over such cases where white men are the only parties concerned. Gen. Foster was tried before a "committing court" composed of two bureau officers, one acting "court" and the other "prosecuting attorney." Angust tribunal, that! We are not informed what the result of their deliberation is, but the prisoner is still in bureau custody.—Panola Star.

Missisippi A. E. & M. Aid Society and the Orphans' Home.

REV. DR. T. C. TEASDALE, General Financial Agent of the Orphans' Home of the State of Mississippi.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 25, 1867.

Dear Sir—The object of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational and Manufacturing Aid Society, as stated in the first article of its charter, is "to encourage manufactures and agriculture, and to aid in raising a fund to educate destitute orphans in the State of Mississippi." This Society has already paid into the Treasury of the State for the benefit of the University at Oxford Five Thousand Dollars, and its officers are under heavy bonds to pay to the State One Thousand Dollars per annum in addition to this, during the continuance of its operations.

With the assistance and blessing of a kind Providence, the company intends to make this Institution an Aid Society in truth and in fact; and at as early a day as possible it is proposed to establish free Schools throughout the State of Mississippi. But knowing that the orphans alone have been laboring earnestly for two or three years past to provide a "Home" for the support and education of the destitute orphan children of our Confederate dead; and sympathizing deeply with you, and willing to aid you in this most laudable undertaking, we take the liberty of informing you, that our Society has determined to make the Orphans' Home at Lamberdale, the especial beneficiary of its donations for the present. We are, as yet, unable to state the extent to which our assistance may be carried. Indeed, all our plans for the most enterprising are contemplated in our charter, and depend upon the patronage of the citizens generally, and especially of those who are directly interest in the prosperity of those enterprises. But it shall be our constant aim to render your very liberal assistance such a profitable worthy endeavor to provide for the exigencies of the children of the men who sacrificed their lives for our cause. And we are sanguine in the belief, that we will be able to aid the "Home" at Lamberdale, to the amount of several hundred dollars, before the approaching Christmas. But if our Society succeeds, as we hope it may, we shall be able very soon to render assistance by tens of thousands of dollars annually to your noble charity.

Wishing you great success in your arduous toils for the support and education of the children of our Confederate dead soldiers, we have the honor to be, dear sir,

Yours very respectfully,
W. D. LYLES,
President.

ALBERT SANDEL, Sec'y.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The following statement is respectfully submitted viz:

COLUMBUS, Miss., Sept. 28, 1867.

The Mississippi Agricultural, Educational and Manufacturing Aid Society, incorporated by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, last winter, proposes as the leading objects of its organization, "to encourage manufactures and agriculture, and to aid in raising a fund to educate destitute orphans in the State of Mississippi." This Society has already paid into the Treasury of the State for the benefit of the State University, at Oxford, the sum of Five Thousand Dollars. It now proposes to lend its assistance to "the Orphans' Home, of the State of Mississippi," located in Lamberdale, Lauderdale county, now at the "Home" nearly two hundred helpless orphans of deceased Confederate soldiers; and Thomas Thayer, Spoker Coffey, Gov. Fletcher, Gov. Cox, Gov. Oglesby, U. S. Senator Morton and at least two score other politicians hoped inaudibly for a radical triumph, but the result position black men in Ohio have decided that they will not be bound by such disgraceful treachery to their cause in this respect. This will have a marked effect throughout the land, and will change the color of Congressional enactment next month.

ORPHAN'S H. M.—An organization of S. W. M. has been effected in ohr town under the name and style of "Crystal Springs Conclave, No. 1."

The Association consists of prominent men in our midst of all grades and classes—numbers from twenty to thirty members, and is in the working order. This conclave, by the by, is the first of the order in the State.—Chrystal Springs News.

THE NEGRO JEALOUSY OF CASTE.—In some of the South American republics caste is a continual source of interneine war. In St. Domingo the negroes rebelled against the white man's government and massacred all the whites; and after they got possession of the government they rebelled against Jeffard, their chief executive, because he was a mulatto, and wanted to put Soloque, a full blooded African, in his place; and under the constitution of the black man's government in Liberia, no white man, or any person who has a drop of the white man's blood in his veins, is allowed to vote or hold an office.

Parson Lynch, the colored orator, is engaged in stumping the State. The Panola Star has the following humorously fair notice of his speech at that place:

According to announcement the Rev. James Lynch, colored, addressed a large crowd of colored "citizens" and a few of the plainer sort, on Monday last. As a speaker he is a man of considerable ability, having a good delivery and a ready flow of words, and something of a brass ring to his voice that is not to be disputed that we agree with him in his views but we freely confess that we displayed far more conservatism than we had anticipated. His advice to his colored brethren on some points, would have proved to be wished; he told them to regard the Southern people as their friends, and not their enemies; to work for their own advancement, and secure a shelter for their heads and covering for their feet by honest industry; to get political equality and equality before the law, but not to expect social equality; to avoid secret night meetings and associations as they were Republican institutions, and could lead to nothing but strife and discord; and not to expect to get land by confiscation, as there would be no confiscation. He said he was a Republican, and not a Radical, and in the course of his remarks, gave the white missaries of this vicinity some sharp rubs in regard to their incendiary teachings. Taken altogether it was the best speech we have listened to on the side of the question advocated, and would be of service to pretended speech-makers in this neighborhood if they would follow the advice it contained.

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. C. COUDEN, of Louisville, Ky.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my wife son, only 2½ years old, who was severely bit on the cheek by a dog which was thought to be mad able, when I placed him under the hands of Dr. Couden. The cure was a very large one, to which a gnost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character and rapid growth, and had been coming for about three years. The Doctor made an application which he called Cancer Cure, when the child did no appear to produce but comparatively little pain in my son. The application spread to ear the cancer in a dead state and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since been successfully healed, and he is now entirely free from pain and is now perfectly well, and my little s on is very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases under Dr. Couden's treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons thus afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe his treatment to be less pain and far superior to any other I have seen in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleraville, Henry county, Tennessee.

C. S. PAYN.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. S. Payn, and know that his little son was such one as is stated by Dr. W. C. Couden, of this city and from what we are able to judge from the appearance of the child, it was surely a very remarkable success.

University Place, Tenn., Sept. 30, '67.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it. It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Agûe Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, but their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's' Chemical "Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, uses equalling the best English inks now used. We cannot understand why their remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with the same confidence as a prescription of a regular physician. tf

STRANGE, YET TRUE.—That the female community in all sections, are grunting, suffering and lingering with so many diseases and ailings peculiar to their sex. Is there no balm for these? Is there no relief for so many complaints and irregularities? Is there no Uterine Tonic to relieve these female distresses, to strengthen the feeble, to remove obstruction, to quiet the nerves, to reduce, arouse, adorn and beautify the female sex? Yes we have the remedy, and it is Tebeau & Co's Improved Female Bitters. See.

Louisville Advertisements.

We call the special attention of our readers to the advertisement of Brinly, Miles and Hardy, sole manufacturers of the celebrated Brinly patent steel plow, cultivators, cotton scrapers &c., Louisville, Ky. Mr. Brinly is a Southern man; understands the wants of this section, and has had extraordinary success in manufacturing plows adapted to the soil and crops of this country.

His plows have taken more premiums than any others, and have the preference wherever they are used. Our readers who visit Louisville, should remember the firm, and give them a call.

Our readers will find among our new advertisements that of Hewett, Hardy & Co., dealers in agricultural implements, field seeds, lime, cement &c., Louisville, Ky. These gentlemen are well known as extensive dealers in every variety of agricultural implements, and in addition to their large stock of merchandise, will furnish the well known Brinly and Avery plows at manufacturers wholesale prices. We cheerfully recommend this house to the patronage of all who desire goods in their line.

Those who are afflicted with that most dreadful of all diseases, Cancer, would do well to read the card of Dr. Coulon, of Louisville. We called in his office while at Louisville, and saw the most conclusive and numerous testimonials of his success in effecting cures. He has permanently cured some of the worst cases, and may be relied on as an able and scientific physician.

Pain and weakness in the back, Grazel Dropsy, Gout, and all complaints resulting from deragement of the kidneys and urinary organs, may be cured or relieved by the use of Risley's Extract of Buchu. Sold by all Druggists.

The argument in the case of Mr. R. H. Breckinridge, charged with killing Dr. W. H. Burton, closed late last Friday evening, when Mr. Breckinridge was committed without bail to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court of this county. Mr. Breckinridge in her testimony, stated that Dr. Burton had been called in to see her son professionally, and that while the children were out in the yard he committed a rape upon her—that she subtle every possible restaurant, and took advice, but no one came to her assistance—She told her husband about it on the following Thursday night, and on Saturday afternoon, as our readers are aware, Dr. Burton was killed for committing the deed. The prosecution proved that at the time of the alleged outrage, Dr. B. was suffering from inflamatory rheumatism and could hardly use his right arm. A witness living just opposite Mr. Breckinridge, saw Mrs. B. and Dr. Burton in the back-room alone on the day it is stated the act was perpetrated; they soon retired—Mrs. B. shutting the door; no screams were heard. Mrs. Breckinridge spoke to witness about him next day in conversation as a gentleman, but that he was not her physician, as she preferred a married man.

Female suffrage excites derision, while female sufferings secures the sympathy of mankind. Our wives and mothers, sisters and daughters are subject to peculiar and troublesome complaints, for which the Philotoken, or females friend, is a special remedy, relieving painful irregularities, controlling the nerves, and securing comfort and safety during trying periods. Try It.

Persons engaged in sedentary employments within doors will find that an occasional use of the Red Jacket Bitters gently stimulates the circulation, improves the appetite, produces a regular habit of body, and prevents mental depression.

Haight & Chambers' renowned New Orleans Circus will exhibit in Meridian on Saturday, the 26th inst. Everything is new and gorgeous, and the proprietors guarantee an entertainment that for novelty and daring has not been excelled anywhere in the country. The troupe is composed of first-class performers. Read the advertisement and get your dimes ready.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick, the old reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours—day and night.—Chadwick's medicines are fresh, and an experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded. tf

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—This large and influential body of gentlemen at its recent meeting in Jackson, adopted for use in the schools of the State, among others, the following books, published by Ivison, Phinney, Blakeman & Co., Louisville, Kentucky:

The Goodrich Series of Readers, edited by Noble Butler, Butler's Grammar, Towne's Mathematics and Barbee's Geography.

The object of this action on the part of the Association, is to secure uniformity in the use of text books throughout the State. In order that so desirable a result may be attained, we would respectfully urge upon our teachers throughout the State, the necessity of taking early steps to secure a supply of these books for their pupils. With the exception of the Geology, which is something like premature, these books are already used in all the public and private schools in New Orleans, Mobile, Vicksburg, Jackson, Meridian, Columbus and Aberdeen, where, of course, large supplies are kept. Schools in the vicinity of these places can easily procure a supply, but as regards schools off the lines of the railroads, a difficulty will occur unless prompt action is taken. We would recommend that all teachers in the State, who intend to aid the association in its work, address John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky., at once, stating the number of books likely to be needed. On our acquaintance with the merits of these books, warrants us in sounding teachers that prompt attention will be given to their orders, and every possible aid rendered them.

New York Advertisements.

We invite attention to the card of Binger & Co., importers of old London Dock Gin and other liquors, No. 15 Beaver street, New York. This is one of the oldest firms in America, and was established in New York in 1728, eighty-nine years ago. They have always had the reputation of keeping the purest of the best liquors, and sell at reasonable prices. Our grocers would find it to their interest to send their orders to Binger & Co.

We invite attention to the advertisement by Messrs. Harrell, Risly & Co., wholesale druggists. No. 141 Chambers street, New York, of two celebrated remedies discovered by this well known firm, viz: The Philotoken or females' friend and Risly's extract of Buchu.

We are indebted to Jno. T. Ball, Esq., for a bundle of late Northern papers. Mr. Ball has just returned from the North, where he procured a large stock of winter goods for this market.

We are prepared at the Gazette office to execute job work of all descriptions in the best style, and at lower prices than any office in the State.

Bill-heads, cards, &c., at Louisville and Cincinnati prices.

Ross & Wilson, just below us, are getting in a fine supply of dry goods and groceries. They are enterprising and clever gentlemen, and are doing we are pleased to see, a first rate business.

We have received the first number of the Meridian Mercury, a tri-weekly and weekly paper edited by Messrs. Horn and Allen. We trust our cotemporaries may find the newspaper business in Meridian pleasant and profitable.

The new drug store of H. Izard & Co., is one of the most noticeable improvements in our flourishing city. They have every thing usually found in drug stores, which they sell at low rates. Mr. H. A. Lee, formerly of Mobile, an experienced druggist, is always on hand, and knows exactly how to fill orders. Our friend Dr. R. N. Parker has his office at this drug store, and can be found there unless professionally absent.

Our friends who desire to advertise, should bear in mind that there is no comparison as regards circulation between the Gazette and the other papers published at Meridian. The editor of one of the per excellence white man's journal, attempted to establish a paper here in the fall of '65. At the end of eighteen months, the paper was sold to the publisher of the Gazette, and its circulation was then less than half what the Gazette is at present.

Look out for a stolen horse, a description whereof will be found under the head of new advertisements in our present issue.

A new advertisement of the Mississippi Aid Society appears elsewhere. The next distribution takes place on the 21 of November. Certificates decrease and chances of drawing a prize increase with every distribution. The inducements presented by our home lottery are rarely offered by schemes of drawing. Chadwick on Front street has tickets for sale.

Meridian is fast becoming a great place. Our march to wealth and population is steadily onward. Energy and enterprise are establishing a permanency in trade, and giving those settling in our midst confidence, that even where the buying of the hunters hound is now sometimes heard will, in a few short years, be dotted with residences, stores and factories. Progress, that great stimulus to human activity, is visible on every hand. Houses are going up that would be an ornament to any city. And, by-the-way, We all should put up substantial handsome houses. Brick houses are nearly as cheap as we-den structures, and are far more safe and lasting. Brick can be had in numbers quantities here; several gentlemen are engaged in their manufacture; and offer a very superior article. Mr. R. Y. Reed, left with us yesterday, a specimen from one of his kilns, that cannot be excelled anywhere, and which he offers at figures reasonable enough. Let us have as many brick houses and stick chimneys, when lumber and brick can be had in abundance.

Several of our merchants have recently laid in new stocks of goods, and are now fully supplied with all the wants the country requires. Planters will find Meridian the best cotton market in the State, and one of the best points to lay in their supplies.

The Presbyterian Synod adjourned last Saturday night. The next meeting we understand will be held in Vicksburg.

RESIGNED.—We understand that Judge Harris and Judge Eliot will both resign Judge Handy and resign their places on the Supreme Bench! The two former, we learn, intend removing to Memphis, where they will pursue the practice of their profession. Judge Handy, as we stated yesterday, will remove to Baltimore, with his family, and will leave them about three weeks.—Canton Mail.

CROPPING ON SHARES.—The Franklin (Tenn.) Review, of the 21st ult., has the following:

From what we can see and gather, the farmers who are cropping on shares with freedmen in this county will, as a general rule, abandon the plan another year. We know a good many fields that would with anything like proper cultivation have grown rich crops of corn and cotton, but were abandoned or neglected during the late canvass to such an extent that they are entirely ruined. Our farmers generally will be unable to profit by such lessons, which by no means is the case in all instances, and shape their plans accordingly.

The best probability of securing good work next year than this, and we are satisfied after careful study, that the farmers generally intend to sow a largely increased body of land in grass and grain—which we anticipate they will find a profitable crop, and one that requires his hands with the least labor—or in plain or words who so arranges his crops as to need but little assistance in their cultivation—will be better off, and make more clear money, without half the annoyance and trouble, than he who undertakes the uncertain plan of cropping on the shares of growing good crops with hired labor. And the greater the number who pursue this course, the better for their own good and the country at large.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

NASHVILLE, Oct. 10.—The inauguration ceremonies took place to-day. The weather was fine. Governor Brownlow was barely able to ascend to the House of Representatives, where he was inaugurated. As it was, he was supported by two members, who escorted him to a chair on the Speaker's stand.

His feebleness prevented him from reading his inaugural; that duty was performed by his private Secretary. The Governor did not speak during the ceremony, and while sprinkling in his chair looked emaciated and feeble in the extreme. It is reported by those who profess to know, that Brownlow, in anticipation of being elected to the United States Senatorship, has promised to resign the Governorship immediately thereafter, and take a trip for his health.

Senator Speaker of the Senate, who would then be acting Governor, report says, will use all his influence to secure Brownlow's election to the Senate.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—Interments from yellow fever for the twenty-four hours ending at six this morning, were 48.

AUGUSTA, (Ga.) Oct. 12.—A duel was fought near here this morning, between Col. H. T. Peyton, of Atlanta, and Maj. O'Connor, of Rome. After an interchange of shots, the affair was settled. The difficulty grew out of a newspaper article.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 12.—Justices Swayne and Ballard have decided that the Civil Rights Bill is Constitutional.

Samuel R. Taylor, a nephew of the President, is dead.

Thomas Bullitt, Oct. 12.—The pardon application of R. M. T. Hunter recently published, will be written soon after the war.—His expressions of approval apply to Johnson's, and not to the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

In a drunken row between the stage passengers and the cohort at Cameron, Missouri, on the Santa Fe road, three persons were killed.

Franklin Pierce was serenaded at Concord, N. H., Wednesday night, and said: "I warn you, my friends, to note the fact that these triumphs, whatever they may be, are my own triumphs. The people have risen in their majesty, with a consciousness of their power, and disregarding party lines party agitations, have been silently considering what be for the best interest of children and their country. I think the great battle has been fought and won. If the results are not pleasant to some of you, they are in this: That the white race, our race, the German, Italian, French, Irish, Scotch and Yankee, Democratic race are still in the controlling power on this continent."

The result of the gubernatorial election in Georgia can be positively known until Tuesday.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 12.—There is a great Democratic meeting tonight at the Opera House to celebrate the recent political victories in Ohio.

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—The case of Gen. Imboden is exciting some interest. He applied to be admitted to practice under the President's last proclamation upon taking an oath to support the Constitution, but was rejected. He now intends to apply to the United States District Court for a writ of mandamus, to compel the Clerk to allow him to register his name. In case the Court refuses to grant the writ, he will appeal to the Supreme Court at once. The question involves the validity of the oath required by the reconstruction act, and demonstrate what virtue there is in the pardon extended by the President to the excluded class.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—The City Republican Convention met at the Capitol Square at 12 o'clock, and was organized by the election of James Hays, (white,) President. The names of the candidates nominated for the offices Saturday night were J. W. Hunnicutt, Judge John C. Underwood, and James Morrissey, (whites,) and Lewis Lifsher and Jas. Cox (negroes).

They were then separately announced and voted upon, and the result was their unanimous nomination as delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Dispatch No. 2.—Dispatches of this morning's Press has a special Washington Dispatch which says that letters have been received from Governor Throckmorton, in which he declares his intention to urge upon Congress, as soon as it meets in December, such measures essential to the safety of the country.

The first is a general impeachment law, declaring the offences upon which an officer may be impeached, and expressly declaring that no officer shall continue to exercise the powers of his office during his trial.

The second law which Mr. Stevens intends to urge will provide that no person authority of the Constitution and upon the principles of the Declaration of Independence, no State shall have power to prohibit citizens of the United States, on account of their race, color or religion may be from voting for President and Vice President. This law will establish impartial suffrage throughout the Union. The leading Republicans affirm that Mr. Stevens will succeed in Congress.

Physical Vigor.

Physical vigor is the manly safeguard of health. It supports and fights off the morbid elements which superintduce disease. The grand question, therefore, is, how shall able the sweller preserve he increased vigor it is but feeble, and acquired where it scarcely exists at all? There was a time when this question could not be satisfactorily answered. But the problem is now solved. It has been proved by the experience of more than fourteen years that Hostetter's Bitters so thoroughly reinforce both the constitution and the secretive and the ferments which govern the body, that comparatively inculcated to the unwholesome influences which prostrate so many thousands on the beds of sickness, in various parts of the world, at all seasons of the year. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and to all contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. It is the only tonic of which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is entirely free from the fusel oil of spirits, admitted by analytical chemists and medical practitioners to be the most genial and powerful solvent; and this fluid is purged of all the crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer, before being used in the composition of the Bitters. The alterative, corrective and regulative properties of the Bitters are derived exclusively from roots and herbs plants the virtues of which are acknowledged by pharmacists and physicians, and which are often prescribed separately by the profession. Never however, were these plants and roots so skillfully combined for preventive and remedial purposes until the hygeian compound. Hostetter's celebrated Bitters, was given to the world.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Progress has its penalties. As the world advances in civilization, it becomes more luxurious and the ministering of the body seems to be an inseparable accompaniment of the cultivation of the mind. This ought not to be; but it is, and no argument can alter the fact, though wholesome advice and judicious, precautionary and remedial treatment may mitigate the evil. In cases, we are told, are not troubled with dyspepsia; but this dictum is open to doubt. Privation and hardship, as well as high living and dissipation, engender the disease; and it would therefore seem that the dweller in palaces, as well as the dweller in cities, must be made of less susceptible stuff than the thing, however, is certain; in no country under heaven is it so prevalent as in the United States. Here it is universal, wherever domesticated, and it is to be found in almost every household; and consequently a Household Remedy for it is a matter of inestimable value to the American people.

Few disorders involve greater suffering; and, if not conquered immediately, progress it is the forerunner and source of many deadly maladies. But even if it did not lead to other diseases, it is unendurable by itself—the mental and physical misery which it produces, and which renders life comparatively valueless, is in itself a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared in the effort to prevent and cure it.

Physicians, as a general rule, admit that no disease gives them so much trouble as dyspepsia, and they attribute the failure of curing it to the unwillingness of their patients to abandon the habits which occasion it, as well as to the want of time for business hastiness in eating, &c. &c. It is no doubt true that the best treatment of complicated dyspepsia cannot be had if the patient refuses to exercise common prudence, but it is also true that what we called the "dyspepsia of civilization" may be and undoubtedly is relieved by medicine, produce permanent cures. On the other hand it is a fact established by thousands of certificates, the witnesses, whose testimony is simply a statement that the cure has been effected, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the malady, and that an occasional use of the preparation by the cure has been effected a perpetual safeguard against the recurrence of the symptoms. On this account many intelligent members of the faculty have abandoned all the stereotyped prescriptions of the pharmacopeia, and confine their practice to the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters alone.

Fever and Ague—Intermittents generally, and Chills and Fever particularly, is far more widely known by experience to render a lengthened description of its symptoms unnecessary.

In order to escape fever and ague in any region it is only necessary to fortify the system against the malaria of the place by the regular use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By this means all danger is avoided. In this respect the remedy in this has none. So surely as the Bitters are taken as a preventive, so surely will the individual be safe. Even those who cannot be exempted from the pains and penalties of one of the most harrassing complaints to which the dwellers in unhealthy districts are subjected. As a remedy, the concentration has no equal. When the first chilling any of the unpleasant and dangerous consequences which accompany and follow in the train of fever and ague, the paroxysms and rapidly restores the strength of the convalescent. If the preparation be taken with regularity in all the morbid elements, and low, marshy districts. Add this to the value as a stomachic and an antibilious agent, and it will be found to gainsay its claims to the very first place among Family Medicines.

Bilious Remittent Fever. This is a disease of a more malignant type than ordinary "fever and ague," but it springs from the same cause, malaria, and may be forestalled by the same means, viz., a precaution the employment of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In order to render the system malaria-proof, it must be endowed with extra vigor, and in all its features in perfect order. To effect these objects the BITTERS must be resorted to. Remittent Fever, it is finally believed, may be certainly prevented by the daily use of this unapproachable protective preparation. If the disease be contracted, the Bitters should be taken between the hot stages. In every variation from the normal standard of health or form of disease, the Bitters are a powerful corrective and regulator. Persons who are subject to gainsay its claims to the very first place among Family Medicines.

Bilious Remittent Fever. This is a disease of a more malignant type than ordinary "fever and ague," but it springs from the same cause, malaria, and may be forestalled by the same means, viz., a precaution the employment of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In order to render the system malaria-proof, it must be endowed with extra vigor, and in all its features in perfect order. To effect these objects the BITTERS must be resorted to. Remittent Fever, it is finally believed, may be certainly prevented by the daily use of this unapproachable protective preparation. If the disease be contracted, the Bitters should be taken between the hot stages. YOUR WIFE

Possesses charms in proportion to her health, and she measures a husband's love by the interest he manifests in her welfare. If you would be loved as you wish to be in fact your wife's love and affection strengthened, see that her health and former beauty, you should by all means procure

English Female Bitters.

A compound that is actually restoring health to once sickly females than all other remedies combined. It gives perfect health to the form, and imparts a beauty to the face, which is irresistible. Complaints peculiar to the female sex. It is indorsed by the medical profession all over the country, as it is no secret nor patent, and of its cures Ministers and Governors of other states will testify.

OLD AND YOUNG FEMALES

Have long needed a medicine that would relieve them of all their Female Complaints and irregularities which prevent them from enjoying the Social Circle, and they can now confidently rely upon the genuine English Female Bitters. It arouses, restores and regulates. Its great tonic properties are unequaled. Cures all painful Menstruation, Hysterics, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Falling of the Womb, Nervousness, Sick Headache, and all those symptoms which follow, this one of the most prolific evils.

That Young Girl,

Whose bloom has departed from her cheeks, whose eye has lost its lustre, whose intellect has lost its brightness, whose countenance has become sallow and despair; who is pale, emaciated, feeble, listless, restless, should take the English Female Bitters, as it is a sure remedy for all those painful symptoms of the head, cold feet and hands, can be restored to perfect health and beauty by using the English Female Bitters.

MARRIED LADIES,

As you value your life, and health, and personal charms, you are now troubled with some complaint peculiar to your sex, you should have immediate treatment or some physician without benefit; and if you have been disappointed in your expectations, be reached, let us intist, let us urge you to lay aside prejudice, and use the only true and scientific remedies, for one time in your life, and try one single bottle.

ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS.

We are well aware that every person such at this time is afflicted with one of the diseases we know of many establishing individuals in this country, Canada, Cuba, and Europe, and these we will say, will say to you, that we have no secret remedies, but one that is scientific in your graves. Should a single bottle of English Female Bitters fail to benefit and preserve a bottle of this powerful remedy, we will refund the money, and leave the strength and color. Sold by all Druggists.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS.

AUTHENTIC DOCUMENTS.

ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.

TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN.

Stoney Point, White Co., Ark., May 25 '66.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing Goods, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters. My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his gr ve al health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried it, and he also improved.

Dr. Collee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—has improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters have given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I would sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall—especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care of Rickett & Brady.

Respectfully,
C. B. WALKER.

BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLD-WIDE READERS:

I have received many testimonials from p rsonsand medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most servere commendations I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his test money deserves to be written in letters of gold. Read what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

VILLANOW, Walker County, Ga.,
June 19, 1866.

Dr John Bull—Dear Sir: I do receive yours on your "Worm Destroyer" several times, and find it wonderfully effe ctive. It has in my hands done more than a dozen of any other kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the old practitioners that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. If I can get it upon reasonable terms I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a large majority of the regular M. D's, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficacious, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned it—ff ects first, and secondly the why ought to secure that know edge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worth less nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, most re pectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother.

Boston Barracks, Mo., April 30, 1866.

Dr. John Bull—D ar Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the benefit it has done me, I feel it my duty to give you the following statement of my case.

I was so ondedabout two years ago—was taken p ssession and confined for sixteen months. Being in bed so oft n my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the lungs. My general health is improved, and I need something to use at nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I would that this assertion may meet with a hearing. Please express half a dozen bottles, and oblige

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1867, by Mrs. Jeanie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson:

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to be my support. He is now 7 years of age he had a chronic diarrhea at Scriba, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York Mills, and Iowa, to Scriba's, lever sores, and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and lever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to go a have recourse to your Sarsaparilla before he will receive it.

Respectfully,
JENNIE JOHNSON.

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: Please express to me two bottles of your Sarsaparilla. I believe it will cure my lever.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana.

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the 1-b rally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural, and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $3892 net gain to our Student; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Student in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best gift parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE GULLETT STEEL BRUSH GIN.

This celebrated COTTON GIN, is again manufactured under the supervision of the inventor, B. D. Gullett, with early improved facilities, and we, as agents for the South-west, now offer it as the best made.

Its advantages are:

1st. The quantity of cotton ginned in a given time is much greater than by any other gin of equal number of saws.

2d. It separates from the Cotton all motes and dust and leaves it clean and nap.

3d. The roll cannot be broken by over feeding.

4th. The cotton is rolled before it goes to the feeder. Cotton from this gin will offer an advance in price, sufficient to pay the planter for the gin, he sure it is free from motes, dirt and nap. It has been in use extensively in the South-west ten (10) years, and whatever used it supercedes all other gins.

Send for special circulars.

COTTON PRESSES,

We are manufacturing for the crop of 1867 an improvement on the Hancock press, which will meet all the requirements of cotton packing. It can be worked by hand, horse, or horse power. Can be used out doors or in a building; is rapid in its working; of immense power, and makes a bale of exactly the same size.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A Gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and full directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence,

JOHN B. OGDEN,
42 Cedar Street, New York.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be of great value, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription, free, by return mail, will please address

REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,
Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber is compelled, by declining health, to address to sell his land on which he now resides, containing eighty hundred acres, with some four hundred and fifty cultivation. It lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, between the stations of Meridian and Enterprise, and nearly all good and productive bottom land. The whole is well watered and suitable for cultivation. If no disposition be made of the new premises, he will make for the place where the same may be found. The improvements are good and comfortable. The land is also convenient to mill and saw mills, and a good outlet for stock to the north, and a good market for stock and produce to the south. Terms accommodating, and to suit purchaser. For further information address the subscriber at Meridian, Miss. Aug. 10, 1867. aug10-3m

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. C. Couden, of Louisville, Ky.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my little son, only 3½ years old, who was so terribly afflicted with cancer, which was thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The cancer was a very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character and a rapid growth, and had been coming for about three years. The Doctor made an application which he continued but a short time, which did no appear to produce but comparatively little pain to my son. The application appeared to cure the cancer in a dead state and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since been sure to be entirely cured. He is now entirely free from pain and is now perfectly well, and my little son is a very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases cured by Dr. Couden's treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons thus afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe his treatment to be less pain ul and far superior to any other physician in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleraville, Henry county, Tennessee.

C. S. PAYN.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. S. Payn, and know that his little son was successfully treated by Dr. W. C. Couden of the city and from what we are able to judge from the appearance of the child, it was surely a very remarkable success.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every man his own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
Holloway's Ointment.

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—absolved or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headache, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathise by costiveness, Diarrhœa and dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM.

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "curative arcanum" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years' standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have succumbed and been subdued to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are cured outed and a clear and transparent complexion produced by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet applian ces in its power to dri pel rances and other disfigurements of the face.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display an decided influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

PILES AND FISTULA.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emulsent; warm fomentations should precede the application. This healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Fistu a,	Swelled G and,
Burns,	Sore eyes,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Throats,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Corns,	Sore Breasts,
Fistula,	Sore Throat,
Gout,	Sores of all kinds,
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,
Mercurial Eruptions,	Rheums,
Piles,	Stiff Joints,
Rheumatism,	Tumors,
Ringworms,	Ulcers,
Salt Rheum,	Ulcerated Sores
Scalds,	Wounds of all kinds,

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a Water mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same knowing them to be spurious.

The attention of our readers are directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Rudkle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla and Agne Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The compliments we have yet to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla and Agne Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The compliments we have yet to our people these complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Scudrock's Infant Soothing Syrups, and Dr. Bettlon's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office uses equalling the best English Inks now used. We cannot understand why their remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician. tf

STRANGE, YET TRUE.—That the female community in all sections are granting suffering and lingering with so many diseases and ailings peculiar to their sex, as there no balm for them? Is there no relief for so many female complaints and irregularities? Is there no Uterine Tonic to relieve these female distresses, to strengthen the feeble, to remove obstructions, to quiet the nervous, to restore, arouse, adorn and beautify the female sex? Yes, we have that medicine, and it is Dromgoole & Co.'s English Female Bitters.

PRESCRIPTION FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick's the old and reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours—day and night. Chadwick's medicines are fresh, and an experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded. tf

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—This large and influential body of gentlemen at its recent meeting in Jackson, adopted for use in the schools of the State, among others, the following books, published by John P. Morton & Co. Louisville, Kentucky:

Butler Goodrich Series of Readers, edited by Noble Butler. Butler's Grammar, Towne's Mathematics and Barbee's Geology.

The object of this action on the part of the Association, is to secure uniformity in the use of text books throughout the State. In order that so desirable a result may be obtained, we commend respectfully upon our teachers throughout the State, the necessity of taking early steps to secure a supply of these books for their pupils. With the exception of the Geology, which is just being issued from the press, these books are already used in all the public and private schools in New Orleans, Mobile, Vicksburg, Jackson, Meridian, Columbus and Aberdeen, where, of course, large supplies are kept. Schools in the vicinity of these places can easily procure a supply, but as regards schools off the lines of the railroads, a difficulty will occur unless prompt action is taken. We would recommend that all teachers in the State, who intend to add the aforesaction in its work, address John P. Morton & Co. Louisville, Ky., at once, stating the number of books likely to be needed. Our acquaintance with the members of that house, warrants us in assuring teachers that prompt attention will be given to their orders, and every reasonable request complied with. tf

Pain and weakness in the back, Gravel, Dropsy, Gout, and all complaints resulting from derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs, may be cured or relieved by the use of Risley's Extract of Buchu Sold by all Druggists.

Female suffrage excites derision, while female sufferings secures the sympathy of mankind. Our wives and mothers, sisters and daughters, are liable to sufferings and troublesome complaints, for which the Philotoken, or females friend, is a specific remedy, relieving painful irregularities, controlling the nerves, and securing comfort and safety during trying periods. Try it.

Persons engaged in sedentary employments within doors will find an occasional use of the Red Jacket Bitters gently stimulates the circulation, improves the appetite, produces a regular habit of body, and prevents mental depression.

What the Radicals think of the Negroes.

Even white Radicals are beginning to fear the results of negro suffrage in the South. They are alarmed at the fact that the ignorance and stupidity of the negro makes him the dupe of the designing and that the ballot in such hands will destroy prosperity and drive capital from the country. Beside, their aspiration for office was wholly unexpected. Depending on negro votes to radicalize the South they expected that vagrant Yankees and white Southern loyalists would receive all the fat offices. It never entered their heads that the darkey would expect to come in for a share of the spoils.

The Griffin Union edited by a Radical Yankee, complains dolorously of the difficulty of controlling his "ecullud" brethren. In a late number he says:

"We were apprehensive from the first that they would be easily imposed upon; hence our anxiety for them, knowing that our ebullient brethren depended much upon their action. Time has proved that though they are not quite so apt to be easily caught by the flag waver or principled, brainless hacks to be relied upon for the support of the Radical candidates. Many of them seem to think that they should command as many places in a white man's government as they exercised in the days of slavery. They seem to desire an equal share of the spoils of office whether they are capable or not. Where one is the man selected for office, he must be balanced by a black one. This is not all—what would you think of conduct with the great principle of the Republican party."

Of course its all wrong for the negro to want office. The Lord never have no use for the "man and brother" except as a voting machine to carry out their wise machinations and give the fat "smells of office."

Letter from Meridian.

Our old friend and associate, Col. J. L. Power, who dropped in upon us very unexpectedly last week, during the sitting of the Synod, writes the following letter to his paper from this place:

MERIDIAN, Oct. 13, 1867.

Dear Citation: Having heard much of the size and progress of Meridian, I came here yesterday to satisfy myself by personal observation. It is some town, and no mistake. Indeed it has a city chance and certainly has many city airs. It has spread out considerably since I passed through here in the summer, when the evidences of Mr. Sherman's visit were still to be seen. Several handsome residences and stores have been erected since then, and judging from the respectable instances of public taste, the people of Meridian intend to expend for some distance into the surrounding country. As Hoover Goodyear, the Confederate Congressman from Mississippi—that he was raised in a country where nature was luxuriously rich all the year round—Mr. Rich tells me is located where soil, mild of late, does not shrink from the square foot. Indeed, he assures us deeply settled active city enterprise, it will have a population more numerous than any other city in the State. I am informed that it has been more so of those two land inhabitants, and from what I have seen and heard of it, it is a most progressive, intelligent, union. Mr. Rich, in Confederate day's like many others, was where the boys in gray used their own gate, acquired a very unenviable reputation—and chiefly on account of its wonted accommodations; and in behalf of the landlords, I may be said that the boys wouldn't allow them to keep a full supply of bed clothing, spoons, knives and forks, and such other things as were deemed essential to the comforts of the lodging. No soldier, of course, would condescend to steal such articles; they would simply "borrow" them. Since the war expired and was extended the Rich is a President will not be elected until a meeting of the Democratic party.

The Presbyterian denomination here has just completed a very handsome church edifice at a cost of about eight thousand dollars. Rev. Mr. Klein is the pastor. The Church was well filled this morning, when Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of Madison, discoursed. Mr Hunter, of Jackson, will preach again to-night. The Methodist denomination have good congregations, and the Catholics are nothing up anything in the way of numbers. The city has at least two good schools—that for boys, by Rev. Mr. Smylie; that for girls, by Rev. Mr. Hawkes.

A new candidate for public favor presented itself this morning, in the shape of a "Mississippi Boy." He is a boy, and a worthy craftsman. In politics, it is anti-Convention.

Upon the pleasure of meeting with Col. Shannon and Mr. Armstrong, of the Gazette, and with Mr. Hudson of the Enterprise Star. All of whom bear very clean clothes, and seem to be otherwise professionally prosperous.

An stopping at the "Jones House," and find its hospitable landlord more hospitable than usual. He knows how to keep a hotel. The traveler will find here good fare and clean beds.

We visit Mr. Goodman's Home at Lauderdale Springs this evening, and write you from there.

LOGAN.

The New Orleans Commercial Bulletin states that out of sixty workmen engaged in laying the Mississippi levee, covering the wood blocks with tar, on St. Charles street, in that city, no one has been attacked with yellow fever.

A Northern Opinion of Reconstruction.

A late number of the Round Table contains an able article on the condition of the South, and the effect of Reconstruction under the Military Bill. We call attention to the following extract which we regard as a truthful picture of what is now going on:

The plain meaning of the pseudo-reconstruction acts of Congress, now being pushed to their most merciless consummation, is simply this: To register in the South the entire negro population and such whites as may unite with them in supporting the Radical party in Congress. To prohibit the registration of the vast majority of the whites who love a real lot rest in the quiet and prosperity of the country. 2d. To submit to the votes of the States thus registered the question whether they will or will not hold a convention for the reconstruction of their States under the congressional plan. Under this mode of procedure, it may be seen what a hopeful future lies before the Southern States. The whole country either votes not to call a convention, or for no convention. The white vote will be swept away by a majority of negroes. The present ruling rule will at this juncture be the basis of reconstruction. Confiscation of the property of white men by their negro rulers will be sure to follow; and the indirect confiscation will be more extensive than confiscation outright. The ruling class, failing in property themselves, will look upon the transfer of property from the whites to the blacks as a possession as the great end of Government. What a people a negro legislature to tax! What a people to vote away taxes, the issue entailing no doubt! In every county taxes will be laid in the name of the negro, and the whole of the Register Register.

Another opportunity will be given next week to all who have failed to register, to qualify themselves as voters. Our advice is to register even if you do not vote in the Convention election. Qualify yourself to vote on the question of ratifying or rejecting the new Constitution if one should be made. If you neglect it now you may never have another opportunity.

The negroes of this county appear to be the absolute slaves of the Loyal Leagues. The lodges say who they must vote for, and the poor nigger has to vote it, or be punished for delinquency. So much for the glorious privilege of being a freeman.

We would remind the Chronicle that elections were held in Ohio and Pennsylvania on the 8th inst. The fact may possibly have escaped the Editor's attention. We have seen no allusion to it.

As between Aaron Moore, colored, and Merryman, white, so-called, Moore is considered much the better man. Moore is a pretty good blacksmith, and was a very respectable darky until he commenced associating with white trash, and attending the Loyal Leagues. If he will quit such bad company, he may yet retrieve his character.

We hoped at one time that harsh as were the Reconstruction laws of Congress, it might be possible to have a Convention of intelligent sensible men capable of framing a liberal State Constitution. There is no prospect of it now. Niggers and vagabond Yankees will make up the Constitution.

A grand Tournament will be held at Demopolis, Alabama, on the 31st of October, 1867. On the morning of the same day will be given a coronation and Dress Ball. The first prize will be a superior gold watch worth $300—the Knight taking this prize will be entitled to crown the Queen of love and beauty. The second prize will be a handsome saddle and bridle with the honor of naming 1st lady to the Queen. The third prize will be a handsome saddle horse to be contested for by all Knights irrespective of the 1st and 2nd prizes.

It is stated that Commodore Barron, of the Confederate navy, and Hon. A. H. Stephens, will be pardoned in a few days. Action in the case of James A. Seddon, at one time Secretary of War, under the Confederate banner, has been postponed by the present, by advice of the Cabinet.

The New York Herald says it is evident from the accidents occuring daily that the risk of life and limb on the streets of that city is as great as on the ocean or steam cars.

Knowing no better, the negroes of Nashville elected a man of their own color to the City Council. As Tennessee law does not admit of negroes holding office, his white competitor took the seat, the votes given for the negro being thrown away.

A case of considerable importance was to come up this week in the United States Court at St. Louis. A writ of habeas corpus has been granted, commanding the warden of the prison to bring before the court Wm. Murphy, convicted by military commission and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for boat burning on the Mississippi river during the war.

Even Massachusetts is weary of the everlasting ding-dong of the past, and some of the Bostonians look for the reaction to take firm hold in the State. Thousands of Republicans, a letter writer declares will join with the Democrats in electing liberal men to the Legislature. This is all very pleasant, but does not elate us much. We will be satisfied with a moderate gain in the land of "isms."

HIGHLY IMPORTANT DECISION.—The case of Dean vs. Harvey, administrator of W. H. Youell, has been finally settled by the United States District Court of Georgia.—Youell, in 1864, purchased of Dean his plantation in Floyd county, Ga., for $21,000 in Confederate money. Dean remained in possession, but since the war entered into a rent contract for the place with Harvey, the administrator of Youell. Afterwards, Dean filed a bill in the superior court of Floyd county, to set aside the sale and to enjoin Harvey from turning him out of possession, upon the ground that the consideration of the purchase was Confederate money, and the sale, therefore, void. The case being argued on demurrer, his honor, Judge Erskine, dismissed the bill, sustaining the rights of the purchase. This case has excited a great deal of interest, and is, perhaps, the most important one to the Southern people decided since the close of the war.

Henry Timrod, the poet laureate of South Carolina, author of "The Hireling and the Slave," and many other poems of high merit, died of consumption, at Columbia, S. C., a few days since.

DISTRESSING FIRE AT SHUBUTA.—We regret to learn that on the night of the 12th inst., the dwelling house and all the outhouses of Mr. A. Carr, of Shubuta, were consumed by fire.

The fire is supposed to have been accidental, but was not discovered until too late for Mr. Carr to save his furniture, or even his money and valuable papers. His wife and child were injured by the fire, and had a narrow escape with their lives. Mr. Carr is an old and highly esteemed citizen; was once possessed of fine property, but lost it nearly all by the war. The property that has now been destroyed by fire was worth four or five thousand dollars, and at this time is a severe deprivation to him and his family. His many friends sympathize with him in his loss, and have expressed their sorrow in words and kind deeds of his own deep regret.

Something Besides Loyalty Needed.

The verdict of the people last week is convincing the Radicals that something else besides loyalty is needed in this country. Heretofore loyalty to the dominant party was a sure passport to any office of honor or profit within the gift of the despots. The St. Louis Democrat tells its party "loyalty is a good thing, but the people do not see that loyalty necessarily involves high taxes. Humanity and equality of rights are good, but Congress might possibly have done justice to the negro and still given some attention to neglected business interests. If Republican leaders do not presently attend to the business wants of the country, the people will begin, however mistakenly and blindly, to try to rid themselves of burdens which they know are greater than is necessary. Before long, high tariffs, high taxes, and whisky frauds will be used with some effect." The wreck of shattered images and idols has stirred up Wendell Phillips, who through the New York Commercial Advertiser, declares that blind and deluded almost beyond parallel are those who fail to discover a strong reactionary sentiment. The revolution through which we are passing, says Weed, is destined to repeat the history of France in more respects than will be found pleasant to modern Dantons and Robespieres, with this difference, however, that the people will contend themselves with bloodless guillotines." "Those who have sown the wind must prepare to reap the whirlwind," is the very sage advice of the veteran Radical to his followers!

The Cincinnati Commercial by far the ablest Radical paper in the far West, discovers that loyalty according to the interpretation of Ben Wade, the big gun of the Radical fortress, will not do any longer.—It bows to the fiat of the people. Its "inclinations have been to stop short of the completion of the radical programme, fearing that it was unwise to crowd the work of magnitude and difficulty," presented by the leaders of the party. The result of the election, the Commercial confesses will shake the radical fabric "from turret to foundation stone," and will have an influence in the next Presidential election that will "strongly mark the policy of political parties and the future history of the nation." The Philadelphia Inquirer confesses that a large number of republicans" voted for the Democratic candidates, thus turning the tide in the key-stone State.—The radical test of loyalty and the radical elevation of the negro, it is confessed on all sides, defeated the plunderers of the people's rights. The peculiar principles of the party are dead, and we shall soon have the "sober second thought" of the masses of the Union resuming its sway, where political iniquity has been revelling and rioting for years.

Beauties of Reconstruction.

A negro blacksmith by the name of Aaron Moore, and a vagrant yankee called R. G. Merryman, have been regularly nominated by the Loyal League of this county for the State Convention. The respectable people in the county are so well satisfied that the niggers and mean whites who compose the loyal league would vote against any decent white man that no steps have been taken to bring out other candidates. The Chronicle, the anointed and commissioned organ of Republicanism in this part of the State has bolted the ticket and announces the names of two clever gentlemen for the Convention, but the contest for the election of the nigger candidates will prevent them from receiving more than a scattering vote.

The Clarion tells us that the Constitutional Union Convention which met in that city on Tuesday was a failure. Out of sixty-one counties in the State, not exceeding from six to eight, including Hinds, responded to the call.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—The last Vicksburg and Mobile papers have nothing to say about this dreadful scourge. The Memphis Avalanche, of the 15th, reports nineteen cases of Yellow Fever, and one death for the twenty-four hours ending at 12 M. Oct. 14th. According to the report of the Secretary of the Board of Health there had been 88 cases reported during the week, and 29 deaths, about one in three, which is an enormous proportion. The conductor of the down passenger train on the Mobile road yesterday morning, we are told, reported that several cases had occurred at Corinth. Thus far Meridian has been spared. We have had a good deal of chills and fever here, but nothing like the pestilence which has been so terrible in other places.

The present state of affairs discourages many of our people. In endeavoring to penetrate the dim vista ahead, they see terrible and ruinous ghosts. The prospect is not very flattering, it is true, but we should pluck a little philosophy out of our condition and thank God we are so well off. The recent elections have produced a material decline in gold, and will stimulate the commerce and general business of the country. Specie payments, a stable money, mild taxes, civil rule, and proper regard for constitutional obligations, peer out just beyond the black pall which has been obstructing our vision so long. Our honest anticipations have been somewhat disappointed, but there has been an abundance made. The cornucopia holds enough for all. With such a flattering prospect ahead we can afford to endure our present evils with becoming dignity and fortitude.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the

LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

Is composed of the pure juice (or, as they are medically termed Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between them being a mere matter of taste, the tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, &c., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON, Philadelphia, Pa.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefitted suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion or Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any cause whatever; PROSTRATION of the NERVOUS SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no preparation equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eye, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavy upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this Bitters, or the Tonic, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment good health; rarely, if ever, feel well. They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the Bitters, or the Tonic, is particularly recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have been accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. GEO. W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

"I find Hoofland's German Bitters a good tonic, useful in all cases of debility, chronic diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of nervous action in the system.

Yours, truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD.

Hon. JAS. THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, April 26, 1866.

"I consider Hoofland's German Bitters a valuable preparation in cases of debility arising from diseases of the digestive organs. In cases of this character, where all other remedies have failed, I have used them in my own family, and have never known them to fail in restoring the patient to health.

Yours truly,

JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to recommend, publicly, recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding this practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all such cases declined; but with a clear proof before me of the benefit derived from Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction of their general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, in which they seem to be unfailing. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I consider it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

H. H. KENNARD.

FASSMANN'S

Iron Ties for Cotton Bales.

THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season. In addition to the

FASSMANN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE,

so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his

with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

PROVIDENCE, Ala., May 12, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—I send you $20 for Cotton Bale tags, please send what it will come for, and pay freight to Columbus, Miss. I have been troubled for several years with indigestion and have taken pills every night for ten or fifteen years, and in February, 1865, I was attacked with general paralysis. I was confined to my room for the balance of the year; and, in fact, continued in a very weak and nervous condition until some two months since, when I was induced to try your Cotton Bale Tags. I commenced improving right away, and am entirely well restored.

Yours truly,

L. L. NEAL.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 25, 1866.

I received this day the following, from Lancaster, Kentucky:

DR. JOHN BULL: Please send me in haste, for my negroes, a dozen of your Cotton Bitters. I have tried them, and they cured my negroes for them.

Yours respectfully,

G. W. BRIDDLEBOWER.

ANOTHER TESTIMONY.

THE DELTA.—The publication of the present issue of the Gazette has been delayed in consequence of a shipment of paper not arriving according to our expectations. We will endeavor to guard against getting out of paper hereafter, though such things will occur sometimes, particularly where you have to await the ipse dixits of railroads, steamboats and merchants in distant cities.

SAVE YOUR DIMES.—Haight & Chambers are coming to town, and will show in this place on the 26th of this month—the New Orleans circus is given up to be one of the best in the South. Hope they may have a large attendance—as they will show but one day.

Newton county Circuit Court commenced last Monday, Judge Watts presiding, and A. Y. Harper, District Attorney. In addition to the local bar the following Attorneys were present: Messrs. Mayers and Cooper, from Rankin; A. B. Smith and T. B. Graham, of Scott; Judge Sykes, Evans, of Clarke, and S. B. Watts and C. W. Gallagher, of Lauderdale. The cases of R. W. Doolittle for assault and battery; T. Laughton for larceny; Hale, a freedman, for burglary, together with several other small assault and battery cases, were sustained. It was expected court would adjourn to-day.

We would ask our city readers to consider well what the Clarion's correspondent says about securing our property from destruction by fire. Winter will soon be upon us, and we are now seriously getting up a fire organization. Our merchants will wake up some cold morning and find all they are worth reduced to a small pile of smouldering ashes unless something is done to guard against the spread of fires when they occur.

A bill has been introduced in the Tennessee Legislature to compensate loyalmen for losses sustained during the war. This, it is estimated, will involve an appropriation to the disfranchised citizens of over thirty millions of dollars, as compensation will be allowed for all losses brought about by both the Federal and Confederate armies. As the disfranchised people of the South will be very largely taxed to meet the bill, it will very likely be thrown, when the disfranchised people of Tennessee will be invited to fill the pockets of the Brownlow ring.

In the case of Mr. Dunn, the Democrats have been beaten by a majority of 1,500 votes. Mr. Dunn is a Democrat.

Meridian Advertisements.

We ask attention to the card of Duncan, Hart & Benton, to be found among our new Meridian advertisements. These gentlemen have just received a full assortment of dry goods, notions, groceries, &c., which they will exchange for greenbacks or cotton on most accommodating terms. Those wishing to purchase Tobacco for sale, or private use, would do well to give them a call. They have a large stock on hand, which can be bought at manufacturers' wholesale prices. Give them a call.

Our merchants who visit Louisville will find it to their interest to give them a call.

TAYLOR'S AGUE REMEDY by Edwin Morris & Co., Druggists, Louisville, Ky.

We call the attention of druggists and the trade to this advertisement of this remedy to be found among our new Louisville advertisements. Those who have used it pronounce it the best remedy that can be had and its pleasant taste renders it specialy easy of administration to children. We regard it as one of the best and most saleable medicines that can be had. Messrs. Morris & Co. are well known druggists of established reputation and deserve a good patronage from this section.

H. S. BUCKNER, dealer in notions, fancy goods &c. We call attention to the card of Mr. Buckner to be found in our present issue. Mr. B. is a clever gentleman and has a large assortment of goods for sale which he sells at reasonable prices. He also has a good trade from this State and we trust will continue to receive a good patronage. When you go to Louisville call and see his stock.

CRAIG, TRUMAN & CO., hats, caps &c. We invite the attention to the card of our merchants to be found of Craig, Truman & Co., wholesale dealers in Hats, Caps, Straw goods &c., Louisville, Ky. We passed through their establishment while in Louisville and consider their assortment one of the most complete that can be found in the West. Their prices are reasonable and will give satisfaction. Merchants visiting Louisville should give them a call.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The picture of children, fondling a doll, held at the dead-letter office, was claimed to-day. The portrait is of two deceased children. The claimants say that the loss of the picture was more deeply felt than the loss of all their property, swept away by the war. The claimants reside at Columbia, S. C. Mr. Zevely, the Third Assistant Postmaster General, at whose instance the picture was telegraphed, will restore the picture at once.

The House Committee, to Inquire into Southern railroads, and to arrive at an equitable adjustment of railroad indebtedness to the Government, left this morning for Richmond, thence via Lynchburg and Knoxville to Atlanta, Chattanooga and Nashville, or they may go from Richmond to Charleston and Savannah and thence via Macon to Atlanta.

Hon. D. W. Voorhees and Hon. Thomas B. Florence were serenaded to-night, and addressed a large crowd.

Senator Lovell will stump New York in behalf of the Radicals.

The inquest evidence over the victims of the riot at Springfield, Massachusetts, shows that the State constabulary fired into the crowd after the riot had been subdued.

A dispatch from Vicksburg says there have been no deaths for the last forty-eight hours.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—Special orders No. 162, issued to-day, removes the Sheriff and the Clerk of the Fourth Judicial District Court in the Parish of Plaquemine, for being remiss in the reconstruction, and appoints others to fill the places. The same order removes the Coroner and City of Jefferson for passing an ordinance for the election of city officers, in violation of Special Orders No. 1, current series.

There were twenty-eight deaths from yellow fever for the twenty-four hours preceding six o'clock this morning, but the present rate of decrease, it will soon cease to be epidemic.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 16.—Judge Bryan, of the United States Circuit Court, in a case to-day, testing the validity of the panel of a jury drawn under tax qualifications irrespective of color, decided that although an act of Congress in 1868, required the jurors to be drawn as prescribed by the Legislature of each respective State, yet that this must be construed in reference to the reconstruction act of Congress, conferring suffrage upon the negro was valid, and was the provisional constitution and law of the State. He held that President Johnson had no power to restore any seceeding State to the Union.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 16.—Strenuous efforts are being made by influential leaders in the party to revive the old Democratic party, for the purpose of co-operating with and encouraging the Southern Democratic party to defeat the Radicals.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—During the hurricane raging at Jerome Park, the mare Negreta fell, killing her rider instantly.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The New York Post's special says that six out of nine of the members of the Judiciary Committee favor pushing impeachment.

The Boston Post's special says that the President expresses his intention to resist suspension during the trial, should such an emergency arise.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—Yellow fever interments for the twenty-four hours ending at noon to-day, thirty-nine; were 31.

RICHMOND, Oct. 17.—The Congressional Committee to investigate the affairs of the Southern railroads has arrived, and have taken rooms at the Spottswood Hotel.

The publication of the Atlanta Opinion has suspended.

The Conservatives are working with much energy, and everything indicates that there will be an excited election, and that the full white vote will be polled for delegates against a convention.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 17.—In the secret session of the Atlanta Opinion (Republican) has suspended.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 17.—In the secret session of the Grand Jury, Truman & Co., wholesale dealers in Hats, Caps, Straw goods &c., Louisville, Ky. We passed through their establishment while in Louisville and consider their assortment one of the most complete that can be found in the West. Their prices are reasonable and will give satisfaction. Merchants visiting Louisville should give them a call.

Notices of several new advertisements have been crowded out of this issue.

NEW MILLINERY GOODS.—Mrs. Norton has just returned from the Eastern cities with one of the most complete and fashionable stocks of millinery goods ever brought to Meridian. They will be presented to the public next week, and we would advise all our lady friends to call early and secure a supply of those little things so essential to the "make up" of feminality.

Our clever neighbors of the Grenada Sentinel and Frisr's Point Coahomian are speaking unpleasantly of each other through their journals. We hope they will mend the breach and write with more amiable pens. The rough and slashing comments indulged in so frequently nowadays by some of our professional brethren should be stopped. We would be glad to see personal discriminations received with disfavor and the sphere of journalism broadened and elevated. We desire to make a just estimate of our vocation and never pass the line above indicated unless forced by circumstances.

Notwithstanding the decline in prices and the downward tendency, our country friends continue sending their cotton forward to market. They want to satisfy the merchant who favored them during the trying summer season, even if a sacrifice is made in so doing. This is certainly a very commendable spirit.

We regret to learn that Mr. W. W. Purnell, formerly of the Grenada Sentinel, resided in Houston, Texas, where he had been living for some time past. He was connected with the press of this place at the war.

A bill was before the Tennessee House of Representatives Wednesday, requiring that the State be forever separated from all connection with the Freedmen's Bureau.

OBITUARY.

DIED—In Meridian, Miss., October 11, 1867, Lula Lilly, daughter of Thos. A. and Fannie Lilly, aged 8 years, 2 months and four days.

Another of those tender buds has returned to its native sphere—has been nipt in the freshness of its prestine beauty, while the morning dew of purity and innocence still hung exhaled from its lovely petals. The child of many hopes—the object of a father and mother's tenderest affection—a household gem—what sorrow-ridden cluster around her name. Gentle, amiable and engaging, she attracted and won the admiration and love of all who came within her little circle, and acted as a gleam of sunshine in her own house. Though a sorrow has been implanted in the household as lasting as loving hearts can realize, it is consoling to know our little friend now enjoys the blissful realities of the untried bourne where day knows no darkning—where eternal splendor forbids the approach of night. There we should endeavor to meet our little friend when our travail is over. She will be found tuning her golden harp in unison with kindred saints in praise to God and the Savior, who said "Suffer little children to come unto me." Time shrouds our earthly beauties for the grave, but the brow of eternity bears no mark of decay, the fountains of Heaven never cease; they are fresh from the eternal throne; exhaustless love supplies the song and the harmonies are never hushed. In such a clime will the good and true find their little ones when the glare of the world is gone; and this knowledge should cheer and encourage us in our bereaved affliction, and lit us for that home beyond the stars where all our affections must go at last, and where the dumb seal of separation is forever broken to the pure in heart.

Let us speak a few words to her beside your fears and prejudices in regard to administering to her one time in your life, and to one single bottle of
ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS.
We are well aware that many persons shall at once be led to disbelieve that it could be possible that we know of many suffering individuals in this community, and if they had used it, many of them would call us cruel, unfeeling females in your graces. Cannot a worthless husband be reformed? Can not a worthless husband be reformed? Can not a bottle of this powerful Uterine and General Tonic and Alterative give health, strength and comfort to the wife?

Physical Vigor.
Physical vigor is the main safeguard of health. It repels and fights off the morbid elements which superinduce disease. The grand question, therefore, is, how shall this repellant power be increased when it is but feeble, and required when it scarcely exists at all? There was a time when this question could not be satisfactorily answered. But the problem is now solved. It has been proved by the experience of more than fourteen years that Hostetter's Bitters so thoroughly reinforce both the constitutional and the nervous and nervous systems as to render the body comparatively invulnerable to the unwholesome influences which provoke so many thousands on beds of sickness, in various parts of the world, at all seasons of the year. As an invigorating, regulating, general restorative preparation, suited to all climates and to all contingencies, it stands almost entirely modern medicines. It is the only tonic of which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the essential principle of sound Rye, admitted by analytical chemists and medicinal physicians to be the most genial and harmless of stimuli; and this fluid is purged of all the crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer, before being used in the composition of the Bitters. The alterative, corrective and purgative properties of the preparation are derived exclusively from roots and plants the virtues of which are acknowledged by the highest authorities in medicine, and which are often prescribed separately by the physician. Never however, were these valuable vegetable agents combined for preventive and remedial purposes until the present compound. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was given to the world.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Progress has its penalties. As the world advances in civilization, it becomes more luxurious and effeminate. The body ceases to be an inseparable accompaniment of the civilization of the mind. This ought not to be the case, but it is unquestionably the fact, though wholesome advice and judicious, precautionary and remedial measures are within the reach of all. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, and biliousness, as they are told, are not troubled with dyspepsia; but this disorder is the source of many ailments and maladies, as well as high living and dissipation, engender the disease of dyspepsia. Whatever be the cause of the wilderness, as the dweller in cities, must be more or less subject to the disease. Somewhat of a novelty in no country under heaven is it so prevalent as in the United States. Here, indigestion is almost universal, and the consequence is that a comparatively unenjoyable, is a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared in the effort to prevent and cure it.

Physicians, as a general rule, admit that no disease gives them so much trouble as dyspepsia. Quite frequently the difficulty of curing it to the unwillingness of their patients to abandon the habits which have induced it, such as excessive application to business business in eating, &c., &c. It is no doubt true that the dyspeptic is prone to complaint may fail to cure it. If the patient refuses to exercise common prudence. But it is also a fact well established by unbiased remedies for dyspepsia do not under any circumstances produce permanent cures. On the other hand it is a fact established by thousands of credible witnesses, whose testimony is simply irrefutable, that in numerous experiences, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the malady, and that an occasional use of the preparation after dyspepsia has been effected is a perpetual and effectual guard against the recurrence of the complaint. Hence it is common with intelligent members of the family have abandoned all the stereotyped patent medicines, and have used, and now invariably, and with great success, administer this popular tonic.

Fever and Ague, intermittent, general fever, and Ague, unfortunately, is too widely known by experience to render a description of its symptoms at all necessary.

In order to escape fever and ague in any region it is only necessary to fortify the system against atmospheric poisons by the regular use of this tonic. Persons who neglect this means all danger is avoided. Some rules have exceptions; this has none. Its power as a preventive, as surely will the individual who adopts this precaution as a remedy for the cure of the fever and ague, of one of the most harrassing complaints to which the dwellers in unhealthy districts are subject. As a remedy, the preparation has no equal. Without entailing any of the unpleasant and dangerous consequences so frequently and follow the use of quinine, it breaks up the paroxysms and rapidly restores the strength and appetite of the patient. If the preparation had no other merit than its wonderful efficacy as a preventive of, and remedy for, intermittent fever, it would be an article of the first necessity in all new settlements and in the vicinity of the lakes and streams of the West. But it has other claims upon Family Medicines?

Bilious Remittent Fever. This is a disease not to be trifled with. Unlike the ordinary "chills and fever," but it springs from the same cause, malaria, and may be successfully treated by the same means. The preparation is a powerful remedy for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In order to render the system secure from attack, it must be endowed with extra vigor, and put in all respects in perfect order. To effect these objects the Bitters cannot be resorted to. Remittent Fever, it is finally believed, may be certainly prevented by the use of this tonic. This remarkable protective preparation. If the disorder is already in progress, it should be used in all cases of convalescence. If the pulse is up to one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty during hot fits, it will be found a most effectual remedy to bring it down to the tone; but when prostration comes on, and the pulse is thin, and feeble, the patient is at a great disadvantage, and also when the patient is recovering, as a means of recruiting the system is indeed. In all cases of convalescence this powerful but harmless tonic should be administered. It is the safest as well as the best of restoratives.

Probably one-fourth of the people of this country know what it is to be bilious; and to the typical disorder the proportion of sufferers is much greater. If what are called "anti-bilious medicines" were possessed by what they pretend to be, the disease would soon become obsolete; for their name is legion. But neither mercury nor the whole list of the drastic pills advertised under so many titles, seem to produce the desired effect. In fact, calomel and blue pill have probably been more fatal to the human race than the various forms of fever and ague put combined.

Hostetter's Bitters, alone, of all the medicines at present in existence, fully meets the exigencies of what is termed "a bilious habit of body." This preparation, like the bile itself, has a mild aperient property, and secures easy and regular action when natural cathartic is interrupted or impeded; it is exceedingly useful as a means of exciting the torpid secretions in the intestinal canal and consequent costiveness. It also acts directly and most beneficially upon the liver, and is an invigorant and corrective regulator. Persons with a constitutional tendency to liver complaint, fever, require a certain preventive. After having taken three bottles of the Tonic, a single dose of HOSTETTER'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN.

Stoney Point, White Co., Ark., May 8 '67.
Dr. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Some time ago I was in Louisiana purchasing cotton, and I met some of your Bar-spar-illa and Cedron Bitters. My son-in-law, who was with me at the time, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and now is entirely well. Your Bar-spar-illa is a good medicine for general health improvement.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried it, and he also improved rapidly.

Dr. Collier, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—has improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters have given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I can do quite a great quantity of your medicines this fall—a period of very little trade. If this is not sufficient, Ship me via Memphis, care of Rickett & Neely.

Respectfully,

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLD-WIDE READERS.

I have received many testimonials from professional and unofessional men, as my almanacs and various pamphlets have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, of course one of the most acceptable comes from letters I have ever received. He (I cannot name exactly what he says, of, and for) many years to be written in letters of gold. See what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it to be a most valuable remedy. It has not been a long enough time to name the word effect. I am constantly using it in my practice, and every daily use I become more of the fluid. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy that will act more speedily and with less certain and speedy in its effects than the Worm Destroyer. I shall continue to use it. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I

Festival at Lauderdale Springs.

A grand picnic was held at the "Orphans' Home of Mississippi" on the 25th ult. This watering place embowered in a superb grove, was once the abode of gaiety. Lauderdale Springs has been purchased, and an Asylum founded for orphans of Confederate soldiers, of whatever sect, on the broad platform of universal philanthropy. The institution is under the control of a board of trustees, many of them ministers of the gospel, and chosen from the Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, and Campbellite, or other Christian churches. Ex-Governor Humphreys is President of this board, which reflects much enlightened talent. The Festival was its first anniversary, and everything wore a holiday dress. The reception rooms, chains of pretty cottages—even the trunks of spreading oaks were fresh from the brush, and shone with snowy whiteness. Some hundred and fifty children, gathered in from the hovels of penury and filthiness were neatly dressed, smiling and happy, and with the buoyancy of childhood cast every care aside, and footed the green lawn with playfulness. Then when the Chappel bell sounded, they marched with their guardians to the inspiring strains of the Meridian Brass Band, and in perfect order took their seats. After prayer, the energetic Superintendent, S. S. Cranberry, and two of the teachers, the Misses Welch, led the children in several appropriate songs. Next a number of the children delivered addresses very prettily, which for the short period of their training, reflected great credit on the teachers. Professor T. S. Gathright then plead the cause of education in behalf of soldiers' orphans in terms of thrilling grandeur, convincing logic, and tender allusion. Then, in order to interest the little ones, Dr. Bestor arose, and delighted them with a vein of quiet humor peculiar to himself. Dr. Teasdale poured forth a tide of sympathy for this Institution, which caused his silver crown to shine with new lustre. We believe that he inaugurated as general financial agent since its first operation, and his presence infused energy into everything connected with it. Rev. Mr. Stainback, a minister of the Presbyterian Church spoke in felicitous style, and said he had rather have Dr. Teasdale's reputation than that of a monarch on his throne. Also, that it was the proudest boast of his own life, that he was a member of the Board of Trustees of the "Orphans' Home of Mississippi." The services were interspersed with music by the band. Mrs. Laura Reed, a daughter of Gen. Duff Green, on long visit of the Washington City "Telegraph" in the olden time, has spent the last Spring and Summer on a special mission for the "Home." She is well known in the most intelligent and polished circles of the land, and has visited New York, Baltimore, and many other cities in the North and Northwest, finding everywhere, warm Southern sympathy, especially among women and children, and receiving much substantial aid for the poor little orphans. In one section of country she gathered one thousand dollars worth of corn, which was received at the "Home." Mrs. Reed gave a modest account of her success, with no remunerement and pathos, as to stir the deepest feelings of the soul. One of the speakers said he had rather have the fame that she had won, than that of any other woman in the broad land. It was estimated that between seven and eight hundred people partook of the feast which followed, and was provided by friends of the Institution. Persons from different parts of the State sent provisions; and boxes of delicacies came from friends in Demopolis and the adjacent preachers, the learned professor, the polished woman, youth, beauty, and intelligence, all mingled with mind unified on the lately destitute and friendless orphans, whose fathers lay folded in blood-clothes for our sakes. Surely a more grand sight could scarcely be witnessed. At night, the young people gave another of their series of charades and tableaux for the benefit of the "Home," and were well patronized. From this time it is designed to enlarge the premises, and receive more children, for many have been turned away, for want of funds. The branches of a thorough education are taught in the school, but the larger children are required to work in part of the time in the fields, the workshops, the kitchen and laundry; and it is hoped that before a great while, the Institution will be self-sustaining.—Cor. Enterprise Star.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of declining health, is anxious to sell his land on which he now resides. The tract contains eight hundred and forty acres, with some fifty acres in cultivation. It lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Rail road, about half way between Meridian and Enterprise, and nearly all good and productive Okatibbee bottom, and is level and all as table for cultivation. If no disaster befalls the crop now growing, he will take for the place what the crop will be worth. Persons desirous to secure a good and in good condition, and he is now building a new gin house and stable. It has a good outlet for stock on two sides, and a good range for cattle and hogs, and is altogether a pleasant and valuable home.

He is also authorized to sell 160 acres of good level land adjoining, with about 100 acres in cultivation, with improvements, also, between Enterprise and Meridian. Both of these tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to suit purchasers, and the undersigned will divide his tract to effect a sale, if not sold at a fair price before the 1st of December next. He will also dispose of several valuable town lots, and a number of several valuable town lots, and a number of farms. There is a considerable supply of good laborers, with their families on the premises and neighborhood, for sale, or will be hired to any party to use on the premises or address me at Enterprise, Miss.

DR. COUDEN,

OF LOUISVILLE,

WHO has acquired great celebrity in Louisville and throughout the State, by his great success in the treatment of

CANCER.

The Doctor removes CANCER WITHOUT PAIN OR THE USE OF THE KNIFE, and in addition to this he treats all

Chronic Diseases

Dr. Couden can be consulted at the National Hotel, on at his office, South East corner of Main and 3d Streets.

Post Office Box 470.

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. G. COUDEN, of Louisville, Ky.

I w sh to make a statement to the public of the case of my little son, only 5½ years old, who was so terribly afflicted with cancer, which was thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The cancer was a very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character and a rapid growth, and had been coming for about three years. The Doctor made an application which he continued but a short time, which did no appear to produce but comparatively little result in any way. The appearance seemed to leave the cancer in a dead state and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since been sucessfully healed, and he is now entirely free from pain and has a perfect cure. My little son is very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases cured by Dr. Couden's treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all afflicted to make application to be cured of this with cancer. I would advise all persons thus afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe his treatment to be less pain ul and far superior to any other physician in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleraville, Henry county, Tennessee.

C. S. PAYN.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. S. Payn, and know that his little son was successfully treated by Dr. W. G. Couden, of this city and from what we are able to judge from the appearance of the child, it was a case of a very remarkable success.

Constitution Making in the South--Nigger Rule and Nigger Ruin.

By the proceedings of the Alabama Convention the nation may see the results of radical rule—first, to drive from the governing councils of a community all learning, all discretion, all regard for the stability of society, all qualities that men respect; and, second, to replace these qualities by ignorance, savagery and the most intense spirit of revenge. An assembly to make a State constitution is composed of men unknown to the people of that State, or where known "known to be men of indifferent character." Its prominent white men are political adventurers, who were the scum of Northern politics, and commended themselves to nigger voters by the extravagance with which they expressed their hatred with which the nigger felt an active sympathy. In some degree the Convention is made up of that class whose principal qualification is that it has always been under the white man's foot and content with the place; whose qualification for flaw making is its former slavery, because it is supposed that slavery has filled it with a bitterness that it will put into the law. Here are constitution makers who not only cannot write their names but cannot always tell what their names are. Moses, possessed of all the learning of the Egyptians, and divinely inspired, made a constitution for his people, and why should not Sambo make a constitution when he gets the chance? Plato was a constitution maker also; nations of antiquity sent their delegates a year's journey to have their constitutions shaped by the wisdom of the Stagyrite; Menu, Solon, Lycurgus were constitution makers; Rome, before the time of the Twelve Tables, feeling the necessity for a constitution, sent wise men into all the cities of Greece to study the forms of government and frame her law; all the barons of England became constitution makers in another age; and now all the niggers of Alabama are to give the subject their lofty consideration. Madison, Hamilton, Jefferson, Jay were constitution makers, and they have their successors. Sambo, Cuffee and Pomp are the names that our correspondents to the illustrious list that, beginning with Solon, comes down to Story. Constitution makers were the wisest men of a nation, and now they are the man whose learning consists in the ability to distinguish between pork and possum. Happy age!

The direction and tendency of this Alabama Convention are obvious. Its first move is to get the State government into other hands than those that now hold it. This measure receives the support of "the negroes and the extreme members." Another proposition is to go behind the record of courts in cases of alleged crime and pursue some private feuds in public law. One more measure is supported by "very violent speeches." This is a measure of wholesale proscription and disfranchisement, and the Convention has determined, by a vote of sixty-three to twenty-two, that it will have some such measure and will not leave disfranchisement where it was left by the Military bill. The Convention will carry radicalism further than Congress dared. Proscription is the word. Let the people understand this and the result it must have. Remember that in France, when the great revolution was made, the men who made it knew where it should stop, and desired to stop it there. All the patriots would have preserved order when they had secured guarantees of public liberty, but this did not satisfy the factions. The Sumners and Wendell Phillipses of that time urged on ignorance, brutality and barbarism, and the revolution became a war of classes and a slaughter. This is the course marked out for us. The American people are satisfied with the results of the war, and wish to see order on the basis laid down in the constitutional amendment. But this wise limit is not enough for the fanatics who have given power to the nigger, and hence these latter are urged forward and raise the cry of proscription. Will the people permit this, or will they "save the Constitution" by the imperative demand that the constitutional shall come to an end? Congress, radical as it was, dared only go a certain distance in its pursuit o vengeance for fear of the people. But it defeated its power to the niggers, and they are relied upon to go further. This is the plan that has put the law-making power of the South into the hands of a race that, in its native land, never met in a convention for any other purpose but to feast and eat its enemies. There is but one remedy against the evil inherent in this plan, and that is the immediate repeal, as soon as Congress comes together, of the infamous laws under which these Southern Conventions are to meet and upon which the one in Alabama is now acting.—New York Herald.

MARSHALL COUNTY.—Election for all precincts in Marshall county, except Holly Springs, closed on the 21th inst. Whites nearly three hundred majority if not more, there being nearly as many white as black registered voters. The vote for Convention will also be defeated in Marshall, by about three hundred voters. Compton, Watson and Townsen t are elected.—Sentinel

LAFAYETTE COUNTY.—Vaughan and McCutchen (both Conservatives) have been elected in this county, over two other Conservatives, their opponents. The only issue involved in the election was for and against convention.—Vaughan was for convention, if such a body was to meet, but against it if it failed. McCutchen is against convention in toto. Their opponents were similarly divided. She went fifty hundred majority against the convention.

The Boston Advertiser says of Anna Dickinson's lecture on "Idiots and Women:" that its chief faults are "an illogical arrangement, a want of novelty in argument, and of force in answering honest arguments on the other side, all of which were carefully evaded." Here is a choice extract from the lecture, as reported by the Advertiser: "Privolous and silly women, for there were a few such, were made by God Almighty to match some men! Her measure for a man was his estimation of a woman. A man goes about with his six-inch line and drops his little plummet into the natures of a women around him, and thinks he has touched bottom, when he has only skimmed the surface."

During the war a patriot in Maine felt ashamed of remaining at home while his brethern were in the field, and accordingly addressed the following letter to a Governor of Alabama: "Mr. Gov. Washburn sir I feel as thoe I had aught to be doing something for my country, and have got a few male plaice for me I shuld like to hav it if you write me and give me instructions what you Want me to do. Yours truly.

A pair of those valuable, enterprising ladies, who seem to carry on so large a business in the way of procuring subscriptions for new works, and who are so delightfully importunate, so sweetly "persons," called a short time since at the office of a young lawyer, for the purpose of getting him to subscribe. "Indeed, ladies," said he, "the partnership of which I am but a humble member has lately been so unprudent as to issue a new work of their own, which, in consequence of the enormouse expense attending its illustrations, embellishment, &c., has completely crippled us. "Then, perhaps, repaled the angelic canvasser, "you would favour your subscribers. What do you call your work? "Well, we have not fully determined as yet; but I guess I'll let my wife have her own way, and call it after me.—Charles Henry.

A Perry and Anderson Anecdote. The French dress up a satire in better style than any other people. We have a capital story of the last Governor des Etats Unis which illustrates this fact.

In speaking of the woman Frigard, the murderess, lately tried in Mobile, Frances Moss, Villamont, her counsel, asks through the Temps if an advocate who defends a guilty person (seclerat) can act in good faith? He answers the question by relating the following anecdote:

A lawyer who had figured with some distinction in the National Assemblies of the Republic recounted to us in the following terms his debut. "I was young and unsuspecting," said he, "when I pleaded my first cause. It was that of a peasant charged with stealing a watch. The papers in the cast, the efficiency of the evidence, and, above all, the air of the accused —what was left of a good man—had convinced me of the innocence of my client. I pleaded with all the warmth of soul which could be inspired by this strong faith, and acquitted the peasant. Once free, he cast his arms around me:

"Oh, monsieur," said he, you spoke well. My children shall be taught to bless you. There is one more service which you must do for me."

"What is it?"

"Dig up the watch for me."

"Dig up the watch for you?"

"Certainly. You understand, that they still keep their eyes on me, whilst you, in your promenade, can dig it up with your little cane and return it to me."

"Miserable wretch! Then you are guilty?"

"I must didn't you know it? If I hadn't been guilty I should have dispensed with a lawyer and been my own advocate!"

A man named John Mitchell, was killed on Saturday, at Clark's planing mill, Chicago, by being drawn into the machinery. He was literally torn in pi ces.

During that concert we were much pleased with a little song called, sung by somebody, and expressed a desire to obtain the words. The next day we received the following. We certainly look as as if it were all right, and which has charmed us accordingly:

The Democracy of the Granite State.

The New Hampshire Democracy have lately had a State Convention for the nomination of Governor, and it is described as attended by a large number of delegates who intend making an active vigorous canvass and redeem the State from the clutches of Radicalism.

The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed. John G. Sinclair was nominated for Governor. Among other resolutions the following were adopted:

"Resolved, That the Congressional plan of Reconstruction is, as confessed by its framers, wholly outside the constitution and a revolutionary usurpation, and that the attempt by Congress to establish the practical supremacy of the negro race is a most atrocious crime against the principles of Republican government and the civilization of the age, and deserves the severe and indignant denunciation of every true American citizen.

"Resolved, That the bitter fruits of legislation outside of the constitution are seen in the practical disruption of the Union, the demoralization of the public conscience, the stagnation of all legitimate business, depreciation of the public credit, the enormous and still increasing burdens of taxation, and the grave apprehensions of business men and statesmen that still greater calamities are impending over the country."

This is the living issue before the country and we hope that on it the victory may be won and New Hampshire fall into line with the other democratic States.

Thad. Stevens.

It is believed that the race of this old fanatic is about run, and this will be the last session of Congress in which he will take any part. He is represented as greatly enfeebled and emaciated; his mind somewhat impaired, showing a difficulty in confining himself to a particular train of thought.

Old Thad. is in his dotage, and clearly will not be able to wield his recent mad influence as a party leader. Notwithstanding his approaching dissolution, this bad man still manifests the same bitterness to the South, the same revengeful feelings to which he has so often given expression. He is represented as having admitted last week that he will be unable to introduce either of the bills he had in view for the coming session. The first—on the subject of universal suffrage—he says he considers will not be passed. The other—respecting the suspension of civil officers, pending the trial for impeachment—he considers necessary for the reason of the absurdity of the arraignment of an officer for crime or misdemeanor, allowing him meanwhile to exercise the functions of his office. Respecting the Southern people, he declares they must be whipped into submission to the doctrines set forth by Congress if they do not peaceably accept the situation from a radical standpoint.

The counties from which we have only meagre, precinct returns, register 66,054, divided as follows:

Blacks	37,357
Whites	28,707

Giving a Black majority on registration of 4,325. Now when it is remembered that in the twenty-two counties from which we report full returns, the blacks had a majority on Registration, of 4,967, which was reinforced by the counties of Marshall and Rankin making fight at the polls, and casting a large portion of the white vote, and yet convention failed to obtain a majority of the Registry, we may most reasonably expect to see this 4,326 dwindling to insignificance and Convention fail by about 4000 of obtaining a majority of the registered votes of the State. We're "only waiting."—Aberdeen Examiner.

QUICK WORK.—A Yankee, by the name of Allen, stole a horse in Lunenburg county, Virginia, rode to the Court House on the day of the election; was elected by negro votes one of the members of the Convention; was followed, arrested for stealing the horse and committed to jail; and will be sent to the penitentiary for stealing the horse, instead of taking his seat in the Convention. His colleague, in the Convention, is said to be a respectable negro.—Vicksburg Times.

The stage between Hemters and Owlkee city, Idaho, was fired into on the 27th inst., by Indians. One of the horses was shot badly. The passengers vigorously returning the fire drove off the assailants without further damage.

Among his friends, Prince Napoleon bitterly denounces Napoleon the Third's policy in regard to Rome.

The Condition of the South.

The New Orleans Crescent concludes an able article on this subject as follows:

As a result of the agitations of the last two years of the vicious ideas which have been engendered among the negroes by the sudden promises which they have acquired; of the machinations of the agents and emissaries of the radical faction, and of the necessarily capricious character of military government, our industry has been completely paralyzed. Instead of improving, things have gone on from bad to worse, until almost the gloom and blackness of despair have settled upon a people whose energies could not be shattered, or whose hopes depressed, by any ordinary misfortunes. Three planting seasons have passed since the war, and each one has more than duplicated the failure of the last. The net proceeds of the planters' cotton are not equal to the cost of raising it. The negroes have done but little work, and that little in so desultory a manner as to make it valueless. The most of their time is spent in registering and voting, in listening to the senseless but violent harangues of their favorite orators, and in drilling at nightly assemblies for some purpose, the very mystery of which excites alarm among the unarmed white population. These are the legitimate and necessary results of that frightful series of laws which, under the pretext of reconstructing the Union, the Republican party have inflicted on the country. But worse is yet to come. It is hard to see how even famine and the attendant horrors of famine are to be averted from this unhappy land. The negroes have already command their wages and their portion of the small crop which has been made. Their employers are unable to furnish them with supplies. The credit of the country is exhausted. Three years of disheartening failure have impaired the means of the commercial community. Capital refuses to risk itself in that industrial chaos in which it is sure to be swallowed up.

Is there a remedy? The Democrats have shown a disposition to take up our cause. Reinforced by the class who are not willing to sacrifice the country for the sake of a party, they have lately asserted an indisputable superiority in the so-called loyal States. They constitute the public opinion of the country. If that public opinion can be made effective now, much disaster may be averted. If the United States Congress take heed of the popular voice in time, we may be saved from much suffering. Acting on this belief a number of gentlemen of both sections have agreed to suggest the presentation of monster memorials to Congress and the President, asking that the policy of the country may be immediately conformed to the actual needs of the situation and to the expressed demands of public opinion.

Below will be found the memorial which has been prepared and is recommended to the Southern people with this view. We would request our readers to bestow their earnest attention upon it. We believe that they will agree with us in the conclusion that this movement, if it become general, may do much good. Even if Congress refuse to modify its policy, the fact of refusal in the face of an overwhelming expression of opinion from both sections of the country, will place the radicals still more decidedly in the wrong and strengthen the hands of that great party which is to be charged with the final solution and settlement of these momentous problems:

To His Excellency the President and the Honorable Senators and Representatives of the United States Congress:

The undersigned, citizens of the State of Louisiana, respectfully represent, that the political developments of the last few months have demonstrated the fact that the reconstruction acts of Congress will, if persisted in, produce a conflict of races, which will result in the destruction of the country, and the serious, if not irreparable, injury of both races in the Southern States.

That the negroes of this State are organized into secret bands termed "loyal leagues," sworn and combined against their former owners and citizens of the State, in order to obtain control of the government.

That this ere-bulous race has been deluded by designing men into the belief that the property of the white citizens of the State will be divided amongst them.

That, under these demoralizing influences, they are daily refusing to fulfill their contracts, or labor for the support of themselves and their families.

That, before the close of the present year, the negroes, with but few exceptions, will have consumed or wasted all their wages, or share of the crops, and be destitute of the means of subsistence.

That the white race will be compelled to limit their planting to the labor of their own families, while the negroes will not have the means, if they had the capacity, to plant on their own account.

Under these circumstances, famine, with all its attendant horrors, must soon come upon this improvident race.

In view of these impending calamities, the undersigned would earnestly appeal to the President and Congress to give prompt attention to this vitally important matter, and provide immediately such remedy as in their wisdom can be devised, to avert the ruin which, unless arrested, must speedily come upon us.

FRANK COLLINS.—At the September term of Squire Gault's Court, held at Murphysville, a case of this kind came up for adjudication. S. A. Clift, one of our substantial farmers, brought suit against Frank Collins, one of his farm hands, for non-compliance of contract. He (Collins) having contracted to work for him at $14 50 per month, commencing April 3d and running through harvest. Just as harvest came on, and Mr. Clift was ready to commence operating with his reaper, it is alleged that Collins, stimulated by the prospect of higher wages, left his employer and sought work in other quarters.

Mr. Clift made a straightforward statement of facts, stating the serious inconvenience he had been subjected to, and asked the jury to give him remunerative damages, or release the defendant and establish a precedent that would encourage all dissatisfied hands to leave their employer at their own caprice and notion.

The jury after a few moments consultation, brought in a verdict of $16 75 damages and cost of suit, amounting to twenty-five dollars. The speech of Mr. Clift to the jury was characterized by all who heard it, as a capital thing. He understood the question, was terribly in earnest, and his appeal was pointed and effective.—Mayaville Eagle.

MRS. Cynthia R. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., who was divorced ten years ago, died Tuesday morning from the effect of an abortion. A black driver is suspected of leading her into this affair, and a prominent physician of producing the abortion.

The citizens of Kitzingen, in Bavaria, celebrated, on the 10th of October, a centennial anniversary in a very singular manner. On the 10th of October, 1767, the people of Kitzingen had driven all the Jews from their town. On the 10th of October, 1867, the citizens of Kitzingen presented toe Jews of their town with a handsome synagogue, built with voluntary contributions from the Christians. Thus was a bad deed of the grandfathers nobly effaced by the grandsons.

The Journal of Commerce says that seamen are more difficult to be had than at any time before or since the war. This is caused partly by the revival of freights in the grain trade, but primarily by the loss of seamen last summer during the stagnation in shipping, large numbers having abandoned their vocation for other pursuits.

GENERAL GEORGE W. CRAWFORD, of Louisville, was seventy-four years old on the 31st ult. On the same day, at high noon, his wife presented him with ten pounds and one ounce of girl baby. The Courier says this is his fourteenth child, and yet the General is, excepting Leslie Coombs, the youngest man in Kentucky.

A San Francisco dispatch says: Reports from the interior represent the meteoric shower a magnificent spectacle, witnessed between the hours of 12: 30 and 2 at night on the 13th.

About three hundred freedmen passed through Augusta, Georgia, on Wednesd y, en route to Charleston, to take passage on the ship Golconda, for Liberia.

The French have again commenced pasting their postage stamps up side down on their letters. This is said to be one of their ways of manifesting their hostility to "the nephew of his uncle."

INCENDIARISM.—The gin house, of Mr. Lafayette Willis, nine miles Southeast of this city, containing twelve bales of cotton, was burned Monday night. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The loss cannot fall much short of twenty-five hundred dollars. Mr. Willis has no clue to the perpetrator.—Aberdeen Examiner.

The official vote of the State of New York, shows a democratic majority of 48,972.

A very distinct shock of an earthquake was felt at Salt Lake City on the 3d inst. No damage was done.

AN APPEAL

—TO—

FARMERS and PLANTERS

Absolute necessity in times gone by, forced you to purchase an occasional supply of such medicines as might be administered to the various members of your family by yourselves, without the aid of a Physician.

Various purgative Pills, Cough Mixtures, Child Medicines, Diarrhœa Compounds, Tonics, Blood Purifiers, and many other articles, have been prescribed for you at a sacrifice of judgment, and in many cases, those who prepared them knew nothing about the treatment of diseases in any climate, and in the absence of better compounds they, in many instances, met with your APPROVING SMILES.

Now, gentlemen, by your assistance and your influence, which we intend to MERIT, we wish to effect a slight change in the programme; and so long as we give satisfaction, shall hope to be the recipients of public patronage. Our plan is, that the

MEDICAL PROFESSION,

Those who are experienced in Southern treatment, and have been and are in every respect identified with the Southern people, and who are known and acknowledged as such, shall, as far as possible, manufacture and supply the demand, thus enabling every family to procure at all times, a class of HONEST Medicines, and that are likely to give, by far, more satisfaction than if prepared in a locality where diseases are treated differently. We are well aware that there will be arrayed against us an army of

Northern Nostrum Venders,

Who are making every appeal that imagination can invent, to secure the entire confidence of the Southern people; but we are determined to be REPRESENTED in this matter, and call upon the People to decide.

There are three members composing our firm, all graduated and experienced Southern Physicians, and with all our ability and experience we have prepared and now offer you a class of

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Not secrets nor patents, which we think are honestly required by every farmer, planter and family throughout the Southern country, and an examination of the GREAT SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS should be in every house.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

English Female Bitters,

Is a powerful uterine Tonic and Female Regulator, and is just the medicine so much needed by the female community, both old and young, throughout the South. It relieves all irregularities, removes obstructions, cures painful or suppressed Menstruation, Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Chlorosis, Hysterics, Palpitation of the Heart, and all that class of complaints peculiar to females. It restores, arouses and invigorates the womb, thereby inducing regularity and health.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

KING OF CHILLS

Absolutely cleanses your stomach, arouses your torpid liver, opens the bowels, carries off the bile, makes quick and permanent cures, never affects the head, nerves, or ears, gives tone to the system, and can be administered to infants. It cures all forms of Chills and Fever, Intermittent Fever, Bilious Fever, Congestive Chills, Dumb Chills, and no family should be without it.

CHILLS AND FEVER

Can be permanently cured, whether of recent or long standing. Do not shake any longer, get a bottle and be cured.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

AMYGDALINE PECTORAL

A scientific preparation for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Whooping Cough, Pneumonia, Pleurisy, Croup, Hoarseness, Dry Cough, Pain in the Side, Tightness in the Chest, Influenza, Spitting of Blood, and for all other Pulmonary Affections. It immediately loosens the phlegm, relieves the cough and pain, promotes free expectoration, and soothes and quiets the troubled nervous system, enabling them to sleep at night. Price $1 00.

DROMGOOLE & CO.'S

Dr. Johnson, an old citizen of this place died at his residence in this city yesterday morning.

On Thursday last policeman Terrell arrested a negro man and wife while engaged, on the street, in an altercation growing out of matrimonial infelicity.

We find in the Brandon Republican the constitution and by-laws of the Agricultural Society of Rankin County. Is not one be organized for Lauderdale county?

Congress met on Thursday last, but the President will not send in his message until the time for the meeting of the regular session, which will be the first Monday in December.

Ross, Watkins & Co., Meridian, Miss. Our readers will see from the notice in our advertising columns that the firm of Ross & Wilson has been dissolved and are succeeded by Ross, Watkins & Co., who are authorized to collect all debts due the late firm and will pay all their liabilities. Messrs. Ross Watkins & Co., are all from the county of Neshoba, and are well known among the people of that county as among the most enterprising of their citizens. They have a first rate assortment of goods and will do a good thriving business. Mr. Wilson who retires from the firm has made many friends here and we hope may still remain in our city. He has our best wishes for prosperity and happiness.

DOWN ON THE LOYAL LEAGUE.—We find the following letter in the Brandon Republican, in which the writer, a respectable colored man of Rankin county, denounces the Loyal League. How many of the colored people of Lauderdale will subscribe to the sentiments of honest Ed. Smith? Here is the letter:

A Card.

BRANDON, MISS., Nov. 14, 1867.

MR. A. J. FRANTZ: Sir—In order to set myself before the people, both white and black, of this vicinity, I ask you to do me the favor to publish this card, which announces to all it may concern that I have this day severed my connection with the Loyal League.

My reasons for so doing are as follows: When I joined the League I thought it was an organization for the benefit of my race without intending the least injury to the white race. But I find that its whole tendency is to array the two races in deadly hostility to each other, and believing therefore, that it will prove injurious rather than beneficial to my race, I have, after mature deliberation, concluded to sever my connection with it, and advise others in my situation to do likewise.

Very respectfully,
his
ED. X SMITH, (colored.)
mark.

The Meteors.

Observations at White Hall and Evanstown, Illinois, report that, notwithstanding the sky was partially obscured by clouds, fine displays of meteors occurred between three and four o'clock, when eleven hundred and nine were counted between 3:30 and 4:12 A. M. At Dearborn University a still larger number were seen.

Despite the presence of the moon a very fine meteoric shower was visible at Chicago, between midnight and a quarter to six. Three thousand seven hundred and thirty meteors were counted. Had the night been dark a the number would probably have reached 30,000.

A grand meteoric shower was observed from three o'clock on Thursday morning until daylight. At intervals the heavens were ablaze with the electric balls. The meteors, though numerous, were not very brilliant.

Professor Watson, of the Michigan University, reports that notwithstanding the light of the full moon, and the smoky state of the atmosphere, a fine display of meteors was observed here on Thursday morning. The maximum occurred at 4 o'clock, at which time were counted them at the rate of 1,500 per hour. The number was very much greater, and we had a glimpse of large numbers whose light feebly prevailed over that of the full moon. The radiant point was found to be situated in the right ascension of one hundred and forty-nine degrees, and deviation twenty-two degrees north.

At the last meeting of the French Council of State, a meeting to suppress the Liberte, the Courrier Francais, and the Avenir National, the boldest opposition papers, was proposed, but no notice taken by the Emperor himself to the suppression of his Ministers without making any remarks on the subject.

Three citizens of Fredrick county, Virginia, who have taken oaths of magistracy, and performed the duties of the functionaries, were hailed in the United States court at Richmond last week, to answer to the charge of perjury in registering.

LATEST TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Mr. Davis leaves Canada to-day, and goes from New York to Richmond by car, arriving on the 30th.

SENATE.

Several petitions were presented, including one from the Electoral Congress, soliciting the passage of an act accused of voting for Lincoln.

Senator Introduced a bill striking negroes from the District laws and ordinances.

Mr. Edmonds introduced a resolution that the national debt cannot expressly otherwise stated, is payable in coin.

The Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

All the Tennessee delegation, except Butler, was sworn in.

Mr. Robinson, of New York, introduced a resolution impeaching Minister Adams for neglect of duty in failing to protect innocent Americans charged with Fenianism in England.

The House adjourned till Monday.

Mr. Blaine, of Maine, renewed a resolution, in the House, of enquiry regarding the repeal of the cotton tax. Adopted.

It is generally believed that the cotton tax will be repealed.

Mr. Wilson announced to the House that the Judiciary Committee would be ready on Monday to report on impeachment.

A discussion on referring the whole Tennessee delegation to the Elections Committee which was sprung by the Democrats, elicited an angry debate on the vote excluding Butler, on which the result was called, which reported yeas 117, nays 18.—The Democrats voted nay. No caucus on to-night.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 21.—The returns from eight Court Houses show the first black vote and 11 white. This will about be the proportion throughout the State. Not one vote is known to have been cast against Convention.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 21.—The following is the article in the election law relative to finally adopted by the Reconstruction Convention as a part of the new Constitution:

ARTICLE.—Sec. 1. Every male person born in the United States, and every male person who has been naturalized, or who has legally declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and every male person who has been naturalized, or who has legally declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and every male twenty-one years old upwards, (except those who shall have resided in this State six months next preceding the election, and three months in the county in which he offers to vote, except persons hereinafter provided), shall be deemed an elector. Provided, that no soldier, sailor or marine in the military or naval service of the United States, shall hereafter acquire a residence by reason of being stationed on duty in this State.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide, from time to time, for the registration of the electors, but the following classes of persons shall not be permitted to register, vote, or hold office.

Those who, during the late rebellion, inflicted, or caused to be inflicted, any cruel or unusual punishment upon any soldier, sailor, marine, employee or citizen of the United States, or who in any way violated the rules of civilized warfare.

Those who are, or may be disfranchised by the proposed Constitutional Amendment, known as the 14th Article, and the act of Congress passed March 2d, 1867; except such persons as shall be relieved of reconstruction proposed by Congress, and accepted the political equality of all men before the law; Provided, That the General Assembly shall have power to remove the disabilities enumerated in this last clause.

Those who shall have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, crimes punishable by law with imprisonment in the penitentiary, or bribery.

No idiot or insane person shall be permitted to register or vote in this State.

Sec. 3. All persons, before registering, must take and subscribe to the following oath:

I ——— do solemnly swear or affirm that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution and laws of this State; that I am not excluded from registering by any of the clauses in section two of this article; that I will never, directly or indirectly or aid in the secession of this State from the United States; that I will accept the civil and political equality of all men, and agree not to attempt to deprive any person or persons, on account of race or color, or previous condition of any political or civil right, privilge or immunity, enjoyed by any other class of men. And, furthermore, that I will not in any way injure or countenance in others any attempt to injure any person or persons, on account of past or present support of the government of the United States, the laws of the United States, or the principles of the political and civil equality of all men, or of opposition with any political party.

Dissolution.

The firm of Ross & Wilson has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due said firm will be collected by Ross, Watkins & Co. their successors who also assume all liabilities of the late firm of Ross & Wilson. ROSS & WILSON.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville, Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we can truly claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Agua Toddi is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure, as is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seabrook's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, also equalling the best English inks now used. We cannot understand why their remedies ought not as well be taken in the confidence of those for which they are recommended when they are recommended by the leading physicians of the country, and of a regular physician. Extract of a Letter from PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 13, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL: I send you $10 for Cedron Bitters. I have used them for Dyspepsia, and they have done me more good than any medicine I have ever used in my life. I have been afflicted with Dyspepsia for a very long time, and have suffered very much. I have used two bottles of your Cedron Bitters, and they have done me more good than any medicine I ever used. I recommend them to all who are afflicted with Dyspepsia. Yours truly,
A. L. NEAL.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 22, 1864.

I received the day following, from Lancaster, Kentucky:

DR. JOHN BULL: Please send me a bottle for my own use, one dozen of your Cedron Bitters. I have tried others, and find them all humbug. Yours respectfully,
G. W. BRINDLESMORE.

ANOTHER TESTIMONY.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Oct. 14, '64.

DR. JOHN BULL: We made an arrangement with your agent, July 20, 1864, for selling your Cedron Bitters. We sold one dozen and sent. We will find great trouble here more, without delay. We are selling them readily, and think they are one of the good purpose.
Yours truly,
DRS. HOGG & CROTHERS.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A Gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence,

JOHN B. OGDEN,
42 Cedar Street, New York.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dreadful disease Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription, FREE, by return mail, will please address

REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,
Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.

VICKSBURG, MISS., Oct. 8th, '67.

In consequence of the prevalence of yellow fever in the city of Vicksburg, we feel compelled by the duty we owe to ourselves, our families and employees, to suspend the preliminary distribution of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational & Manufacturing Aid Society from the 10th day of October, to the 2nd of November, 1867.

To give our patrons and the public at a distance the necessary time for renewal of Certificates, the third preliminary distribution will be drawn on November 26th, and the Grand Scheme, December 26th, 1867.

We trust that a kind and indulgent public will both endorse and approve of the short postponement.

Correspondents, and persons ordering certificates, are requested to direct their communications, to the Secretary at Meridian, Miss., to which place our office is temporarily removed, and authorized agent will remain at Vicksburg, to attend to any communications or orders for certificates.
W. D. LYLES,
President.

Want of Stamina.

CONSTITUTIONAL WEAKNESS.—EFFECT OF HOSTETTER'S BITTERS IN CASES OF GENERAL DEBILITY.

Malaria is impartial. On some of us she has bestowed stalwart frames, strong constitutions, iron nerves; on others, but little physical force, feeble constitutions, or nervous vigor. Let the feeble men heed the following: If they cannot become Samsons, they can, by the use of proper means, make up in a measure for the deficiencies of nature, and may perchance live as long and enjoy life as much as their more Herculean neighbors. Delicate machines require proper care, sometimes outlasts those of a more solid and ponderous structure. A fine watch will last longer than a steam engine of a thousand horse-power. The first object of the weak and fragile is, or should be, to acquire additional strength if possible. It is possible. It may be stated as a proved and established fact, that science has given to the world, in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vegetable invigorant, which permanently braces up and sustains the feeble physique, whether the lack of strength and stamina be an inherent defect or the result of exhausting causes.

If general debility is not a disease, it is something worse, viz: a condition which predisposes to disease, and succumb to all influences that produce disease. We are continually surrounded and beset, more or less, by infectious diseases. Neither the purest air or the purest water is perfectly free from them, localities where both are absolutely poisonous; how shall the weakly constitution and frail system resist their deadly influences, unaided by artificial means? If the BITTERS are the re-enforcing, vitalizing, sustaining preparation they are claimed to be, and on this head the testimony in their favor is overwhelming and incontrovertible—then it is absolutely folly and madness in any man or woman, suffering from physical weakness, not to resort to so potent a remedy. When an epidemic is prevailing, the system that best safeguards are a perfect digestion, firm nerves, and a wise employment of the means by which science has placed at the disposal of the public as antidotes against atmospheric infection. Many of the latter serves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Great Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished-for effect. I am using a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the sh'e t authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, I am accustomed to be extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. If I can get it upon easy terms I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is no crazy to the teachings and practice of agreat majority of the regular line of M. D's, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be ill-command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, most re pectfully,

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother.

Benton Barracks, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—D ar Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the bra ing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement for your use:

I was wounded about two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. He fore my release the wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist me. Have you more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in any thing else? I was raised in genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 3d, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson:

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. R. Johnson, was a prisoner in the hands of the Rebels in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhea and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York Ohio, and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurio s article. Please write writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will rec over.

Respectfully,
JENNIE JOHNSON.

DR. JOHN BULL,
Manufacturer and Vender of the Celebrated
Smith's Tonic Syrup!
OR
CHILLS & FEVER.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offere t to the public for the safe, certain, speedy, and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. In the valley of the Western and South-western country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, the world can whatever will fail to cure. The directions are strictly followed, and no fraud out. In a great many cases a single bottle has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case a sure certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. Usually, the medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Sinney Point, White Co., Ark., May 22 '68.
Dr. 'ohn Bull.—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Cedron Bitters, and gave them a trial. My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, and could get no relief from any thing else. He commenced on the Cedron Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Cle, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters have given them a great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines the follow ecially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, Tenn., or Richett & Neely.

Respectfully,
C. E. WALKER.

BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLD-WIDE PATRONS:

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and able physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he is about, and the letter he has seen fit to write in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

NOTICE TO MOTHERS.
DR. SEABROOK'S
Infant Soothing Syrup.

We have, by purchase of the original receipt, become the Proprietors of this valuable Medicine. We ask you to give it a trial, with an assurance that you will in future, discard all those nauseous and destructive mess, such as Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, Dower's Mixture, &c., combinations of a past and antiprogressive age, when it was thought this the more disguising the mixture of Morphine and Alcohol.

Use in the future only SEABROOK'S, a combination, quite up with the advancement of the age. Pleasant to take, harmless in its action, efficient and reliable in all cases. Invaluable in the following diseases:

SUMMER COMPLAINT, IRREGULARITY OF THE BOWELS, DENTIVANESS, TEETHING, &c.

Gives health to the child and rest to the mother.

We could furnish any quantity of certificates bearing evidence of its superior qualities, but prefer that our medicine should stand on its own merits, which it will do upon trial.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.
HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting it—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians of all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of the same have before failed to command the sanction of the faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain mercury or minerals, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and therefore injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation. This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to be a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bones, Habitual Costiveness, Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Female Complaints, Fever and Ague, Fits, all kinds of, Headache, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Scrofula, Worms, King's Evil.

Hurley's Ague Tonic,
—FOR—
PERFECTLY RELIABLE.

The only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever that is or can be depended upon. Hurley's Ague Tonic has been used by thousands cured by using it who had tried the most celebrated without benefit; but in no case has it failed to effect a cure.

Hurley's Ague Tonic

failed to effect a cure. All who have used it cheerfully tell their afflicted friends of it as a sure and certain cure for chills and fever. Any one suffering from the ills of life will cannot find their own use cet by sending to the drug store and having a bottle. It will be pleased to take compared with others, and will be certain to cure all cases of fever and ague or chills and fever and be lost to the proprietors.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:
It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, in matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have
Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingents expenses, about.....20
Total $255
After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.
COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600—adding for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.
Every man his own Physician.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
Holloway's Ointment.
DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of these organs. If debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and disturbed sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathise by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and from there, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.
ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM.
Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "sooth ing power" is to it to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.
BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.
Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful agent.
ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN.
Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are cured sound and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses most of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.
FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of females in every condition of health and station of life.
PILES AND FISTULA.
Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this ancient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunio-s,	Swelled Gland,
Burns,	Sore legs,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Sore Throats,
Gout,	Sores of all kinds,
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,
Mercurial Eruptions,	Sprains,
Piles,	Stiff Joints,
Rheumatism,	Tetter,
Ringworm,	Ulcers,
Salt Rheum,	Venereal Sores,
Scalds,	Wounds of all kinds,

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible in a Water mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.
☞ Sold at the manufactory of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world.
There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot and box.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of declining health, is anxious to sell his land on which he now resides. The tract contains eight hundred acres, with some four hundred and fifty in cott vation. It lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, about half way between Meridian and Enterprise, and nearly all good and productive Okitibbe bottom, and all level and in table for cultivation. If no disaster happens to the crop now growing, he will sell for the place what the crop will be worth The improvements are good and in good condition, and he is now building a new gin house and press, &c. It has a good outlet for stock on two sides, and a good range for cattle and hogs, and is altogether a pleasant and valuable loca ion.

He is also authorized to sell 240 acres of good level land adjoining, with about 100 acres in a good state of cultivation, with improvements, &c. belonging to it. Both of the above tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to suit purchasers, and the subscriber will divide his tract to effect a sale, if not sold as a whole before the 1st of December next. He will also dispose of several mules and horses and a quantity of corn. There is a competent supply of good laborers with their families on the premises and anxious to remain. For further information apply to me on the premises or address me at Enterprise, Mississippi.

DR. COUDEN

OF LOUISVILLE,

WHO has acquired great celebrity in Louisville and throughout the State, by his great success in the treatment of

CANCERS,

The Doctor removes CANCER WITHOUT PAIN OR THE USE OF THE KNIFE, and no addition to this he treats all

Chronic Diseases

Dr. Couden can be consulted at the Nelson House, or at his office, South east corner of Main and 3d Streets.

Post Office Box 678.

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. L. COUDEN, Louisville, Ky.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my little son, only 3½ years old, who was so terribly afflicted with a cancer, that we thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The cancer was very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character and a rapid growth, and had been with him for about three years. The Doctor made an application which he confined but a short time, which did no, appear to produce but comparatively little pain to my son. The application appeared to leave the cancer in a dead state, and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition. It has now been more than six months since it was entirely free from pain and is now perfectly well; and my little son is in very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases cured by Dr. Couden's treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all those who are unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons thus afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe it is treatment to be less pain of and far superior to any other physician in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleyville, Henry county, Tennessee.

C. S. PAYN.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. S. Payn, and know that his little son was severely treated by Dr. W. L. Couden, of the city and from what we are able to judge from the appearance of the child, it was surely a very remarkable success.

The Negro Conventions in the South—Their Effects on the North.

Alabama has led the van in the reconstruction of the United States by the negro. Other States are to follow until, under a glorious negro rule, the ten Southern divisions of our republic are bound and given over to Africa to be governed according to the Haytien style. The principles of the conventions which frame these negro governments are shaped by the most unprincipled of all our demagogues.—Without a dollar of interest in the country they stir the phable black man to passion against the white, and, while moulding the mass to suit radical aims, sow the seed of an unavoidable war of caste. They do not fail to promise the negro all that his barbarous imagination may desire—freedom from labor, a division of property, and even the government of the country. Thus, for transient political purposes they force the whole sun-burned brain of Ethiopia to the same focus, and teach it to expect what it can never realize while there is a Southern or a Northern sword left to defend the blood—blood—blood originally purer than that of Africa, and purified still more by long centuries of arduous labor towards the summit of civilization; blood now, in consequence of contamination, to blood retrograde and naturally barbaric in its impulses.

In the face of all this we see power centralizing in the South in the hands of that element which, according to all history, is a threat against any civilization with which it comes in contact. The platform of the radical republican party of Louisiana is a fair exponent of what threatens us in all the Southern States by raising up a power ten times more destructive and nationally demoralizing than any that has heretofore existed. That platform states:—

"We as a party insists on perfect equality, without distinction of race or color, in the right to vote and enter the jury box without any education or property qualification being required." Again:

"The radical republican party of Louisiana will support no man for office who will not openly and boldly pledge himself to make an equal distribution among white and colored alike of all offices to which he may have power of appointment."

These are the mad principles which, at a terrible cost, we urge upon one half of our territorial extent, thus threatening its complete desolation. Were it the destruction of only one-half of the country we might, in our powerful stamina, live under it; but the radical programme means more than this—it means the draining of every energy of the North to support the one grand black idea, and, at any cost, forcing the negro down the throat of the nation. We struggle under it, we bleed, we expend our millions, we tax our people to the last feather's weight we fairly writhe beneath the terrible effort to swallow a dose that would choke a mammoth mammoth as flowers after a severe frost. Music was his invariable solace at such times. Indeed, Luther did not hesitate to say that, after theology, music was the first of arts. "Music," said he, "is the art of the prophets; it is the only other art which, like theology, can calm the agitation of the soul, and put the devil to flight." Next to music, if not before it, Luther loved children and flowers. That great, gifted man had a heart as tender as a woman's.

HORSES' FEET REQUIRE MOISTURE.—Nineteenths of the diseases which happen to the hoofs and ankles of the horse, are occasioned by standing on dry floors of the stable. Many persons seem to think, from the way they keep their horses, that the foot of the horse was never made for moisture, and that, if possible, it should be beneficial if they had cow hide boots to put on every time they went out. Nature designed the foot for moist ground—the earth of the woods and valleys—at the same time a covering was given to protect it from stones and stumps. In shoeing, it is well to make the forward shoes long, and the toe-calks short and standing under, and set them back as far as convenient, in order to let the foot rest over as soon as possible, to get out of the way in setting the shoes on the hind feet, reverse the order to keep them back to give time for the forward feet to get out of the way. Make the toe-calks high and the half-calks low. Blood the fore feet back; then he will travel like other horses. This is essential in all cases, for far too many horses have been made cripples. Great pains should be taken to shoe all horses in setting the shoes, and it is evident that too many of our blacksmiths do not fully understand making the shoe and paring the hoof.

THE BED OF THE OCEAN.—It is stated that soundings have been made in the North Atlantic to so great an extent that it is now possible to map out its bed quite accurately. This ocean is a long trough of varying depth, extending probably from pole to pole. Its bed follows the general structure of the land. Here and there rocky peaks, like that of Teneriffe, or huge mountains of sand, such as the grand banks of Newfoundland, reach up not beyond the soundings. Between Ireland and New foundland there exists a remarkable plain, known as the telegraphic plateau, which is evidently a continuation of the great watershed which, between latitude 40 and 50 north, south, surrounds the north, and divides the waters flowing north from those flowing south.

The Case of Col. W. H. McCardle

The trial of this case on Habeas Corpus before Judge Hill commenced at Jackson on last Thursday. The following is the return to the writ of Habeas Corpus:

"Respectfully returned to the Judges of the Court with Wm. H. McCardle, who is held in custody by me, in compliance with the orders of Major General E. O. C. Ord, Commanding 5th Military District, on the charges herewith submitted. Said McCardle has been arraigned and is being tried by a competent court organized in compliance with an act of Congress of March 2, 1867, and the acts supplementary thereto.

(Signed,) ALVIN C. GILLEM,
Bv't. Maj. Gen. Comdg'

A. B. Burwell, of Vicksburg, and Maj. Swain represent Gen. Gillem, and Messrs. Brooke, Marshall and Sharkey defend Col. McCardle. The case was argued at considerable length on Friday and Saturday.

The Vicksburg Republican publishes a long list of charges and specifications that have been preferred against Col. McCardle, for his editorials in the Times, upon which the military propose to try him by a Court Martial. This infamous proceeding is what is meant by a "Competent Court" in the return to the writ.

The following are the charges preferred against Col. McCardle:

Charge 1st.—Disturbance of the public peace in violation of the laws of Congress, passed March 2d, 1867, entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States and the acts supplementary thereto.

Charge 2d.—Inciting insurrection, disorder and violence in violation of the laws of Congress, passed March 2d, 1867, entitled an act to provide, &c., and acts supplementary thereto.

Charge 3d.—Libel.

Charge 4th.—Impeding the reconstruction of the Southern States under the law of Congress, passed March 2d, 1867, and the law supplementary thereto.

The Corinth Republican.

The Corinth News thus chronicles the demise of the Republican:

"The Corinth Republican has done with its sublunary things, and has gone to render up its stewardship before the dread river Styx. A short time since it was full of life and vigor; but when the electric news from the North and of glorious old Tishomingo pronounced against the heresies it had espoused its disgust was unbearable, and it yielded up the ghost. Peace to its ashes. Let it and its error be enveloped in oblivion. The Proprietors were sincere in their convictions, and are entitled to all the respect due to honest politicians. They however, followed strange gods, joined in with the enemies of constitutional government, and they have received the indignant rebuke of their countrymen."

There are only two Radical papers left in Mississippi, the Vicksburg Republican and Meridian Chronicle, neither of which receive any patronage or support from the people of the State.

They were both established by "act of Congress" and will last as long as they are supplied with rations in the shape of Government, printing and no longer.

SAD CASUALTY.—A YOUNG LADY KILLED IN JUMPING FROM A CARRIAGE.—On last Saturday evening as Mrs. Gillespie and daughter was returning home from church at Belmont, Sumter Co., the pole of the carriage came out and the mules took fright and started off in a run, which frightened Mrs. Gillespie and her daughter and they both attempted to save themselves by jumping out of the carriage. Miss Annie Gillespie, in jumping out, struck her head against an embankment and broke her neck, her mother was badly injured, but hopes are entertained of her recovery. The gentleman that was driving the carriage at the time did not know that they had jumped out until he had stopped the mules—which was done without damage to any part of the carriage, and had they kept their seats they would have been unharmed. Miss Annie was found lying on her face just as she fell, which shows that she was killed instantly.—Demopolis Eye, Nov. 20.

FOUND GUILTY.—The Federal soldier, Gallagher, who shot Mr. Wear, in our office, on the night of the 14th inst., was tried yesterday, and found guilty. Sentence not yet pronounced.—Clarion.

The Fruits of Southern Radicalism.—The Alabama Convention.

The action of this body has proved that it is composed of the basest and most vindictive materials. They propose to extend disfranchisement so as to exclude more than half the white people of the State from any future participation in public affairs. An infamous and disgraceful oath is required of every voter, and if this should not prove sufficient to keep the offices in the hands of the Radicals, the Legislature will be empowered to make still further exclusions. The Reconstruction laws of Congress were passed in a spirit of proscription and intolerance, they have been executed with the grossest injustice to the whites, and with a view to build up the Radical Party; yet with all this, and a black majority of fifteen thousand in Alabama, the miserable wretches who compose this Convention believe their power in the State is only be maintained by disfranchising till more of the white population. A proposition to pay the blacks wages from January, 1863 the date the of Emancipation Proclamation to the surrender was received with great favor. Another to confiscate part of the Selma and Meridian Railroad for the use of public schools was introduced and considered legitimate. And these rascals, a worse set of villains than can be found in the State Penitentiary undertakes to make a Constitution for the commonwealth of Alabama. They are the "loyal" men who are to lay the foundation of the new State and restore it to the Union. The programme of the Alabama Convention will no doubt be carried out by the other Southern conventions soon to assemble. While in the Northern States, there are many men of enlightened and liberal views who belong to the Republican party, the Southern Radicals wherever they have shown themselves are narrow minded, intolerant, despotic, and ready to inflame the negroes to the disfranchisement, plunder and robbery of the Southern whites. Without patriotism, without intelligence, without culture, outcasts from respectable society, they herd with the African to use his vote to persecute their own race and color. This miserable faction has control of the different State Conventions. We have nothing to hope from them. A united, resolute and persistent effort to defeat the ratification of the Constitutions they propose is all that is left us. The rigors of military rule, the devilish machinations of a fanatical Congress, are preferable to the barbarity of a negro despotism. If we can defeat those Constitutions we place ourselves in a condition to be benefitted by the reaction now going on in the North. If we fail, we may be ruined for years to come. We hope to hear no more of the policy of inaction. We fear we have already lost heavily by that course. We must make up our minds to fight the rottenness and villainy of Radicalism wherever it shows itself. Organize against it, canvass against it, vote against it. We are not without hope in Mississippi. Our white population, whether Northern or Southern, are nearly united and are becoming more united every day. This of itself will insure the destruction of Southern Radicalism at no late day. Disfranchisement can only be temporary, and will make the party odious. It will inevitably be succeeded by popular liberty, the death-blow to this infamous faction. When that day comes the few miserable whites who are now allied with the blacks to persecute their race "will call upon the mountains to hide themselves" from the wrath of a people whose feelings they have outraged and whose resentment they have provoked.

The Enterprise Star in noticing the STONEWALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, who are establishing a cotton factory about three miles from Enterprise says:

The building is of brick, 160 feet long by 54 feet wide and two stories high. There are two engines from Patterson, New Jersey, of fifty horse power each. The contract for the machinery of these engines was closed on the 25th of last March, and, as is the industry and enterprise of M. M. Brooks, the President of the Company, that these engines are now in their proper place nearly ready for operation. Two boilers are in their place and a vacancy left for the third should it be needed.

The company will start operations with 2,000 spindles, and looms may be added should they seem it desirable. The machinery is all new, manufactured for this company.

The Reconstruction Convention of Georgia meets at Atlanta on the 9th of December.

TESTIMONIALS from Government officials, authors of distinguished reputation, analytical chemists, well known physicians, captains of steamships, clergymen, members of the bar, merchants, miners, heads of public institutions, &c., &c., are received by the proprietors of the Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, and of its popular appendage—Red Jacket Bitters.

We find the following General order in a late number of the Holly Springs Reporter:

Head Qur's 4th Military Dis't,
(MISSISSIPPI AND ARKANSAS.)
OFFICE OF CIVIL AFFAIRS.
Holly Springs, Miss., Nov. 8, '67.
Circular No. 13.

The following instructions of Alex. M. Clayton, Judge of the circuit court of Marshall county, Mississippi, in the case of replevin for rent, in accordance with which the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiffs, are promulgated for the information and guidance of all concerned;

"If the jury believe from the evidence that Charles O'Brian, the husband and father of the plaintiffs, was a denizen by profession, and that the instruments said for were the property of said O'Brian at his death, and the plaintiffs are the widow and children of said decendent, the property in said instruments, to the value of two hundred and fifty dollars, vested in plaintiffs on the death of said decendent, discharged from any liability for the debts of decedent, or for rent, due by decedent."

[Signed] G. B. MYESS, Clerk.

Sheriffs are hereby informed that under the above decision, which will be sustained until reversed by competent authority, all property of this character, from seizure or sale, under execution or attachment, by the terms of the Homestead Exemption Act, and Article 280, chapter 61, Revised code of Mississippi, is exempt from seizure, and sale by distress or other warrant, for rent.

By command of Brevet Major General Ord. O. D. GREENE, Assistant Adjutant General.

THE POLLARD-WISE DIFFICULTY.—It appears that Mr. John P. Wise, a son, some twenty years of age, of General Wise, left Richmond on Wednesday night for this city, where Mr. Pollard has taken up his residence, for the alleged purpose of chastising Mr. P. for the language used in reference to his father. He was accompanied by his cousin, Captain George Douglas Wise. These gentlemen reached here yesterday morning, and about half-past eleven o'clock repaired for the Maltby House, where Pollard was stopping, but failing to meet him they were in the act of leaving the hotel for the purpose of seeking him elsewhere, when Mr. Pollard, who had been forewarned, was seen coming down Pratt street, accompanied by his wife who shortly before left the hotel for the purpose of informing him. On coming to the ladies' entrance (which was on the side on which they approached) he was met by Mr. Wise at the door of the entrance, and Mr. Pollard, armed and forewarned, walked up to Mr. John P. Wise, with his hand on his pistol. But few words were exchanged, when both parties drew pistols. Several shots were fired, but the only one hit was Pollard, who received a ball in the right arm, near the elbow from the single barrel derringer of John Preston Wise, the latter not having any too dangerous wound. As soon as Pollard returned the fire of John P. Wise, he turned upon George D. Wise, who had not fired, and delivered two shots, one of which entered his leg, but which was about to attack him; these shots were returned by only George D. Wise. Pollard subsequently fired several shots, as did also the Wises. Deputy Marshal Gray and policemen Costello and Conroy then arrived on the scene and at once took the Messrs. Wise into custody, and conveyed them to the central police station, and Pollard was taken into the Maltby House, where his wound was properly dressed.—Baltimore Sun.

DISTRESSING AFFAIR.—It is our province to chronicle one of the most melancholy and shocking events that ever occurred in this vicinity. A most estimable and accomplished lady. Mrs. Sarah F. Pope, committed suicide at early dawn on Saturday last, by jumping into the river. She was heard by servants leaving her room about daylight, and nothing more was heard of her until several hours afterwards, when discovered by parties in search, in the water near Long's Ware-house. The deceased was an Imperial Jury, at the time of her death. For several days her relations had observed her mind to be wandering and her spirits sunk in melancholy; to such an extent as to excite some alarm, and to cause her son to be sent for on one or two occasions.

The causes that led to her insanity we do not know. Mrs. Pope was a true lady in every sense of the word. To the gentleness of voice and beaming that ever marked her intercourse with all, she added the still higher attribute of an unaffected Christain piety; her life shone with the life of a pure heart, overflowing with kind thoughts and charitable deeds. In those accomplishments of mind that give delight to the social circle, she had few superiors; and looking back to what she was and how she was loved and what she might have continued to be, we conclude that the motives leading to the fearful deed, must have been strong indeed to cut short a life she fell was one of usefulness and beauty, and which motives, even did it know them the idle gossip of the world could not estimate.

The good God who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," will comfort the afflicted son and mourning relatives. We know, alas! that human words cannot do it.—Columbus Index.

SWORD, TORCH AND COMPASS.—"The sword to kill, the torch to burn, and the compass to divide out the beautiful lands of the South." This is the compact language used against a Southern people.—Shall we calmly submit, and permit these making use of such language to prescribe and prepare all of our Pills, Bitters, Tonics, Blood Purifiers, Cough Syrups, Chill Medicines, &c., &c., that the people of these lines are prepared and offered by our own "Sith and kin?" The Great Southern Proprietary Co. are made in the South, and for the Southern people, and solicit your patronage.—Red Jacket Bitters.

In the Circuit Court of Hinds County.

Decision of Hon. R. A. Hill, Of the U. S. District Court on the Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus in the case of McCardle.

In this cause, the Writ of Habeas Corpus, the great American Magna Charta of personal liberty has been applied for, granted and obeyed. The Writ and return, present to the Court questions of the highest importance, relative to the rights of the citizens, the supremacy and majesty of the Constitution and Laws, and the peace and safety of society.

The argument on both sides have been made by counsel whose experience and ability are equal to those of the bar of any other State, and have been conducted with that calmness and earnestness which questions of such vast importance demand. It now remains for me to pronounce the judgment of the Court, according to the solemn convictions made upon my mind after a most careful consideration of the Constitution and laws, aided by the argument.

The petition alleges that the petitioner has been arrested and is held in confinement, by Maj. Gen. A. C. Gillem, commanding the U. S. forces in the State of Mississippi, in pursuance to an order issued by Maj. Gen. E. O. C. Ord, commanding the 5th Military District, who claims authority for so doing under what is known as the Reconstruction Acts of the Congress of the United States; that as he is informed, the charges against him for which the arrest was made, are, that he has erected the editorial articles called the construction Acts, in this, that as the editor of the Times, a newspaper published in the city of Jackson, he has misled his readers not to vote in the late election, or if they did, to vote against a Convention; that his said arrest and imprisonment is in contravention of the constitution and laws of the United States.

The return avers that the petitioner was arrested, and is held in custody, upon charges preferred against him, and upon which he is now on trial before a military commissioner by his counsel moves the court for his discharge for the reason that the grounds set forth in the petition for his arrest are insufficient cause for his arrest and imprisonment, which motion is resisted by respondent's counsel. Two questions are presented:

1st. Does the act of Congress, approved March 2, 1867, which by its terms authorizes the Commanding General of this District to prevent disorder, to protect the citizens in their persons and property, or arrest and punish disturbers of the peace and criminals, and if in his opinion it is necessary for that purpose, to constitute Military Commissions or tribunals, so far as those powers are attempted to be conferred, is in contravention of the United States.

2nd. Does this act of Congress confer upon the Commanding General the right to cause the petitioner to be arrested and put upon his trial before said Military Commission for the causes set forth in the answer and return.

The solution of these questions is one of vast importance to the country at large, as well as those immediately concerned—At the outset it may be well to state that this Court has no power to pass judgment upon any political question, arising upon any of these acts. The only jurisdiction which this or any other judicial tribunal possesses is, to expound and enforce the laws. To this department of the Government is entrusted the writ of habeas corpus by means of which the citizen, no matter what his position or condition may be, is protected from illegal arrest, imprisonment and oppression, no matter by whom made, and so far as the citizens of this State are concerned, and the power conferred by law in this Court, or either of the Judges thereof, the power to grant this remedy, is as ample and complete, as in any State of the Union. The powers, however, are limited by law, 1st. That the writ is necessary for the exercise of the jurisdiction of this Court; 2d, where parties are held in custody under the law of the United States; 3d, where the prisoner is not a citizen of the United States, and is liberated from such arrest contrary to a treaty made between the United States and his own government; 4th, where the prisoner is held in custody in contravention of the constitution, laws or treaties of the United States. It is under the last section that the writ of this Court is now invoked.

It may as well say now, that in all cases of offence against the acts of Congress, of which any Court of the United States held in this State has jurisdiction, the Court having the jurisdiction, can alone try and punish the offender, and Congress has no power to vest any other authority upon any other tribunal; certainly not upon any military commission, nor can such power be conferred upon any such tribunal for the violation of any State law in time of peace, in any State in which the courts are living under a constitution, made by the citizens of the State, and laws made in pursuance thereto, enforced by officers selected by such people in pursuance thereto, or in any of the Territories where Congress has provided proper Civil Tribunals. When the constitution was made, it wisely provided as a means of protection to the citizen that he should not be tried by a military or executive power, but it was upon the presumption that in every State there was an independent judiciary established for the trial of such offence under the constitution and laws of the State. Hence it becomes important for us to ascertain if we can, whether or not there is now such a civil tribunal in the State of Mississippi.

Prior to the 9th of January, 1861, there was, but upon that day a body of men, assuming to act for all the people in the State, passed an Ordinance by which they claimed to sever the State from all the States that had before, at the time, subsisted between the State and the Federal Union, and claimed complete independence of the Union and under no obligations to it, and denied to the Federal government any right to exercise any jurisdiction in its borders. To this body, the Executive, Legislative and most, at least of the Judicial officers of the State adhered, and soon after commenced in open hostility against the powers of the Federal government, and combining with other bodies of other States, commenced and carried on for more than four years, one of the most gigantic and formidable wars known in modern history, until in April, 1865, this opposition was subdued by the forces of arms of the Federal Government. Admitting that all these proceedings were unauthorized by the Constitution of the United States; were contrary thereto, and consequently void, and in this position I fully concur,—practically it may be the constitution and laws as they existed before these proceedings commenced, as mere frame work, as a piece of machinery, had any power to move it. There were no officers under them to execute any powers given by them, and the officers who had assumed to act after the commencement of the rebellion, were displaced by the conquering power, and the people of the State left without any practical civil government. It is true that the constitution and laws might have been, remitted to the hands of those elected and qualified, and who were among the forces of the conquering power, when the conquest became complete, but this was not done, and the people of the State were left without any civil government. It is true that the constitution of slavery, but this, no department of the Government has the power to change. It is true that the Congress of the United States has the power to guarantee to the citizens of each State a republican form of government, but this is a political question, and not a judicial one, and is to be determined by the political power of the Government, and not by the judicial power. It is true that the Congress of the United States has the power to admit Senators and Representatives from the States, but this is a political question, and not a judicial one, and is to be determined by the political power of the Government, and not by the judicial power. It is true that the Congress of the United States has the power to guarantee to the citizens of each State a republican form of government, but this is a political question, and not a judicial one, and is to be determined by the political power of the Government, and not by the judicial power. It is true that the Congress of the United States has the power to admit Senators and Representatives from the States, but this is a political question, and not a judicial one, and is to be determined by the political power of the Government, and not by the judicial power.

The Provisional Governor, by proclamation, ordered an election to be held for delegates to convention of the people of the State, to make such amendments to the Constitution as they deemed necessary under the changed condition of the State, and for the qualifications of electors and delegates were prescribed, and which were unknown to the Constitution and laws before existing, but which were deemed necessary to guard against another attempt to disrupt the Union. The Convention assembled and adopted what were deemed to be the necessary amendments. Under it elections were held for all the offices, and legislature assembled upon the discharge of their respective official functions.

The President in his message to the first session of the 39th Congress, stated what had been done, and recommended the enactment of such measures as the Government in which he alone is vested political or legislative power.?

Congress, however, refused to give it sanction and set about devising some other plan to enable the citizens of the State to re-organize the government, and to resume practical relations to the Union. Whether or not Congress has acted wisely, or unwisely, is not a question which can be inquired into by this Court. The legal affairs of the State were mostly left in the hands of the military commander, the functions of office until the passage of the acts in question, and all the civil affairs were placed in the hands of the military commander assigned to the 4th district, and by which, it is claimed, all the civil and judicial government exists in this State; that the local government then existing should be deemed provisional only, and subject to the control of the Federal Government; that the military commander for the purpose of executing the powers vested in him might remit the trial of offenders to the local tribunals, or if deemed necessary for the due arrest and punishment of disturbers of the peace and criminals, constitute military commissions or tribunals; and further, that he should take the prescribed steps for the election of delegates to a convention of the people of the State for the purpose of forming or amending the constitution, and the re-establishment of a constitutional civil government of the State, and a resumption of the exercise of all their rights as one of the constituent States in the Union. The powers thus intended to be conferred upon the commander of the district, by the act in purpose though differing in detail from those conferred upon Gov. Sharkey by the appointment of Provisional Governor.

As has already been remarked, this Court has no control whatever over the political questions involved in the case or the other. The only question on which this Court can pass is, whether or not there is now such a civil tribunal in the State to which those charged with offences against the laws of the United States can be remitted for trial, and if not whether or not Congress has power to confer upon the commander with the power to constitute military commissions to try such offenders is in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

It has already been said that the legality of the judicial tribunals constituted by the provisional authority, and by the highest judicial sanction of the State been held as legal, not by means of any express provision of the Constitution, but upon a principle; in this it is conferred by Congress upon a commanding officer of the Army. If it is the duty of the government of the United States in any one or all of its departments to protect citizens in the free rights of person and provide for the punishment of disorder and crime in the absence of any penalty prescribed by law the choice of the means must be made by the power conferring such authority.

Taking cognizance of the federal courts, cannot come to that clear conviction of mind necessary under the decision made in the case of Ex parte Milligan, reported in act repugnant to the constitution; and 4 Wall. 2. That conviction and state of mind it would be my duty so to declare it.

The remaining question to be considered is, whether the return and charges stated in the return under the acts authorize the commanding general to cause the petitioner to be arrested and put upon his trial before the military commission?

It is insisted that the arrest was in violation of the 5th article of the constitution, which guarantees the freedom of speech and the press. I have no hesitancy in saying that the freedom of both are as fully guaranteed to the citizens of this as of any other State in the Union, to discuss any question in its bearings upon any political acts of those intrusted with either the making or execution of the laws; but this does not authorize the use of the press either, and leaves the speaker or publisher liable for any penalty prescribed by law for such abuse. It is admitted that the publications are libelous, and that under the laws of this State would subject the petitioner to indictment, and if found guilty, to punishment by fine and imprisonment; but it is insisted that this conviction can only be had by a jury, and the judgment pronounced by a proper Judge in the constituted courts and laws of the State, but we have seen that none such exists, except those equally subject to the control of the military power in the State, and under the act it is left with him to choose the tribunal.

I am therefore constrained to come to the conclusion that the offence is one upon which he is subject to arrest and trial before the military tribunal. This is an offence against the public peace, one of those subjects which the Commander is enjoined to preserve.

Any conservator of the peace for the public safety is authorized to interpose to prevent the commission of a crime, may arrest the party. No one, however, can question the right of the military power to enforce the laws, and the law must be in force before the act is committed. I take it that the military power has the right to exist at least those in force before the attempted act of secession, are still the laws of the State, and that the offence is against

Remember that you can get the Weekly Gazette from now till January 1869 for Two dollars, or the Semi-Weekly for the same time for Four dollars. The events of next year will be of great importance to the Southern peo le, and every citizen should keep well informed of what is transpiring. If you have a neighbor who takes no paper, read him our terms and use your influence to add his name to our list.

IS OUR NEW QUARTER.—The friends of the Gazette and those having business with us are informed that we can be found in our new two story office in future, adjoining the store of W. W. Shearer, on Johnson Avenue.

Country produce will be received at the highest market price in payment of subscriptions or advertisements due this office.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Mr. Bozeman, of Lexington, Miss., will preach in the Baptist Church, this (Wednesday) evening at 7 o'clock.

INCENDIARISM.—We regret to learn that the Meridian Brewery, located on the outskirts of this city, was destroyed by fire on yesterday morning. From all the evidences it is reduced to almost a certainty that it was the work of an incendiary. All the buildings were consumed, involving a loss of about $5,000.

PAYNE'S SALOON.—We are under obligations to our friend Payne for a specimen of his finest Havanna cigars, chewing tobacco, old Bourbon Whiskey and imported French Brandy, ever brought to this market. Mr. Payne has long borne the reputation of keeping the first brands of such articles, and has done more than any one man in our midst toward building up a first-class saloon. Perfection is an art greatly admired by him, and in order to carry it out he deals exclusively in the genuine. It is unnecessary for us to say that Mr. Payne has a large lot on hand of which we have only had a sample, and if you ever have occasion to call on the quantity or quality, just give him a call.

BANK NOTICE.—By reference to our advertising columns will be found a notice from C. H. Williams, President Meridian Savings Institution, which will be read with interest by all. We look upon this institution as one of the first in importance in our midst, and it would not be saying too much if we expressed our belief that it is one of our best investments now offered capitalists. Mr. Williams deserves great credit for the energy displayed in planting such an institution in our midst.

On the 1st of December, we understand a winter schedule will go into effect on the Mobile and Ohio railroad. Trains will pass here about 12 and 2 o'clock at night. A slight alteration will probably be made in the schedule of the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad about the same time.

SHARP NOTICE.—In this morning's paper will be found two advertisements from the shaving fraternity—one from Dred Finley, who has removed his stand to Johnson Avenue, and one from William Wilson who still continues to shave and hair the public at his old stand in the basement of the Jones House.

The Tupelo North Mississippian has been enlarged and otherwise improved.—Mr. R. J. Smith the enterprising publisher deserves a liberal support from Lee and the adjoining counties.

RETURNED.—Major Thos. H. Norton, our popular Post Commander, who went West a few weeks ago on a "sick furlough" returned Sunday morning improved in health.

On Saturday the third grand drawing of the Mississippi and Society takes place at Vicksburg. Chadwick, on Front street, is the Agent, and will accommodate those wishing to invest with certificates.

We learn by a private letter from Okolona, that a negro has been arrested as the guilty party who assassinated Mr. Ralls near that place last week. It appears that Mr. Ralls had a difficulty with this negro the day before his murder, and that the assassination was to have taken place on that day.

A Democratic Legislature is reported as a certainty in Louisiana, the election on Monday, between two Republicans. As yet we have not heard the cause of the result.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Robert Love, son of Judge Love, of Kemper county, while attempting to break a young horse to the saddle, was thrown off, and his head hanging in the stirrup, was dragged by the horse the whole distance of the road. His body was terribly mangled when found. He died shortly after reaching home.

Agricultural Meeting.

AT MERIDIAN, SATURDAY, DEC. 7th.

We have been solicited to call a meeting of the citizens, farmers and mechanics, of Lauderdale county, to convene at Meridian on Saturday, December 7th, for the purpose of taking into consideration the momentous question of labor. Having realized the importance of this meeting heretofore, we shall now proceed to a practical effort of having the matter brought before the people in order that something may be done for the advancement of the planting and mechanical interests.

We take pleasure in stating that Prof. Thos. S. Guthright, of the Summerville Institute, will be present on the occasion and deliver a lecture on the important subjects. If the people will aid us in securing a large attendance, and manifest an interest in the matter as we know they all feel an interest, much good may result therefrom.

Remember the day and come out, and bring your friends. Times are too hard for a barbecue, but perhaps the meeting may insure one next summer.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Tuesday morning.—Two cases before his honor this morning.

Wm. Booker Preston, freedman, charged with assaulting his wife with a knife. Booker thought he had a right to rule his family, &c., but his honor did not approve of the boot style, being satisfied that the wife got the boot in that case fined him $10.

The case of Daniel Scott, freedman, charged with having stolen clothes in his possession to the value of $60. Daniel said he got them from some other parties who were not here. But the evidence had a tendency to show that there is perhaps a little squad of Daniel's stripe not far from here. We hope our police will have them all gathered up by the time Circuit Court comes on. Daniel was held over for his appearance before that honorable body at its next term.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Commissioner Wells' report shows when cotton was taxed three cents, the price was forty cents; when taxed two and a half cents, the price was twenty-five cents. Cotton tax was called for, and only defended on the ground of necessity; and to be repealed when the continuance should prove a serious impediment to home production or undesirable stimulus to foreign production. These contingences are now imminent, the value of competing cotton has been increased by the improvements made for working it and more care in handling, and improved seed yielding better stapled cotton. Therefore it would be proper to tax cotton formerly bore in relation of one-half to two-thirds, it now bears the relation of two-thirds to three-quarters the value of American, while a portion of the crop is fully equal to Middling Uplands for heavy fabrics. Despite the data showing that the present tax is equal to a premium or at least fifty per cent on India cotton. In some authorities, it is alleged to be even greater.

After quoting statistics of former years the report proceeds:

In considering the subject of the production of cotton in the United States, with reference to the influence of the tax, it is desirable to take a large rather than a small estimate of the crop, because if we assume, therefore, the product of the year to be 2,750,000 bales of 400 pounds each.—If from this we deduct one million bales for home consumption, and for an addition to the small domestic stock to be carried over, we have one million seven hundred and fifty thousand bales available for export, or two millions if the crop should prove to be three thousand bales, estimated at four hundred pounds each. If, now, other countries shall produce as much cotton as in 1860, and there is no evidence as yet, of approachable decrease in the quantities from other countries than the United States, estimated in bales of four hundred pounds each, 2,485,000 bales, making a total available cotton supply to Europe of 4,610,000 bales. Such a supply will be equal to that of the year 1860, when there was undoubtedly a surplus. But of this quantity the United States will now furnish less than forty-seven per cent, instead of eighty-five per cent. In the year referred to. In short, under the stimulus of high prices, the world has produced more cotton than it can consume at the prices of the day.

To cheapen prices may greatly extend the consumption after recovery from the first shock of so great a change; but in the fall of prices there is no limit to disaster, resting upon the higher prices which invited its outlay, is to a very great extent, and for the time lost. Even if the American crop was in its supremacy, the average price of Surat cotton in Liverpool for the twenty years from 1841 to 1860 ranged from 7d. to 12d. per pound.—When it was 3d. in 1845, the import to Great Britain was only 1,250,000 bales.—When it was 12d., in 1857, the import was 3,000,000 bales. Thus, it appears that the price regulated the quantity imported, and neither the import to Europe nor the export from India was any measure of the production of that mysterious country, though its export, in annual average, had been only about 500,000 bales, and much of that to China.

When the American war made its sudden call for cotton in 1861 and '62, it contributed more than 1,000,000 bales that season. There is no evidence that there was any larger or more successful planting that year than previous, only that prices called it out and the stock left for consumption was so much the less, doubtless in the succeeding years. Cotton planting in India was increased, as elsewhere, but the stimulus was of wonderful and most effective prices to the producers and forwarders.

It is, however, safe to presume that there has always, at least in modern days, been a latent capacity in the country to produce upon the market an extra and perhaps unexpected half million of bales of cotton in any year when the price should offer sufficiently large profits, and an equal capacity to consume at home the whole production when at so low prices that the cost of delivering it to Europe or China. Since the completion of many hundred miles of railway in India, that power of adding promptly to the world's supply of cotton has been greatly increased. It therefore becomes evident that low prices for cotton must be anticipated for a considerable period, during which the consumption will increase to 3,000,000 bales, and the Committee believe that the United States will not again supply of far the largest part of the world's consumption of cotton, as it has done in the past. In America we have the means of producing cotton at a low price, and the Committee believe that the tax should be repealed.

The remainder of the report of this committee, not heretofore made public, is as follows: Having carefully observed what has been done and left undone by other nations, the Committee present the following conclusions:

1st. That cotton growing in the Southern States, if untaxed, can be conducted profitably and successfully as against all competition elsewhere.

2d. That, if burdened by a tax sufficient to pay the interest on the debt, and for its collection, it cannot, at present, if ever, be successfully prosecuted.

3d. That it is peculiar to our people in all its details, it is the only industry immediately available and practicable to the great body of the laboring population of the South for the profitable employment of surplus labor, that is, beyond the necessities of crops for subsistence, in the production of something saleable and exchangeable, whereby wealth can be replaced; and

4th. That the importance of a large production of cotton as the chief export of the country, in adjusting balances of trade and exchanges, and especially in its bearing upon the future position of the public debt so largely held and to be held abroad, cannot well be overstated, and so far transcends the value of any single tax that to preserve the latter at the cost of losing the former, would be "a penny worth of wisdom to a pound of folly." The whole amount of internal revenue derived from the tax on raw cotton for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867, was $24,769,078 80, and although this sum comprises nearly all the revenue derived from the South, on section of the country, and constitutes an amount that can ill be spared from the Treasury, yet, respectfully but earnestly does the Commissioner, has no hesitation in recommending the immediate passage by Congress of an act repealing the entire cotton tax upon raw cotton, and the corresponding existing duty on imported cotton: in the same to take effect from the 1st proximo.

As yet, but a small quantity of the new crop of cotton has been marketed, but, if the repealing act be delayed to a later period, it will evidently work injustice to those producers, who may be forced to send their crops forward, in advance of the less the removal of the tax should be deferred, to take effect at the close of the present cotton year, Sept. 1st, 1868. If a repeal of the tax, to take effect immediately, should be enacted by Congress, it is important that one contingency should be effectually provided against; contracts, it is understood, are now pending, and some already made, for the purchase of cotton. tax unpaid, to be held in store until the repealing legislation of Congress has taken effect, thus insuring to the speculator, or exporting buyer, a gain equivalent to the amount of the tax. It seems desirable, therefore, that the act of repeal should be so worded as to relieve from the payment of the tax only such cotton, as, at the date named in the act, remained unsold by the producer; all cotton having passed into the hands of the producer to pay the tax, if it has not already done so. Only by this way can the relief, which it is intended, viz: to the impoverished cultivator.

It may be interesting, in this connection to mention that the Committee of the Commissioners of the Paris Exposition, assisted by H. F. Peters, Esq., of Boston, have collected, and caused to be suitably arranged, a series of samples of cotton from nearly all the cotton growing districts of the world, which collection they proffer to the government with the suggestion that it be placed, for public view and reference, in one of the public offices at Washington, in which suggestion the Special Commissioner fully concurs.

I am, sir, yours, most respectfully,

DAVID A. WELLS,
Special Commissioner of the Revenue.

The following is Kelly's resolution:

Resolved, That the welfare, faith and credit of the Government require the speedy repeal of the tax imposed by existing laws on cotton and the productions of mercantile and manufacturing industry.

It is said that the wool interests will approve the repeal of the tax.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The feeling regarding impeachment is feverish.

The Election Committee will not report on the Kentucky delegation before the first impeachment committee reports, when, unless the interests of the impeachers require the exclusion of Mr. Wickliffe, (Democrat) Maj. Young, from McKee's District, they will doubtless be admitted.

RICHMOND, Nov. 2.—Gen. Davis' trial commences on Monday 11 o'clock. At that hour he will plead to the indictment of the U. S. Circuit, and it is believed he will be bailed from day to day on his own recognizance. About 150 witnesses summoned for the Government, including James A. Seddon, late Confederate Secretary of War, and Gen. Jos. E. Johnston.—It is stated that Mr. Davis will be tried on a new indictment, to be made by the Grand Jury here.

Chief Justice Chase and Judge Underwood will arrive here on Monday morning.

Chandler and Evarts, of the prosecution, and O'Connor and Shea, of the defence, will arrive here Saturday morning.

Mr. Davis spent nearly all of to-day with his counsel.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—The Republican this morning has an editorial headed, "who is responsible?" It declares the wholesale removals by General Mower on orders from Washington, in which the following names appear: "The day is fast coming when the loyal people of Louisiana will hold the authors of this interference with the civil government of this State to account. The war of the rebellion is over, yet the States of the South are not yet reconstructed. The Grand Army of the loyal public, double in number to the old Grand Army of the Potomac, tried soldiers with muskets in their hands, still love their old professions and cherish the old muskets they carried so bravely on many a well-fought field.—The lowly and humble will know their rights and know how to fight, and needs be, to die for them. All power, next to that of the Almighty God, can crush the loyal people in the end from achieving their own liberty, and trampling Congress, as well as miserable of the old and still dominant slave power."

The same article calls ANDREW Johnson "that arch traitor and assassin".

The convention met at noon to-day, and elected negroes as temporary Chairman and Secretary. There was no permanent organization, arrived at, and the convention adjourned till Monday. 44 negroes and 25 whites present.

In the caucus Judge Taliaferro seemed to be the choice for permanent Chairman but it is probable that the negro members will elect one of their own color.

It is understood that it was resolved in caucus last night that the first step of the Convention would be to declare all State offices vacant, and fill them with appointees acceptable to the Radical party.

The recent appointments will be filled with one or two exceptions, do not satisfy the members of the Convention.

Mr. Avery, Radical, has ousted Sheriff Is in quiet possession of his office. He this morning swore in most of the old deputies.

The strongest efforts will be made to defeat the Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—Bavaria and the Pope have acceded to a conference, which meets at Munich on the 11th. Italy and Wurtemburg have declined.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 22.—Allen, Larkin and Gault were hung to-day. All quiet.

NOTICE.

Real estate owners are hereby notified that the assessment roll for 1868 is completed and ready for inspection at the office of the undersigned. All persons desiring to appeal will do so during the month of December, 1867.

CONSTITUTIONAL WEAKNESS.—EFFECT OF HOSTETTER'S BITTERS IN CASES OF GENERAL DEBILITY.

Nature is not impartial. On some of its she has bestowed stalwart frames, strong constitutions, iron nerves; on others, but little physical power, or constitutional stamina, or nervous vigor. Let the feeble take heart, however. If they cannot become Samsons, they can, by the use of proper means, make up in a measure for the deficiency of nature, and may perchance live as long and enjoy life as much as their more Herculean neighbors. Delicate machines under proper care sometimes outlasts those of a more solid and ponderous structure. A fine watch will run longer than a steam engine of a thousand horse-power. The first object of the weak and fragile is, or should be, to acquire additional strength if possible. It is possible. It may be stated as a proved and established fact, that science has given to the world, in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vegetable invigorant, which permanently braces up and smelting the whole physique, whether the lack of strength and stamina be an inherent defect or the result of extraneous causes.

If general debility is not a disease, it is something worse, viz: a condition which predisposes the body to succumb to all influences that produce disease. We are continually surrounded and beset, more or less, by infecting elements. Neither the purest air or the purest water is perfectly free from them, and in regions where both are absolutely poisonous, how shall the weakly constitution and frail system resist their deadly effects unless fortified by artificial means? If the BITTERS are the re-enforcing, vitalizing, sustaining preparation they are believed to be—and on this point the testimony in their favor is overwhelming and incontrovertible—then it is absolutely gratuitous for any one or woman, suffering from physical weakness, not to resort to so potent a remedy. With this specific in prevailing, or in prospect, the best safeguards are a perfect digestion, firm nerves, and a wise employment of the means which science has placed at the disposal of the public as antidotes against atmospheric influences. The great latter Hostetter's Bitters deservedly enjoy the highest reputation throughout the Western World.

☞ Remember that physical vigor is the best defense against disease, and that it may be increased to an extraordinary degree by the use of this celebrated tonic.

BOWEL COMPLAINTS, COLIC, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA MORBUS, AND CONSTIPATION.—Billious Colic is a disorder characterized by such Paroxisms as all who suffer from pain. The torture extends over the whole abdomen, and a strong man will sometimes writhe in agony from the pain. The Bitters are useful to relieve the paroxysms, but it is as a sure means of preventing a recurrence of the attack they are particularly recommended. Tone the liver and the bowels with this gentle stimulant and corrective, and a cure will never be troubled with the agonizing and dangerous complaint known as Billious Colic.

The symptoms of Chronic Dyspepsia are frequent discharges generally, with some pain and griping; restlessness, thirst, poor appetite, debility, loss of flesh, dry, rough, and somewhat sallow skin, the tongue dry and heavily loaded. The food often passes through the bowels nearly in the condition in which it was swallowed, thus showing that the digestive fluids have not been generated in sufficient quantity, or that it has not the solvent properties necessary to decompose the nutritious food. The liver is generally out of order, and the bowels afflicted with a low grade of inflammation.

Under these circumstances a medicine slightly aperient, as well as tonic and antibillious, is absolutely required; and such a medicine is Hostetter's Bitters.

Let it be borne in mind, however, that chronic diarrhœa, as well as the acute form of the disease which leads to it, may always be avoided by keeping up the tone and energy of the mucous membrane of the intestines with this salutary and harmless invigorant. It is a great thing to regulate the irregularity of digestive function, but it is still better to exclude the necessity for restoration by preventive measures.

All sluggards require to be stimulated; and yet, strange to say, the sluggish bowels are often subjected to a treatment which in the end increases their torpidity, and renders a complaint, easily cured in the beginning, chronic and incurable. Let the constipated beware of drastic pills and of all such nostrums. In Hostetter's Bitters the sufferer has this important desideratum. A course of this genial corrective will invariably cure every form of constipation, and remove the headache, dizziness, feverishness, nausea, muddy-mindedness, by which it usually accompanied. Some persons who are by constitution of a constipated habit may overcome the difficulty by the exercise of regularity by using the Bitters daily in conformity with the directions.

THE TENDER MOST IMPORTANT PERIODS OF LIFE.—Physicians divide life into five distinct periods, the first extending from birth to the age of seven years, the second from the seventh to the fourteenth year, the third from the fourteenth to the twenty-first year, the fourth from the twenty-first to the fortieth year, the fifth from the fortieth to the close of life's strangely eventful history." Shakspeare divides life into "seven ages;" but five is the number in the progress of life.

In what is called the "third period" the important changes occur which mark and constitute sex. This is the stage of development, when the frame, in acquiring form, proportion, and strength, makes extraordinary demands upon the vital and constitutional resources. The weaker sex suffers most during this period. Whatever that sex ought to be in full vigor, also has its special difficulties. It is during this stage that the female is subject to most of the harrassing ailments peculiar to her organization. So numerous and distressing are these ailments, that the experience with which they are borne, while it excites the wonder, demands the earnest sympathy of the world. Indeed, the whole style themselves par excellence the 'lords of creation." In gratitude. If man be such, what the "lords" are. by no means equal to the "ladies."

The latter is important to know that in the troubles which precede and follow maturity, the Bitters are excellent, and may be used with perfect safety. They will be found a capital means of sustaining the female physique under the heavy demands upon it at the most distressing and perilous periods of married life.

The fifth stage is that in which all the powers and parts of the frame gradually bende under the weight of years. During this period, too, women suffer much more than men from nervous irritability, a condition which divides maturity from the decline of life, they have to encounter more difficulties and many causes of discomfort of when he crossed the Rubicon. Depression and gloom, hovering on hypochondria, irritable temper, physical disturbances, are among the pains and penalties they are compelled to endure. To the female as well as at first crisis of their lives. As a resulting and judicious use of this genial corrective will be found to be of the greatest service to them in the decline of life.

NOTICE TO MOTHERS.

DR. SEABROOK'S

Infant Soothing Syrup.

We have, by purchase of the original receipt, become Sole Proprietors of this Celebrated Medicine. We ask you to give it a trial, with all assurance that you will in future, discard all those nauseous and destructive stuffs, such as Batemen's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, Dewar's Mixture, &c., combinations of a past and antiprogressive age, when it was thought that the more disgusting the mixture the better the medicine

Now in the future only SEABROOK'S, a combination, quite up with the advancement of the age. Pleasant to take, harmless in its action, efficient and reliable in all cases. Invaluable in the following diseases:

SUMMER COMPLAINT, IRREGULARITY OF THE BOWELS, RESTLESSNESS, TEETHING, &c.

Gives health to the child and rest to the mother.

We could furnish any quantity of certificates, bearing evidence of its superior qualities, but prefer that our medicine should stand on its own merits, which it will do upon trial.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting it—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this rest have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes impair the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation. This is pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bones, Habitual Costiveness, Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Erysipelas, Female Complaints, Fistula, all Skin Diseases, Liver, Complaint, indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Scrofula or King's Evil.

Hurley's Ague Tonic,

PERFECTLY RELIABLE.

The only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever that is not a Quack Nostrum, is Hurley's Ague Tonic. There have been then sold cured by using it who had tried the usual remedies without benefit, but to no such case failed to effect a cure. All who have used it cheerfully tell their afflicted friends of it as a sure and certain cure for chills and fever. And one self-ring from the chills will consult their best interest by resorting to the drug store and procuring a bottle. It is pleasant to take compared with others, and will be certain to cure all cases of fever and ague or chills and fever. Send for it to the proprietors.

AUTHENTIC DOCUMENTS.

ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.

TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN.

Sidney Point, White Co., Ark., May 23 '66.

DR. 'OHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed these Bitters have given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall—especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care of Rickett & Neely.

Respectfully,
C. B. WALKER.

BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLD-WIDE READERS.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are good. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have received. Dr. Chester knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Read what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

WILLAMOW, Walker County, Ga., }
June 29, 1866. }

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have done so for some years of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the school authors that acts so certain and speedy in the effects on the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. If I can get it upon reasonable terms I shall order a deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular fold of M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discard ing a remedy which we know to be useful, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity when I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the ipsie right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, most re pectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother.

BOSTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the benefit and good it has done me, I send you this testimonial of my case.

I was so ended about two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for fifteen months. During my mo ed so often my wounds have not healed yet. I have at present about eight, and they are wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I am filled with faith in your Sarsaparilla that in any thing else. I will that that is genuine. Please express me a dozen bottles, and oblige

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 5th, by my Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson.

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skilful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above Dr. Johnson as my son. As a letters of age he had a chronic diarrhea and scrofula, for which I gave your Sarsaparilla, and cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio, and Iowa, in scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in me is fearful of getting a spurious article, herein writing in you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.

Respectfully,
JENNIE JOHNSON.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vender of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup!

OR

CHILLS & FEVER.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever before offered for the cure of the above diseases, speedy, and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and South western country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, and those who have never will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed as given. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and while families have been cured by a single bottle, a remarkable, speedy restoration of general health. It is, however, prudent, and in most cases necessary, that the bowels be regulated in another dose or two, a few or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in those cases of long standing. In all cases the directions should be strictly adhered to, as the bowels in cold weather, are very apt to be torpid, requiring a gentle medicine to keep them in healthy action. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the

LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, &c., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The consequence is, that the whole system sympathizes with the Stomach, and when becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence,
Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood
to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach,
Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choaking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imagining of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he knows from reliable testimony is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses the virtues of a purely compounded, and is free from injurious ingredients, and has established a reputation for itself which will insure the cure of the disease. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
At the German Medicine Store, Philadelphia, Pa.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefitted suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Diseases, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any cause whatever; PROSTRATION, Nervous Debility, Premature Decline, Loss of Manhood, Exposure, Errors, &c.

There is no invigorant that is equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, the skin, the blood from the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all the infirmities it, will find in the use of this Bitters, or the Tonic, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment good health; or, to use their own expression, "never well." Hence they are hangnid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the Bitters, or the Tonic, are especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, or Wasting Away.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. The following are selected, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. GEO. W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

"I find Hoofland's German Bitters a good tonic, useful in cases of depressive organs and of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.

Yours, truly.
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

Hon. JAS. THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

"I consider Hoofland's German Bitters a valuable medicine in cases of Debility, Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,

JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of Arch Street Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to express my opinion of the preparations of discount kinds of medicines, but regarding the profession as appropriate only within its sphere, I have in all cases declined; but in the case of Hoofland's German Bitters, particularly in cases arising from nervous debility, or where from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility, they are unsurpassed. Also, in Liver Complaint it is a safe and valuable preparation. In cases of Dyspepsia, where it may fail to relieve, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above cause.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. R. D. FENDALL, Assistant Editor of the Christian Chronicle.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most excellent tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the digestive organs.

Yours truly,
R. D. FENDALL.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Bitters are counterfeited, and the name of Dr. JACKSON is also forged to certificates. All others are worthless imitations. The genuine has the signature of C. M. JACKSON in the directions around each bottle. Also, the name of the proprietor, C. M. JACKSON, stamped on the bottle.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.
Dolbear Commercial College.
OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common St.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,
WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.
THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States,
AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.
Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:
It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence for any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have
Cost of full Commercial Course
Incl—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....50
Total cost.....$285
After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.
Cost of ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, no one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

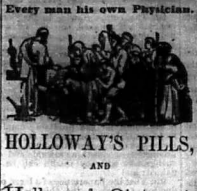
THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.
Every man his own Physician.


HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
Holloway's Ointment.
DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—should or disturbed by excess—indigestion, offensive breath—and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headache, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.
ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM.
Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic; its "unexpressed" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.
BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.
Cases of many years' standing, that have perhaps constantly resisted to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.
ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN.
Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are cured calmly and a clear and transparent surface secured by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses in any of the Ointments or cosmetic preparations, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.
PILES AND FISTULA.
Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Swelled Gland,
Burns,	Sore Legs,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Sore Throats,
Gout,	Sores of all kinds,
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,
Mercurial Eruptions,	Tumors,
Piles,	Stiff Joints,
Rheumatism,	Tetter,
Ringworm,	Ulcers,
Salt Rheum,	Venereal Sores,
Scalds,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernable as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding it to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicine or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.
* * Sold at the manufactory of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world.
There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot and box.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of decl ning health, is anxious to sell his land on which he now resides. The tract contains eight hundred acres, with some four hundred and fifty in cultivation. It lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, about half way between Meridian and Enterprise, and nearly all open and productive Alabama bottom, and all level and suitable for cultivation. If no disaster happens to the crop now growing, he will take for the place what the crop will be worth. The improvements are good and in good condition, and he is now building a new gin house and press, &c. It has a good outlet for stock on two sides, and a good range for cattle and hogs, and is altogether a pleasant and valuable location.

He is also authorized to sell 240 acres of good level land adjoining, with about 100 acres in a good state of cultivation, with improvements, &c. belonging to Col. R. H. Lewis. These two tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to suit purchasers, and the subscriber will divide his tract to effect a sale, if not sold as a whole before the 1st of December next. He will also dispose of several mules and horses and a quantity of corn. There is a competent supply of good laborers with their families on the premises and anxious to remain. For further information apply to me on the premises or address me at Enterprise, Mississippi.

DR. COUDEN,

OF LOUISVILLE,

Who has acquired great celebrity in Louisville and throughout the State, by his great success in the treatment of

CANCER.

The Doctor removes CANCER WITHOUT PAIN OR THE USE OF THE KNIFE, and in addition to this he treats all

Chronic Diseases

Dr. Couden can be consulted at the National Hotel, or at his office, South East corner of Main and 1st Streets.

Post Office Box 670.

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. C. COUDEN, of Louisville, Ky.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my little son, only five years old, who was so terribly afflicted with cancer, which was thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The cancer was a very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character and of rapid growth, and had been coming for about three years. The Doctor made but one application which he continued but a short time, which did not appear to produce but comparatively little pain in my son. The application appeared to leave the cancer in a dead state and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since been successfully healed, and he is now entirely free from pain and is now perfectly well; and my little son is very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases cured by Dr. Couden's treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons thus afflicted to make delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe his treatment to be less pain in and far superior to any other physician in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleville, Henry county, Tennessee.

C. S. HAYS.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. S. Hays, and know that his statements are reasonably trusted by Dr. W. C. Couden, of this city, and from what we are able to judge from the appearance of the child, it was cancer of a very remarkable success.

Agricultural.

We have received the "Monthly Report of the Department of Agriculture for October, 1867," from which we select the following interesting facts:

WHEAT.—The total product of wheat will exceed that of any harvest hitherto gathered in this country; 40 or 50 millions bushels above that of last year. The entire crop will be from 220 to 225 millions. Texas and Kansas are below last year; in Texas there is a reduction of fully one-half. The Southern States show a material enlargement in the area of wheat, from an evident intention to become more nearly self-supporting and independent than formerly. This is particularly noticeable in Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Arkansas. The great decline in Texas results from several causes, one of which is the neglected and weedy condition of lands which formerly yielded good crops. The quality of the wheat is much superior to that of last year, but in some localities it is deficient in weight.

OATS.—The yield of oats has proved less than was expected in Maine, Vermont, New York, Virginia, Mississippi, Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky; in Michigan no increase over last year is reported but most of the Western States have made a comparative gain. As in the case of corn and wheat, the majority of the Southern States added to their area in oats, have a larger product.

RYE.—This grain is made a very uniform growth and yielded an average product, with few exceptions. The crop of all the States is a larger total product than last year, and the quality is uniform in most of the States. Those which show a slight depression are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Delaware, Virginia, Tennessee and Nebraska. In the Southern States the crop is generally good.

BEANS AND PEAS.—The pea crop is one of some importance in the South, costing little for labor, and furnishing valuable food for fattening domestic animals, particularly hogs. It is gratifying to observe that this interest has not been forgotten. In Georgia an increase of 35 per cent is reported. In Alabama, 20 per cent., and in South Carolina, 8 per cent. Texas, Tennessee and Maryland report an average. A slight deficiency is indicated in Mississippi, 20 per cent. in Louisiana, 25 in Florida.

CORN.—Droughts in the parts of the West has reduced the aggregate yield. The Southern States have made a comparatively heavy increase. The quality is uniform good, leaving no doubt that the value of the entire crop, after deducting the deficiency in the Ohio Valley, and allowing for an increase in almost all the other States, will be near, not only in cash but in the intrinsic life-sustaining and pork-producing power, than that of last year. As the deficiency occurs in the center of the commercial pork-packing district, it will affect unduly the market, both for pork and corn, making the scarcity more prominent, while the comparative abundance of the South will greatly reduce the demand upon the West.

SORGHUM.—The sorghum interest has greatly declined. Frosts have injured the crop in many places, the average is much reduced, and despondency is evident in the feelings of many growers.

BARLEY.—Crop slightly deficient.

BUCKWHEAT.—Below the yield of last year.

POTATOES.—A poor crop.

TOBACCO.—A decline in the tobacco product is indicated in the principal tobacco-growing sections.

SUGAR.—Louisiana, the only State producing cane sugar to any extent, reports an increase of 20 per cent. over the small yield of last year.

COTTON.—Complete estimates will be made on the receipt of the November returns. The returns of October indicate a considerable increase in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama; about the same yield as last year in Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee, and diminution in Texas and Louisiana. All estimates below 2,000,000 bales of 400 pounds are decidedly fallacious, while present indications favor an approximation to 2,500000, bales.

LABOR.—The following extract from the New Orleans Picayune, contains the pith and germ of the labor question:

"PROCURING" WHITE LABOR.—We are opposed to this. We want white men induced to come here to cultivate farms of their own. We want white men here to go to work themselves and not "procure" labor. The system of mercantile farming which has so long cursed the South, and bred debt and illiteracy, must cease or our decay will become ruin. It may answer to work out one lands, but it will never build up a State.

One of the "Astor children" died lately in Paris. They were traveling as the title show of a circus.

From the New York Tribune. Advice to the Negroes in Virginia.

The Republican party of Virginia ought seriously to reflect whether their own ultimate interests and good policy, as well as sound statesmanship, do not require them, in framing their constitution, to exclude few or no rebels from the ballot-box.

Conceding that this would endanger or defeat the success of the Republican party in the earlier elections to be held after the constitution shall be adopted, such a danger would be more than counted by the greater probability that the constitution itself would be adopted. Moreover, the ex-rebels of Virginia are holding aloof under the pretended fear, but real hope, that the convention will be guilty of the grossest excesses and most despotic distinctions against the ex-rebels. Retaliation, confiscation, exclusion of rebels from office, are plainly set as the bugbears to deter whites from voting the Radical ticket. Let the convention, let the Republican leaders of Virginia adopt the policy of making suffrage and the right to hold office as nearly universal as possible—the nearer the better. Such a policy will give them hosts of votes for the adoption of the Constitution among those who at the last election were arrayed against it. All the convention must trust the whole people of Virginia, and the whole people of Virginia will ratify its work. Such a magnanimity in the so-called "Negro Convention" will contrast with the rebellious bigotry, narrowness and exclusiveness of the Conservative party. And this contrast will aid the cause of negro suffrage at the North, throughout the South, and in Congress, more than volumes of argument. It will show that the blacks can use what little power is given them in Virginia more magnanimously than the whites have ever done.

Moreover, it is a fact which few have yet learned, that the power of a disfranchised minority is greater, by reason of the power of the principle of justice which is crucified and personified in them, than if they were enfranchised. Ireland's Irish disfranchised masses could not keep Great Britain in a turmoil, if they were fairly represented in her House of Commons, so dangerous as the commotion they would excite would be by reason of their alleged disfranchisement. The best way to quiet the Conservatives and ex-rebels of Virginia, and to destroy their influence, is to give them a share in the victory of the past ten years has proved that the negro in his bonds, because of the principle of justice which was crucified in him, was stronger than his master.

Let the Radicals of Virginia not up to the level of the truth which enfranchised them. Let them enact universal amnesty and universal suffrage. It may cause an election or two to go against them, or it may not; but it will give them more victories in the long run, and will make them invincible. The registered whites of Virginia amount to 716,382, of whom 76,084 voted, and 40,898 abstained from voting. The registered blacks were 537,772, of whom 93,145 voted, and only 11,617 abstained from voting. There would seem to be a probability, therefore, that in the final vote on the adoption of the constitution it will be rejected, unless a greater division of the white race can be effected. On the last vote 61,249 whites voted against convention, and 14,805 voted for it. Will the Republicans of Virginia consider whether a magnificent universal amnesty and universal suffrage policy, so far as they can apply it in their State affairs, would not utterly demoralize the Conservative vote, by taking away their chance to groan, and whether it would not change the 14,805 votes, would not reduce the Conservative vote in like proportion? If so, they will assure the adoption of their constitution, and Congress in their wisdom, of reconstruction, and the Republican party in the next elections, and would have no reasons to fear, that in the future politics of Virginia, they would get the offices about as often as they ought to have them, while it is seldom more than half the time for any political party.

Important Decision

PROPERTY ACQUIRED AFTER DATE OF PETITION DOES NOT GO TO CREDITORS.

A very important decision has been made by Judge Batchford, of the United States Court, Eastern District of New York, in relation to the rights of petitioners in bankruptcy. The case stated that on the examination of the bankrupt, under section 26, it appeared that about August 28, 1867, he had borrowed $1,000, loaned for the creditors, and some questions about this money, which were objected to by the bankrupt's counsel as relating to property acquired by him subsequent to the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy, claiming that nothing passed to the assignee but the property which the bankrupt had on hand on the day of the filing the petition; while the creditors claimed that everything passed which he had on the 13th of September, the date of the adjudication of bankruptcy. The Court held that in this case nothing passed to the assignee which accrued to the property of the bankrupt after the 25th of June, the date when the petition was filed, and that the questions in regard to the $1,000 were improper if that money was not the property of the bankrupt when his petition was filed—Great Republic.

Ridley's Bacilon will not disappoint the expectations of physicians and invalids in relieving pain and weakness in the back, and disorders of the urinary organs. Sold in large bottles, by 81 by the Druggists.

THE CONVENTION.—The latest news from the Convention election, indicates that it has been carried by a small majority. We learn that Gen-Ord will in a few days issue an order designating the time and place of its assemblage.

THE MARION EXCITEMENT.—Several negroes were arrested by order of Major Norton and examined in reference to the contemplated attack on Meridian by the Marion negroes.

The explanation to the Military was that the Marion League were about to visit the Meridian League in a body but with no hostile purpose. R. C. Moryman delegate to the Convention was examined and is reported to have told two stories, one privately to white persons that the negroes intended to sack Meridian, the other in presence of his colored brethren that the visit was to be peaceful.

The last number of the Meridian Chronicle mourning over the defeat of the convention very considerately undertakes to instruct Gen. Ord in his duties as commander of this District, advising him at once to order another election, and to decapitate all State, County and municipal officers who failed to vote in the recent election. It is very plain that under the military bills Gen. Ord has no power to order another election. With the failure of the Convention, the whole plan of Reconstruction under the present congressional legislation falls to the ground. The advice to remove from office all who declined to vote in the Convention election doubtless harmonizes with Radical policy but we cannot believe Gen. Ord will entertain so monstrous and tyrannical a proposition. To coerce the exercise of the privilege of the ballot against the judgment and conscience of the voters destroys the very foundation of a free government. But this commends it to the Radical faction. A party that seeks to preserve its power by trampling on the Constitution, by exciting the passions of the base and ignorant, by keeping up dissension and strife adds to its infamy disfranchisement and punishment for a conscientious discharge of duty. This course far from saving Radicalism will only hasten its downfall. Every success in the South obtained by such base means, will take thousands of voters from their weakening ranks at the North. The intelligent people of that section can see that such measures are prompted by no patriotic purpose.

The Negro in Tennessee.

At an educational State convention recently held in Tennessee, a Prof. Ogden, President of a nigger College at Nashville made an elaborate speech in favor of throwing together promiscuously the white and black children in the common schools of that State. The object of the speech was to influence the Legislature then in session to change the common school laws which now provide for separate schools. The majority of the convention opposed the measure, but several other speeches were made by Radical teachers in which they took the ground that the change should be made and that all whites who refused to send their children to negro schools should be deprived of the benefits of the common school system. This is another of the beauties of Southern Radicalism, and we may expect an effort to be made in all the Southern States to force the white children into the same schools with the negroes. The Legislature of Tennessee some time since passed a law imposing heavy pains and penalties on Rail Roads and other common carriers for making distinctions on account of race or color. Rail Road Companies were even prohibited from having separate cars for ladies. This was passed just before the New York election. As soon as it was known that the Empire State had given fifty thousand majority against negro equality, the Legislature began to crawfish, reconsidered the common carrier bill and so far have refused to pass that or any kindred measure. As yet the nigger is not allowed to serve as a juror, or hold office in Tennessee and a bill conferring upon them these rights though offered in the Legislature was mislaid in progress.

Washington dispatches say:

Only forty votes are regarded as sure for impeachment.

Several of the faithful are weakening. The defeat of Convention in South Carolina discourages the Radicals very much. They apprehend the defeat on the adoption of the Constitutions in every State.

The lesson exhibited in Connecticut is no proper idea of the danger. Money on the stands and among the clergy.

Letter from New Orleans.

Gen. Mower's Course in Removing Officials—The State Convention—Business—Health of the City.

NEW ORLEANS, NOV. 25, 1867.

Since the recalling of Gen P. H. Sheridan from the command of this Military District up to a few weeks since, military matters have moved on quietly, and to all appearances, smoothly ; but a short time since Gen. Mowcr, Sheridan's temporary successor, changed his base, and has endeavored to rival his renowned predecessor in the matter of removing "impediments" to reconstruction ; but he has had a sudden check given him by Gen. Grant, who ordered him to reinstate most of the State and parish officers decapitated in his last order. This man has pursued a most singular course since he was temporarily elevated to power, showing himself totally unfit for so vast a responsibility as is now upon him. It is a sad fact that a man in whose hands rests the well-being of two millions of people, should spend his time in drunkenness and debauchery ; nevertheless, it is true that the acting commander of the military district composed of the two States of Louisiana and Texas, is guilty of this great crime. It is asserted on the streets to-day that Gov. Flanders, one of Sheridan's appointees, is to be the next object of his direful hate ; for it was on the recommendation of Gov. F. that Grant's annulling order was issued. Gen. Mower affirms that he will remove him if he is cashiered for it.

The Constitutional Convention for this State is now in session, and everything appears to move on quietly. Judge J. W. Taliaferro, of Catahoula parish has been chosen President. It will be, I think intensely radical in its proceedings.

Business is looking up, though as yet there is not much doing. The newspapers are doing very well, the old and ever reliable Picayune taking the lead in real business, though it does not devote a half a column each day in "chowing" its own praises. It speaks by its merits, and it seems to grow stronger with age. But you all know the old "Pic" up there, for it has been among you for more than a quarter of a century.

The yellow fever epidemic has entirely disappeared, and with the exception of cholera, the city is now in a healthy condition. It is to be hoped that this will soon disappear from among us. New Orleans has been a sadly afflicted city of late. At least 4000 of its inhabitants have been swept away by disease in the short space of six months. W. J. A.

Gen. Hancock.

Gen. Hancock, who succeeds General Sheridan in command of the Fifth Military District, arrived at New Orleans on Friday last, and at once assumed command.

The order which he issued on entering upon the discharge of his duties has given great satisfaction, and if carried out will do much to restore peace and good government to the oppressed and persecuted people of Louisiana and Texas. The following is General Hancock's order, and the just and humane sentiments it contains are in striking contrast with the contemptible partisan utterances of Sheridan and Pope :

The General Commanding is gratified to learn that peace and quiet reign in this department. It will be his purpose to preserve this condition of things. As a means to this great end, he regards the maintenance of the civil authorities in the faithful execution of the laws as the most efficient under the existing circumstances. In war it was indispensable to repel force by force, and overthrow and destroy opposition to lawful authority, but when insurrectionary force has been overthrown and peace established civil authorities are ready and willing to perform their duties, the military power should cease to lead and the civil administration resume its natural and rightful dominion.

Solemnly impressed with these views, the general announces that the great principles of American liberty still are the lawful inheritance of this people and ever should be. The right of trial by jury, the habeas corpus, the liberty of the press, the freedom of speech and natural rights of persons and the rights of property must be preserved.

Free institutions, while they are essential to the prosperity and happiness of the people, always furnish the strongest inducements to peace and order.

Crimes and offenses committed in this District must be referred to the consideration and judgment of the regular civil authorities, and these tribunals will be supported in their lawful jurisdiction. Should there be violation of existing laws, which are not inquired into by the civil magistrates, or should failure in the administration of justice by the Courts be complained of, the cases will be reported to these Headquarters, when such corrective will be made as may be deemed necessary. While the General thus indicates his purpose to respect the liberties of the people, he wishes all to understand that any insurrections or forcible resistance to the law will be instantly suppressed by arms.

Exciting News.

Considerable excitement existed in Meridian on Sunday night in consequence of startling news from Marion. It appears that on Saturday night the negroes at Marion and Meridian were organized through the Loyal Leagues into military companies. Three Captains were elected at Marion and two at Meridian. The idea at Marion was to make a raid on the merchants at Meridian and Marion, demand provisions and clothing and if their requirements were not complied with take what they wanted by force, and if resistance was offered burn both towns. The command was offered to R. C. Merryman, who it is reported declined and on that account the attack was postponed. It is said the military organization of this county is commanded by J. Aaron Moore, and that all the different companies are officered and thoroughly armed. The military at this place under the command of Major Norton, were apprised of the contemplated attack and were ready to meet it. It may be that the negroes have exaggerated the danger, but this can be relied on, that the negroes meet in their League meetings armed, that they are organizing military companies, that many of them are destitute of food and clothing, refuse to labor and threaten to take what they want by force. We do not wish to create any unnecessary alarm, but we regard the presence of the military here as indispensable to protect the lives and property of our people, and feel assured that unless these armed associations of negroes are broken up, disorder, violence, and bloodshed will result.

What Does It Mean?

We are informed that the Loyal Leagues of this city have been organized into military companies, captains elected and the whole ordered to be under command of J. Aaron Moore and Marshall Weir, two negroes of this city—that they meet armed and put out armed sentinels in every direction around the African Church, the place of assemblage. It is said they undertake to arrest negroes for failing to attend, and are inaugurating a reign of terror over the colored people who are opposed to the organization. A negro from Marion was arrested on Saturday night under some pretext or another and kept under guard all night and part of Sunday. Another has been examined on a charge of not voting, and it appears the League is exercising absolute power over the colored people, reducing them to a condition of abject slavery to its orders.

We advise the colored people to have nothing do with these military organizations. They will bring about disturbances and get them into trouble. They are unlawful, not recognized by the civil or military authority in the State, and if persisted in, will be suppressed.

They have no authority to arrest a negro for any cause whatever. To do so under the pretext of not attending their meetings, not voting, or anything else, is a crime for which all in any way concerned may be made to suffer. If any more of such arrests are made, we hope the matter will be investigated and the guilty parties punished.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it.—It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no more for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown is really deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Ague Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors never yet have received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations" so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, uses equalling the best English Inks now used. We cannot understand why their remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician. tf

THE TRIAL OF PRESIDENT DAVIS.—The New York Herald in commenting on the trial of Mr. Davis before Judge Underwood and a negro jury says:

It would be an outrage on the decency of the nation if a man like Underwood should preside at this trial. On such an occasion, if ever, the bench should be graced by a man of learning, a man conscious of the dignity of his office, a man of probity, and one whose life has not been dragged in all the filth of party politics. Therefore the Underwood is the wrong man. If Davis is to stand before a nigger jury, which becomes of the notion that a man is to be tried by his peers? His peers —to cut the thing short—are not the greatest leveler could desire—they should be citizens of the United States; and no Richmond nigger was a citizen of our United States when the crime occured on which Davis is to be tried.

Meeting To-day at the African Church.

We have been requested to publish as an advertisement a call for a meeting of the colored people to-day at the African Church, to which all are invited. We learn the object of the meeting is to give the negroes an opportunity to express their acknowledgements and abhorrence of the designs of the whites, some of these and which for the last few days have created an unusual excitement. Some of the signers to the call are recognized in Meridian as possessing industrious and well disposed, and are not suspected as having any connection with the plot to plunder and sack the town believed to have been contemplated by some of the whites at Marion. We hope the meeting may be productive of good,and desiring as we do the welfare and prosperity of all black and white, we suggest to the colored people that nothing would do more to establish and maintain friendly relations with the whites, than for them to discourage secret political meetings, oath bound societies confined to their own color with a few disreputable whites.— Meetings of that kind, with armed sentinels and the forcible arrest of unoffending citizens by persons attending them devoid of assemblage, are well calculated to create distrust and will in the end indict serious injury on the blacks. There will be great difficulty for many of them to obtain employment for another year,even if planters desired it,in the service, on account of the low price of cotton and the losses of the last two seasons. The very fact that they are banded together in secret leagues, arraying themselves against the white people of the State, will deprive thousands of profitable employment. The end of the year is approaching, and the great majority of the blacks are without money, provisions, clothing or any certainty of employment for the next year. It is idle for them to think of cultivating farms on their own account. They are without stock or, supplies and destitute of credit. The Radicals have given them the ballot, but this will furnish no food or clothing. If disease, nakedness and starvation come their appeal to Radical charity will be in vain. We hope they may realize their true situation and take warning before it is too late.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We invite the attention of our readers to the card of John Duffy & Co., Western Agricultural Ware House 121 Main street, Louisville, Ky. They have constantly on hand Garden seeds, fertilizers, Guano, Bone dust &c.—Cotton gins, Plows, and every kind of agricultural implements. This is one of the largest houses in the West and is receiving at it deserves a liberal patronage from the South. Our friends who visit Louisville should by all means give them a call.

We call attention to the advertisement of a dwelling house which can be purchased or rented on most favorable terms.—Apply to Mr. J. A. Gully, at the house of Rosenbaum & Gully, Front street.

Are you weakened by hardship and privation, slowly recovering from severe illness, afflicted with the infirmities of age, prematurely decrepit, or suffering in any other way from general debility, constitutional or otherwise? If so, put your trust in the Red Jacket Bitters, which will recruit your system.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED AT ALL HOURS.—Our friend Chadwick,the old and reliable Front Street druggist, is now living over his store, and will attend to filling prescriptions at all hours—day and night.—Chadwick's medicines are founded an experience of twenty years in the business, is a sure guarantee that they will be properly compounded. tf

TESTIMONIALS from Government officials, authors of distinguished reputation, analytical chemists, well known physicians, capitalists of high standing, surgeons, members of the bar, merchants, miners, heads of public institutions, &c., &c., are among the credentials of this popular specific—Red Jacket Bitters.

Extract of a Letter from Providence, R.I., May 12, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL: I owe $20 for Cotton Bitters; please send what it will come to after paying freight to Columbus, Miss. I was taken sick with fever several years with indigestion; have had to take your bitters night for part of fifteen years, and in February, 1866, I was attacked with general paralysis. I was confined to my bed for five months the next year; and, in fact, continued in a very weak and nervous condition for some two months after that, when I was put under an operation, and your Cotton Bitters restored me. I commenced improving right away, and am pretty well restored.

Yours truly,
A. L. NEAL.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 28, 1866.

I received this day the following, from Leicester, Kentucky:

DR. JOHN BULL: Please send one in haste, for my wife says she can't live without it. I have tried them, and find them all you claim for them.

Yours truly,
W. C. BRINDLEBOWES.

ANOTHER TESTIMONY.

BLOOMFIELD, IND., Oct. 14, '64.

DR. JOHN BULL: We make an arrangement with Mr. Hall, of Bloomfield, to sell your Cotton Bitters, and his friend sold one. He would like to have the agency for your Bitters, and is introducing them readily, and think they answer a good purpose.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxio to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription, free, by return mail, will please address

REV. EDWARD A. WILSON,
Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.

RESTORE OF YOUTH.

A Gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, with all the usual symptoms, and the consequent Mental Depression, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, &c., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple means of self-cure, which he will send free to his fellow-sufferers. Address, JOHN B. OGDEN, 42 Cedar Street, New York.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The convention seeking to be formed by negro members of the late convention, met at the African Church to-day. The first session was secret. The result of the first day's proceedings could not be learned. It is reported that the first and second days were devoted to the adoption of rules and regulations, and all minor business to be transacted with. Last evening a PICKLER (white) offered an ordinance proposing certain changes in the organic law of the State, which if adopted by the Convention shall establish free public schools throughout the State and provide for their support by taxation. Schools for children between six and eighteen be established, without distinction of race, color or condition. Provides that there shall be no separate schools established for negroes and that a university be established in New Orleans, open to all students capable of matriculation, without distinction of race, color or previous condition.— Other provisions for the maintenance and government of schools. Referred to the Committee on Education.

A resolution of thanks to God for the success of the Radical Republican party in this State was laid over under the rules.

A resolution to the effect that no property qualification be required for any State, parish, or municipal office of honor, trust, or emolument, was referred.

The two last resolutions were offered by negro members.

A resolution offered yesterday, that the proceedings of the Convention be published in the New Orleans papers and duly paid for, was debated to-day and tabled by four majority.

A resolution offered yesterday by McMillan, (white) to ratify as a part of the Legislature of 1868, to be held in pursuance to law, the bonds to provide means for repairing and constructing levees, was made the special order of the day for Monday.

General Hancock's order is having a healthy effect.

The Picayune's Washington special says that the President has directed Gen. Grant to instruct Gen. Hancock to inquire into the cause and circumstances of all removals of civil officers which have been made, and report the facts in each case.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 30.—The Reconstruction Convention to-day passed an ordinance to organize the militia throughout of Alabama. It authorizes one company to every thousand voters. The officers to be appointed by the Governor, and to be of known loyalty. A great many officers, with heavy emoluments are appointed, one major general, three brigadiers, an adjutant, quartermaster, inspector general, paymaster, surgeon general, &c. The whole to be under command of the Governor. The Conservatives declare that this measure places the State in a military despotism similar to that of Brownlow. Its expenses will necessarily greatly increase the rates of taxation.

An ordinance was passed declaring the war debt of the State, and all liabilities created during the rebellion, illegal and void.

An ordinance reported by a select committee was discussed until the hour for adjournment, providing for the extinguishment between either of the debts of all debts existing July 30th, 1865, on the payment of installments by note of original amount of debt.

The session of the Convention will continue through a part of next week.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The reading of the President's message will occupy two hours.

The Ways and Means Committee will report a bill preventing contraction, and prescribing the time and manner of selling surplus gold.

The Senate Judiciary Committee is investigating the loyalty of Senator Thomas, of Maryland.

The following revenue decision has been promulgated:

Where cotton is exported it must be clearly identified as the same cotton for which a permit has been obtained. A permit does not authorize the collector to authorize the export of an equal number of bales or pounds of different cotton. Before to remove cotton showing the payment of the tax is sufficient to authorize exportation. The tax on cotton manufactured producing districts will be collected from the cotton itself, no matter in whose possession found. Cotton manufactured from cotton facturing in the districts where produced cannot be taxed until manufactured. Every person, firm or corporation manufacturing cotton for any purpose in the district where the cotton is produced must make returns and pay the tax.

Gen Rousseau has assumed command of the Department of Columbia.

Judge Storer, of Cincinnati, has decided that legal tender notes known as greenbacks are not taxable according to an exemptionary section of an act of Congress providing a loan bill.

Secretary McCulloch to-night furnished his report and statement of the public to newspapers. The document is of considerable length and refers to reports of different departments, drawing from facts and figures in support of the views advocated in his own report, and elaborating upon them at length.

He alludes to his earlier reports, going back to the time of his nomination, and also to contraction at the time of four hundred million dollars per month as provided by law. He shows that there were months when the amount that he had been paid in the amount, but refrained from doing so because he did not think it necessary or expedient.

He takes strong ground against expansion, which, to use his own language, would be run mad lest it should bankrupt. The views of Gen. Butler, Mr. Stevens and others are commented on: and the tendency and results of the financial measures schemes, if carried out, are enlarged upon and contrasted.

He interprets the law in reference to the five-twenties as forbidding the country to their payment in coin, principal and interest, and believes that if the policy including in their redemption in currency shall be adopted, the effect will be disastrous.— He states that he has been paid in the treasury to meet the demands on the government and keep the market in check,— He gives his reasons for not selling more gold, and endeavoring to bring about resumption in that way. The speculators would re-borrow and buy the gold he could offer, and could then easily control the market and make the premium higher than before. He says that the belief in immediate resumption will lead to an immediate crash in business, which he hopes to avoid. He concludes although the Internal Revenue Commissioner's report, and gives it as his opinion that the Internal Revenue Department and the Treasury had sole control of the system, the taxes would be left entirely and an end put to fraud and corruption.

The debt statement will be issued about the 5th, and will show a slight increase of debt.

The internal revenue receipts to-day were $836,000; for the week, $3,113,000; for the year, $30,130,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Comptroller of the Treasury's report shows that since National Banks, 1863, 1,643 have gone into organization. Their aggregate capital was $1,250,000. The public loses about $1,000,000 annually on the circulation of these banks, and note holders lose nothing. Every failure is traceable to dishonest or incompetent officers, with few exceptions, in every case.

The President's message contains about twelve thousand words. The Secretary of War and Secretary of the Treasury are in favor of an early resumption of specie payments, and the President is understood to be there need by any committee of the paper circulation as preliminary to resumption.

The President's friends say that his message will express his matured views. The entire message is expected to be calm, dignified, favorable to the restoration of the Union of the South, and appeals for early restoration on constitutional basis.

AN APPEAL TO FARMERS and PLANTERS

A large number of persons have been induced to purchase worthless imitations of my Bitters, under various names, which are calculated to deceive the public, and are put up in bottles similar to mine, and sold to the various merchants of your locality by unprincipled men, who did not get a Physician's recommendation.

Various purgative Pills, Cough Mixtures, Chill Medicines, Diarrhœa Compounds, Tonics, Liver Panthers, and many other articles, have been prescribed for you at a northern stand, and in many cases, where I am well known and should have known nothing about the treatment of diseases in any climate, until by the sickness of better compounds they, in many instances, met with your APPROVING SMILES.

Now gentlemen, by your assistance and your influence, which we intend to MERIT, we wish to effect a slight change in the programme; and so long as we give entire satisfaction, shall hope to be the recipients of public patronage. Our plan is, that the

MEDICINE PROFESSION,

Those who are experienced in Southern treatment, and have been and are in every respect identified with the Southern people, and who are known and acknowledged as such, shall, as far as possible, manufacture and supply the demand, thus enabling every planter to secure at all times a supply of HONEST Medicines, and that are likely to give, by far, more satisfaction than if bought in locality where diseases are treated differently. We are well aware that there will be arrayed against us an army of

Northern Nostrum Venders,

Who are making every appeal that imagination can invent, in order to win the confidence of the Southern people; but we are determined to be REPRESENTED in this matter, and call upon the People to sustain us.

There are three members composing our firm all graduated and experienced Southern Physicians, with all our ability and experience we have prepared and now offer you a class of

MEDICINES,

Not secrets nor patents, which we think are honestly required for every farmer, planter and family throughout the South country, and an assortment of the GREAT SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS should be in every house.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS.
AUTHENTIC DOCUMENTS.
ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.
TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN.

Stoney Point, White Co., Ark., May 28, '66.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters, of which I made use with me in time of sickness, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced using the Cedron and found his general health improved.

Dr. Gatlin, who has been in bad health for several years, commenced and after effect—hpfully improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed the Cedron Bitters have given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall—especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship via via Memphis, care of Rickett & Healy.

Respectfully,
C. B. WALKER.

BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORLD-WIDE READERS.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have received. Dr. Thrower tells exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER.

YELLOWAW, Walker County, Ga.,
June 29, 1867.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: I have recently given many worm lozenges of several kinds, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to produce the effect, I am using a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I knew of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that equaled yours, and I speak in its effects. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms I shall use a great deal of it. I do not know that the use of vermifuges is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line of M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good reason in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simple and innocuous we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means in alleviating the suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have found an effete first, and perfected the pale right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that found the country that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, truly yours,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH.

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother.

Boston Barracks, Mo., April 20, 1866.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case:

I was wounded about two years ago—was taken a prisoner and confined for about seven months. My lungs moved so often my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since. I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature in healing. I have used four Sarsaparilla than in any thing else. I wish that this is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON.
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1866, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson:

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. R. Johnson, has used your sarsaparilla with great benefit in Central New York, where he died, leaving the widow and confined for almost two years of age he had a chronic diarrhea and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio, and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. Perhaps more than any thing else. I wish that this is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige

LAND FOR SALE.

THE subscriber in consequence of dull nine health, is anxious to sell his land and with he new resides. The tract contains eight hundred acres, with some four hundred and fifty in cultivation. It lies immediately on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, about half way between Meridian and Enterprise, and is nearly all good and productive Okatibee bottom, and all level and suitable for cultivation. If no disaster happens to the crop now growing, he will take for the place what the crop will be worth. The improvements are good and in good condition, and has a new building a new gin house and press, &c. It has a good outlet for stock on two sides, and good range for cattle and hogs, and it altogether a pleasant and valuable location.

He is also authorized to sell 240 acres of good level land adjoining, with about 100 acres in a good state of cultivation, with improvements, &c. belonging to Col. R. B. Lewis. These two tracts will be sold jointly or separately, to suit purchasers, and the undersigned will divide his tract to effect a sale, if not sold as a whole before the 1st of December next. He will sell for purpose of several mules and horses and a quantity of corn. There is a competent supply of good laborers, with their families on the premises and anxious to remain. For further information apply to me on the premises or address me at his enterprise, Mississippi. PEYTON KING.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my Wife son, only 25 years old, who was so terribly afflicted with cancer on the cheek, as thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The cancer was a very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It so pained to be of a very malignant character and a rapid growth, and had been coming for about three years. The Doctor made an application which he continued for a short time, whereupon got about to be enabled to bring this to perfection, regardless of Time, Labor or Expense. We therefore offer our

NEW CHARTER OAK STOVES

Charter Oak Cooking Stoves

As formerly manufactured by GILES F. FILLEY, and latterly by the EXCELSIOR MANUFACTURING COMPANY, of St. Louis, obtained and maintained an unparalleled reputation and sale, over 100,000 being sold within 12 years. But, notwithstanding the excellence and increasing popularity of the old Patterns, we have just completed a NEW CHARTER OAK of superior construction with LONG FIRE BOX and HIGH OVEN. The Patterns have been nearly two years in active preparation, every real improvement that long experience and twenty years' practical knowledge in the business could suggest has been adopted to bring this Stove to perfection, regardless of Time, Labor or Expense. From the Clarion.

Plant Plenty of Grass.

The attention of our Planters has been in a great degree attracted by the article, "Cultivation of Hops" in the Clarion of the 16th, 17th and 19th of November. Mr. Potter states that in selecting a site for a Hop-yard, it is best to avoid low and wet localities, and to select some spot where the circulation of air is good, and where no water stands upon the ground at any season of the year.

Our uplands show many excellent spots in this respect, but the Hops require a rich soil, which is generally not found in uplands.

In the expenses of cultivation of the five years crop, Mr. P., brings an item of $40 for hauling manure with a team during ten days on his 4 acre piece of Hops which proves that it required a very large quantity of stable manure.

Good profitable husbandry can only be carried on (rich alluvial bottoms excepted) with a good supply of manure.

HOW CAN WE PRODUCE GOOD MANURE?

Thousands of acres of once cultivated farming land lay idle for the want of reliable hands to cultivate them. Appropriate part of them for grass and make meadows. Raise stock and feed during winter, when pasturage becomes scarce, well with hay, turnips, ruta-baga's, etc., under shelter. The animals will repay you for your expense and trouble in the manure, and will enable you to raise the following year, 50 to 100 per cent more grain on the same ground than before, besides the improvement in the condition of your cattle, will materially increase your income. Mid-winters, when no field work will yield during winter almost the same quantity of milk as in spring, and the surplus of milk and butter can be readily disposed of. Thousands of pounds of butter are shipped every winter from the North and West here, and sold from 50 to 75 cents per pound. Look at the poor meat during winter, that is offered for sale here. Even from St. Louis our butchers were bound to say that the best, because fine home-raised stock was too poor. Is it not unnatural, that in a country so well adapted for grass growing we depend on far off countries for the most unsuitable articles of food? More could be said on this subject, but I will close with the heart-felt wish plant Grass and be prosperous.

GOLDEN SHEAF.

MR. "BLOCKADE" TED. General Mower is determined to make the congressional military reconstruction policy odious as well as impracticable, ridiculous as well as destructive. Upon no other theory can his conduct be rationally explained. After his previous action toward our public authorities almost any amount of extravagant interference might have been anticipated from him, and hence it is not surprising that he should attempt the order which appears in another column.

The fantastic disregard of publi-opinion manifested in the appointment hitherto made by Mower would have exceeded and exaggerated in this "reconstruction" of our judiciary—an act of tyranny entirely superfluous, and perpetrated with a wanton carelessness of the interest which it is the duty even of a military despot to protect.

If anything were needed to impart a ludicrous aspect to this tyrannical act, it would be the exquisite absurdity of the reason assigned for it. It is certainly not very amusing to the people of this city to see their judiciary subjected to the caprice of military despotism, and all the cherished tuppoints of evil liberty torn away by the ruthless hands of military power; but Gen. Mower, himself, can surely not refrain from laughing when he directs A. A. G. to proclaim that the gentlemen who pass their time quietly in deciding litigated cases, and in issuing writs of process, are "officials to reconstruction under the laws of Congress." Why does he not say at once that he wants the offices for his friends, and that he is determined not to give Gen. Hancock a chance to say anything in the matter? Candor is a soldierly quality. Why will General Mower not practice at least that virtue in his official acts?—New Orleans Crescent.

The corn crops has turned out abundantly in this neighborhood; farmers are bringing in some of the finest ears we have ever seen grow in North Mississippi. There will be no want here next year; fat horses, fat hogs, fat cattle will soon be seen everywhere. Corn is worth only seventy-five cents, delivered. Sweet potatoes plentiful and cheap. Beef, poultry, fish, turnips, thousands. People healthy, fat and good-humored. Politics horrible. Rads willing. Negroes caving.—Iuka Gazette.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—We received this important document too late for this issue, but will present it to our readers in our next. A synopsis of the message will be found in our telegraphic dispatches.

We understand that the colored members of the League here deny that they have organized military companies, or that any officers of that kind have been elected at the League meeting. We trust this statement is correct. It is proper, however, to state that the reports of the military organization here came from negroes themselves and on that account, and because it was known that armed sentinels surrounded the League meetings and hailed persons who happened to be passing that way, was generally credited. We shall be glad to know that the reports are untrue and will cheerfully make room for any explanation that the parties to whom we referred in our last issue may wish to make.

We desire to see good feeling and friendly relations preserved between black and white, and if the rumors so freely circulated this week have done injustice to the colored people, the truth should be published and any misrepresentations exposed.

In the Louisiana Convention a resolution was offered recommending General Hancock to remove from office all men disfranchised under the reconstruction laws, and the appointment of loyal citizens in their places.

Gen. Hancock has revoked several of the orders of removal made by Gen. Mower, but a few days before his taking command at New Orleans. The following extracts from his order issued last Monday are published in the New Orleans papers :

Paragraph one, special order 197, from these headquarters, Nov. 28, 1867, issued by Bvt. Maj. Gen. J. A. Mower, removing from office Smith Izard, aid to the Chief of Police of the city, and appointing in his place Parker W. Pettus, is hereby revoked.

Paragraph two, special order No. 197, from these headquarters, dated Nov. 28, 1867, removing from office Lieut. O'Donnel, Dieut of Police, 2d district, city of New Orleans, and appointing Angelo W. Ward in his place, is hereby revoked.

If any charges or allegations are presented against the officers who are reinstated by this order, they will be considered by the Mayor and Police Board, to whom the subject properly pertains.

Extract 2 of order No. 290 removes E. King Cutler from the bench of the 2d Judicial District Court by Mower, and he was appointed by Gen. Mower, and declares the office vacant.

The Canton Mail says that a difficulty occurred at Madison Station, on Thursday, the 29th ult., between Mr. Lat Cameron and Mr. McCarty, both living there, which resulted in the death of the latter, by a pistol shot, at the hands of the former. The circumstances of the unfortunate affair, we are told, were very sad indeed, but as we have been unable, to gather the full particulars, will refrain from what might prove to be only a partial statement.

The British ship Consul was lately burned on the Georgia coast near Tybee Island. She had on board about 3000 bales of cotton insured in Liverpool.

The Alabama Convention.

MONTGOMERY, Dec. 2—The Reconstruction Convention adopted a resolution that when this Convention adjourns it shall adjourn subject to the call of E. W. Peck, President, or the Military Commander of this State or District; but if not re-convened within one year, it shall stand adjourned sine die.

A resolution to adjourn on the 4th instant was rejected.

The oath of office, as finally adopted, requires officers to swear that they are not disfranchised by the Constitution of the State of Alabama or the laws of the United States, and that they will support the Constitution of the State and of the United States, and the Union of the States, &c.

The Radical members of the Convention to-night, in caucus at the Capitol, nominated a full ticket for State officers.

Wm. H. Smith, of Randolph county, was nominated for Governor. He is a man of moderate views, and was late Superintendent of Registration for this State.

A. J. Applegate, of Madison, was nominated for Lieutenant Governor. D. H. Bingham was defeated for the nomination of Governor. All the other candidates are thoroughly Radical and nearly all Northern men.

Do you wish to purchase or sell real estate in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana or Texas? If so it will be to your interest to communicate with us. We are doing a general land business. When reply is desired enclose postage stamp. Address SHANNON & GALLAGHER, Attorneys at Law, Meridian, Miss.

For the Gazette.

Mr. Editor: I think that the condition of affairs in this part of the State should be made known to the General commanding this District, with a view that some plan might be devised that would prove beneficial.

It is a fact that the low price of cotton and the heavy tax on it, have left the planters unable to pay the debts contracted for supplies to make their crops. The majority are in this condition, and will be unable next year to obtain provisions to feed hands either black or white. It is certain that more than half of the cotton farms in this part of the State will not be cultivated at all next year. The planters having made nothing, the negroes are in the same condition. It is certain that the hands of the negroes, if they remain here, can get no employment. The question then comes up, how can they be fed? The general cry among planters is that they can't hire hands because they have not the provisions to make a crop and can't get them. There is some corn, but scarcely any meat in the country. Much of the stock has been killed by idle and worthless negroes, and farmers find they can't raise their meat on account of the depredations. But bad as it has been, it will be infinitely worse next year. With so many out of employment, with nothing to live on, almost naked, the fear is they will steal for a support, and that those who have been provident enough to save a little, will have to protect their property by force, and thus scenes of disorder and violence will be inaugurated more terrible than civil war. This is no fancy sketch but what may be expected. CIVIS.

For the Gazette.

I hear that Moore denies holding any military office, and that the report to that effect originated from the fact that he holds the highest position in this county in the Loyal League. This may be correct. I wish, however, to ask if it is true that Moore has sent out and had negroes arrested for failing to attend the League, and if the parties who went to make these arrests, have not been armed? And if this be true will the military allow the rights of the colored people to be trampled on in this way?

JUSTICE.

The New Constitution of Alabama.

The Mobile Times in referring to the new constitution for Alabama says :

A servile and ignorant majority, following the imperious dictates of a handful of contemptible leaders, has adopted, as the charter of rights of the people of Alabama, and finally of the whole South, the most odious instrument of tyranny and oppression ever penned by the hand of man. What, in the most despotic countries, is the single momentary outburst of a tyrant caprice, has become a written law for ten millions of free white born citizens of the Great Republic. And even this "Bill of Rights," as its framers have the audacity to call it, is not all they have done.

Forgetting that they were not called together by the will and choice of the people to revise their social compact, but simply by a superior, though not a legitimate power, to prepare a constitutional organization, the vagabonds have even presumed to go beyond their warrant, and to deal in matters entirely foreign to the object Congress has intrusted to them.

They have granted divorces, and such as women have been found vile enough to seek those decrees to cover adulterous alliances. They have repealed, altered, amended legislation which had been consecrated by the unimpeded and unconfested legitimate power of the State, they have dabbled in financial questions, subverted family organizations, destroyed the obligation of contracts and, inaugurating the reign of violence, excluded courts of justice from taking cognizance of alleged nullities in the transfer of property.

One of the nameless vagabonds has even demanded that "summary punishment" be dealt to the "leaders of the character," as if he and his gang had any character at stake. They have finally, and to crown their work, organized mercenary bands of janizaries, consisting of vagabonds as contemptible as themselves, to be fed, clothed and armed for purposes of plunder and murder. Thank God, their very excesses will be the means of their destruction!

The Times concludes by advising every registered voter go to the polls and record his protest against the adoption of that instrument of thraldom and tyranny, attempted to be forced on us by the Montgomery bogus State Convention.

Let that protest be so imposing that the friends of peace, law and the Union, may have their hands strengthened for the forthcoming battle they are going to fight for the preservation and unity of the Great Republic.

A man whose wife was sickly and deadly pale,
And whose every looks told a melancholy tale;
Was seen in a deep meditative mood,
Walk to a fellow stream that ran through a wood;
His face was pale, his eyes were dark and low,
His blood-shot eyes fixed on the stream below;
He walked, then stopped, as if he sought to find
A balm for his wife, and cure for his mind.
He pondered over the deep moaning tide,
Then stooping, he laid his garments by his side,
And with pen in his hand, prone and still,
He once bowed on the stream, and then drank his fill.
Then quickly he said two Italian Francs he threw,
Then quicker, he
My wife is declining—oh! she'd so sick!

The Cotton Tax.

We understand the Committee of Ways and Means have unanimously resolved to recommend the appeal of the cotton tax, and from present indications it is likely Congress will repeal it. Such action would not only be just toward the Southern people of both races, but would be good policy as well, for it would show that the government is relaxing its severity over those obsolutely in its power. A people unrepresented in the body that makes laws for them are generally oppressed. It has been so through the history of all countries; it cannot be otherwise, for legislators or even statesmen see only their own interests or the interests of their immediate constituents. We have a striking example of this in Great Britain taxing the American colonies, which led to our war for independence. We have another more striking still in the cotton tax imposed upon the South. This tax, too, has something vindictive in it. A large party in Congress voted for it for the purpose of punishing the South. But, as we intimated, representatives in any legislative body are always disposed to favor the States or people they represent directly, and to lay as much of the burden of taxation as possible on the unrepresented.

There are numerous examples in our history of different branches of industry being protected, and even of direct bounties being given by government to them. The manufacturers of New England and the iron interest of Pennsylvania have been and are fostered by a protective tariff. The New England fisheries received for a long time direct bounties. Agriculture and other industrial interests—the people generally—have paid all along increased prices for what they wore and consumed to protect, or, rather, to enrich manufacturers. But never before, as far as we remember, was an important branch of domestic industry burdened with direct taxation. It is doubtful if this cotton tax be constitutional; but if even it can be made out to be so by a strained construction of the constitution, it is nevertheless partial, invidious, oppressive and iniquitous. It is said the foreigner must take the cotton, and, therefore, he has to pay the tax. This is a fallacious argument. Cotton will go down in proportion to the supply, and if the price be high the production will be stimulated elsewhere. The present tax falls immediately on the cultivator. But this is not all. The cotton agents of the government are not only a heavy cost to the Treasury, but they have every oppotunity to fleece the planters as well as negro laborers, who are mostly paid for their crops by a percentage of the crop in the arbitrary control of the cotton trade and movement.

In nothing is the hypocrisy of the pretended radical negro philanthropists seen more than in this cotton tax. They cry out continually "the poor negro," and they pretend to be his best friend, yet they tax his labor. Ignorant as the negroes are they understand this, and hence, in the Louisiana Convention and elsewhere throughout the cotton States where they have a voice, they proclaim loudly against the iniquity. Not the planters alone, but negro laborers protest against the tax. The New York Chamber of Commerce, too, seeing the unjust character and ruinous effect of this tax, has protested against it. The South needs all the encouragement possible to recover from the ruinous consequences of the war, not for the sake of the Southern whites alone, but for the general welfare, for the revenue, for the negroes, for commerce and to save a magnificent country from permanent desolation. Yet a weak and radical Congress taxes heavily the productive power of that section. If the radicals have no regard for principle, for the general welfare of the South or for the white people thereof, they will listen to the voice of their negro friends and repeal this iniquitous cotton tax.—N. Y. Herald.

A late number of the Cincinnati Commercial contains the following first rate notice of a portion of the outfit of the new steamer Gov. Allen. It would seem the officers of that boat need "reconstructing" very badly.

General Butler's popularity in the South is so great that the owners of the new steamboat Gov. Allen, Captain John Smoker, intended for the Red river trade, and which is now fitting out at the port of Louisville, have thought it expedient to provide the ladies' state-rooms with an article of furniture that formed an essential part of the nitre bureau of the Confederate Ordinance Department, to have its mirror delicately etched with a portrait of the General in the uniform of an officer of his rank in the army of the United States. It must be accepted as evidence of the progressive spirit of reconstruction that Southern Indian should evince so profound an attachment for a General they soundly abused during the war, that they cannot bear to be deprived of his portrait, even in their moments of deepest repose. The consequences may be deplorable, if husbands, jealous of this extraordinary manifestation of attachment, in searching the state-rooms of their wives, should make so unexpected a discovery as Don Alonso in ransacking the apartments of the Donna Julia; and they will certainly be disastrous if the pictorial artist has imparted to the counterfeit presentment the dangerous jollarity of vision that characterizes the face of Gen. Butler.

A special to the Mobile Times says :

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—[P. M.—The tax on cotton will certainly be removed, to take effect septemeber 1st, 1868.

Copies of the President's Message for the newspaper press was sent by mail last night. It will be read in Congress to-morrow at 12 M.

Temperance in all Things.

All good men, all christians, all patriots are advocates of temperance. Indeed public sentiment is unanimous on this point, although there may be difference of opinion as to the best method of accomplishing the desired end. Temperance means moderation, though technically applied to abstinence from the use of intoxicating drinks has a much broader signification than that. The individual who agitates all medical subjects, and prescribes as a deadly poison any, nevertheless, be intemperate, in his language, in his pursuit of wealth, in his eating, in his political opinions, in the gratification of any one of his passions, his prejudices or his appetites. It is even possible to preach "temperance" intemperately.

There are certain enthusiasts, for example, who demand the entire abolishment of alcoholic stimulants. Against these ultra-prohibitionists the great body of the medical profession takes decided ground.—Nine-tenths of the physicians and surgeons of the civilized world prescribe alcohol, and medicines of which alcohol is a cardinal ingredient in their practice. They say that it is one of the most important articles in the materia medica, and that nothing can supply its place. Sometimes they administer it neat, sometimes deluded with water, sometimes medicated; and while admitting, as any sane and honest man admits, that it is, morally and physically, a poison when taken to excess, they argue that under certain conditions, and in certain cases, its use is not only advisable, but essential to the preservation of life and the restoration of health.

Believing that the most profound pathologists and physiologists of the age understand the matter somewhat better than non-professionals, we accept their doctrine and practice as philosophic and correct—the more especially as the results of their treatment confirm their theories.

The rational friends of temperance side by side with whom we stand, frankly concede that alcohol is sometimes necessary as a sanitary agent. Mr. Greely grants this in a recent article published in "The Independent," and only fanatics, whose zeal is unhampered by knowledge, venture to deny it.

Here, however, a difficulty occurs. The liquors of commerce are so generally adulterated that it is perilous to give them to sick persons. All the brandies, rums, gins, whiskys, &c., are more or less empoisoned. Each contains some ingredients which provoke a thirst for ardent spirits—and drunkards are made.—Under these circumstances sensible "temperance men" should be the first to appreciate the importance of a pure stimulant for medical use.

This deideratum is supplied to the public in all locality in the form of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which is not merely a wholesome stimulant but an invaluable vegetable tonic, corrective and alterative. In manufacturing, advertising and selling it for sanitary purposes only—the proprietors claim to be contributing a sound and substantial plank to the temperance platform.

There is a good deal of cant talked and written by some of the self-elected reformers of the necessity of mankind. It is the misfortunes of many of these persons, and of their disciples, to confound the use of difficulties and habitual abuse with their misuse as a beverage. The spirit by which they are animated is a spirit of blind bigotry and intolerance akin to that which, in the olden time, led to the massacre of St. Bartholomew, the crusades and the Albigenses; and many other foul wrongs committed in the name of religion. Thomas Hood, the witliest of publishers, and the most philosophical of wits, characterized that narrow-minded and aggressive piety which is continually preaching whatever does not strictly conform to its peculiar ritual as mag-piety, and there are a good many birds of the magpie feather who would fain obtain the exclusive control of the whole temperance flock.

The doctrine of these individuals lacks consistency. The same arguments—if they deserve the name—which they urge against the employment of alcohol and alcoholic tonics in the treatment of disease, or for its prevention, apply with still greater force to most of the favorite specifics of the family. Yet they have not a word to say against opium, quinine, strychnine, mercurial salts, and other deadly poisons which are prescribed daily by thousands of medical men. Are these less deleterious than the pure alcoholic stimulant used as a medium for diffusing the healing influence of wholesome herbs and roots through the system? The most uncompromising ultra-prohibitionists, must admit that they are not.

But he has a rejoinder in reserve. The powerful mendicants referred to are prescribed in limited doses. Bounds are affixed to their use by those who recommend them. And is it not the same, we ask, with regard to medicated spirituous stimulants. Every bottle of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, for example, is accompanied by directions for its use. These directions are as clear and explicit as those in a physician's prescription, and even if they happen to be misstated through inadvertence, no serious consequences ensue. A double or triple dose of laudanum, or of strychnine, or of mineral salt, may kill, and very often does kill, but a dose or even a wine-glass full of the BITTERS would produce no such terrible effect. Opium is an infinitely stronger and more virulent poison than alcohol, and is extensively used in producing intoxication as well as in medical treatment. Nevertheless, in spleen, dyspepsia and as a useful curative by the same parties that utterly proscribe all alcoholic preparations! It is always the dose that is consistent.

Bigoted Prohibitionists would do well to profit by the lessons taught from Sacred History. The patriarchs and prophets of the old dispensation and the Apostles of the new were not total abstainers. They did not hold that the abuse of the thing was an argument against its use. The cautious Paul, for example, counsels the manufacturer of wine to sanctioned by the Scriptures. It is commanded to be given to those who "be ready to perish," and also to "those that be of heavy hearts." Red wine, and wine taken in excess, is made the type of "the wine's wrath, as the "Wine of Astonishment," of "vaping" of "fury," of "affliction," &c., but good wine is not condemned, but is forcibly recommended in many pages of the Bible. Some condemnation by Divine Authority confirmed to alcohol—that it was unfermented grape juice—but set in its strongest form, as "strong drink" in Proverbs and elsewhere, and is expressly stated to be "raging," and "deceiving" and "biting like a serpent and stinging like an adder."

The true principle of temperance is to use the good and avoid the evil. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a good thing, and to speak them ill is to commit an error in judgment.

Remember the Agricultural meeting to-day at the Mayor's office at 3 o'clock.

VICKSBURG AND MERIDIAN RAILROAD.—This road is in better condition now than we have ever before seen it. A vast amount of work has been done during the administration of the present Superintendent, Mr. E. F. Haworth, and in passing over it the other day, we found gangs of laborers still scattered along the line of road, engaged in making additional improvements. During the past year the entire road has been rebuilt and re-bridged; many miles of good substantial ballasting put in and thousands upon thousands of cross-ties put down; new iron has been laid, in many places cuts widened ditches cut and a great quantity of other work done to make the road safe during the winter season. The most favorable commentary on the road and its condition is the uniform regularity with which the trains have been run and are now running. Two elegant passenger cars have recently arrived from the East and at Vicksburg others are being repaired and rebuilt, and it is confidently expected that by the 1st of January the passenger accommodations on the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad will be equal to those of any other road in this section of country. The freight capacity is equal to any emergency, and the Company are constantly augmenting it. Considering the tightness of the times and the present unreliable system of labor, the officers of this road have accomplished wonders" and are entitled to much praise for their skill and ability.

A NEW MAYOR.—The term of Hon. R. L. Henderson, who for the last year has discharged the duties of Mayor, of Meridian, having expired on the first of this month, Gen. Ord has appointed Wm. Cathey, one of the Board of Registration of this county, his successor. Mr. Cathey is an old citizen of the county, and is a very respectable clever gentleman. Mayor Henderson has been a faithful and efficient officer, and if the wishes of the people of Meridian had been consulted, would have retained the office. He has preserved order, and maintained the authority of the law under all circumstances while he held the office, and carries with him in his retirement the best wishes of the citizens of Meridian.

John T. Allison of this city, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Smith, as cotton weigher at Meridian. This appointment is one of the best that could have been made, and gives entire satisfaction.

THE BANKRUPT COURT.—This court has been in session in this city all the week, and will probably adjourn to-day. There has been considerable business before it about forty petitions having already been filed and most of them adjudicated.

The garrison, which has been stationed here during the summer, took their departure yesterday morning for Jackson.—During their stay in our midst the officers have preserved the best of order, and the troops conducted themselves in a manner highly commendable. There is a general regret expressed at their leaving.

Beauty, health, comfort and neatness secured by the use of the PERFECTION or NEW HOME Sewing Machine. Call and examine the latest and most improved machine and all those troublesome complaints and fancy patentees and agents, so annoying and perplexing to purchasers, will be avoided.

Remember the Grand Opening of Ash Brown's Dry Goods Store, on Front street, next door to Mr. Wm. Hall's. From the unbounded success that has attended the opening of a similar establishment in this city by the same firm, we feel assured that a large number of our citizens will be present on the occasion.

THE BIG SNOW.—We suppose everybody has heard of the big snow—circus and menagerie—and her hero—Mr. Joseph Jacobs. We are pleased to announce the fact that this company carries with it the praise and applause of the press and public. Last week we gave an extract from the Mobile Tribune in reference to it, and now we have one from the La Grange (Ga.) Reporter, which will show what the show is:

THE ELEPHANT IS COMING—CASTELLO'S MODEL CIRCUS AND VAN AMBURGH'S MENAGERIE AND COLOSSAL EXHIBITION.—Although there are few people in the city who are not aware that this "big show" is coming to La Grange for one day, Friday, Nov. 15th. The little folks are in high glee over the anticipated delights in store for them, and all amusement-seekers are on the qui vive for the occasion. The establishment is a large one. The circus company is composed of some of the best riders, contortists and gymnasts in the profession; in addition to all of which Mademoiselle Pauline, a beautiful and accomplished equestrienne from Paris, will make her American debut here, and will display gaily ereata as great a flutter among our young men as she has among the sons of the Gauls for the last few years. The Little Minnie, the "Child Wonder," the most petite performer ever before the public will also appear here. Old Bob Fish, the rival of James Robinson, the truly great bare-back rider. Dan Castello, in addition to his fine breeds of steeds, introduces his wonderfully-trained Hessian horse "Czar," and his school of educated animals. The menagerie, during the period of a collection of rare and beautiful animals, many of which will be novelties here—and Prof. Leo Hall will enter the den of Van-Amburgh's performing lions, and go through a series of remarkable feats, including placing them with restment from his hands.

Remember, this day and date, Friday, Nov. 15th. So make up your parties in time for the Great Moral Combination—All should witness the Grand Procession of Knights and Heralds and ladies in royal robes; also the Live Lion loose on the streets of La Grange. Again we say come and see the show.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of our friends, Messrs. James Ruddle & Co. of Louisville Ky., which may be found in another column of our paper. All those afflicted by disease, or who have friends suffering from sickness, should carefully read, and we know they will derive profit from it. It gives us much pleasure to be able in this manner to recommend to our people these gentlemen, and the medicines of which they are Proprietors, as we know they claim no merit for their remedies than long years of trial has fully shown it fully deserved.

The reputation of Dr. Thos. A. Hurley's Bitters, Worm Candy, Sarsaparilla, and Ague Tonic is world wide, having been used through the whole of this country for many years past, and never having failed to give universal satisfaction. The proprietors have never received any complaints about them, hence their confidence in recommending them to the public as never failing to cure. As it is with the "Hurley Preparations," so also with Dr. Seabrook's Infant Soothing Syrup, and Dr. Bettison's English Horse Liniment, both of which are unequalled. These gentlemen are also the manufacturers of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluids and Carmine Ink which are so well known and extensively used in the West and Southwest, for school, bank, and office, equalling the best English Inks now used. We cannot understand why these remedies might not as well be taken in the special diseases for which they are recommended with as much confidence as the prescription of a regular physician.

LATEST TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The following is a synopsis of the President's message:

The first duty at the close of the civil war was to reap the fruits of victory, secure benefits, and appreciate its lessons at the earliest moment. This duty was promptly accepted by the President. All of the citizens of the insurrectionary States, and their restoration in the first moment of peace was believed to be regarded as indispensible. These expectations were disappointed by legislation and now there is no Union where there should be Union. Congress abolished amendments to the Constitution to the Southern States, and secured the acts of the confederate Judges of the Supreme Court have included the Southern States in their districts.—The Southern States are now conquered parts of the Union, the Constitution is the supreme law for them as for all other States. They are bound to obey it and so are we. Being sincerely convinced that these views are correct, the President recommends the repeal of all acts abolishing the Southern States under military masters. The conflict between the reconstructed acts and the rights of the people under the constitution, is argued and illustrated at length.

Alluding to negro suffrage, the President says: The subjection of States to negro dominion will be worse than existing military despotism. The people will endure endless military oppression rather than degrade themselves by submission to the negro race. The blacks are entitled to be well and humanely governed, but if it were possible to force them a government of their own it would become a grave question whether we ought to do so, or whether common humanity would not require us to save them from themselves. But it is not proposed that they shall rule, but govern themselves, as that they shall govern the white man, and to a greater or less extent control the destinies of the State. Universal suffrage is inconsistent with the virtue, intelligence and progress of the white race

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges :

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to Keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We quote

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, at make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600 ; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200 ; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $3150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $2892 net gain to our Students ; just to the other a net expense of $2400, or $8250 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We devote a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best forms a parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

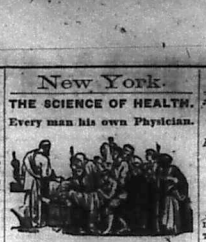
THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every man his own Physician.



HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

Holloway's Ointment.

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—should it or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous crysipelas and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates billious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by costiveness, diarrhea and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM.

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "sooth ing action" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN.

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are eradicated and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, those tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible to the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

PILES AND FISTULA.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emollient ; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing virtue will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases :

Bunions,	Swelled Gland,
Burns,	Sore Legs,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Sore Throats,
Gout,	Sores of all kinds,
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,
Mercurial Eruptions,	Sprains,
Piles,	Stiff Joints,
Rheuma ism,	Tetter,
Ringworm,	Ulcers,
Salt Rheum,	Venereal Sores,
Scalds,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernable as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box ; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the manufactory of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot and box.

(ESTABLISHED IN 1840.)

We have removed to a spacious store located as above, formerly occupied by Moore & Lyons, and more recently by DeVan & Mason.

Having more ample accomodations than heretofore, we shall at all times keep as large a stock and extend as a variety of styles as can be found in any Southern or Western city. Our goods are received direct from factories, by sail vessels, at about one fourth of Steamer or Rail. s rates of freight, enabling us to offer our stock a very small advance over manufacturers' prices. The attention of merchants and planters is invited.

LAND, LAND.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

IN addition to the large quantity of valuable land we are now offering for sale in different portions of East Mississippi and Alabama, we desire to call special attention of those wishing to purchase, to a valuable plantation in Choctaw county, Ala., 8 miles Northeast of the town of Butler and 6 miles from Tuscahoma Bluff, on the Tombigbee River, containing 700 acres, a large portion of which is in a good state of cultivation—fifth and productive—adapted to cotton and corn, &c. There are two good dwelling houses on the place and all necessary out houses, stables, &c. can be purchased on reasonable terms—one wishing to purchase could not make a better investment.

We give strict attention to the collection, compromise, or adjustment of all claims—act as agents in buying or selling real estate, paying taxes on lands for non residents, &c.

The Doctor removes CANCER WITHOUT PAIN OR THE USE OF THE KNIFE, and in addition to the above all

Chronic Diseases

Dr. Cowden can be consulted at the National Hotel, or at his office, South East corner of Main and 3d Streets.

Post Office Box 470.

A very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. C. COUDEN, of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. ——— had a cancer on the right side of his face, which commenced in a small pimple, and was so terribly afflict it with cancer, which was eating away his countenance in a horrible manner. The doctor's bills. The in our town very low, was inviting almost the entire church. It he had declared a very malignant character and a rapid growth, and had been treating it for some months. The Doctor made an application which he continued but a short time, which did not benefit the patient but caused him to suffer more or less. The application appeared to be a powder, which in a day or two after a few days it slougbed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since entirely healed up, and the patient is well and pr but a scar is very proud of being cured.

If any person should be afflicted with a cancer or any other disease, and will call on the undersigned, I will recommend him to all those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe he is entitled to the less pain of and far superior to any other physician in the United States. Any one desiring further particulars can address me at Hagleyville, Hilary county, Tennessee.

C. B. PAYN.

We, the undersigned, are acquainted with C. B. Payn, and know that his little son was successfully treated by Dr. W. C. Couden, of the city of Louisville, Ky., so long as to judge from the appearance of the child, it was surely a very remarkable success.

State Convention—Constitutional Union Party.

A State Convention of the Constitutional Union party of Mississippi will be held in the city of Jackson on Wednesday, the 29th day of January next, for the purpose of thorough organization, consultation and action.

All citizens of the State who are in favor of Peace and Union under the Constitution, are earnestly invited to meet, without regard to former political associations, and send delegates to take counsel with us for the common good. We urge the people to assemble in primary meetings, without delay, and to select able and trusted men who will attend the Convention. We suggest that each county select double the number of delegates to which such county is entitled by representation in the lower branches of the Legislature, with a like number of alternates.

All newspapers in this State friendly to the cause are requested to publish this notice until the day appointed for assembling.

PRESS CONVENTION.—The third semiannual convention of the Mississippi Press Association will meet at Natchez, on the third Monday of January, 1868. The address will be delivered by Col. E. M. Yerger, editor of the Vicksburg Herald.

In the New Orleans Convention when discussing the preamble and resolutions denying the statements contained in the memorial to Congress, expressing the fear of a war of races, a negro member named Cromwell declared, "we will rule until the last one of us goes down forever. That the negroes were going to have their rights if it was by a revolution and blood, in spite of Andy Johnson or any other man." He declared that he was ready for a revolution.

In the Georgia Convention Parrott, of Barlow county, was elected President. His election was regarded as a triumph for the more Conservative, wing. Parrott, in an address, said that above all things, the Convention should do nothing to throw additional obstacles in the path of the Republican party or put weapons in the hands of their enemies. The address was partisan, but not ultra.

It appears that Col. McCardle is not the only Editor in Gen. Ord's District under Military arrest. Mr. Gatewood, the Editor of the Lake Village (Ark.) Press has been for some time in confinement at Vicksburg. His accuser is a Provost Marshall who at last accounts was on trial before an Arkansas Court for obtaining goods under false pretences.

Since negro suffrage has been forced on the South at the point of the bayonet, the question has been submitted to the voters of four Northern States and defeated by the following majorities:

Ohio, 50,000 ; Kansas, 8,500 ; Minnesota, 1,298 ; New Jersey, 10,000.

This is the verdict of four States in which the Republicans had a majority at the time the Military Bills were passed.

The Labor Reform and People's candidates for Mayor and other city officers of Pittsburg have defeated the regular Republican candidates by over 3000 majority.

The extreme measures of the Alabama Convention appear to have seriously alarmed the Radical leaders. Greely of the Tribune desires them "restrained," and Senator Wilson writes General Swayne that the policy pursued by the convention in legislating for divorces and in other ways transcending their authority, and the ultra speeches of Bingham and men of that class, are doing great injury to reconstruction and bringing odium on the Republican party.

The Convention has provided for the submission of the Constitution for ratification on the 4th February 1868, the election to be under the control and management of Gen. Pope. All State and county officers are to be elected at the same time. The new Legislature is to meet at Montgomery on the 18th of March, 1868.

The article on franchise has been amended so that all persons are disfranchised who are disqualified from holding office by the proposed amendment to the Constitution, known as the fourteenth article, and those who have been disqualified from registering to vote for delegates to the convention under the reconstruction acts of Congress, except such persons as aided in the reconstruction proposed by Congress and accepted the political equality of all men before the law, provided that the General Assembly shall have the power to remove the disabilities incurred under this clause.

Proclamation by Gov. Humphreys.

We publish to-day an important proclamation from Gov. Humphreys with the approval and indorsement of Gen. Ord. It appears that in several parts of the State the freedmen are forming combinations to seize the lands and establish farms, expecting that Congress will arrange a plan for their division. Any attempt of this kind would be most unfortunate for the blacks, and would lead to their swift and complete destruction. They may rest assured that the Military power of the United States will promptly suppress any movement of the kind, and in the absence of the Military the white people of the State are fully able to take care of themselves, and crush out any outbreak of the kind that may occur.

As one who wishes the black people well, we impress upon them the importance of relieving the public mind from any apprehensions of this sort. The losses of the last two years have so crippled the resources of the country that it will be very difficult for them to find employment at all for the next year. Such reports as these will prevent hundreds from planting, while their secret League meetings with mean whites, and the reports of the intemperate and incendiary language used by some of their number, is daily widening the breach between the two races.

The Bankrupt Law.

The Clerk of the United States Court at Memphis, in answer to inquiries about the costs of a case in bankruptcy, publishes a letter in the Bulletin in which he states that in addition to the deposit of fifty dollars (which is solely under the 47th section of the Bankrupt act, on account of Register's fe s), the applicant must also pay, in cash, the ascertainable fees of the Clerk (generally about twelve dollars), on filing his petition. It also suggests that the fees and costs of the United States Marshall for serving notices, advertising, etc., must be secured by a cost bond ; and the reason for this is, that the 29th rule of Proceedings in Bankruptcy, prescribed by the Supreme Court of the United States, which accompany and are a part of the law, distinctly says that "the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be paid or secured, in all cases, before they shall be compelled to perform the duties required of them," under the Bankrupt act. The practical interpretation of that rule in this office is, for all fees to be paid in cash that are ascertainable at the time of filing a petition, and to take a cost bond for those fees that are not ascertainable in amount, but certain to accrue.

Under the rule o the Supreme Court above quoted, it is not necessary to file this cost bond. The applicant can take his choice, and pay the cash as his case progresses. And this, I understand is the rule in St. Louis, and perhaps in all cities. In St. Louis, I learn, the applicant deposits the $50 for Register's fees, and pays $15 on account of Clerk's fees, on filing his petition. At stated future periods, he makes other cash deposits, say $15 in thirty days ; $15 in sixty days, and so on, until his case is ended. In cities, it is easy for applicants to watch their cases, and pay the fees as the case progresses. But in an extensive district such as ours, wherein applicants may reside a hundred miles from the court, it is not convenient to do this ; and hence a cost bond is assorted to as the usual means of "securing" the officers of the courts in their fees."

In this State we learn that the fifty dollars is divided between the Clerk and Register, leaving the applicant to pay in cash the fees of the Marshall, publication, &c. In ordinary cases this will amount to about twenty-five dollars. This would make the cost of a Bankrupt case at least seventy-five dollars besides the attorney's fee.

AFFAIRS IN FLORIDA.—A correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, who has traveled extensively in Florida, gives a most deplorable account of affairs in that State. The cotton crop is a signal failure, little corn was raised, and the negroes are stealing what little there is and killing and carrying away the stock of every description. Without cotton enough to pay the advances for raising the same, stock killed by the idle negroes and without corn to last longer than the opening of the year, the majority of the planters in Florida are truly in a pitiable condition.

The Virginia Convention shows that Hanover county, the birthplace of Clay and Henry, Orange county, the birthplaces of Madison and Zach Taylor, Albemarle county, the birthplace of Jefferson, Charles City county, the birth-place of Harrison and Tyler, are all represented by negroes.

Congressional.

In the Senate Wilson introduced a bill to amend the Reconstruction laws so as to allow a majority of those who vote to decide on the ratification of the new constitutions. Senator Doolittle offered an amendment providing that all persons offering to vote on adoption of the Constitutions, who do not possess the qualifications required by the States prior to the rebellion, shall possess one of three qualifications :

First—Service in the army of the United States at least one year.

Second—Ability to read and understand the nature of an oath, or Third—The possession of $250 freehold in his own or wife's right. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Wilson has offered a bill to remove the disabilities of 284 Alabamians recommended by the Convention. The impeachment question was finally defeated in the House of Representatives by a vote of 57 to 108.

A resolution suspending the power of the Secretary of the Treasury to contract the currency, prevailed by 128 to 32.

The National Union Republican Committee have called a National Convention for the nomination of a candidate for President and Vice President to meet in Chicago on the 20th of May.

Putnam's Magazine has been revived to commence with January 1868.

In New York, recently, a woman took advantage of her husband's absence to get a divorce from him ; on his return it came out that he had been to Indiana, where he had obtained a divorce from her.

A Democrat named Shutleff has been elected Mayor of Boston. He is the first Democratic Mayor in the last twenty years.

A Specimen of the Loyal League.

R. King Cutler, of New Orleans, one of the leaders of the Loyal Leagues, was appointed by General Mower Judge of the Second District to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Cazabat. When Gen. Hancock arrived, the appointment was so notoriously bad that he removed Cutler. A gentleman of New Orleans, who knows Cutler's history, says of him :

Gen. Mower could not have been ignorant of the fact that Cutler is morally and intellectually unfit for the office ; that he possesses neither the respect nor the confidence of the public, and that he is a man of notoriously bad character, for his antecedents have been made public through one of the leading journals of this city since General Mower's residence here. It has been made public upon the authority of a certified copy of the record of the Court of Massac county, Ill., that Cutler only escaped rendering that State some service in one of her public institutions by failing to appear and answer charges of a criminal character preferred against him. It has been made public that he was a violent secessionist previous to the occupation of this city by the Federal troops and that he clamored for the life of every man who professed loyalty to the Union.

HD QR'S SUB-DIST. OF MISSISSIPPI,
Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 6, 1867.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 20.

The following extracts of General Orders from Headquarters 4th Military District, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

1. Hereafter persons not in the Military Service of the United States and not engaged in execution of the laws, are prohibited carrying, concealed weapons under a penalty of forfeiture of the arms found upon them, and of being tried and punished by a Military Commission for disturbing the public peace.

2. Any person found guilty of a violation of this order will be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars and imprisonment for not more than three months at the discretion of a Military Commission.

3. Justices of the Peace, Magistrates and Sheriffs are authorized and directed to execute this order so far as the arrest and confinement of offenders and the seizure of arms found upon them as directed. It is expected that this order will be executed regardless of race color or opinion.

* * * *

1. It having been reported that large quantities of stolen goods are sold or delivered after dark in this district, all merchants traders and pawn brokers are hereby notified that the purchase or delivery of country supplies, such as corn, pork or flour, beef or live animals after sunset and market hour in the morning is made a military as well as civil offense, both by the party receiving and the party delivering or selling.

2. Hereafter no person or persons shall be considered as authorized to purchase country produce as above enumerated after the first day of January, 1868, except they have a special license in each case so to do. In all cities and corporate towns the license will be granted by the Mayor outside of the limits of such cities and towns the license will be issued by the Sheriff of the County ; and the granting and authority granting such license is hereby authorized to withdraw the same whenever satisfactory evidence is produced that the privileges therein conferred are being abused.

3. Every violation of either paragraph of this order will subject the offender to a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars, or in default of payment of the fine imposed, confinement not to exceed three months in the county jail, at the discretion of the Magistrate or Judge before whom the case is tried.

4. Military Commissions and local Magistrates, Justices of the Peace and County Judges are authorized to take cognizance of offenses against this order.

A Voice from the Orphans' Home.

The near approach of Christmas, the gala season of the year, with all classes, awakens vivid recollections of merry makings, family reunions, the giving and receiving of presents, and general hilarity. So firmly established has this custom become, so hallowed indeed, are its associations, that the severe ordeal, through which our country has passed, ending in a complete overthrow of many of our social customs, has failed to make any material change in the festivities of this occasion. The Christmas Tree still buds, blooms, bears fruit, and perfects it in one night. Little stockings of various sizes, and of almost every hue, still adorn, through the preceding night, the chimney corners of almost every household, and, on Christmas morn—the little owners, rising from their dream-disturbed slumbers, make the welkin ring with their glad shouts, on finding that good old Santa Claus, though sadly affected by the general pressure, is not yet so poor as to forget his little friends.

Notwithstanding the well known benevolence of the kind old fairy, we cannot help having occasionally, an anxious thought, with regard to his intended movements, at the ensuing season.—During the past few weeks the much vexed question—will he, in his generous distributions, remember the orphans at the Home?—has frequently obtruded itself.—Will he be frightened at the long array of little stockings, that will greet his eyes, as he takes a peep down each of our chimneys, and, fearing that he cannot satisfy such a large family, will he gather up his reins, whistle to his coursers, and take his flight to more favored households ? or—will he, with his famous wagon filled to overflowing, visit the Home, while down each chimney, and, with a merry twinkle of his grey eyes, fill the long rows of stockings, hanging with gaping mouths in anticipation of his visit? Shall a number of little disappointed faces flit about the squares on Christmas morning? or, shall the surrounding hills echo with the gleeful shouts of happy children ? Shall the Home have a Christmas Tree, or not?—Shall her little ones sit down on that day, to their usual fare (good though it is, thanks to their kind friends) or, shall their table be graced with a few luxuries from the outer world? Shall Christmas pass over the Home quietly and unnoted, or shall its fertile files form a pleasant reminiscence in the hearts of the orphans? Which shall it be? These questions have frequently occurred to me, and, I hope I shall be forgiven, what some may think, an overweening desire to see the orphans have a Merry Christmas, while preparing for Christmas in their own household, please to remember the orphans at the Orphans' Home.

It is no unimportant deed to give innocent pleasure to children. When you hear your own little ones shouting with delight over their Christmas presents, it will add to your hearts' pleasure to know that you helped to fill Santa Claus' wagon for the orphans. When you sit down to your own tables, smoking with Christmas cheer, it will add to your reflection, that the orphans are at that moment, regaling themselves with your bounty. Last Christmas, a few kind ladies in Columbus, Miss., sent through Dr. D. P. Bestor, an ample contribution of toys, fruits, cakes, &c., and it is still held in grateful remembrance. But the family of the Home has increased so much within the year, that a few ladies, or all the ladies of any one city, would be too heavily taxed, if they attempted to furnish a feast of any kind. But I feel satisfied, those ladies will have generous co-operation in their efforts, not only in Columbus, but in other cities. The Railroad is very convenient. Any box, barrel &c., for Santa Claus, directed to Orphans' Home, Lauderdale Miss., Care of S. S. Granberry, and properly started, will be sure to create a pleasurable excitement at the Home.

WEST'S

SOLD BY

J. D. WEST & CO.,

40 Cortlandt St., (In the 17th Broadway,)

New York.

Double-Acting, Anti-Freezing, Lifting, and Forcing Pump.

The reputation of this Pump is established on the simplest and most powerful in use. It is bought and used by the best Engineers and Mechanics of the city and neighborhood, and gives universal satisfaction. It is recommended as the best, by such Engineers as Captain Ericsson, J. C. Hoyer & Gillis, H. R. Worthington, H. Rice & Co., T. R. Timpson, Wm. A. Hadden, &c., &c., whose reputation extend throughout the world.

These Pumps took the first premium at the United States Agricultural Fair at Richmond ; at the National Fair at St. Louis ; at the Fair of the Boston Mechanics' Association ; three times at the American Institute Fair ; and at numerous State and County Fairs since.

Our House Pump is made to discharge upwards, for supplying the tanks above or downwards. It is safer against frost than any other pump, being so low, because the water chambers are surrounded with air-chambers, and the upper valve is placed so much under the water—and like all other styles, is easier to work than any other pump of similar capacity.

Our Well and Cistern pump is perfectly safe against freezing when placed in a well in the ground, with the top of the elbow not less than a foot of the cylinder left open ; and, altogether, is a perfect little fire engine ! We have in use of the large size, in good for no extra discharge pipe, which can be attached under the ground to convey water to a distant tank, barn or other place where wanted.

Deck Pumps—Large Size.

This Cut shows the Pump as adapted for Factories, Steamboats, Ships, Mines, Railroads, &c., &c., either for hand or power, of any size required. We can refer to the best judges of hydraulic machinery in the city to support our statements with regard to these pumps, and will give their name to any one who wish for them. But read what some of those using them say of them.

WHAT APPLETON DEEP WELLS, they have received the highest commendations. Have no stuffing box, and a strong piston, they work easier and are less liable to get out of order than all others, and at the same time are more simple to repair.

They are very easy put in the well, everything hanging suspended perpendicularly from the platform on top, and the boring, properly put in, answers every purpose as well as a larger one, as for a ladder to descend on the cylinder.

The following are a few of the residences who have them in down wells :

Wm. Worthington, King Bridge Front St. Nicholas Insurance Co., N. Y.

Jay L. Adams, Broomfield, N. J.

H. Bailey Tenant, Newark, N. J.

T. W. A bertson, Rinecliff, L. I

Lt. M. P. Freeman, Staten Island, N. Y.

N. Halleck, and others, Queens, L. I.

LAGRANGE, TEXAS, Feb, 1861.

J. D. WEST & CO.—GENTS : I have now your pump in operation and am highly pleased with it. I have no trouble in getting it to work well. It can blow the water all over and into my house, affording the greatest facility for purifying the air inside. I have witnessed my wind mill to it and all works like a clock. I shall recommend them everywhere.

D. G. GREGORY.

Solon Robinson to the Farmers' Club, Jan. 63.

"No Farmer who owns a well or cistern can possibly afford to be without an iron Pump. It should be 7 inches suction and force-pump—a perfect little fire engine, such as are now sold as 'West's Improved Pump.' I speak of this pump because I have known its merits for many years. It is reliable, powerful and cheap, and it now's PARRY ice, nor get out of order once a year.... I know this, as I have used it for many years, and by speaking of it...., A boy ten years old can work it with ease, and a man can work it with perfect ease.... It can be made to work in deep wells as well as shallow ones.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Aug. 2, 1869.

Please buy and send me as early as practicable, another West's Improved Pump, like the one I bought last winter. It proves a good pump, and I am greatly pleased with it. Also send forty feet hose like that I then bought, with connections, and a pipe to water my garden.

S. B. MALLORY,
Ex Secretary of the Navy.

From the New York Tribune.

PUMPS.—An inquiry has reached us in reference to a pump which may be available on farms, and carbe worked by a windmill and made to force water from the spring to the house. One enquirer also wants a cistern Pump which will not freeze in the winter and get out of order in the summer.

Six years ago we placed one of West's force pumps, all iron with iron pipe down to the water in a well in Westchester Co., where it has been in use every day since, without one cent of expense for repairs. Other pumps having been stopped in its operations by frost ; and it has never had any protection, except to pull out a little water from the top of the pipe. This pump which lets the water run out of the spout that leads the water to the spout, &c.

We have no doubt that one of these pumps, with its large water chamber, would supply water from a well 30 feet deep, and draw it 30 or 40 feet horizontally.

Upon this spout we fasten a gutta percha hose and pipe, and throw water wherever we choose in the house. We also attach it to a small windmill and carry water all over the farm. In fact, one of our acquaintances, Mr. J. J. Adams, butter merchant, New York, has just such a pump operated by a windmill at Broomfield, N. J., which raises the water ninety feet, working to his set satisfaction nearly four years. After having failed with other pumps, he now thinks it the best, most perfect pump in the world.

W. E. Lyons, near Bedford, Westchester co., raises water nearly 200 feet elevation. It is driven by a windmill which is taken entirely out of an old cart wheel. It is worth to him every year quite as much as its cost.

SANCHO PANZA WIND MILL!

SELF-ADJUSTING AND ADJUSTABLE—A NEW AND IMPROVED MILL. SOLD BY

J. D. WEST & CO., CORTLAND St., N. Y.

The most Simple, Strong, Controllable, and Cheapest Wind Mill in use.

WIND POWER is the cheapest of all power, if it can be made available. Heretofore all good wind-mills have been very expensive, and not always reliable. Now we offer one that is cheap, reliable, and simple, and will do the work of any other mill. It is self-adjusting and adjustable, and will run in the lightest breeze, and will stand the heaviest gale that blows without injury. It is so simple that any ordinary mechanic can put it up and keep it in order. It is so cheap that every farmer can afford to have one. It will do all the work that is done on a farm, and will pump water for stock, irrigate land, saw wood, churn, grind feed, &c., &c. We will sell at less than New York prices.

The many friends and acquaintances of Joel P. Walker, Esq., will be pained to hear of the death of his wife, which occurred in this city during the present week.

The North Mississippian of the 6th, contains an awful account of murder committed by one Briggs a Methodist Preach, (we suppose he means Preacher) near Milltown, Ala., on the night of the 30th ult. It appears that Briggs murdered a man named DeGraffenreid and a Mr. Noah and his wife. The instrument used was a billet of wood. No cause is assigned for the bloody deed. Briggs is a young man whose father resides near Selma, Ala.

We see from the last Clarion that Messrs. Power & Burkedale's affairs are succeeded by Power & Burkedale—Captain B. F. Jones retiring from the firm. Mr. Burkedale as an Editor has few equals, and under his management we look for the Clarion to continue as it is now a widely circulated and influential journal.

Col. Power is a practical printer, thoroughly conversant with every department of the business, and besides a very ready and graceful writer. The office in both the newspaper and Job departments is the most complete in the State and receives as it should a liberal patronage.

We wish our friend Jones, who retires, success at whatever he may embark in.

Major L. L. Maughs for the last five months Editor of the Houston Record has severed his connection with the paper and is succeeded by J. E. Whitley & Co.

The North Mississippian, in the exceedingly courteous and dignified style which appears so natural to the distinguished Editor of that influential sheet, complains that we have refused him an exchange. The Gazette is mailed regularly to our Tupelo friend, and if not received we can only say it is no fault of ours. We feel grateful for his compl mentary allusions and can assure him they are fully appreciated.

To Business Men.—If you would prosper in your business—in every department of life—you should make your business known through the best channel, and your success will greatly depend upon your liberality in advertising. Now if you would make your business known, and extensively known deall and leave your orders at the office of the Gazette. It has a larger circulation than any paper in this part of the State, and will introduce you at once to the cl ss of persons with whom you desire to do business.

L. Brewer & Co. Mobile.—We fully endorse the following complimentary notice of this house which we find in the Keuper Flag. Brewer & Co. from their well known character and the low prices at which they sell groceries, are doing a prosperous business, notwithstanding the present hard times:

"The many friends of Mr. Brewer of this firm, will be pleased to know that they have added largely to their extensive wholesale grocery house at the Corner of St. Louis and Commerce sts., Mobile.—They have added a large and convenient Cotton Room, which, with the Grocery Store, presents a fine appearance on Commerce st. Mr. Brewer has for a long succession of years been building up his fine business character and capital, and, therefore, deserves a heavy patronage. He is at all times anxious to see his many friends from this section."

New Advertisements.

Stockley & Co., Mobile.—We call attention to the advertisement of Stockley & Co. Mobile who offer for sale one of most select and cheapest stocks of clothing ever brought to the Southern market. This stock was selected with great care by Mr. Stockley, who has been well known for many years in Mobile as a fashionable tailor and dealer in gentlemens furnishing goods. His good taste and skill in selecting good articles are well known, and the present stock of this firm is the best in Mobile.

They are determined not to be undersold, and we advise all our friends who visit Mobile to give them a call.

Captain B. C. Clark and Mr. C. H. Travis, both well known in this State, are with the house of Stockley & Co., and will be pleased to see their old friends.

Campbell House Mobile.—We call the attention of our readers who visit Mobile to the card of the Campbell House, which appears in the Gazette. The Campbell House is kept in the building formerly known as the Roper House, and we can recommend it as the best place to stop at, in the City. Besides furnishing the very best fare, good rooms, the charges are exceedingly moderate, and in accordance with the hard times. Any of our friends who stop there once will be sure to call again. Try the Campbell House and you will not be disappointed.

Wm. H. Kelly & Co. Mobile, Ala.—Among our advertisements will be found that of W. H. Kelly & Co. dealers in furniture, carpets, oil cloths &c. This is one of the oldest and most reliable houses in Mobile, and they have on hand now one of the best stocks of every thing in their line ever brought to the Southern market. Give them a call.

Death of Governor Winston.

We regret to learn of the death of Governor Winston, a resident of Choctaw county, near Macon, on the 1st inst. He was, as we believe, a brother of Col. Winston of this city, and formerly one of the first men of the county, and his death is a great loss not only to his family and friends, but to the community with whom he was identified.

Wanted.

We want to hear from some one in every county in the State, who will act as our agent. Liberal terms will be given. Address us at once. Gazette Office.

A Proclamation.

Executive Department,
State of Mississippi,
Jackson, Miss., Dec. 9, 1867.

Whereas, Communications have been received at this office, from gentlemen of high official and social position in different portions of the State, expressing serious apprehensions of danger from secret conspiracies are being formed among the blacks, "to seize the lands and establish farms, expecting and hoping that Congress will arrange a plan of division and distribution," "and unless this is done by January next, they will proceed to help themselves, and are determined to go to war, and are confident that they will be victors in any conflict with the whites," and furnish names of persons and places; and

Whereas, Similar communications have been received at Headquarters 4th Military District, and referred to me for my action, and the co-operation of the civil authorities of the State, with the United States Military, in suppressing violence and maintaining order and peace,

Now, therefore, I, Benj. G. Humphreys, Governor of Mississippi, do issue this my Proclamation, admonishing the black race, that if any such hopes or expectations are entertained, they have been grossly deceived, and if any combinations or conspiracies, have been formed, to carry into effect such purposes, the law is violence, I now warn you that you cannot succeed.

What is not known of your plans and conspiracies, will be ultimately and anticipated, and the first outbreak against the quiet and peace of society, or threatening of insurrection, will signalize the destruction of your cherished hopes and the ruin of many of your race.

That you may no longer be deceived, by the restless spirits—white or black—of your race, I call upon them, to publish to your information, the following endorsements of Gen. E. O. C. Ord, made on the most mature consideration of the civil, as well as military affairs of this State.

Headq'rs 4th Military District,
Office of Civil Affairs,
Holly Springs, Miss., Nov. 21, 1867.

"Respectfully referred to Brev't Maj. Gen. Gillem, who will send an officer immediately to [illegible] to learn what foundation has been advising the freedmen to take arms, seize lands or any other illegal act. The impression seems to be general, and for information that there is no intention on the part of Congress to take land from master and give to slave. I publish for
